About Christians in India, Haukaas said, "I think their faith is much more important to them, but it's more difficult to confess it there." She added that doesn't mean they don't go to church, rather that they don't confess their Christian faith when they participate in the census. Haukaas said many jobs are reserved for Hindu or Muslim individuals, or a specific caste. As a result, many individuals don't confess that they're Christian.

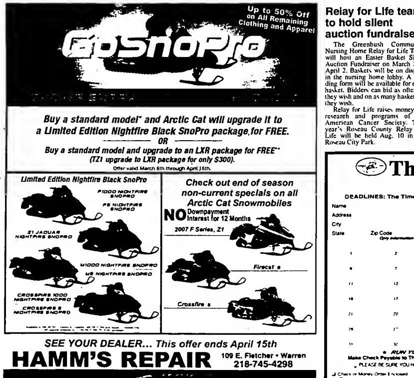
That's somewhat similar to what happens here in the U.S. Haukaas noted many Americans say they're Christian, but they don't attend church.

In addition to churches, the group spent time at an orphanage in the state of Andhra Pradesh, where adoption is illegal. About 150 kids live at the orphanage. Most of the kids are between the ages of 5 and 18, said Haukaas, who noted there are some kids younger than 5 at the orphanage.

The orphans performed a talent show for the visitors. "It was just like an American kid talent show," Haukaas said.

The group also visited the Henry Martyn Institute in Hyderabad. The institute was built in an area that sees a lot of violence, noted Haukaas, who said it teaches about tolerance for other religions. Among the institute's programs are classes in which Hindu and Muslim women learn embroidery and tailoring. In the process, the women also learn about other religions.

Haukaas learned a lot during her trip, and she is grateful for the opportunity. Thanking her church and the community for their support, she said, "It was an incredible experience, and I feel really privileged that I've been able to do that."



Last month, Thief River Falls resident Susan Haukees attanded a church dedication in India. Haukees went to India with Women Building Global Community. Tha dedication was so crowded that soma boys hung outside on tha bars of a window to watch tha dedication caremony. (Submitted photo)

Relay for Life team to hold silent auction fundraiser

The Greenbush Community Nursing Home Relay for Life Team will host an Easter Basket Silent Auction Fundraiser on March 22 - April 2. Baskets will be on display in the nursing home lobby. A bidding form will be available for each basket. Bidders can bid as often as they wish and on as many baskets as they wish.

Relay for Life raises money for research and programs of the American Cancer Society. This year's Roseau County Relay for Life will be held Aug. 10 in the Roseau City Park.

NW MN Women's Fund seeks proposals

The Northwest Minnesota Women's Fund is calling for funding proposals for programs and services that benefit women and girls within the 12-county Northwest Minnesota Foundation service area. Organizations with 501(c)(3) status as determined by the Internal Revenue Service are eligible to apply.

The Women's Fund believes that women are an essential resource in our communities; they are vital partners in the social and economic stability of the region. Formed in 1997 as a tax exempt charitable component of the NMF, the Women's Fund serves as a catalyst for improving the quality of life for women and girls ... promoting ideas and supporting programs for the strengthening and empowerment of all women. Counties served by NMF are Beltrami, Clearwater, Hubbard, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau.

The Women's Fund will consider grant requests of up to $2,500 addressing one or more of the following areas meeting the needs of females: cultural interactions, economic development, education, healthcare, or housing. Manner of presentation can include: forums, speakers, workshops, individual career counseling, or scholarships for state and national conferences.

Selection criteria will focus on how the proposal meets the Women's Fund mission, the scope of the project focusing beyond traditional opportunities, how the project is inclusive to all types of diversity, the geographic area served; and the number of participants, number of communities, and number of organizations that are served.

The deadline for submission of proposals is May 1. The grants will be awarded by June 30. The grant application and guidelines are available on the NMF Web site (www.nwmf.org), or by contacting Lisa Peterson at 1-800-659-7859 or lisap@nwmf.org.

Construction progresses on Warroad Senior Living Center

ICS Inc. of Grand Forks, N.D., was awarded the work last October and began construction immediately. Site work is mostly complete. Foundations are in place for the assisted living wing, and they are being installed now at the skilled care nursing home. First floor exterior walls in the assisted living wing are erected and second floor trusses are in place. The elevator shaft is also being put into place. ICS will soon be connecting the foundations of the different wings. There are currently four crews continuing the construction.

The project will be totally complete by the summer of 2008, but current Care Center nursing home and assisted living residents should be moved in by spring of 2008. For more information on the new Warroad Senior Living Center campus, contact Administrator Rod Kutter at (218) 386-1235.

First Lady's Military Care Initiative celebrates four-year anniversary

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

After four years, Mary Pawlenty's First Lady's Military Family Care Initiative is still helping military families cope with the absence of loved ones, who are serving their country. The First Lady's Military Family Care Initiative began on March 25, 2003, when the conflict in Iraq began, and it became apparent that Minnesota soldiers were going to be deployed overseas.

There was an outpouring of affection, Pawlenty said, of the early reaction to the initiative. "Volunteers brainstormed to determine the most effective way to help deployed soldiers – this initiative was the result. We believe that this initiative is the most effective way to get volunteer services to the families of deployed soldiers."

The initiative pairs volunteer organizations like churches, VFWs and American Legions, Boy Scout and Girl Scout Troops, with military families. The organizations perform a variety of services that range from lawn mowing, helping with farm chores or minor home repairs, to organizing a birthday party and delivering meals.

"When we first began, we asked community organizations throughout Minnesota to register online, their interest in providing services," Pawlenty said. "We've seen that list grow and we've seen the number of families who have used these services also grow."

According to a press release that details the initiative, any community-based organization can sign up to volunteer its time and effort through a link on the Governor's and First Lady's Web sites. The information is posted on a site that is accessible to military families. Those families are then able to contact the various organizations for volunteer services that fit their needs.

The initiative caught on in the Twin Cities metro and more populated portions of the state. According to Pawlenty, it has especially been well received by smaller families without a built-in support group.

In northwest Minnesota, however, there is only one organization that is currently registered on the Military Family Care Initiative Web site to provide services. That organization is a combined effort of Our Redeemer's and Faith Lutheran Churches of Badger.

Working together, these churches: prepare and deliver meals, prepare and deliver a gift basket, purchase and deliver groceries, wash windows, rake leaves, trim hedges, clean gutters, mow lawns, plant flowers, weed gardens, paint or repair a fence, wash cars, chop wood, help with farm chores, help with household chores, shovel/plow sidewalks or driveways, send cards or letters of encouragement and even give wedding or baby showers.

The volunteer group from Badger lists its service area as 60 miles. Military families living within 60 miles of Badger, that are in need of services, can call 218-528-3231 to inquire about volunteer services.

Any group that wishes to be included in the First Lady's Military Family Care Initiative's database can register at http://156.99.41.1/FirstLady/MCFI_PreRegistration.asp. The database includes community organizations, individual/family work groups and businesses that donate services.

County Board gives tentative OK to backing fair building

Warren - "A new multi-purpose livestock building for the Marshall County Fairgrounds was given tentative and somewhat reluctant approval by the Marshall County Board of Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday."

"The Fair Board would like to have the county construct the building, at a cost of about $300,000, on the basis that the county could use it for storage for county departments during times the fair is not being held.

"In the discussion of the proposal, several commissioners expressed doubts that the county could get much use out of the building as a storage area. Some also expressed concern that the building be the responsibility of the Fair Board for maintenance and managing the rental of seasonal recreational equipment, such as boats and campers.

"Some commissioners also said that, if the county funds construction of the building, there should be some plan for the Fair Board to repay the cost of the building over time. One part of this might be adjusting the $15,000 annual appropriation the County Board has been approving for the operation of the fair in recent years.

"After the discussion, Commissioner LeRoy Vonasek, who is also a member of the Fair Board, made a motion that the county construct a 92-by-160 steel barn to replace the present horse barn, and sheep and hog pen area. The motion secured a second from Commissioner Ken Borowicz at the cost of stipulating that an acceptable financing plan for the project be presented at the next County Board meeting on April 3. Commissioner Gary Kiesow said he does not want to take anything away from the Marshall County Fair, but he said it is very hard for someone who represents eastern Marshall County to support sizeable expenditures for the fair since most residents of his district attend and participate in the Roseau and Pennington county fairs." - Warren Sheaf, March 21, 2007

Board discusses tournament issues

Greenbush - At the recent Greenbush Middle River School Board meeting, "Principal Eldon Sparby brought forward a policy that was set years ago concerning cancelling school for tournaments." He reminded the board that the policy stated that the district wouldn't cancel school due to tournaments. Sparby noted this policy was set in place due to liability issues. - The Tribune of Greenbush, March 21, 2007, by Rhonda Water Oudo

Singing to the heavens and everywhere else

Professional artists work with Lincoln High School Choir

The Lincoln High School Choral Department is preparing another huge May show for May 20-21, 2007. This year's show is entitled "Shakin' The Rafters" and that is exactly what they will be doing. Director Darcy Reese said she is so happy that the auditorium was recently remodeled with new ceiling tiles, because the old ones would surely be falling from the ceiling during the two nights of the show.

The show pays tribute to American music. Hymns, jazz pieces, rhythm and blues, spirituals, and the ever popular gospel selections will be what this show is all about. The 157 singers have been working hard to make this the best show ever.

The choir recently worked with a very famous gospel singer from Minneapolis - Robert Robinson. Robinson and members of the Twin Cities Community Gospel Choir traveled to Thief River Falls for a two-day rehearsal and workshop with the choir members March 20-21. During that time they worked on five gospel pieces that will be performed live with Robert, members of his Twin Cities Community Gospel Choir and his rhythm section at the "Shakin' The Rafters" show.

Robinson was a regular for many years with Lori Line and has recently went solo. He is perceived as the "Pavarotti of gospel."

Reese said the choir is very fortunate to be able to work with Robinson and his exceptional singers and instrumentalists. She added that the choir would like to thank the Dondelinger Foundation along with the Lincoln High School Choir Boosters for making it possible for the residency to take place.

At the May concert, Robinson and the TCC Gospel Choir will be performing five pieces with the choir plus three pieces of their own. Robinson and his choir bring audiences to their feet at venues that include churches, schools, prisons, homeless shelters, community festivals, and concert stages across the United States.

Other professional musicians that will be performing with the choir at the "Shakin' The Rafters" show will include Michael Pilhofter, drummer from last year's "Woven Voices, Woven Threads" show. Pilhofter is a professional drummer and has worked with national artists such as Joe Lovano, Kenny Wheeler, Peter Erskine and many artists from the Twin Cities. Pilhofter is also a teacher at McNally School of Music in Minneapolis. Ari Yeshaya will be playing the piano and the electronic keyboard. He is a professional composer, arranger, producer and pianist. Yeshaya is credited as an arranger and producer on a long list of projects including recordings by Aretha Franklin and Lena Horne. His arrangements have been performed by various artists, such as Whitney Houston, Michael Bolton, Doc Severinsen and ensembles such as the Scotland Philharmonic Orchestra, the Minnesota Orchestra and Jazzaar in Switzerland. He has also composed music for television and film. Yeshaya is a faculty member at Berklee College of Music in Boston, Mass.

Ginger Commodore, a professional jazz singer from Minneapolis, will be working with the Lincoln High School jazz group – the Swingsations. She will be featured

Students spread kindness to all

LHS students to perform random acts of kindness next week

Lincoln High School's National Honor Society will spread kindness to other students and the community next week, March 26 through 30. The chapter is holding a Random Acts of Kindness observance.

"At NHS, we are to help people in many types of ways," said NHS President Sarah Vigness, who referred to the service component of the organization. She explained that some of the week's activities will involve the whole student body and others will just involve NHS members.

Throughout the week, NHS members will wash lunch tables to help out school cooks. Vigness will read kindness quotes as part of the school's morning announcements each day.

Students who are not members of NHS will also be able to participate in the week's festivities. The whole student body will be able to guess the number of pennies in a jar, provided that students bring in nonperishable food items for the Area Food Shelf. The student with the winning guess will win $50 donated by LHS Co-Adviser Lynn Dyer.

Throughout the week, stars will be placed on random lockers. The stars will list acts of kindness that the student receivers will have to complete.

On Monday and Friday, several NHS members will visit residents of Oakland Park Communities in Thief River Falls. On Tuesday and Thursday, some NHS members will help a student with his language skills. Also on Thursday, several NHS members will help at the Challenger Elementary School Science Festival.

Vigness believes the observance [illegible] for many years to [illegible]. She said. "It's something we [illegible] and I think we're [illegible] each year."

Easy Lenten dishes today, and Easter is just around the corner, in case you didn't remember.

Make this pizza with the onions, same other topping, or just the cheese, for a delicious meal - good for an easy homemade Lenten meal too:

ONION PIZZA
1 package active dry yeast
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 cups warm water (110 to 115 degrees)
3 tablespoons olive oil, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 1/3 cups flour
2 (15 ounces each) cans pizza sauce, divided
2 large sweet onions, thinly sliced
4 medium tomatoes, thinly sliced
2 1/2 cups cups (10 ounces) shredded mozzarella
1 1/2 cups (6 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese

Dissolve yeast & sugar in warm water. Add 2 tablespoons oil, salt and enough flour to form a soft dough. Turn onto floured surface and knead smooth and elastic, 6-8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled, 1 hour.

Punch dough down. Turn onto lightly floured surface and divide in half. Press dough on bottom and 1 inch up sides of two greased pizza pans. Spread 3/4 cup sauce over each.

Bake at 450 degrees for 5 minutes. Meanwhile, in skillet, sauté onions in remaining oil until tender and lightly browned.

Arrange tomato slices over pizzas. Combine cheeses and sprinkle over. Top with onions. Bake 10-15 minutes or until cheese is melted. Serve remaining sauce with pizza or freeze for future.

Serve this dish as a side or as a main dish with a hearty salad. Either way you find it a good way to use up some leftovers:

BACON POTATO CASSEROLE
1/2 pound bacon, diced
4 eggs, separated
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Pepper to taste
2 cups warm mashed potatoes (can be leftover - heat in micro)
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1/2 cup fresh parsley, minced

Cook bacon crisp, drain and set aside 2 tablespoons. Separate eggs and beat yolks light, 2 minutes. Add onion, mustard and pepper. Place potatoes in a bowl and fold in egg yolk mixture. Fold cheese, parsley and bacon into potatoes.

Beat egg whites stiff and fold into potatoes. Place in greased 1 quart baking dish and sprinkle with reserved crisp bacon. Bake, uncovered, at 325 degrees for 45-50 minutes or until set and edges are golden. Serve immediately.

DESSERT CAKE
1 package yellow cake mix
1 (11 ounce) can mandarin oranges
1 (20 ounce) can crushed pineapple
1 (8 ounce) carton whipped topping
1 small package instant vanilla pudding mix

Prepare cake batter according to package, drain oranges, reserving 2 tablespoons juice. Stir oranges into cake batter. Place in greased 9x13 inch pan and bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes, until tester comes out clean. Cool.

Poke holes in cake about an inch apart. Drain pineapple, reserving 2 tablespoons juice in same bowl with reserved orange juice. Set pineapple aside. Pour the juices over cake.

Combine whipped topping with pudding mix and add pineapple. Spread on cake. Cool and serve.

And here's a tangy, delicious dessert made with yogurt and with less fat, sugar and salt. And it has all of the nutrition information for you:

BERRY CREAM DESSERT
1 small package strawberry gelatin
1 small package raspberry gelatin
2 cups boiling water
2 cups cold water
1 (8 ounce) container strawberry yogurt
1 (8 ounce) container raspberry yogurt
2 cups sliced fresh or frozen strawberries, unsweetened
1 (12 ounce) carton frozen whipped topping
Fresh strawberries for garnish

In large bowl, dissolve gelatins in boiling water. Stir in cold water and yogurts until blended. Chill until syrupy, about 1 hour.

Fold in strawberries and whipped topping and spoon into individual dishes. Chill until firm about 4 hours. Garnish with fresh berries.

Nutritional Information: One 3/4 cup serving, prepared with sugar free gelatin, low fat yogurt, reduced fat whipped topping and no garnish, equals 95 calories, 3 g fat, 2 mg chol, 46 mg sodium, 19 g carb, 1 g fiber, 2 g protein. Diabetic exchange is 1 fruit and 1/2 fat.

Airman Dunn graduates from basic military training

Air Force Airman Matthew S. Dunn has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Dunn is a 2006 graduate of Roseau High School. He is the son of Bob Dunn of Roseau.

Rural Reflections

Grant Nelson

The comments published in this column are intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. They are written by independent columnists and do not represent the opinion of the staff or management of The Times/Northern Watch

Letter to my brother Dave

Dear Dave,

I fear that I am becoming a redneck (not that there's anything wrong with that.) I now own a pistol that makes my hands hurt every time I shoot it and I found myself in a sporting goods store looking at a pistol mount for my four wheeler. If you start to notice a Copenhagen ring on the back pocket of my bib overalls you may want to perform an intervention before I get a pack of coonhounds and start putting our vehicles up on concrete blocks in the front yard.

Lisa is doing fine and gives you her best. The fact she and I are married makes me happy every day. I'm thankful I had my priorities right when I proposed as I married her for her beauty and kindness and not her knowledge of electronics. I had to remind myself of that recently. Lisa has a cell phone that she rarely uses and finally had to re-charge its battery. Unable to make her charger work, she had tied up most of the technical staff at Digi-Key corporation in an attempt to fix her charger. They could not find any problem with the charger and the company could no longer halt operations for my beloved little wife: I happened to take a look at the phone after she recently plugged it in to the charger and did what a raft of technicians could not - I solved the problem. The little plug-in Lisa had chosen to insert the charger into was clearly marked with a headset icon. I plugged it into the proper receptacle and now Lisa thinks I am a genius and I will continue to allow this misconception.

So how are things in Carrington, N.D.? I've noticed a little silver in your hair the last few years and now you have the title to go with the gray - grandpa. I hope Ryan and Kristin are doing fine and let that 10-and-one-half pound child be a warning to those who marry a Nelson; we are a people who are born half-grown.

I am so tired of predictions of the end of time. I sometimes wish Nostradamus had been born mute and that folks would quit interpreting the Bible to say whatever they wish. Besides, I think the fall of society and the end of time will be caused by something very basic and common place - the inability of people to make a proper left-hand turn. When the light turns yellow then the cars sitting in the intersection must be allowed to clear the lane by making their left run. The yellow light is not an indication for oncoming traffic to speed up in an effort to make the light. These people should be sentenced to a few hours of end times preaching, not for informative purposes, but rather for sheer punishment.

I hope everything is going well at Case/IH in Carrington. I imagine you're setting up air seeders and selling those GPS light bars in your typical award-winning fashion. I recently purchased a used light bar to help no-till Italian ryegrass and canamaize grazing corn. No more guessing where my last pass was and no more buying enough seed to cover my mistakes.

Last fall was very dry and with the exception of one wet snow and one evening of confetti snow, not much has changed. Central North Dakota spring seems to arrive a few weeks ahead of ours and gives me an idea of what's to come. I hope the crystal ball that your weather creates for our area is wet when there's no sun and sunny when there's no rain.

I also hope all is well your way.
Your little bro'
Grant

AmericInn of Roseau hosts open house celebration April 12

The new owners of the AmericInn of Roseau will host a public open house from 3 to 7 pm. on April 12. Located in the West Acres of Roseau, the hotel is now owned and operated by Darrin, Dennis, and Barb Smedsmo. The local community is invited to attend the open house to enjoy complimentary refreshments, hotel tours, prize giveaways and live entertainment.

During the event, AmericInn will present a check for $1,000 as a charitable contribution to the Roseau Community Fund.

"We are excited to host an open house to show the local community everything we have to offer," said Darrin Smedsmo, owner and manager of the hotel. The newly remodeled AmericInn features a spacious indoor recreation area with pool, whirlpool and sauna. Guests enjoy the AmericInn Perk, a new breakfast concept that offers a coffeehouse vibe, relaxing environment and an enhanced hot breakfast menu with a proprietary blend of coffee. Business travelers enjoy the business center, free wireless Internet access, and an exercise room.

"Delivering hospitality excellence is our primary focus and it's our pleasure to provide upscale lodging with exceptional service at a great value. Some of our guests make this their 'Home away from Home' and for us, they are like family," adds Smedsmo.

Every AmericInn is constructed using exclusive AmericInn SoundGuardTM construction, the use of masonry blocks and other noise reducing materials between every room delivers noise control for a quiet room environment and a quiet night's rest for every guest.

"Everyone at AmericInn is committed to exceeding guest expectations by providing upscale lodging with superior service," Smedsmo said.

Marketing through the Internet workshop to be offered

Local small business owners can learn how to move into the world of Internet commerce at an upcoming workshop in Newfolden, sponsored by the University of Minnesota/Marshall County Extension Service. The program will be held in Marshall County Central High School computer lab in Newfolden on March 29 from 6 to 9 p.m. The workshop fee is $10 and includes all course materials.

Extension Educator Ryan Pesch will serve as the instructor for the project, known as Access eCommerce. "The course is geared to individuals and small businesses," said Pesch. "It has already been presented in many communities across Minnesota and in 12 states in the past five years. The course material is relevant to those who are wondering what electronic commerce is all about, those who are thinking about developing an electronic commerce Web site, and those who have a Web site and want to improve it."

Pesch said participants in other communities have included owners of existing retail and service businesses, people wanting to start an Internet business, people operating businesses from their homes, retired persons seeking new challenges, farmers and people considering alternative employment.

The class can help participants:
- Learn to use the Internet as a business research tool to find new markets or suppliers or to check out the competition.
- Decide if a web presence is right for your business.
- Learn the process of planning a Web site.
- Learn techniques to effectively promote a Web site.
- Learn how to incorporate the Internet into your business plan.

The only requirements to take the class are basic computer skills, including keyboarding and mouse operations. Participants should also be able to use an Internet browser.

Call and reserve your spot as computer lab space is limited. For more information on the Access eCommerce workshop, contact the Marshall County Extension Office at 1-800-745-5232. The workshop curriculum is on the Internet at www.access-ecom.info.

Mn/DOT to repair damaged bridge

The Minnesota Department of Transportation is alerting the public about work scheduled to repair damage to the Drayton/Robbin Bridge over the Red River on Highway 11 beginning Monday, March 26.

According to Davis Holthusen, Mn/DOT's northwest bridge maintenance coordinator, the repair is required due to a high load hit which happened sometime in December 2006 on the Minnesota side of the bridge. Holthusen said damage was done to a truss on the east end of the bridge and his crew will be replacing the damaged steel.

Holthusen said the work is expected to take about one week, weather permitting. Traffic will be narrowed to one lane with periodic closures of both lanes for periods of up to 20 minutes to allow the crew to conduct the work. Motorists using this crossing are advised to allow themselves extra time to get to their destination.

For statewide road condition information, dial 511 or log onto www.511mn.org.

Bark intact elm wood must be disposed of by April 1

Thief River Falls City Forester Myles Olson reminds residents that bark intact elm wood must be disposed of by April 1.

"Do our elms a favor," said Olson. "Do not let your firewood pile help spread Dutch Elm Disease. Bark intact elm wood is a breeding place for the elm bark beetles that carry the Dutch Elm Disease fungus to healthy trees. In the spring, adult beetles – up to 1,500 in a single fireplace log – emerge from diseased wood with the fungus clinging to their bodies. When the beetles fly to healthy elms to feed, they spread Dutch Elm Disease to previously uninfected trees."

Due to this danger to healthy elms, the city enacted an ordinance affecting the storage of elm wood. Bark intact elm wood is permitted only between Sept. 15 and April 1 (the dormant period for elm bark beetles). Proper disposal includes burning, de-barking or removing the elm wood to an approved disposal site.

Oak and elm wood are similar in appearance, and it takes a trained eye to tell the difference. If you're not sure if you have elm wood in your firewood pile, call Myles Olson at 681-1835 for an inspection.

13th District Horticultural Society to hold garden workshop March 31

A garden workshop called "Think Spring" will be held on Saturday, March 31 at the Badger Community Center. The guest speaker will be Darrell Koehler, a columnist for the Grand Forks Herald, who will speak on "Plant Hardiness." Also giving a presentation will be Sherri Kruger, a local stained glass artist who will give a presentation on "Garden Art."

Registration will begin at 9 a.m., with the day's program beginning at 10 a.m. Also included in the day will be a silver tea celebrating 60 years of gardening with the Gro-Rite Garden Club; door prizes, district award presentations, a country store with gardening items for sale donated by garden club members, a noon lunch, special music and a district business meeting.

This workshop is sponsored by the 13th District Horticultural Society and is hosted by the Gro-Rite Garden Club. Call Donna Wensloff at 218-425-7582 to pre-register. Everyone is invited to attend.

Northwest Head Start recruits students

Northwest Head Start is recruiting preschool children for the 2007-08 program year. Head Start is operated by Northwest Community Action Inc. and serves families in eastern Marshall, Roseau, Lake of the Woods and Kittson counties.

Head Start is a family orientated, comprehensive, child development program which provides activities in the areas of education, health, social services and parent involvement. Head Start provides activities for children of all ability levels, including children with disabilities. Head Start serves eligible families with children who are 3 to 5 years old as of Sept. 1, 2007.

If you have a child or know of a child who will be between those ages before Sept. 1, 2007, and/or you're interested in learning more about Head Start, call the Head Start office in Badger at (218) 528-3227 or 1-800-568-5319.

Newfolden business fire caused by electrical power strip

It is believed that an electrical power strip caused a fire that destroyed a Newfolden business on March 9, according to Kevin Mahle with the State Fire Marshal's Office. He said it appears the electrical power strip failed.

Jason's Automotive was destroyed in the fire, which was reported at 2:36 a.m. March 9. Newfolden firefighters requested mutual aid from the Middle River Fire Department in fighting the fire. Three firefighters remained at the scene until that afternoon.

The fire also caused minor damage to a building located about 12 feet from the business. That building houses the city of Newfolden's shop, storage for the hardware store, and a beauty shop. It sustained damage in the form of two cracked windows and a discolored rain gutter.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

Dave Hill, Editor

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Unless specified otherwise, the editorials are written by Editor Dave Hill and do not represent opinion of other staff members. Opinions in items from other publications may not coincide with the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Support our veterans

While Americans were focused on whether we should stay and fight or pick up and leave, they missed the fact that some of our veterans had already been left out in the cold.

Last month, an investigative series by the Washington Post, sparked a furor after it detailed conditions at the Army's premier military hospital, Walter Reed Medical Center in northwest Washington. Critics called it mismanagement, and some of its administrators were dismissed.

Regardless of how we feel about the war, and regardless of the true cause of those conditions, military veterans should not have to live in such conditions. One could certainly argue that no one should be forced to live in such conditions, but most would recognize that military veterans who have served this country and paid a high price, should definitely not be forced to live in those conditions. Additionally, such conditions give those who are currently serving in the military the distinct impression that once out of the military they are easily disposed of and are no longer of any value. It calls into question their very patriotism and contribution.

Funny how quickly an investigation that focuses on one thing can cause people to shift their focus to new priorities. In addition to the problem at Walter Reed, the investigative series and furor that followed, caused citizens throughout the country to focus their own VA centers and demand improvements and funding.

Sen. Amy Klobuchar recently rose to the Senate floor to praise efforts to increase VA funding. "At a time when we are spending billions on wars and reconstruction projects overseas, we can certainly afford this increase in veterans funding at home," said Klobuchar. "The VA funding in this resolution is just the first in a series of payments towards that debt that we owe these soldiers on the front lines who have sacrificed for us."

As Klobuchar pointed out, "These wars (Afghanistan and Iraq) are creating a new generation of veterans who need their country to stand with them."

We agree that passing this resolution with the $3.5 billion added to the president's request, for a total of $43.1 billion in discretionary veterans' spending, should be among our highest priorities.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Ben Worker, an Air Force Academy senior goaltender from Thief River Falls, made a save against Holy Cross in the quarterfinals of the Atlantic Hockey Association playoff quarterfinals. Worker stopped 17 shots in a 3-0 shutout that earned him AHA Defensive Player of the Week honors that were announced March 12. The Falcons face Minnesota today (Saturday) in the NCAA Division I West Region semifinals. (Air Force Academy photo).

TRF grad goalie on Air Force Academy hockey team...

Ben Worker finishes strong

Senior goalie Ben Worker of Thief River Falls is one of 11 Minnesota natives on the Air Force Academy team that will face the Gophers today (Saturday) in the opening round of the NCAA Division I West Regional men's hockey tournament.

Game time at the Pepsi Center in Denver is 2:30 p.m. The game will be televised on FSN.

Worker, a walk-on who did not see any playing time during his freshman and sophomore seasons with the Falcons and played sparingly as a junior, is closing his college hockey career on a hot streak.

On March 12, the 5-10, 165-pounder was named the Atlantic Hockey Association Defensive Player of the Week for his performance in a 3-0 Air Force win over Holy Cross in the AHA tournament quarterfinals.

The 17-save effort was Worker's third shutout in his last 12 starts.

He stretched his personal winning streak to four straight victories Friday (March 16) when he stopped 20 shots as the No. 4-seeded Air Force knocked off top-seeded Sacred Heart 5-4 in overtime in the AHA Tournament semifinals at Rochester, N.Y. The Falcons trailed 4-3 before pulling Worker in favor of an extra attacker with 1:15 left. They tied it in the final minute and won it eight minutes into the overtime.

Worker did not play in the Falcons' 6-1, AHA Tournament championship game win over Army the next day. It was the Falcons' first conference tournament title and propelled them into the NCAA Division I playoffs for the first time in Academy history.

An academic All-AHA selection, Worker leads a collection of four Air Force goalies in wins (seven), save percentage (.902) and goals-against average (2.13).

Air Force coach Frank Serratore wasn't in a hurry to announce who he would start in goal against Minnesota. Serratore told Kate Crandall of The Gazette in Colorado Springs that he had hoped to have a consistent starter this season, but instead elected to use a "best goalie plays" philosophy, creating a revolving door in net and creating pressure on his four netminders to perform daily in practice. They each have at least four wins, and three of them have started in the past seven games.

"It gets down to the gut," Serratore told Crandall. "For the majority of the year, I don't think any of our goalies were downright terrible, but I don't think there was any guy that was standing out, either. Middle-of-the-road goaltending just doesn't cut it."

Worker started four of the past six games, but it was Andrew Volkening, a freshman from Genoa, Ill., who played in the AHA final and was named to the all-tournament team.

The Falcons are 19-15-5 overall. They are the No. 4 seed in the West Regional, where 30-9-3 Minnesota, Ranked No. 2 in the nation, is the top seed.

It's the second year in a row the AHA representative has drawn Minnesota as a first round NCAA tournament opponent. A year ago, Holy Cross eliminated the Gophers with a stunning opening game loss.

The second West Regional match-up today in Denver has No. 2 seed Michigan (26-13-1) facing No. 3 North Dakota (22-13-3) at 6:30 p.m. Winners will meet in the title game Sunday at 5 p.m.

First half beats Gators

■ B/G-MR falls behind early in state tourney debut

Dreams of playing in the state high school basketball tournament became a nightmare for the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River boys Wednesday when the Gators left the Target Center floor at halftime of their Class A quarterfinal match-up with St. Bernard's trailing 32-11.

On a high after a dramatic 68-65 overtime Section 8A championship game win against Fertile-Beltrami sent them to the state tournament for the first time, the Gators were brought back to earth when the unbeaten Bulldogs used that first half domination to move into the Friday semifinals with a 64-46 win.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was limited to three first half field goals. Combine 15 percent shooting (3/20) with 13 turnovers, and you have a major problem, especially when it's a state tournament game against the No. 1-ranked team in Class A.

The second half was a near-wash, with the Gators actually out-scoring the Bulldogs 35-32. But the first half was a killer.

With no consolation round, the loss ended a 23-7 season for the Kent Christian-coached Badger/Greenbush-Middle River squad.

It was 12-1 before the Gators came up with their first field goal – a lay-up by Nathan Thompson 5 minutes, 23 seconds into the game.

A dunk by 6-7 Marquette-bound St. Bernard's senior Trevor Mbakwe produced a 20-5 scoreboard difference with 8:01 remaining in the first half that ended on an Andy Leitner tip-in with one second left.

The Bulldogs' Peter Morrissey opened the second half with a 3-pointer to open up a 24-point, 35-11 spread.

While they were never able to challenge the St. Bernard's lead, the Gators managed to stop the scoreboard slide at that point. The biggest gap was 25 points, reached with five minutes to go.

Chad Jones scored 22 points, Patrick Cassidy had 12 and Mbakwe 11, to go along with seven rebounds and seven blocked shots in a game where fouls – including a first half technical – kept him on the bench for 10 minutes.

The Gators got 19 points from sophomore Zach Creviston and 10 from junior Jordan Creviston.

St. Bernard's shot 51 percent from the field (28/55). Badger/Greenbush-Middle River finished with a 33 percent shooting figure (15/46). Utilizing their size advantage, the Bulldogs out-scored the Gators 38-14 in the paint.

It was a 5-for-6 free throw night for the winners. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 13-for-19 at the line.

The 30-0 Bulldogs out-rebounded the Gators 36-27. Turnovers were even at 17-apiece.

In other first round Class A state tournament games, Ellsworth out-scored Rushford-Peterson 77-66, Cass Lake-Bena edged Lester Prairie 46-43 and Barnum beat Bertha Hewitt 51-45.

Scoring

	1	2	T

High school hockey all-star festival...

Three Prowlers will be in Great 8 event

Three Thief River Falls players are among the Minnesota high school seniors selected to play in the 26th annual boys Ted Brill Great 8 All-Star Hockey Festival, scheduled to be played March 30-April 1 on two ice sheets at Wakota Arena in South St. Paul.

The Prowlers' Michael Benedict, Corey Horien and Cody Bottem were listed on the Section 8AA-8A team when rosters for the 2007 event were announced this week.

Minnesota High School Hockey Coaches Association and Minnesota Hockey first collaborated in 1983 on an all-star series involving 42 of the state's top graduating seniors playing a two-game series. Now the program includes 136 players and eight teams playing a full tournament schedule.

Players are nominated by their high school coach and voted on only by the coaches from the combined sections that form the eight tournament teams. Top two goaltenders, six defensemen and nine forwards are selected for each team. Several alternates are also named, but they do not participate unless one of the active players cannot be in uniform.

Class A and Class AA Coach of the Year selections will direct the teams.

Designated as a national development program by USA Hockey, the event is sanctioned by the Minnesota State High School League, allowing participants to maintain their eligibility for high school spring sports.

Following the Great 8 tournament, 20 players who do not have firm NCAA Division I scholarship commitments will be selected to represent Minnesota at the 24-team national Chicago Showcase April 18-22. Team Minnesota has won the Chicago event seven of the past ten years.

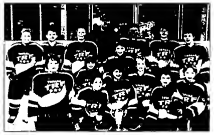
Pioneers 2-6 on Florida trip

Eight-games in Cocoa, Florida, opened the season for the 2007 Northland Community and Technical College baseball team.

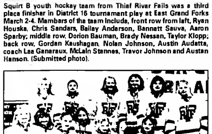
First outdoor work against strong National Junior College Athletic Association Division II and III teams resulted in a 2-6 trip for the Steve Gust-coached Pioneers.

"Of our six losses, three teams were in the national Division II rankings and one was ranked in Division III," pointed out Gust.



The Pioneers beat two Canadian baseball programs – the Ontario Blue Jays 4-1 and the Ontario Winter Baseball School 11-1.

Losses came at the hands of Hagerstown (Md.) Community College 6-2, North Iowa 15-4, Alfred State (N.Y.) 9-2, Massasoit Community College (Mass.) 9-3, Monroe Community College (N.Y.) 17-0 and the Toronto Academy 15-2.



"It was a difficult way to open the season, but one where we learned a lot about our team," reported Gust, who is beginning his third season as the Pioneers' coach. "We made several mistakes each game, but they are mistakes we hope to get corrected soon."

Gust remains confident Northland will be competitive in the Minnesota Community College Conference. "We saw a lot of good things from our team in Florida that make us think we can be a very good team by the end of the season," he said. "It may take us some time, but I think we will be able to compete with the best the state has to offer by the conference opener."

Josh Langlie of Thief River Falls is in the starting pitching rotation on the Bemidji State University baseball team. The 6-1, 190-pound senior is 0-4 with a 13.50 earned run average following the Beavers' eight-day, five-game road trip into Kansas and Arkansas. Langlie has worked 16 innings (second most on the team), giving up 31 hits while walking nine and striking out eight. Early-season struggles that effect most northern schools who open against teams in the more climate-friendly middle or southern portion of the country, have plagued the Beavers, who stared the year 2-14. PUSH FOR BREE!

11/8/2001 - 12/8/2006
PUSH FOR BREE NOV. 8, 2001
On December 8th, 2006
The Peters Family
Keith, Darlene, and Bree
Perished in a House Fire in Oklee, MN
In a Home WITHOUT Working Smoke Detectors
DO YOU HAVE A SMOKE DETECTOR?
IS IT WORKING?
Change Your Clocks in the Spring and Fall.
Change Your Smoke Detector Batteries Too!
The Thief River Falls Fire Department is working with the Peters family and other area fire departments to remind every household to install, test, and use smoke detectors properly. The stickers enclosed with your utility bill have been provided to place on a calendar that would remind you to test your smoke detectors monthly. Be sure everyone in your home knows the sound of the smoke alarm.
- Install working smoke detectors on every floor of your home (including the basement) and inside or near every sleeping area.
- Test your smoke detectors (use the test button) once a month.
- Replace batteries twice a year (spring and fall when you change your clocks is a good time to remember to do this. Now that you've changed your clocks, make sure you change the smoke detector batteries!)
- Never "borrow" the battery from your smoke detector.
- Replace any smoke detector that's more than 10 years old.
- Have a fire escape plan and practice it.
- Choose a safe meeting place if you must leave your home, and make sure everyone knows where to go during an emergency.
For more information on smoke detectors, carbon monoxide detectors, or other fire safety issues in the home, visit our website at visitthiefriverfalls.com and click on the City Government link to find the Fire Department site.
Let's all work together to get this important message out to everyone! Tell a friend. Together, we can help avoid another tragedy like the one the Peters family has had to endure. Remember, PUSH FOR BREE!

Warroad Diva Day planned for March 31

The women of Warroad are gearing up for Warroad's Second Annual Diva Day. This special day for women of all ages is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 31 at the Warroad Middle School. Those who attend the Warroad Diva Day will have the chance to sample products, relax during a massage, get decorating ideas, purchase unique gifts and take part in one of the scheduled demonstrations or dance lessons.

Admission is free, and a special Diva lunch along with specialty coffees and baked goods will be available. Vendors can put in weeks, sometimes months, of work to prepare for shows like Diva Day.

"Preparation and market research is an ongoing process," says Becky Rosenkrans who operates Bead Gypsy out of her home studio in Roseau. "I spend my time throughout the year researching what is in style and what women want to buy for themselves. When I do a show, I keep track of what women like and work to meet that need, selecting those pieces for the next show. Warroad Diva Day is an excellent way for people to see my designs."

This year will be Heidi Lien's first year having a booth at the Warroad Diva Day. "I represent Stampin' Up, a company that specializes in rubber stamps and scrapbooking materials. I plan on a 'make and take' friendship card activity to let the ladies see how much fun the creative process can be."

Gloria Steinhauer and Eilene Marsh, owners of Northern Borders Custom Framing, are busy organizing the event and preparing items to display at their booth. "We've had a great response from area businesses. It looks like we will have plenty of variety at Diva Day this year," remarked Gloria. "Eilene and I are working on developing an interesting booth display for Northern Borders. We hope to include a stained glass display."

Eilene and Gloria are members of the Northwest Minnesota Women's Entrepreneurial Network (WENet), an organization that works to support and educate women business owners. WENet co-sponsors Warroad Diva Day in conjunction with the Warroad Area Chamber of Commerce. For additional information on the event, visit www.warroad.org or call 218-386-3168 or 218-386-3543.

Team USA trains in Grand Forks for 10 days

The U.S. Women's National Team arrived in Grand Forks and has began a 10-day training camp leading up to the International Ice Hockey Federation Women's World Championship in Winnipeg April 3-10. Team USA, which is looking to defend its 2005 world title, will play a pre-tournament game against reigning Olympic silver medalist Sweden at 7 p.m. on March 30.

Practices are open to the public. Two practices had been held prior to Saturday (today). The third and final practice time will be from 8 to 10 a.m. on Saturday, March 24.

All listed practices will be held in the Ralph Engelstad Arena in Grand Forks, N.D.

The preliminary roster for the 2007 U.S. Women's National Team features nine Olympians, including three-time U.S. Olympian and current star of NBC's "The Apprentice" Angela Ruggiero, Harper Woods, Mich., along with Julie Chu, Fairfield, Conn., Natalie Darwitz, Eagan, and Krissy Wendell, Brooklyn Park, all of whom have competed in two Olympic games. In addition, eight players return from the 2005 U.S. Women's National Team that won the gold medal at the World Championship for the first time ever.

Tickets are currently on sale for the March 30 pre-tournament game between the United States and Sweden. Tickets are $15 for adults and $10 for youth (2-18) and all seats are general admission.

A special $5 ticket will be available to youth wearing their jerseys to the game and Girls Scouts and Boy Scouts dressed in their Scout apparel. This special ticket offer is only available at the UND/Ralph Engelstad Arena box office.

All other tickets may be purchased at the UND/Ralph Engelstad Arena box office, at all Ticketmaster locations, by calling 701-772-5151 or online at www.ticketmaster.com. For more information about the event, please log on to www.theralph.com.

Fourth BLT event: Digging and Discovering planned

Digging and Discovering, the fourth Building Language Together (BLT) event, focuses on prediction, observation, problem solving, and communication (math and science). Digging and Discovering will be offered Tuesday, March 37, from 4:15 to 5:45 p.m.; Tuesday, March 27, from 6:30 to 8 p.m.; and Thursday, March 29, from 6:30 to 8 p.m., at Challenger Preschool.

The program is intended for all parents and their children eligible to enroll in kindergarten in the fall of 2007. Call 681-8670 to register.

Embassy to host country music jam session

The Embassy Community Center will host its monthly country music jam session on Sunday, April 1, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

All country musicians are welcome to attend and present a sampling of their music. Music will continue through the afternoon and into the evening following the potluck supper served at 5:30 p.m. There is no charge for the afternoon of music and all who enjoy a variety of country music are welcome to attend. For details, contact the coordinator, Russ Comer, at 435-6096.

Hibbert grabs top 10 finish at Orlando

Tucker Hibbert, snowmobile racing champion from Goodridge who has turned his attention to motorcycle racing, put in his first top 10 finish of the season, placing 10th in he lites class at the Amp'd Mobile American Motorcyclist Association Supercross Series' stop in Orlando, Fla.

After a bad start and an 11th place finish in his heat race, Hibbert had to race the last chance qualifier (LCQ) for a ticket into the 22-rider, 15-lap main event. In the LCQ, Hibbert took the hole-shot and never looked back - holding off Darey Lange, who went on to finish third in the main event and is currently second in the points championship.

The main event was red flagged and restarted due to a crash on the first lap, which did not result in serious injuries. On the restart, Hibbert found himself in the back of the pack, but in only five laps, he fought his way from 18th to 10th. Hibbert quickly closed a substantial gap between him and ninth place Jeff Alessi, and rode on his rear tire for the rest of the race - holding off factor Honda rider Thomas Hahn.

"It feels really good to finally break into the top 10. It feels even better knowing that everything we [the team] have, we put together ourselves. I've been working so hard this year to put together a solid program and it's nice to see it finally paying off. Every weekend, my confidence is getting better and I'm starting to realize that I can beat these guys. I need to get better starts, put my head down and just ride like I know how to ride. I don't think it's out of the question to have a podium finish this year."

Sweet Presence to perform at Roseau Community Church

Sweet Presence, a southern gospel quartet from British Columbia, Canada, will be appearing in concert at the Roseau Community Church in Roseau on Friday, March 30, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Sweet Presence is a family group made up of Greg, Corey, Dolly and Ernie Schaber. From humble beginnings in the Alberta parklands, members of this group started singing at a young age in family singing groups. In 1982, they combined their talents to form the group that exists today, Sweet Presence. Since then, they have been presenting concerts throughout Canada and the United States.

Sweet Presence has made numerous radio and television appearances. There is no admission charge for this concert. Everyone is invited. For more information, call 218-424-7647.

Supporting our service men and women

families are better met.

Family Readiness Group - The Family Readiness Group meets once a month for families of service men and women. Through the Family Readiness Group, military families receive update letters from the Minnesota National Guard. The Family Readiness Group also offers financial help for families that are directly affected by the war in Iraq.

The Family Readiness Group is a statewide program, with a local division of the Family Readiness Group providing updates specifically for families of the 2136 Infantry Division.

Like the First Lady's Initiative, volunteer groups have worked with the Family Readiness Group to provide services for military families. The Family Readiness Group also works with Pennington County's Guard Family Help at Home, which has contracts with area businesses that offer discounts for military families.

For more information on the Family Readiness Group or to offer volunteer services, contact Cassie Wilson, program coordinator at 218-874-2799.

Guard Family Help at Home - The Guard Family Help at Home program began when area guardsmen and women were first deployed to Bosnia in 2003. Close to $6,000 was spent to help military families through the program during the first deployment.

The Guard Family Help at Home Program is run through Pennington County. It was reinstated when guardsmen returned to Iraq and it continues to help families with problems that appear. This winter the program helped guard families with things like plumbing (frozen pipes) and the program continues to be available for any unplanned expenses.

The program is run through Pennington County. For more information, contact Steve Stone, Pennington County veterans service officer at 683-7034; or Shannon Olson, program coordinator at 681-2793 during weekdays and at 681-5937 after hours and on weekends.

Professional artists work with Lincoln High School Choir

on one of the four jazz selections for the show. Commodore will also be soloing on the finale gospel piece. She has been a member of the Twin Cities music scene for many years and is one of the premier jazz vocalists in the upper Midwest.

Commodore currently performs with the noted jazz ensemble, MOORE BY FOUR. With them she tours the United States performing at Colleges and Universities, Concert Halls and renowned jazz festivals, including festivals in countries such as Portugal, Italy, Sicily, and Japan.

Reese said The Swingsations are very excited to work and perform with Commodore.

Kenni Holmen was the saxophone man at the May 2006 show and with the right flights back from a Lori Line concert in California, he will be back for Monday's show at Lincoln High School. Anyone that was at the "Woven Voices" show last May knows what Holmen can do. The choir members and Reese are keeping their fingers crossed that he'll be walking out on the stage May 21.

Another great woodwind player by the name of Greg Keel will be working and performing with the choir for the show. Keel is from the Twin Cities area and has performed with such greats as Natalie Cole and The Temptations.

Lincoln High School alumni Katie Christensen will be back on the Lincoln High School stage, performing a selection or two from her newly released rhythm and blues CD entitled "Live, Learn, Grow, and Change."

Gospel music plays a huge part in the history of American music. The choir will be featuring two styles of gospel music for the shows. The WoodPicks, a very popular hometown group, will be performing the country gospel style with the choir while Robinson and the TCC Gospel Choir will be performing the black gospel style. WoodPick members include Lincoln High School Alumni Joe Kezar, Gene Lunsetter, Milo Ballingrud, Dustin Keller, and Greg Dally. Other local performers will include Lincoln High School Alumnus Jacob Jacobson on lead guitar, Kristi LaSalle on piano, and Ben Wallis on bass.

Logos or publicity for the show was done by local artist Russ Holmaas. Holmaas is a very good friend of the choir. The choir is very fortunate to be able to work with not only the artists from the Twin Cities area but also the local artists that work on a regular basis with the choir.

The audience will be hearing American classics such as "Amazing Grace," "Walkin' In Jerusalem," "Swing Down Chariot," "Elijah Rock," "Sleepin' Bee," "That Old Black Magic," "Oh Happy Day," "Hold On, Gospel Medley" and many more.

A very beautiful lyrical dance selection choreographed by Michelle Duffy will be incorporated into the Gospel piece, "Lay Your Hands Upon Me." Dancers for the piece include Tevia Reese, Cassandra Teie, and Beth Marben. Sara Vigness and Lauren Dondelinger will also be signing the gorgeous text for that piece. Vocal soloists throughout the night include jazz and Gospel soloists Amber Galizia, Jeremy Hicks, and Mallory Asp.

Tickets will go on sale the first week in April. Tickets are available at Kezar Music in Thief River Falls. All seats are reserved and no phone orders will be taken. All tickets are non-refundable. The choir would like to thank Joe Kezar for providing this service to the choir.

Don't forget "Shakin' The Rafters" May 20-21, with shows beginning at 7 p.m. sharp. Doors to the auditorium will open at 6:15 p.m. each night. See you at the show.

Students in the choir include:

Basargin charged with attempted murder

Fosston - "The Polk County Attorney's Office has filed attempted murder charges against Kirikia Basargin, 28, Fosston. Basargin was arrested in the early morning hours of March 13 for allegedly stabbing William Kirk. The two had been living together at 208 Johnson Ave. in Fosston.

"According to the complaint, Kirk and Basargin had been at the VFW in Lengby earlier that evening. One witness said the two had been arguing and that Kirk had gotten angry when another gentleman had offered to take Basargin home."

Basargin received a ride home from another unidentified individual. "Kirk arrived home before Basargin and locked her out." He later let her into the home, and she allegedly stabbed him with a large silver knife. "One witness stated to Polk County deputies that Basargin tried to plunge the knife into Kirk several times before it was wrestled away from her by another individual who was at the scene.

"Kirk was taken to First Care Medical Services, where he was treated for a wound in the back of the shoulder. The knife apparently severed an artery, and Kirk was later sent to Altru Hospital in Grand Forks, N.D., where he refused treatment.

"Kirk is protesting Basargin's incarceration, stating the wound was just a small cut and that he doesn't wish to press charges."

"Since this is considered a domestic crime, the state has a right to press charges regardless of the alleged victim's wishes." - The 13 Towns of Fosston, March 27, 2007

New formula presented for police contracting

Red Lake Falls - "Red Lake County Sheriff Mitch Bernstein presented a new formula for the police contract at a meeting March 20 for the county's cities' representatives and the county sheriff's department."

"The projected 2008 sheriff's department budget is $661,770. Of this amount, $458,900 would be spread across the county in a general levy. For the cities' contracts, they would pay $202,800, which is 30.6 percent of the total budget.

Under the current contract, Red Lake Falls pays $154,201.82, Oklee pays $29,758.25, Plummer pays $8,115.89, and Brooks pays $2,705.30.

The total cost for the police contracts under the new formula would be: Red Lake Falls – $163,800; Oklee – $27,300; Plummer – $9,100; and Brooks – $2,600.

"At the county commissioners' meeting Monday, the commissioners voted and approved the new formula for police contracting. The cities will now need to vote on it." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, March 28, 2007, by Destiny Harmoning

RLF mayor charged with two felonies

Charges stem from dispute over a house

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Red Lake Falls Mayor Robert Philion was charged Tuesday with two felonies. The charges pertained to Philion's former home, which was sold as part of the city's buyout program.

Philion, 59, has been charged with felony offenses of criminal damage to property over $500 and possession of stolen property over $2,500 but under $35,000. The damage is estimated to be $10,122, which includes replacement parts, materials and labor, according to the criminal complaint. Philion is accused of stealing approximately $3,428.18 worth of numerous fixtures from his former home, 109 Seventh St. S.E.

The property damage charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison, $10,000 or both. The other charge carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison, $20,000 or both.

Pennington County Attorney Al Rogalla handled the case at the request of Red Lake County Attorney Dan Geller. Philion is scheduled to make his initial appearance in Red Lake County District Court on April 9 at 9 a.m.

The charges stem from a Feb. 16 report from Warroad Police Chief Robert Cudahack, who purchased the property from the city of Red Lake Falls through the buyout program. The Red Lake County Sheriff's Department investigated the case and found that Philion owned the home in spring 2006. His home and others were bought out since those properties were sliding into the Clearwater River. At the time that the buyout was occurring, Philion was a Red Lake Falls City Council member. Philion has since become mayor, succeeding Allen Ducharme, who resigned to become city administrator.

About Philion's position and what the city may do, Ducharme said Wednesday, "At this point, I cannot really give you any answers." He added that the city has contacted the League of Minnesota Cities for guidance on how to handle the situation.

Philion's home was sold April 24, 2006. "During the negotiation for the purchase of the property, Mr. Philion specifically gave a notice that no salvage was to occur on the property. This meant that the house could not be stripped of fixtures. Also, the purchase agreement specifically stated what Mr. Philion could and could not take from the property," according to the criminal complaint.

Upon entering the home in February 2007, a Red Lake County sheriff's deputy allegedly noticed that numerous fixtures were stripped from the home. These items include light fixtures, a sauna, a bar, an antique heat cover, a wooden deck, a front door and frame, two baseboard heaters, a ceiling fan, a light switch, five sets of shutters, thermostats, wainscoting from walls, a bi-fold door and closet frame, a cabinet from a stairwell, three antique floor register covers, a door frame and

A good look inside

The new BrightSpeed CT scanner is expected to improve the speed with which the hospital can respond to patient trauma.

New 16-slice CT scanner in use at TRF hospital

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Broken bones can be accurately diagnosed within minutes thanks to a new CT scanner (computed tomograph scanner) that is now being utilized at Northwest Medical Center.

Northwest Medical Center recently entered a lease agreement with CMDI (Central Minnesota Diagnostic Imaging, a co-op of hospitals) for the use of a 16-slice CT scanner. The new CT scanner is part of General Electric Healthcare's BrightSpeed series and it is expected to produce high resolution CT scans at a much faster rate than previous machines were capable.

"This is a continuation of what we want to do to upgrade this facility," said Chris Harff, CEO of Northwest Medical Center. She added that the new CT scanner will help the hospital treat patients more efficiently.

The co-op with CMDI allows partnering hospitals the opportunity to use state of the art equipment at a reduced cost. If the hospital had purchased the new CT scanner outright, it would have spent in excess of $1 million.

The new scanner can be configured to take as many as 16 slices at a minimum thickness of six tenths of a millimeter. Along with high resolution scans, up to 0.35 millimeters isotropic, and high speed scans, up to half a second per rotation and variable scan speeds that are adjustable by the tenth of a second, the BrightSpeed CT Scanner has the ability to take images from multiple organs from one scan at a thickness that is less than one millimeter.

The new CT scanner also has the ability to take three-dimensional scans, which can be reconstructed on a computer.

"Basically, this machine is just the next step in X-ray technology," said Tom Picquet, imaging specialist at Northwest Medical Center. "It has an X-ray tube that rotates around the body, instead of being stationary with traditional X-rays."

Picquet clarified that CT scans are better at diagnosing bone fractures, while MRI machines are better at detecting problems with soft tissue.

"A CT scan is used when X-ray has failed to answer all the questions," Picquet said. "If the X-ray won't answer the question, then lets step up to a CT scan."

Picquet added that CT scans are also faster at diagnosing injuries in patients that are experiencing some form of trauma or are in extreme pain. Images produced by scans can be processed immediately on site, or through a connecting network.

"This new machine is what people think of as big city healthcare – and it's right here in Thief River Falls," Picquet said.

A team of seven currently operates the CT scanner. That team includes, Picquet, Lead Technologists Connie Aasand and Ali Bruno, Staff Technologists Amy Hugget, Blaine Ternes, Nicole Brule and Tara Lunsetter.

RLEC looks at demands on electrical rates

Rate increase planned for RLEC customers

by David Hill
Editor

Hundreds of area residents who are members of the Red Lake Electric Cooperative filled the Imperial Room at the Ralph Engelstad Arena in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, March 28. They heard good news about the company, but also learned of increasing demands on electricity. One of the early outcomes of those increasing demands is a rate increase.

Red Lake Electric is anticipating a 5.7 percent increase in retail rates this summer. Veral Mosbeck, president of the board of directors for the RLEC, stressed that while this is an increase, the cooperative's rates remain relatively low.

Retail rates will increase on the bills that members receive July 20. On March 20, 2007, RLEC's cost of wholesale power increased 8.5 percent.

Ron Kennedy, general manager, explained that demands on electricity are responsible for the rate increase. He broke those demands down into three areas: consumer-driven demands, legislative demands, and wholesale power demands.

Member's annual use of electricity in the cooperative is not increasing, but member's use of electricity during the coldest months of the year is increasing. Kennedy didn't discourage conservation. In fact, he encouraged conservation because, he said, it helps keep rates low. What's happening, however, is that when rates are highest and temperatures are low, demand is increasing. He specifically identified portable electric heaters as the culprit, and encouraged members to stop using portable electric heaters and start using another source. Use of portable electric heaters during off-peak demand just defeats the purpose.

Kennedy said the new retail rates

Minnkota to utilize more wind power

On Thursday, March 29, Minnkota Power Cooperative, Inc., a generation and transmission cooperative headquartered in Grand Forks, N.D., announced a contractual agreement with FPL Energy to purchase renewable energy from a large-scale wind farm to be located south of Langdon, N.D., in Cavalier County.

In September of 2006, Minnkota issued a Request for Proposals (RFP) for long-term renewable energy supply contracts. FPL Energy's proposal was among those identified as most economic and feasible.

"We are pleased to have this renewable energy purchase agreement in place," said David Loer, Minnkota president and CEO. "In response to customers' interest, Minnkota is seeking to add more economical renewable generation to our energy resources. We are pleased to be part of this FPL Energy project, which will be the single largest wind farm in the state of North Dakota."

The Minnkota portion of the wind farm will be sized for 99 megawatts (MW) of peak output. Minnkota will purchase all of the renewable energy generated through a 25-year Purchase Power Agreement. The renewable energy will be delivered to customers in Minnesota and North Dakota.

The project will utilize 66 General Electric (GE) wind turbines, each having a nameplate capacity of 1.5 megawatts. The wind farm will annually provide more than 350 million kilowatt-hours (kWh) to Minnkota, which will be more than 10 percent of energy sales to area member-owner distribution cooperatives. The project will have a positive impact on

Be on the lookout for emerald ash borer

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

Residents are urged to be on the lookout for the symptoms of an emerald ash borer infestation.

"Emerald ash borer is a little beetle that they thought came from China from shipping crates into the Detroit, Michigan and Toronto area. It started attacking the ash trees – all species of ash," said City Forester Myles Olson.

The emerald ash borer chews through the bark of ash trees, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It also [illegible] creating small [illegible] shaped patches along the [illegible] leaves. Eventually it attacks the water transporting [illegible] trees. "It diminishes trees' ability to transport water, and eventually they die," Olson said.

The metallic green pest, which measures about half an inch, has killed more than 20 million ash trees in Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, indicated the Web site www.emeraldashborer.info. The states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Maryland and Michigan are enforcing regulations in order to limit the number of infestations in those states. "Right now, as far as I know, it hasn't been detected in Minnesota," Olson said.

But an infestation could happen here. "The bad news is that they [illegible] found a way to eradicate it yet," Olson said.

And an infestation would be bad

All but the last recipe today are from the Halstad Community Club cookbook from 1977. This little ditty was also in the cookbook and, needless to say, today's recipes are for hot dishes:

There's something in a hot dish,
That makes a hit with men.
They say, "It sticks right to my ribs,"
And fill their plates again.

Oh, my, but this dish has everything you might want right in one dish and the kids will love it. You can have it ready and waiting after work:

SLOW COOKER BEAN DISH
Wanda Wall
Argusville, ND
(Similar recipes by Alice Lervold of Halstad and Diane Williams of Ada)

1 can pork and beans (cans are all 15 ounces or so)
1 can butter beans
1 can kidney beans
1 minced onion
1/4 pound bacon
1 pound hamburger
4 hot dogs, sliced
3/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1 teaspoon mustard
1/2 cup ketchup
2 teaspoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt

Fry hamburger and bacon. Drain. Place all ingredients in slow cooker and cook on low for 2 to 3 hours.

This hot dish is about as easy as you can get too:

HAMBURGER RICE HOT DISH
Mrs. Alfred Kemnitz
Cavalier, ND

2 cups cooked rice
1 pound hamburger
1 cup celery
1 cup onion
1 can mushroom soup
1 can chicken and rice soup
1/4 cup soy sauce
2 tablespoons shortening

Sauté hamburger, onion and celery in shortening. Add other ingredients and bake in 2 quart casserole for 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Here's a yummy quick dish that is just as good or better than those hamburger box mixes:

TACO HOT DISH
Connie Dien
Halstad

1 pound hamburger
1 (15 ounce) can tomato sauce
1 envelope taco season mix
2 1/2 cups taco chips
1 (15 ounce) can refried beans
2 ounces shredded cheddar cheese

Brown beef in skillet. Add 1-1/2 cups of the tomato sauce and the package of taco mix, stirring well. Line bottom of baking pan with 2 cups of taco chips, setting aside remaining chips. Spoon meat mixture over chips. Combine remaining tomato sauce with refried beans and spread on meat mixture. Sprinkle with remaining taco chips and cheese. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes.

I have corn in hot dish. Maybe you'll enjoy this one too - call it easy:

POTATO-CORN HOT DISH
Ida Hohn
Halstad

1 pound raw hamburger
6 raw sliced medium potatoes or French fries
1 can cream style corn
Onion as desired
Salt and pepper to taste

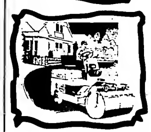
Mix all ingredients together and bake at 350 degrees until potatoes are soft.

HAMBURGER HOT DISH
Mrs. Frances Skogen
Hillsboro, ND

1 pound (or more) hamburger
1 onion, chopped
1 (8 ounce) package noodles, cooked and drained
1 can mushroom soup
1 can tomato soup
1 can vegetables soup
1 pint milk or less

Brown hamburger and onions. Add remaining ingredients. Bake at 250 to 300 degrees about 1 hour. Serves 12.

If you are watching your food intake, this one is for you - just for you alone:



SCALLOPED POTATOES FOR ONE

1 small potato, peeled and sliced (1/2 cup)
1/3 cup milk
1 small garlic clove, minced
1/4 teaspoon salt, if desired
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon butter or margarine
1/2 to 2 tablespoons shredded Cheddar cheese

In small saucepan, combine potato slices, milk, garlic, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil and then pour into buttered 10 ounce custard cup. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake, uncovered, at 375 degrees for 35 minutes until potatoes are tender. Serves 1.

Nutritional Info: 1 serving (with skim milk and margarine and no added salt) contains 179 calories, 131 mg sodium, 12 mg chol, 24 gm carb, 8 gm protein, 6 gm fat. Diabetic Exchange is 1 starch, 1/2 meat, 1/2 fat, 1/2 skim milk.

Veral Mosbeck retires from RLEC board

Veral Mosbeck

Veral Mosbeck, who has served on the board of directors of Red Lake Electric Cooperative for 30 years, 16 of which as president, announced his retirement to the membership during the annual meeting of the cooperative. Mosbeck thanked those he has served with on the board, the employees of the cooperative, and the consumers. He said he was very proud to be a part of the RLEC.

He said as he looks to the future, assuring the members of the cooperative that RLEC will continue to provide reliable service, competitive rates and community service.

During the meeting, Kelly Lundeen, vice president, congratulated Mosbeck. He presented him with a plaque, thanking him for his 30 years of service to RLEC.

Mosbeck has also served as an ex-officio member of the Red Lake Electric Trust Board since its inception in 1993. He was presented a plaque by Kennedy and thanked for his service on the trust board. During his 14 years on the trust board, near $280,000 was awarded to area nonprofit and charitable organizations.

Rural Reflections

Grant Nelson

The comments published in this column are intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. They are written by independent columnists and do not represent the opinion of the staff or management of The Times/Northern Watch.

AM Radio

Northwest Minnesota is lucky, because you get to see who makes your food, you get to see who writes in your newspaper and sometimes you even get to see the face behind the microphone of your local radio station. As many radio announcers are said to "have a face made for radio," maybe seeing them isn't always a treat but knowing they are local gives what they say more credence.

I used to listen to local radio stations when I traveled to absorb some local flavor but lately it seems most stations are plugged into the same satellite, playing the same music which is introduced by the same guy somewhere in a studio near Burbank, Calif. It wasn't always so.

Radio was once the wild west of communications. Stations created a symphonic mess of music, talk, news, infomercials and religious programming. The border blaster stations, south of the U.S. and Mexico border skirted FCC regulations to create AM stations with 250,000 watts (stateside limits were 50,000 watts) of power and sometimes even more. These stations broadcast everything from salesmen selling snake oil, to alleged doctors selling goat gland transplants, even offers of mail-order baby chickens, and then finally, disc jockeys like Wolfman Jack.

I loved local radio as a kid. My parents listened to "News of the North" loyally (and loudly) at the dinner table. I remember listening to religious programming on the radio in our dairy barn on Sunday nights. It was a little hard to hear the words above the cow milker so it was hard to understand, more so when the service was in Norwegian.

Mornings were always the same on local radio with Big Red and his even bigger "cup of coffee." Clark Hendrickson was like a rock star to me as I hung on his every word when it came to school cancellations the morning of a blizzard. Our bus driver was Tom Yutrzenka and he always had "Curt and Dave-the morning team" on his radio, which was my first exposure to country music like John Anderson, Alabama and John Conley. It was also were I learned the magic of AM radio, which is creating a picture in someone's mind using only words. Harv Hover did the morning traffic reports from a gyrocopter high above the listeners and always created such a vivid picture. As a youngster, I wondered if "Harv Hover" actually flew about Thief River Falls and the surrounding area. Much as the music died at the loss of Buddy Holly, my young mind thought that radio died when Harv Hover was shot from the skies and left local AM radio in a ball of fire and charred debris. I was wrong. I later worked with him as I started my own, short radio career.

Good local radio never died, either. I still would rather listen to a young announcer stumble a little or use the word "ahh" too often than some slick, over-produced disc jockey or canned nationwide talk-show.

Recently, some local afternoon talk shows have cropped up. I hope these shows get a chance to grow into something people can enjoy. A three-hour show is not easy to create, go sit in your bathroom and talk to yourself for three hours if you seek proof of this fact. I'd say more about local radio, but I have other commitments this morning - it's time for the Trading Post" and I never miss it.

Local boys taking the bull by the horns

by Jessica Knox

Cory Christofferson and Micky Knox of Warroad attended a North Dakota State University Bullfighting School March 24 and 25 in Fargo, N.D. It was taught by PRCA bullfighter Josh Rivinius. At the same time the bullfighting school was being taught, a bullriding school was being taught by six-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Fred Boettcher.

What is a bullfighter? It is nothing like the Spanish bullfighting. Here, the bullfighter is an integral part of the rodeo.

During the rodeo, there are often two clowns. One is a funnyman that entertains the crowd. The other's job is no laughing matter. It is his responsibility to keep the bull riders safe from 1,500- to 2,000-pound bulls. Despite their size, these bulls are quick and agile. They are aggressive and at times downright mean. A bull is different from a horse. A horse will, if it can, avoid the cowboy. A bull tries to charge, stomp and hurt them.

A bullfighter also must be able to read the bull, have quick feet and the agility to juke or fake-out the bull. The bullfighter's duties involve protecting the cowboy by all means necessary. Those duties include working at aiming the ride to the center of the arena, which is considered to be the safest place.

After the rider's dismount, their job is to get the bull's attention and direct it away from the rider and toward themselves. This often requires stepping between the fallen cowboy and the bucking bull to draw the bull to them.

Another challenge for the bullfighter is helping cowboys caught in the strap that is used to secure the cowboy to the bull. The bullfighter must help to free the dangling cowboy from this dangerous situation.

Besides saving cowboys, bullfighters can compete around the nation in freestyle bullfighting competitions.

At the bullfighting school at NDSU, as 10 cowboys were learning to ride bulls, three cowboys were learning to fight them.

When asked about the experience, Christofferson said," It was awesome! It's the biggest adrenaline rush I've ever had! It was so fun, I'd like to keep doing it."

Knox said, "We had really good instructors. It was a big rush! You'd be surprised how fast you can run when you're being chased by a bull! After watching the tape, I thought to myself 'What was I thinking?'"

In this case, there's a literal meaning to the saying "Don't mess with the bull, you'll get the horns."

Micky Knox is the son of Matt and Julie Knox of Warroad. Cory Christofferson is the son of Ed and Mary Christofferson of Warroad.

Christian Brothers Racing wraps up Snocross season

The Christian Brothers Racing Team brought its powerful Arctic Cat snowmobiles to bear during the 2006-2007 WPSA PowerSports Snowmobile Tour season. Led by Pro racers DJ Ekre (No. 52 Christian Brothers Racing/Arctic Cat) and Kurtis Crapo (No. 9 Christian Brothers Racing/Arctic Cat), the team amassed a single victory and 11 podiums during the National Tour.

Ekre fought injuries all season, including rib and jailbone injuries suffered at Eagle River.

"It was a tough season," said Ekre. "I spent most of the season recovering from injuries, and though that's a bit frustrating, the team's efforts were definitely strong. My goal in the off season is to get healthy, and work hard in the gym. I'm looking forward to next year."

Snocross veteran Kurtis Crapo suffered from his own bad luck this season. However, his experience has taught him to work through challenges and make the best of every situation.

"Every rider has a difficult season," said Crapo. "We were behind the eight ball this year, but we were certainly competitive. The team was simply awesome this year, and we're looking forward to improving going into next year."

Mathew Piche (No. 51 Christian Brothers Racing/Arctic Cat) recorded a strong run of podiums and a win in the semi-pro classes. With three runner up finishes, Piche finished sixth in semi-pro open points. With five podiums and a victory, Piche was third in semi-pro stock points, just 16 markers out of the lead.

"The semi-pro classes are just so competitive, so to finish as well as we did is a testament to just how competitive this team really is," said Piche. "We were in the running week in and week out, and our consistency was unparalleled. What a great season!"

Karl Christian (No. 33 Christian Brothers Racing/Arctic Cat) finished the season on top, earning his second pro veteran podium of the season at the finale in Lake Geneva. Christian finished fourth in overall points.

"There is a ton of experience in the pro veteran class, so strong finishes are really hard to come by," said Christian. "So to score two podiums, and finish as well as we did, shows just how competitive we were this year."

Logan Christian, the youngest of the Christian Brothers team, celebrated his 15th birthday on Sunday. Logan Christian (No. 443 Christian Brothers Racing/Arctic Cat), who earned a pair of podiums in the Junior Classes, finished the season with an exclamation point by earning a podium in the Sport Class of the Regional Affiliate Championship at Lake Geneva. The Affiliate Championship invites the top three in each of the Tour's regions, including Minnesota State, where Logan Christian is a regular.

"To finish with a podium at the National season finale is truly special to me," said Logan Christian. "We had a ball this season, and I'm gaining experience every race. I can't wait until next year."

About Christian Brothers Racing. Christian Brothers Racing, based in Fertile, is one of the WPSA PowerSports Snowmobile Tour's top teams. Klobuchar to visit west and NW MN

During her 2006 U.S. Senate campaign in Minnesota, Amy Klobuchar visited all 87 counties in Minnesota. She also pledged to visit every county at least once every year while she serves as a U.S. senator.

Next week, while the U.S. Senate is in spring break recess, Klobuchar will be in Minnesota and plans to visit 10 counties in western and northwestern Minnesota to meet with Minnesotans and discuss current Senate issues, including the new farm bill, doing right by America's veterans and middle-class economic issues. As a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Klobuchar will also be in Fargo, N.D., to participate in an Agriculture Committee field hearing on the 2007 Farm Bill.

Klobuchar will meet with members of the Minnesota Wheat and Barley Growers Association at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday, April 4 in Red Lake Falls. She will meet with local officials and tour Northwest Medical Center at 9 a.m. Thursday, April 5 to discuss rural critical access hospital issues. Later that day, at 10:30 a.m., she will meet with local residents at the Warren Community Center.

Miss Marshall County seeks contributions to Children's Miracle Network

This year, the Miss America Organization has teamed up with the Children's Miracle Network, a non-profit organization dedicated to saving and improving the lives of children, by raising funds for children's hospitals. As a contestant in the Miss Minnesota program this summer, Miss Marshall County Meghan Kuznia is seeking to raise awareness of the work done by the Children's Miracle Network and is participating in fundraising efforts.

To make a donation to the Children's Miracle Network, visit Kuznia's Web site, which has been set up through the Miss America Organization. Her Web site is www.missamerica4kids.org/m.aspx?i=383DB257999&e=C4DC35. Donations are tax-deductible, and a receipt will be provided for donors at the end of the year. After donors have completed their secure online donations, the donations will be included in Kuznia's fundraising total on her personal page. To help even further, donors could share the Web address with their families and friends.

"Having two young cousins born with spina bifida, I understand how very important it is to have specialized health care available to children and their families," said Kuznia. "By making a donation, you will help to ensure that the Children's Miracle Network health care mission can continue."

Across the country, Children's Miracle Network hospitals treat 17 million children every year. They provide $2.5 billion in uncompensated (charity) medical care for children. Their hospitals treat 98 percent of all children needing heart or lung transplants, 88 percent of children with cancer and 72 percent of pediatric AIDS patients. In addition, they provide training to 60 percent of pediatricians and about 80 percent of all pediatric specialists in this country.

Family caregivers concerns group to meet April 2

A meeting for family members or friends who provide care and/or support to elderly persons will be held on Monday, April 2, in the community room at the Good Samaritan Apartments in Warren, beginning at 10 a.m.

Many of the group's members have a loved one diagnosed with Alzheimer's Disease or other related disorders. Individuals with a loved one in the nursing home or at home are encouraged to attend.

Marshall Manor has a unit specializing in care and services for people with Alzheimer's or related disorders. It is the group's desire to provide a supportive environment for families of people with these disorders.

Debut of new song set for April 1 at Rodnes Palm Sunday service

Terry Hendriksen will sing "My Soul is Restored by My Lord" at the Palm Sunday Service at Rodnes Lutheran Church on April 1 – the first public performance of this new composition by Ron Howe, with lyrics inspired by the 23rd psalm and the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The manuscript for the new song was the sixth of seven compositions copyrighted by Howe, beginning with his piano concerto, Three Days in Judea, in 1999.

Palms will be distributed to worshippers with the Sunday School having a part in the service. Rev. Peter Satren will bring the message. Communion will be offered. Following the service, refreshments will be served by Gloria Ostgard and Elda and Reuben Hanson.

St. Hilaire man charged after attempting to elude deputy

A St. Hilaire man has been charged after he allegedly attempted to elude a Red Lake County sheriff's deputy who was attempting to stop him for a traffic violation.

Randy James Smsky, 47, made his initial court appearance Wednesday in Red Lake County District Court on charges of third degree driving while intoxicated, driving after revocation and fleeing a peace officer in a motor vehicle, according to the Red Lake County Sheriff's Department.

The charges stemmed from an incident in the early morning hours of Wednesday when the deputy tried to stop Smsky. The deputy pursued Smsky along Red Lake County Road 4 for approximately five miles when Smsky's car went into a ditch near the Red Lake-Pennington County line. Smsky was apprehended shortly thereafter. He was not injured in the accident nor was his vehicle damaged.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

Dave Hill, Editor

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Unless specified otherwise, the editorials are written by Editor Dave Hill and do not represent opinion of other staff members. Opinions in items from other publications may not coincide with the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Whatever happened to telephone courtesy?

Whatever happened to personal interaction? Not only are we glued to our computers and televisions, we can't even be bothered to answer the telephone.

I'm guilty of these hermit-like activities myself. In the past, I used to run to the telephone every time it rang. My parents taught me to be courteous when answering telephone - politely saying "Hello, this is the Hill residence," and then telling the caller who they were talking to. A telephone call back then meant someone important was calling. It was exciting, and interesting. Today, I let the telephone ring and check caller ID to see if it's someone I want to talk to or just another telemarketer. If it's a number I don't recognize, I'll pick up and listen for the telltale delay of a telemarketer. If it is a telemarketer, I just hang up - they can repeat their spiel to someone else. In any event, I answer the telephone with a simple "hello," not like some of my friends who will answer the telephone with "What?" They answer the telephone as if the caller is interrupting something important and their call is somehow rude and offensive.

Answering the telephone today has somehow become different - it's no longer a convenience, it's a necessary intrusion into our multi-tasking, challenged lives, and sometimes we resent that.

Wait ... the telephone is ringing. Oh, it's just another telemarketer. Their automated system can talk to my answering machine. Hmmm ... I hope they never learn how to carry-on a conversation.

Robert M. Shaw, Minnesota Newspaper Association manager emeritus, wrote the following "Think Piece" that seems to score a direct hit on how we're treating each other.

The inevitable spread of telephone courtesy: A fantasy

A nice man at the IRS said he'd like more information about a trip I took last summer. I couldn't get what he wanted by telephone, so I got in my car, drove downtown, put eight quarters in a parking meter, found the correct building, and took the elevator to the top floor.

I approached a receptionist sitting behind a shiny desk.

"Good morning!" I said cheerily. "I'd like to ..."

"If you want to know our location, telephone number and fax number, just say 'location!'" she said.

"Please: All I want is some informa ..."

"If you have a legal question," she continued, "just say 'legal.' If you have a question about our product, just say 'product.' If you want to discuss your account, just say 'bill.' If you know the name of the person on our staff to whom you wish to speak, just say the last name of that person. Your call may be monitored for security purposes and to assure quality service. If you want to hear the main menu again, just say 'menu.'"

Well, I couldn't remember the key word. "All right: menu!" I said. She started all over again.

"If you want to know our location, telephone number, and fax number ... " she just kept right on going down to the end with ... "Your call may be monitored for security purposes and to assure quality service."

"Thank you," I said. No, I had the key word. I said "Bill" in a loud, clear voice. She pressed a button and said, "Thank you for your patience. Your call is important to us. Our specialists were assisting other clients."

A nice, young man came out, asked what I wanted, went back, and in a short time returned with a copy of the document I needed. "Thank you!" I said.

"I apologize for the delay," he answered. "Thank you for your patience. I was assisting other clients. Your call is important to us."

As I left, I reached over and touched the receptionist, just a little tap on her hand. "Thank you!" I said. "Your call may have been monitored for security purposes and quality control," she replied.

On the way down in the elevator, I said to a total stranger - a man about my age: "Whatever happened to receptionists?"

"Oh yes," he said, "they've all been re-programmed by the telephone people. Everybody in this building has been re-programmed. I've been re-programmed. But you know: If you stay on the line, your call will be answered in the order it was received."

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

NW MN Art Exhibition set for April 11-15

Everyone is welcome to attend the eighth annual Northwest Minnesota Art Exhibition. The exhibition will be on display at the Stephen Arts Center from April 11-15. Hours are Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There will be 130 pieces of art on display from 104 area artists. Included in the show are paintings, drawings, photography, digital images, pottery, sculpture and mixed media pieces. Artists participating in the exhibit are professional and amateur artists as well as area high school students. All visual artists in the seven-county northwestern region of Minnesota were invited to participate. The seven counties represented are Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau. Artwork is available for purchase through contact with the artists represented.

Luther Pokrant of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, is the juror for the exhibit. Pokrant has an extensive background in judging visual art shows. Pokrant is a professional landscape painter who has received international recognition. His choice for cash awards totaling $1,650 will be acknowledged at the exhibit.

An artist reception will occur Sunday, April 15 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. at the Stephen Arts Center. The reception is free and open to the public. It will include entertainment from 2:30 to 3 p.m., then the presentation of awards starting at 3 p.m. Awards will include 16 Exhibit Awards selected by the juror, the Northwest Artists of the Year award presented to Robin and Lorrie Foster of Red Lake Falls, the Northwest Arts Advocate of the Year award to LeRoy Hoekstra, formerly of Kennedy, and the announcement of the two people's choice exhibit award winners.

The Arts Council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission is sponsoring this program with funding from The McKnight Foundation and an appropriation from the Minnesota State Legislature. This year, the Stephen Arts Center is cosponsoring the program. It is providing volunteers and knowledge that will help make the exhibit a success.

For more information on the Northwest Minnesota Art Exhibit, contact Mara Wittman, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 115 S. Main, Warren, MN 56762; (218) 745-6733; or mara@nwrdc.org. Individuals can also access its Web page (www.nwrdc.org/art_exhibit.htm).

Pickup truck stolen in Kittson Co.

The Kittson County Sheriff's Department is searching for a pickup truck stolen from a farmstead in Kittson County on Wednesday morning. The red Chevy pickup truck was stolen after another vehicle, believed to be involved in an ATM theft in Drayton, N.D., was set on fire at that same farmstead.

The search began at 6:16 a.m. Wednesday after the sheriff's department received a report that a vehicle was on fire at the farmstead, which is located east of Drayton. The vehicle, a cargo van, was stolen from a location in Grand Forks, N.D. Diesel fuel had been used as an accelerant, according to a press release from Kittson County Chief Deputy Steve Porter. The 1990 red Chevy pickup truck, with Minnesota license plate MPA-693, was then stolen from the farmstead. Porter declined to identify the owner of the pickup truck, saying that person doesn't want to be identified. The pickup truck has a bad battery and may have failed to start again. It could be sitting in a parking lot somewhere.

If you have any information on the location of this vehicle, call the Kittson County Sheriff's Department at (218) 843-3535.

RACF welcomes new members

At its monthly meeting in March, the Advisory Committee of the Roseau Area Community Fund welcomed new members Chuck Thompson, Mary Dieter and Rusty Billberg.

Out-going Advisory Committee members are Robert Foley, Todd Peterson and Larry Guggisberg, who have served since the establishment of the RACF in 2002. RACF is a component fund of Northwest Minnesota Foundation.

RACF's objective is to raise money in an endowment fund so that the earnings can be given to various Roseau-area nonprofit groups and public entities, both city and rural. These groups can use the money given to them for a purpose they've identified and that meets specific criteria.

Perhaps an even more important objective is to continue to enjoy the wonderful quality of Roseau, to maintain Roseau as a healthy, viable community that strives to make improvements that enhance the quality of life for all city and rural residents.

To learn more about making a gift to the RACF, go to www.nwmf.fund.org/Roseau or contact Linda Vatnsdal, Mary Ross, Steve Pasek, Robert Larson, Phil Sallberg, Mary Dieter, Chuck Thompson, Rusty Billberg or Caryl Turnow.

Zavoral recognized for academic achievement

The United States Achievement Academy recently announced that Beth Zavoral of Middle River has been recognized for academic achievement as a United States National Honor Student Award winner.

Zavoral, who attends Marshall County Central in Newfolden, will appear in the United States Achievement Academy's Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, USAA founder.

The USAA National Honor Student Awards provide honor students with many benefits and services, and is a great tribute to a student's dedication, talent and ability.

Zavoral is the daughter of Todd and Kathy Fillmore of Middle River and William Zavoral of Grygla. She is the granddaughter of Philip and Marilyn Walsh of Greenbush, Tom and Ione Fillmore of Middle River, and Lois and the late Robert J. Zavoral of East Grand Forks.

Warren Aglow scheduled April 14

Warren Aglow will be held Saturday, April 14 at the Warren Community Center. Refreshments will be served at 9 a.m., and the meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m.

Donna (Rivard) Schreiner, formerly of Oslo, and Diana Monsour who serve the Lord through Rose of Sharon Ministries in the Minneapolis area, will bring encouragement to those who are in bondage and to those who love them. They have been trained to bring inner healing to those in need. Schreiner and Monsour currently lead a Bible study at a "sober house," where they are seeing the captives: Women in oppression and abuse walking in freedom, knowing who they truly are in Christ, and set free from the addictions (sexual, shopping, drugs, alcohol etc.) that have kept them from walking in freedom and wholeness, according to Isaiah 61. That chapter says, "The spirit of the Lord God is upon me because the Lord has anointed and qualified me to preach the gospel of good tidings to the meek, the poor and afflicted; He has sent me to bind up and heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the [physical and spiritual] captives and the opening of the prison and of the eyes to those who are bound ..."

Lorene Genidy, a former resident at the "Lighthouse," will also share how Jesus set her free from that which held her in bondage since the age of 13.

For more information, call Judy at (218) 791-3106 or Brenda at (218) 745-9276.

WIC clinics to be offered in April

The Women, Infants and Children's Supplemental Nutrition Education Program (WIC) is being held during the month of April.

Infants, children up to the age of 5, and women who are pregnant or breast-feeding may be eligible for the program. WIC Quin County is very interested in enrolling pregnant women in the program. It feels that prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is important to apply for WIC early during pregnancy. No proof of pregnancy is required.

All potential clients must write or call the WIC Program and complete an application. The following is the schedule of WIC Clinics for the month of April:

• Tuesday, April 3, at the Newfolden Community Center.
• Wednesday, April 4 and Thursday, April 5 at the Warroad Community Center.
• Wednesday, April 4, at the Kittson County Courthouse in Hallock.
• Thursday, April 5, at the Red Lake Falls Community Center.
• Monday, April 9, through Thursday, April 12, at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.
• Monday, April 16, at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Warren.
• Tuesday, April 17, at the Karlstad Community Center.
• Wednesday, April 18 and Thursday, April 19, at the Roseau Area Hospital Basement Auxiliary Room.

North Valley Home Health will hold immunization clinics at the Newfolden and Warren clinics from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. An immunization record is needed before immunizations will be given. For more information contact North Valley Home Health at 218-745-5154.

For further information concerning the WIC program, call or write WIC Quin, P.O. Box 248, Newfolden, MN 56738, phone 874-7845 (Newfolden, Viking, Middle River, Holt or Thief River Falls residents) or 1-800-223-1591, or e-mail quinchs@wiktel.com.

Women of ELCA to meet April 14 in Lake Bronson

The Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America will meet April 14 at Zion Lutheran Church in Lake Bronson. Registration will begin at 9 a.m., with coffee being served at that time by the Maria ladies of Kennedy. The program will begin at 9:30 a.m.

The theme of the spring gathering of the Laroki Conference 1 Women of the ELCA is "Act Boldly with Friendship." The program will include special music, a singalong led by Kathy Englund and a message by Susan Haukaas, youth director at Zion Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls. Haukaas recently returned from a trip to India on a Global Ministries experience. Wenda Sang, representing the ladies at the synodical level, will bring a greeting. The day will close with a noon luncheon by the ladies of Zion Lutheran Church in Lake Bronson.

Spring fire restrictions set

Spring open burning restrictions in most of the northern two-thirds of Minnesota will go into effect at 8 a.m. April 2. The purpose of the fire restrictions is to reduce personal property damage resulting from wildfires caused by debris burning.

The counties affected by the April 2 fire restrictions are all counties from northern Minnesota south to Ramsey, Hennepin and Washington counties, except the counties of Koochiching, Lake, Cook, Lake of the Woods, Polk west of County Road 6, St. Louis north of County Road 16, Beltrami north of Highway 1, and Roseau east of Highway 310 south to Highway 89. Restrictions are expected to begin on April 9 or later for the remaining counties listed above. A map of the fire restriction areas can be viewed on the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Web site (www.dnr.state.mn.us).

As temperatures continue to warm up and vegetation dries out, fire agencies are expecting an increase in fire activity. Data indicates that most spring wildfires originate from the burning of yard debris, according to Olin Phillips, DNR fire protection manager. Historically, 80 percent of all wildfires in Minnesota occur during April and May. Since the inception of annual permit restrictions, the number of spring wildland fires has been reduced.

"The DNR is asking residents to use alternative methods of debris disposal, such as recycling, composting or chipping," Phillips said.

Once the restrictions are in place, they will continue for four to six weeks, or until vegetation greens up enough to significantly lower the fire danger. This is a restriction on the issuing of debris burning permits. Forestry personnel may still give some variances for specific activities. "Each variance application is reviewed separately," Phillips said. "These permits are only granted for situations such as prescribed fires conducted by trained fire personnel, burning for approved agricultural practices, and construction or economic hardship burning for which there is no feasible alternative."

More counties will be added to the restricted area as snow cover disappears and potential for wildfire increases in areas north of the metro area. More information is available on the DNR Web site.

Northland baseball team makes trip to Montana...

Pioneers reach tourney finals

Northland, after starting the 2007 baseball season with a trip to Florida for eight games, headed west for a half-dozen contests during the March 23-25 Miles Community College Tournament at Denton Field in Miles City, Mont.

It was a second place finish for the Pioneers in a four-team event that featured programs from Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota and Canada in a Friday/Saturday round-robin format and a Sunday trophy round. All games were scheduled nine-inning affairs.

Northland opened with a 15-2 win over Prairie Baseball Academy from Lethbridge, Alberta.

Miles Community College beat Northland 9-1 later that same day.

Saturday, the Pioneers lost to North Dakota's Williston State 6-5 and dropped an 11-3 rematch with Miles Community College.

Northland won a second meeting with Williston State by a 9-7 margin in the Sunday semifinals before losing for the third time to Miles Community College, 11-4 in the title game.

Results put the Pioneers at 4-10 for the year.

"It was a great tournament for our team," reported Northland coach Steve Gust. "We improved tremendously since our Florida trip. Our pitching looked better, our offense was good and our defense was solid through the tourney."

Miles Community College and Bismarck State belong to the National Junior College Athletic Association Division II baseball Mon-Dak Conference, along with Dawson, Lake Region, MSU-Bottineau, North Dakota State College of Science and United Tribes.

"Our non-conference schedule is as tough as any Division III team in the country," pointed out Gust. "Last season, Miles Community College went 25-0 at home and finished second to Iowa Central in the regional tournament – one game away from the Division II World Series. Although it can get frustrating at times to play against the best teams, it does help your team prepare for the conference season. We're hoping our team plays its best baseball in a month."

Northland will face its first Minnesota Community College Conference opponent Sunday with a 1 p.m. doubleheader against Central Lakes in Brainerd. The match-up with the Raiders will be followed by the April 6-7 Crossover Tournament in Willmar, where the Pioneers will have two games against host Ridgewater, the No. 4-ranked team in NJCAA Division III, along with single meetings with Itasca and St. Cloud.

Miles CC Tournament Results
- Friday, March 23 - Northland 15, Prairie Baseball Academy 2; Miles CC 9, Northland 1; Miles CC 12, Williston State 9.

Prowlers run second meet at Concordia

Four first place finishes were turned in by Thief River Falls entries Tuesday during the Moorhead Athletic Association Indoor boys and girls high school track meet at Concordia College, where the Prowlers and Spuds were joined by Fergus Falls and Detroit Lakes.

In the boys portion of the meet, the Prowlers came up with wins by Jeremy Sich, 200-meters; Mark Campbell, 400; and Andrew BlackLance, shot put.

Kathryn Walrath led the Thief River Falls girls with a win in the 200.

Team scores were not kept.

It was the second outing of the 2007 season for the Tim Olson-coached Prowlers, who made their debut in the March 23 Lions Indoor at Bemidji State University.

Thief River Falls returns to Bemidji Tuesday, April 3, for the Little Amik II Indoor at the BSU Rec Center.

The Prowlers' first outdoor meet will be the Tuesday, April 17, Northland Community and Technical College Invitational at Lowell T. Swenson Field.

New MSHSL line-ups affect Prowlers

Minnesota State High School League recently announced its new competitive section assignments for the 2007-08 and 2008-09 school years, and there changes pending for many Thief River Falls programs.

School District 564 offers 19 varsity sports, and only three of them – football, boys track and girls track – will not see any alterations to their MSHSL sectional set-ups.

While there was speculation that the Prowlers would be bumped back to Section 8AAAA in football, their status remained unchanged as a member of Section 8AAA, where they've won back-to-back titles since dropping down a class size in 2005-06.

There are no additions or subtractions to Section 8AAA football or Section 8AA boys and girls track, where the Prowlers reside.

That's not the case elsewhere.

During the fall sports season, Thief River Falls volleyball will move from Section 8AAA to Section 8AA, while boys cross country, girls cross country and girls tennis all switch from Section 8AA to Section 8A. The girls swim team remains in Section 8A, but a change will find Fergus Falls joining the post-season field.

None of the Thief River Falls teams will change classes during the winter sports season, but there will be modifications in sectional line-ups for the Prowlers in boys hockey, girls hockey, wrestling, boys basketball, girls basketball and boys swimming.

In boys hockey, Bemidji will be added and Detroit Lakes subtracted from Section 8A.

Section 8A girls hockey will replace International Falls with Park Rapids Area/Menahga/Nevis.

In Section 8AAA boys basketball, St. Cloud Apollo, Sartell-St. Stephen and Sauk Rapids-Rice move in; Park Rapids Area, Litchfield and Willmar move out.

Section 8AAA girls basketball will gain Sartell-St. Stephen, Sauk Rapids-Rice and St. Cloud Cathedral/St. Cloud Christian and will lose Park Rapids Area, Perham and Willmar.

Changes in Section 8AA wrestling will find Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Little Falls, Pequot Lakes and Perham replacing Hibbing, Deer River/Northland, Greenway/Nashwauk-Keewatin and Mahnomen/Waubun.

In boys swimming, the Prowlers will leave Section 4A, where most of the members are Iron Range area schools, for Section 3A, where competition will stretch from Thief River Falls to Hutchinson.

Major changes in spring sports will find Thief River Falls baseball and softball teams dropping from Section 8AAA to Section 8AA.

Boys and girls golf will go from two to three classes next year, with the Prowlers grouped in Section 8AA. They are currently in the large school portion of the two-class system.

Thief River Falls boys tennis will remain in Section 8A, where Detroit Lakes and Wadena-Deer Creek will be added to the line-up.

The MSHSL makes adjustments to its school enrollment figures and activity classifications every two years.

Section assignments for Thief River Falls in 2006-07 and 2007-08 include:

Fall
- Football - (Section 8AAA) Crookston, East Grand Forks, Park Rapids Area, Pequot Lakes, Perham, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Warroad.
- Volleyball - (Section 8AA) Crookston, Breckenridge, Detroit Lakes, Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, East Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Park Rapids Area, Pelican Rapids, Perham, Roseau, Staples-Motley, Thief River Falls, Wadena-Deer Creek, Walker-Hackensack-Akeley, Warroad, Frazee.
- Girls swimming - (Section 8A) Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Fergus Falls, Park Rapids Area, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Warroad, Lake of the Woods, Crookston/Tollefson Home School, Park Christian, Bagley/Fosston, New York Mills/Perham.
- Girls tennis - (Section 8A) Crookston, East Grand Forks, Mahnomen, New York Mills, Park Rapids Area, Perham, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Bagley/Clearbrook-Gonvick, Park Christian.
- Boys cross country - (Section 8A) Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, East Grand Forks, Frazee, Indus, Lake Park-Audubon, Park Rapids Area, Pelican Rapids, Perham, Pillager, Roseau, Staples-Motley, Thief River Falls, TrekNorth, Wadena-Deer Creek, Warroad, Bagley/Fosston, Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal, Lake of the Woods, Menahga/Sebeka, Park Christian.
- Girls cross country - (Section 8A) Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, East Grand Forks, Frazee, Indus, Lake Park-Audubon, Park Rapids Area, Pelican Rapids, Perham, Pillager, Roseau, Staples-Motley, Thief River Falls, TrekNorth, Wadena-Deer Creek, Warroad, Bagley/Fosston, Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal, Lake of the Woods, Park Christian, Menahga/Sebeka.

Moose population takes a hit

Moose populations continue to decline in both northeastern and northwestern Minnesota, according to results of aerial surveys released today by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

In the northeast, wildlife researchers estimate there are 6,500 moose, down 23 percent from last year's count of 8,400. The northwest moose population numbered just 84 animals, down from the 2003 survey, which estimated 253 animals.

"It's still too soon to predict the long-term trend for the northeast moose population," said Mark Lenarz, a DNR wildlife researcher. "We continue to work with scientists from around the world to determine what might be causing mortality in these moose. In the northwest, results of a recent study suggest climate change, in combination with pathogens and malnutrition caused the decline of the moose population."

Moose in Minnesota are at the southern limits of their North American range.

While scientists still consider Minnesota's northwest and northeast moose populations distinct, Lenarz said the difference is becoming less apparent with so few animals in left the northwest. The northwest population, which numbered about 4,000 animals in the mid-1980s, is now concentrated in a narrow strip from Thief River Falls to the Canadian border.

With so few animals in the northwest population, Lenarz said it's difficult to get an accurate population estimate. Moreover, in recent years of there hasn't been enough snow on the ground to conduct a survey. Insufficient snow makes spotting moose during aerial surveys difficult. "You need at least eight inches of snow on the ground to effectively see moose from the air," Lenarz said. "Deeper snow also makes moose tracks more visible, which, in turn makes them easier to spot from the air."

Warmer weather is also partly to blame for the northwest moose population's decline, according to a recent study published in Wildlife Monographs, a peer reviewed publication of The Wildlife Society. The study, which began in 1995, documented temperature increases and a longer growing season in northwest Minnesota. It was a cooperative effort between the DNR, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the universities of Massachusetts and Idaho.

Increasing temperatures could contribute to a declining moose population, Lenarz said, as the animals must expend additional energy to stay cool. "Moose expend energy to regulate their temperature in the warmer months by panting," he said. "If they're panting, they can't eat as much and that saps their energy reserves, making them more susceptible to disease and malnutrition."

The decline in this year's survey estimate from northeastern Minnesota was not unexpected. A study of radio-collared moose has identified nonhunting moose mortality that ranged from 9 to 34 percent in the past five years. This year's nonhunting mortality rate in northeastern Minnesota was 34 percent, Lenarz said. The nonhunting mortality rate for moose is generally between 8 and 12 percent elsewhere in North America.

During the past five years of the study, 80 of the 116 moose that were radio-collared have died. A few have been killed by hunters, wolves, or in collisions with motor vehicles, but the majority appears to have been killed by some unknown diseases or parasites. "We've tested for all of the diseases and parasites known to kill moose yet the cause of death in most cases, remains unclear," Lenarz said.

Aerial surveys have been conducted each year since 1960 in the northeast and are based on flying transects in 36 to 40 randomly selected plots spread across the Arrowhead.

DNR announces changes to moose hunting season

Allowing Minnesota hunters to harvest only antlered moose this year is among several changes the Department of Natural Resources has implemented for the 2007 moose season. The application deadline has been moved up to May 4 and some zone boundaries have been changed.

In the past, hunters who drew one of the state's once-in-a-lifetime moose permits could harvest either a bull or cow moose. The change was a precautionary measure, prompted by a DNR research project that has shown above-average moose mortality in northeastern Minnesota.

"While hunter harvest is only a minor part of overall moose mortality, DNR biologists feel that restricting cow harvest is a prudent measure, given the unexplained moose mortality in northeastern Minnesota," said Lou Cornicelli, DNR big game program coordinator.

Applications for moose permits may be made at any of 1,800 businesses where hunting and fishing licenses are sold electronically and from the DNR License Center at 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul.

This year 233 antlered bull-only permits are available in 30 zones in the northeastern part of the state. There is no hunting season in northwestern Minnesota. The season dates are Sept. 29 through Oct. 14.

Moose hunters must apply in parties from two to four individuals. An application fee of $3 per individual must be included with the application. Only Minnesota residents, at least sixteen years of age, are eligible for the moose hunt.

Permits are issued through a random drawing, except that applicants who have been unsuccessful at least 10 times since 1985 will be placed in a separate drawing for up to 20 percent of the available licenses.

Because the moose hunt became a once-in-a-lifetime hunt in 1991, hunters who received permits for moose hunts for the 1991 hunt and later are not eligible to apply for the 2007 drawing. The license fee is $310 per party. There will be mandatory orientation sessions required for all hunters chosen for moose licenses.

In 2006, 2,952 parties applied for the 279 available state permits. State licensed hunters killed 133 bulls and 28 cows, for a party success rate of 60 percent.

Kent places first in Western Horsemanship semifinals

Lancaster resident Danika Kent, a sophomore at the University of Minnesota, Crookston, placed first in the Intercollegiate Horse Showing Association Western Horsemanship semifinals competition held March 24 in Pomona, Calif.

"This is an amazing accomplishment for a student athlete to attain. To progress to the national finals competition in any NCAA collegiate sport is a dream come true, and we are very proud of Danika and her diligence, hard work and success," said Ron Del Vecchio, Ph.D., head of the agriculture department. "We are confident that she will represent UMC well in the national competition."

Kent, a double major in equine science and animal science, will now compete against the nation's best in the national finals competition to be held in West Springfield, Mass., May 3-5. With the recent decision for UMC to stay in Division II, the success of the IHSA athletic team and individual riders demonstrates that UMC's student athletes within the equestrian sports can successfully compete and excel to the level of the national final's competition.

"I am so proud of Danika and the accomplishments she has made in IHSA, both individually and for the team. She demonstrates a great attitude, willingness to learn and great sportsmanship. She is a fantastic rider and is definitely a tremendous role model for the other IHSA riders at UMC," said Jessica Sathoff, head IHSA coach.

Sophomore Lindy Hausauer of Moorhead also competed in the semifinals. She placed seventh. Kent and Hausauer competed against 13 other semifinalists from universities such as Ohio State, Midway, Ohio University Southern, Cal Poly Pomona, College of Southern Idaho, Oregon State University, Western Washington University and the United States Military Academy.

Students participate in Multi-Regional State Spelling Bee

Two local students participated in the Multi-Regional State Spelling Bee on March 22 at the Holiday Inn in St. Cloud. The participants were among 26 students in grades five through eight who were winners of their Regional Spelling Bees. A Rochester student won the Multi-Regional State Spelling Bee.

The two local students were Landon Adolphson, Stephen/Argyle Central Public Schools, grade eight; and Reed Klinkhammer, Win-E-Mac Public Schools, grade six. They were joined by two other students from Region 1 & 2.

The spelling bee lasted for 15 rounds and used 147 words. The last two contestants competed for the last five rounds before the winner was determined. The winning word was "inaugurator."

Catherine Cojocaru of Holy Spirit School - Rochester, grade seven, was the first place winner after correctly spelling Inaugurator. She won a trip to Washington, D.C., to compete in the 80th annual Scripps Howard National Spelling Bee and received the first place trophy, a Webster's Third New International Dictionary and $100 Series EE Savings Bond.

Alex Munsterman, Redwood Falls Public Schools, grade seven, was the second place winner. He received the second place trophy and a one-year subscription to Encyclopedia Britannica Online donated by Encyclopedia Britannica.

Minnesota will send three additional students to the 2007 National Spelling Bee. The South Central Region, Staples Region and the metro area will also each send a winner to the national competition.

Funds available for renewable energy and efficiency projects

Agriculture Secretary Mike Johanns has announced the availability of $176.5 million in loan guarantees and $11.4 million in grants through USDA Rural Development to support investments in renewable energy and energy efficiency by agricultural producers and small businesses.

"By promoting energy efficiency and development of energy sources that are farm based and renewable, we're taking another step toward achieving the president's goal of reducing America's gasoline consumption by 20 percent in 10 years," Johanns said. "We hope to dramatically expand renewable energy programs like these, as reflected in our 2007 farm bill proposals."

The renewable energy and energy efficiency loan and grant program was established under Section 9006 of the 2002 Farm Bill. Minnesota has received about $18 million in grants since the programs inception, the most of any state.

"This program has done a lot for renewable energy in Minnesota," said Steve Wenzel, Minnesota state director of USDA Rural Development. "The administration's Farm Bill proposals call for a more than $1.6 billion increase in renewable energy funding. We look forward to investing a lot of these dollars in Minnesota's rural communities."

Loan guarantees cover up to 50 percent of a project's cost, not to exceed $10 million. Grants are available for up to 25 percent of a project's cost, not to exceed $250,000 for energy efficiency improvements and $500,000 for renewable energy systems. These loans and grants are expected to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by 0.97 million metric tons, replace 821 million barrels of foreign oil and generate almost two million kilowatt hours of electricity annually. USDA has funded more than 800 loans and grants since the renewable energy program began in FY 2003.

Applications for grants must be completed and submitted to Lisa Noty by May 18. The deadline for loan applications and loan/grant combinations is July 2. Noty can be reached at (507) 373-7960, ext. 120. Her address is 1400 West Main St., Albert Lea, MN, 56007.

For more information, refer to the announcement in the March 22 Federal Register, or visit www.rurdev.usda.gov/mn.

East Grand Forks says thanks to America in April

"Thanks, America" a week-long series of events marking the anniversary of the 1997 flood will begin in East Grand Forks on April 16.

"Thanks, America" is an expression of gratitude to America for all of the assistance the city received from individuals on a local, regional, state and national level.

"Before, during and after the devastating flood of 1997, individuals from all walks of life, young and old, rallied to assist our community. We will never forget all of the people who filled sandbags, provided food and shelter, cleaned out flood debris, provided assistance to our local utility and helped us rebuild. This event is a salute and thanks to all of them," said Mayor Lynn Stauss.

The East Grand Forks City Council, Economic Development Housing Authority and East Grand Forks Water & Light Department each previously approved an expenditure in the amount of $7,000 respectively. An equal amount ($21,000) has been raised through private donations.

The celebration will include a daily flag ceremony conducted on the Boardwalk from April 16 through 20 at 9 a.m. On April 20 from 7 to 9 p.m., the city will provide free burgers, brats, hot dogs, chips and sodas to the first 2,000 individuals as well as a free commemorative LED flashlight. Individuals receiving flashlights will be asked to participate in a lighting ceremony to salute all of the "angels" from around the country who assisted the community. The evening will conclude with a final flag raising, the National Anthem and a fireworks display.

On Saturday, April 21 at 10:45 a.m. the city, through private donations received from various contractors and businesses, will host a luncheon to recognize the efforts of local, state and federal elected officials.

The events of the week will conclude with a parade downtown at 1:30 p.m. Congressman Collin Peterson and former FEMA Director James Lee Witt, will act as co-grand marshals of the parade. Parties interested in participating in the parade should contact Greg Leigh at 773-3494.

Local students graduate from BSU

Five local students graduated from Bemidji State University at the conclusion of the 2006 fall semester.

They included Katie Hruby, Goodridge, Bachelor of Science degree in criminal justice; Gavin Nordhy, Grygla, Bachelor of Science degree in Biology; Brittany Schenkey, Middle River, Bachelor of Science degree in business administration; Megan Kragness, Newfolden, Bachelor of Science degree in business administration, and Stephen Lyman, Thief River Falls, Bachelor of Science degree in social studies.

will be seasonal. Higher rates will be in effect during the three cold-weather months from Dec. 10 through March 10. Higher rates, he said, are appropriate then because wholesale power rates are higher during that time. In addition, it will probably discourage use of portable electric heaters.

Legislation poses another significant "demand" on the electric system. A new Minnesota law requires that 25 percent of the electricity sold in the state by 2025 be generated from renewable sources. At the present time, only a very small percent of electricity sold in the state is generated by renewable electricity. Therefore, "25 by 25" will probably result in higher electric rates for the consumer. Kennedy said legislative proposals that would further restrict CO_2 emissions scares them more. He said he hopes cooler heads and Midwestern common sense will prevail.

Dave Loer, CEO of Minnkota Electric Cooperative, explained the demand on wholesale power. About 85 percent of electrical power comes from the three coal-fired power plants operated by Minnkota. About 15 percent comes from hydro-electric dams, which Loer said he considered renewable. But now, legislation will require an even greater contribution from renewable energy. Currently Minnkota owns two wind turbines - one located six miles east of Valley City, N.D., and a second near Petersburg, N.D.

New wind farm

Loer let slip a secret to be announced the next day, he said - that Minnkota would be participating in a new wind energy farm near Langdon, N.D. He said the wind farm will provide them with 100 mega-watts of energy.

Young Station III?

Because projections indicate demand will increase, Loer also said Minnkota in partnership with Basin Electric Power Co-op of Bismarck, Minnesota Power of Duluth, and Montana-Dakota Utilities Co., was studying whether to construct another lignite-fueled generating resource near Center, N.D., which they would call Young Station III. He explained that current studies indicate that Minnkota will need additional generation capacity to meet customer loads by 2015.

Loer said they have several concerns regarding any plans to construct a new plant. One of the concerns, of course, is cost. Construction of a new generating plant is very expensive, he said. They are more concerned about legislation that might impact the use of coal. Although coal is inexpensive and clean, many people believe burning coal is a major cause of global warming.

Demands to provide more electricity generated from renewable sources, and demands to improve emissions, such as CO_2 emissions, are likely to have a significant impact on the cost of electricity. Loer explained that a process to eliminate CO_2 emissions doesn't exist at this point in time.

Pressure on wholesale power rates comes from other sources, as well. As an example, Loer explained that during a particular period during a cold spell last winter, a power plant went off-line to make repairs. That meant purchasing power from power plants that uses natural gas to generate electricity. As a fuel to generate electricity, natural gas is much more expensive.

As Minnkota looks to the future, Loer said, Minnkota promises to the consumer to keep price, load control hours and their obligations in mind.

During the annual meeting, three directors were elected: Joyce Johnson, Viking, representing District 3; Henry Wieland, Red Lake Falls, representing District 6; and, Peter Mosbeck, Red Lake Falls, representing District 9. They will serve three-year terms.

Safety awards were presented to five RLEC employees in recognition of their safe-work records. Employees recognized for surpassing five-year increments of accident-free work were: Steve Conely (five years), Ira Cota (five years), Mike Wavra, 25 years), Shirley Bregier (35 years), and Bev Schmitz (40 years).

Kim Swanson, Thief River Falls, president of the Red Lake Electric Trust, Inc., board of directors, presented a $500 Operation Round Up® grant to the Pennington-Red Lake County Victim Services. Carla Stavnes, program coordinator, accepted the check and thanked members of RLEC for their generosity.

Be on the lookout for emerald ash borer

news for the city of Thief River Falls. There is an abundant number of ash trees in Thief River Falls. "That's our most prevalent shade tree in our urban forest here," said Olson, who noted an emerald ash borer infestation would be more devastating than the outbreak of Dutch Elm Disease.

Olsen expects that the city of Thief River Falls will try to prevent an emerald ash borer infestation by limiting the firewood that is used in Tourist Park. He anticipates that campers will be required to use firewood purchased from the city of Thief River Falls.

Olson also encourages residents to contact him if they notice any symptoms of an emerald ash borer infestation. The emerald ash borer creates D-shaped exit holes in ash trees. The ash tree's canopy will also decline. Epicormic sprouts will develop at the base of the tree. Bigger ash trees may crack. Residents may also notice woodpecker damage on their trees since woodpeckers eat the larvae of emerald ash borers.

Olson cautions that there are a lot of lookalike tree diseases that may lead residents to think that their ash trees have fallen victim to the emerald ash borer. He advises residents to call him at 681-1835 to determine if an ash tree has an infestation of emerald ash borer. If there is an infestation, the tree will be cut down.

the regional economy. It will result in up to 10 new permanent jobs in the Langdon area for operations and maintenance.

FPL Energy will build and operate the 159-megawatt project and own 118.5-megawatts. To carry the wind-generated electricity into the Minnkota high-voltage network, a new 115-kilovolt (kV) transmission line will be built from Langdon to Hensel, a distance of 35 miles. The anticipated completion date of the wind farm and the associated transmission outlet line is December of 2007. FPL Energy, a subsidiary of FPL Group (NYSE: FPL), currently operates four wind farms in North Dakota at sites near Center, Edgeley, Kulm and Wilton, totaling more than 150 MW.

The primary sources of baseload generation for the Minnkota associated systems are the Milton R. Young Station near Center, N.D., and the Coyote Station near Beulah, N.D. Both plants utilize North Dakota's vast lignite coal reserves.

Minnkota presently owns and operates two 900 kilowatt commercial scale wind turbines, the first two erected in the state of North Dakota. One is located near Valley City and the other near Petersburg. The output of these turbines is sold under the cooperative's Infinity Wind Energy program to customers who voluntarily enroll by paying an additional 50 cents per 100 kilowatt-hour block per month.

Minnkota also receives renewable hydropower allocations from Western Area Power Administration (WAPA) equal to approximately 16 percent of energy sales to member-owner cooperatives.

Minnkota is a generation and transmission cooperative that supplies wholesale electricity to 11 member-owner distribution cooperatives serving a 34,500-square-mile area in eastern North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota. Minnkota is also operating agent for the Northern Municipal Power Agency (NMPA), which serves 12 municipal utilities in the same geographic region. Together, the Minnkota and NMPA Joint System serves approximately 280,000 people.

RLF mayor charged with two felonies

trim, and a remote for a garage door. The deck was found attached to a residence owned by Philion at 502 Seventh St. N.W. in Red Lake Falls.

A search warrant was granted, and the deputy searched properties belonging to Philion. At a storage facility owned by Philion, the deputy allegedly found five sets of wooden shutters, two white ceiling fans, seven sets of white blinds, one white screen door and a tongue and groove from a sauna.

A second search warrant was executed at the other Seventh Street residence. The following items were allegedly found there: one white metal door, two heat registers, a door bell, a thermostat, door registers, a wooden deck, a brown ceiling fan, two garage door openers, three floor register covers, two white ceiling fans, one white track light, an antique light, a door frame, a wooden switch cover, and a black heater/rocks/a thermostat for a sauna.

The deputy talked to all of the City Council members, Duchene and the city attorney and found that none of them had given Philion permission to take the property.

FARMLAND FOR RENT

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the Middle Snake Tamarac Rivers Watershed District for the cash rental of the following parcels:

- Parcel #1: the N1/2 of section 7, Comstock (Strip) Township (T154N R46W), in Marshall County, Minnesota
- Parcel #2: the SW1/4 of section 12 of Bristol Township (T154N R47W) (less 30 acres more or less), in Polk County, Minnesota

Bidders shall bid each parcel separately. Bidders should make their own independent investigation concerning the total tillable acres.

Bids must be in writing and received at the Watershed District Office at 453 N McKinley St., Warren, MN 56762 no later than 3:30 p.m., April 16, 2007. Bids should be addressed to the Middle Snake Tamarac Rivers Watershed District, 453 N McKinley St., PO Box 154, Warren, MN 56762.

Bids must be a lump sum for the 2007 crop year, for each entire parcel, and not on a per acre basis. More detailed information regarding the bidding and conditions of renting the land can be obtained by directly contacting the District at the above address.

It is the intent of the District to rent the described property to the highest responsible bidder. The right to adjourn the letting of the contract to a time and place other than noted herein, or to reject any and all bids, is reserved.

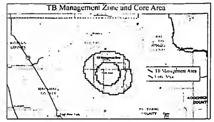
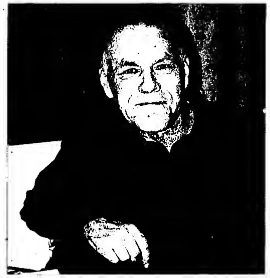
Minnesota heightens TB testing requirements

As a result of the identification of bovine tuberculosis infected deer in northwestern Minnesota, the Minnesota Board of Animal Health is increasing testing requirements for cattle herds located within a 12-mile area surrounding the TB-positive deer. That area includes portions of Beltrami, Marshall and Roseau counties.



Surveillance by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources of hunter-harvested free-ranging white-tailed deer during the last two hunting seasons identified seven TB-infected deer within the immediate vicinity of formerly TB-infected cattle premises. The potential for contact with TB-infected deer poses a risk to cattle herds in the area.

The BAH, with the input of the affected producers whose herds are located in the Core Area as well as the state's cattle industry, the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the DNR, has outlined a plan for managing cattle herds in this area to protect these herds and the state's beef industry from this risk.



Under the plan, the board will work with cattle producers in the Core Area to implement measures such as fencing and alternative feeding and watering methods to mitigate the risk of interaction between deer and cattle. Producers within this Core Area will inventory and TB-test their cattle herds annually. All animals in the Core Area will also require testing prior to moving off of the farms.

"The testing will ensure early

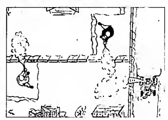
Oklee resident Henry Linder sits at his kitchen table with some of the cartoons he has created. The 65-year-old Linder has drawn his entire life. For the past seven years, he has drawn cartoons for the Oklee Herald.

That's my life ...

Oklee man creates cartoons for others' enjoyment

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Each week, hundreds of people see Henry Linder's cartoons. They may have seen his Ole and Lena cartoons. They may have seen his Paul Bunyan cartoons, or any of the hundreds of cartoons that Linder has drawn in the past seven years.



Linder, 65, has been drawing his entire life. Seven years ago, his hobby led him to draw cartoons for the Oklee Herald. "There's nothing else I'd rather do. That's my life – it really is," the Oklee resident said.

When he was a kid, Linder would buy 10-cent comic books in Oklee. His all-time favorite is "Dick Tracy," and he occasionally drew cartoons for fun. Linder always wondered, and still wonders to some extent, how cartoonists got their cartoons to look the way they did in comic books and newspapers.

Now, he knows how that process works. In 2000, Oklee Mayor Clay Haugen approached Linder about drawing cartoons for the Oklee Herald. Linder immediately said yes. "That opened up a world of fun for me," said Linder whose cartoons are published weekly.

Linder's cartoons include ironic and humorous things. One of his favorite topics is the weather. In one of his weather-related cartoons, he depicts neighbors blowing or

Law enforcement investigates connection to other burglaries

Zachary Rogers

Gregory Nordrum

Two Grand Forks, N.D., men face charges after they allegedly burglarized a Thief River Falls business and then led law enforcement on a high speed chase Thursday through Thief River Falls. Indications are that they may be involved in other burglaries.

Zachary James Rogers, 23, and Gregory Wade Nordrum, 38, are in custody at the Pennington County Jail in Thief River Falls. Rogers faces charges of felony fleeing a peace officer in a motor vehicle, felony theft, felony second degree burglary, second degree assault and gross misdemeanor refusal to submit to a chemical test, according to Pennington County Attorney Al Rogalla. Nordrum faces charges of felony second degree burglary, felony theft and misdemeanor fleeing a peace officer by means other than a motor vehicle. Nordrum allegedly fled law enforcement on foot. As of press time, bond hadn't been set in either man's case. Rogalla has issued long-form detention complaints against them with regard to those charges. Police Chief Kim Murphy was expected to file the complaints with the Pennington County Court Administrator's Office on Friday.

The charges stem from a burglary Thursday morning at Computer Run/Radio Shack in Thief River Falls. A concerned citizen reported the incident to police at 6:14 a.m. Thursday, Rogalla said. The men allegedly smashed a large window at the business and stole four laptops and other electronic equipment.

Autopsy indicates boys drowned

Preliminary autopsy results indicate that Avery Lee Stately, 2, and Tristan Anthony White, 4, died from "probably freshwater drowning." The results indicate they died as a result of an accident, according to Paul McCabe, a special agent in the FBI's Minneapolis office. The brothers were found Sunday in a lake on the Red Lake Indian Reservation after they had been missing for four months.

Even though the preliminary autopsy results shed some light on how the brothers died, the FBI has not closed its case. "We won't officially close our case until the final autopsy report," said McCabe, who noted that may take several weeks to be completed. The Ramsey County Medical Examiner's Office performed the autopsies Monday, and the preliminary autopsy results were released Tuesday afternoon.

Stately and White disappeared Nov. 22 while playing in their yard in the Walking Shield area of Red Lake. They were found Sunday in First Thunders Lake on the Red Lake Indian Reservation. The boys were encased in ice near each other.

Rabbits: Great pets but not so great gifts

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

It's hardly worth debating that rabbits are the commercial symbol of Easter and, as such, a bunny may seem like the perfect Easter gift to compliment the Easter Holiday. In reality, there couldn't be a much worse choice.

Rabbits are increasingly given as Easter gifts to children, which is a big mistake, according to Marie Mead, author of a new book titled "Rabbits: Gentle Hearts, Valiant Spirits – Inspirational Stories of Rescue, Triumph and Joy," and the creator of the Web site celebratingrabbits.com.

"People think of rabbits as children's pets and they are given as gifts for Easter, the same way you'd give a puppy as a present for Christmas," Mead said. "When the novelty wears off they get dumped [illegible] dropped off in a field or at an animal shelter." She added that most of the unwanted rabbits that are dropped off at animal shelters are euthanized due to space constraints.

Mead said that most of these cases come from families that did not properly research what is needed to care for rabbits. Prospective owners of any pet should research their new pet's diet, health and behavior before bringing that pet home.

Rabbits are no different. Domesticated rabbits instinctively behave like prey animals and as they mature, they typically will not want to be held. They need plenty of space for exercise and they need things to chew on, but the majority of the house itself must be bunny proofed.

Mead stressed that rabbits are great pets for families that can

"Hopping" for excellent care

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Though she is against giving rabbits as gifts, rabbit expert Marie Mead stresses that with proper care, rabbits can be an ideal pet.

"Everybody should consider whether a rabbit fits their lifestyle," said Mead, author and creator of the Web site celebratingrabbits.com, adding that rabbits are relatively quiet in nature, but they still showcase big personalities.

Mead said it's important to understand a rabbit's behavior as it develops and she offered these suggestions.

Generally, rabbits reach their full maturity at six months of age. Around three and one half months of age, they begin to exhibit what Mead calls teenage characteristics. Rabbits instinctively begin to explore more and chew [illegible] into anything they can.

Around six months [illegible] nearly mature male or female will begin spraying [illegible] their territory. Mead said [illegible] spayed or neutered and [illegible] will be improved.

Rabbits will always chew. They cannot be trained to not chew and it is important for rabbit owners to provide items to chew while bunny proofing the rest of the house.

Rabbits are social animals and [illegible]

At first glance, a rabbit like this may seem like the perfect gift to give a child for Easter. In reality, most children would not know how to properly care for a rabbit, which can lead to injury or a loss of interest in the pet.

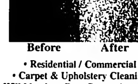
At the Floyd B. Olson Park

David: "Just to make it fair, I'll go as Urkel. I have to try out my new, flexible suspenders that God gave me."



Sermon Title: Breaking the power of Hypnosis, Control & Witchcraft.

Guest Speaker: David Weiland

For thus saith the spirit of the Lord, for as I sent Moses to Pharaoh, to tell Pharaoh to let my people go. So too I am sending my prophets who speak my word to speak to the evil of this day. Yes, false prophets will arise, but you should know them by their fruit, saith the spirit of the Lord. Not every prophet is true, but not every prophet is false. That which comes to pass of what the prophet has spoken, that prophet is true. For it is written, that in the last days, I will pour out my spirit and your sons and daughters will prophesy and old men shall see visions. For I am no respecter of persons, for I am on everybody, saith the spirit of the Lord.

It's Easter tomorrow and such a special religious holiday that we need holy recipes - maybe. Maybe these are not so holy, but they are certainly good and they came from a holy place. They are from the 1999 cookbook of the Sisters of St. Benedict, Mt. St. Benedict Monastery, Crookston.

I was just thinking how my mother used to make this type of cake for special holidays. Decorate it with pretty pink or yellow frosting and pretty candy eggs and there you are with an Easter cake:

SPONGE CAKE
Sr. Alice Rose

6 eggs
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup cold water
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 teaspoon grated lemon
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon salt

Beat egg yolks until very thick and lemon colored, about 5 minutes. Beat sugar in gradually. Beat in water, flavoring and lemon rind. Beat in flour.

In separate bowl, beat egg whites until frothy, then add cream of tartar and salt. Beat stiff to hold points. Fold into other batter. Bake in angel food cake pan at 325 degrees for 60 to 65 minutes.

This sounds like a wonderful dish to serve with Easter dinner. I would make 3 or 4 times the amount and use other vegetables in it too. Bet it is tasty with Monday's ham or turkey sandwiches too:

VEGETABLE MEDLEY
Sr. Lioba Kelner (Winfred Nielsen)

1 (6 ounce) can cocktail vegetable juice
1/4 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 (.6 ounce) Italian salad dressing mix
1/2 cup green pepper squares
2 cups cauliflowerets
1 cup sliced carrots
1 cup diced zucchini

To make marinade, combine juice, oil, vinegar and salad dressing mix. Shake well.

In a bowl, combine vegetables. Pour marinade over all. Chill at least 4 hours, stirring occasionally. Makes about 4 servings.

Speaking of salad to go with the leftovers, don't forget this old favorite - yum. What a way to use up those leftover colored hard-boiled eggs:

POTATO SALAD
Sr. Mary Martin Bias

4 cups potatoes, cooked and diced
1 cup celery, diced
1/2 cup onion, finely chopped
3 hard cooked eggs, diced
1 cup salad dressing
1/2 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon dill weed

Combine potatoes, onions, celery and eggs in bowl. Combine and mix the remaining ingredients. Add dressing to the potato mixture and mix gently. Cover and chill several hours before serving. Serves 6-8 people.

Here's a pretty pink dessert to top off that Easter meal. Be sure to buy some nice fresh strawberries and extra whipping cream to top it off in style:

STRAWBERRY YUMILL
Sr. Basil LeDuc

Crust & Top:
1 cup flour
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup margarine (or butter)
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Filling
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup whipping cream
2 egg whites
1 package frozen strawberries

To make crust and topping, mix all crust ingredients together and spread on cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees until brown, stirring often. Spread half of the mixture in 9x13 inch baking pan. Reserve remaining half.

To make filling, blend sugar, egg whites, lemon juice and strawberries in large bowl of electric mixer. Beat on low speed a few minutes, then beat on high speed 20 minutes or longer, until fluffy. Fold in whipped cream. Pour over crust and sprinkle with remaining half of crust for topping. Freeze until ready to serve.

Here's what to do with that delicious ham you bought:

GLAZED HAM
Sr. Basil LeDuc

8 to 10 pound picnic ham
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup port
Cloves

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Arrange large piece of foil in bottom of baking pan. Discard excess fat from ham and place ham in center of foil.

In small bowl, blend sugar, pepper, cinnamon, orange rind, port, cloves and dry mustard. Spread over ham. Fold up foil to seal ham. Bake in preheated oven for 2 hours.

Five accidents reported in three hours at one TRF intersection

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

Five accidents were reported in three hours Tuesday at the intersection of First Street and Pennington Avenue in Thief River Falls. No injuries were reported.

The first accident was reported at 3:20 p.m. Tuesday. At the time of the accident, Tamar Dagg, 32, Thief River Falls, was driving a sport utility vehicle northbound on First Street. According to the report, her vehicle then slid into a northbound car driven by Penny M. Marquis, 54, Goodridge. Marquis was stopped at a stoplight at the time. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts. More than $1,000 in damage was reported. The report doesn't list the makes or models of the vehicles.

The second accident was reported seven minutes later. At the time of the accident, Vickie J. Ellefson, 32, Thief River Falls, was driving a northbound Ford car on First Street. Her vehicle then slid into a northbound Chevy Blazer driven by Roy L. Fisher, 37, Plummer. Fisher was stopped at a stoplight at the time. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts. Less than $1,000 in damage was reported.

The third accident was reported at 5:20 p.m. At the time of the accident, Amanda Foss, 23, Thief River Falls, was driving a Chevy Blazer northbound on First Street. She attempted to stop but slid into a Ford pickup truck driven by James J. Geatz, 41, Thief River Falls. At the time, Geatz was stopped at a stoplight. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts. The report indicates the vehicles sustained an unknown dollar amount in damage.

The fourth accident was reported at 6:10 p.m. At the time of the accident, Sharon K. Harris, 52, Thief River Falls, was driving a Chevy Blazer northbound on First Street. While trying to stop, she slid into a northbound Chevy Suburban driven by Barbara J. Hoffman, 47, Thief River Falls. At the time, Hoffman was stopped at a stoplight. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts. The vehicles sustained less than $1,000 in damage.

The fifth accident was reported 14 minutes later. At the time of the accident, Jeffrey A. Thomas, 41, Thief River Falls, was driving a Honda Element northbound on First Street. His car slid into a northbound Volkswagen Jetta driven by Bethany J. Nelson, 25, Thief River Falls. According to the report, a Jeep Grand Cherokee driven by Dayna R. Linder, 23, Thief River Falls, then slid into Nelson's car. Thomas and Nelson were wearing their seat belts. It wasn't known whether Linder was wearing a seat belt. Less than $1,000 in damage was reported.

Rural Reflections

Grant Nelson

The comments published in this column are intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. They are written by independent columnists and do not represent the opinion of the staff or management of The Times/Northern Watch.

Cowards dressed as kings

A fable says that a young boy once had the courage to tell a king he had no clothes. While our current leaders are very well dressed, they need a similar wake-up call. What we really need today is someone unschooled in the house of compromised values to tell some of our kings, "you have no guts."

We are now on the verge of following leaders that are plain cowards. We have created room for bad leaders in all aspects of life: although, politics and business leap to mind before all others. Listen to the average person comment on why they like a political candidate and you'll find their reason may have more to do with hairstyle or a bright smile than anything pertinent. Courage and leadership are no longer the tipping points to who receives our vote. More often, it's what that person can give us from government coffers. Stockholders care little for morals but much for results, though ill-gotten and short term. Business leaders sell their souls for insider information, indulge themselves at stockholders' expense then plunge to their retirements under golden parachutes when they are discovered.

The question is not, "how could it happen," but rather, "how could it NOT happen?" I think we are getting just what we deserve. Our leaders reflect those they lead. I recently had a conversation during which someone said they were nice to people in case they needed something from the person at a later time. I found this disgusting as I base my decision to offer my hand on the morals a person displays, his or her work ethic and honesty. Here's the other thing: The story of our lives was written at birth. If you constantly live your life in hope of scraps from the table of man, then you miss the life you could have led. If you seek to impress humans instead of God, you'll never live the adventure that courage and faith would have delivered. Plus, you'll miss the chance to follow a real leader. You have to fight temptation and immorality, but that's why you were given courage to turn your back on bad things and bad people instead of washing their backs in hopes they'll return the favor. I think most people wait for some dramatic opportunity to become courageous because they know it will never arrive. The opportunity to be courageous arrives each morning when the alarm clock rings.

When I think of a good leader, I think of my old boss, Marshall County Sheriff Dennis Brekke. I remember my first day of work how nice it was when Dennis told me, "You don't have to worry about anyone else - you impress me and you'll be doing fine." Dennis was a hands-on boss who at retirement age commanded from the front and whose size and leadership was a great asset during trouble. His word was final and he was willing to accept the consequences when he didn't have the right words. He had the courage to follow his guts and live with the results, which I would imagine, came as a result of the generation in which he grew up.

In the end, there's always hope that there will be good men who learn from reading, and great men who learn from observation. Perhaps the mistakes of this generation will provide the steppingstones upon which the next leaders will travel on, and from which they will learn to lead.

RLCC to present "The Babbling Brooks" April 20-22

Red Lake County Central will present the three-act play "The Babbling Brooks" by Kuntz Gordon by special arrangement with Samuel French Inc. on Friday, April 20 through Sunday, April 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Oklee School gym. Concessions for this production will be a group from Red Lake County Relay for Life.

The play is about a family in the mid-1950s in the town of Merryville near New York City. The title is exactly the Brooks family. Nettie Brooks (Megan Demarais) is the town's biggest gossip, who embroiders every fact until the story and reality are not even close. The entire family seems to have this problem. Norma (Betsy Hagen) is the one Brooks family member who seems to be more serious. As a bank worker, she meets young Sheriff Hal Weston (Tyler Larson), who dearly wishes that Nettie would keep her nose out of everyone else's business and stop her incessant gossiping. Cupid visits the Brooks family and hits Norma and Hal who try to get to know each other.

Homer Brooks (Jarren Magnell) is a 15-year-old who finally discovered girls, especially Lucy. He tries constantly to find time to try dating, but with his mother and older sisters, he is doomed. The other two Brooks women are Granny Brooks (Becky Cote), who decides to have a rebirth in her life and rebuilds herself into a younger woman who has a chance to go to New York as an actress. Granny doesn't like what her daughter-in-law Nettie is doing as the town gossip, so she is going to make a lot of changes. The other Brooks lady is Betty (Andrea Paquin), a sophomore who decides the best way to make extra money is to start a gossip newspaper called The Babbler, which concentrates on all the truth of the neighborhood by planting a microphone in the living room. The microphone will enable her to tape her mother's gossip to add to the stories. Her best friend Madge Moore (Ayla Erickson) plots how to gather all the information necessary, and the other staff members are Doh Stuart (Matt Anderson), Greg Feeter (Matt Lundeen) and Kay Cornwell (Lizzy Fox), who are to go out to find more gossip.

The group has no idea that it is opening up a can of worms by the slogan "see all, hear all and tell." The first issue includes a story about two guests who rent a room in the Brooks household. They are Carol Kingsley (Pascale Mosloff) and Julia Parker (Katie Lundeen), who are TV murder mystery writers who are overheard on their latest plot to kill Merrill. Their story becomes the headline for the newspaper. The paper is a great monetary success, but a man by the name of Merrill was murdered. Now the sheriff, Nettie and Betty Brooks are heading for a showdown to find out who the murderers are.

No one could guess how much trouble that one 16-year-old and the town gossip could get into. Other characters in the production are Bonnie Burns (Bobbie Tjolsen) and Bessie Horton (Lael Erickson) and tech Harlen Lundeen. The play is under the direction of Michael Swenson.

Goodridge Elementary music program, science fair April 12

Goodridge Elementary School invites the public to its annual spring music program and science/inventors fair Thursday, April 12 at 7 p.m. The music program will be held in the large gym, and attendees can look at the science/inventors fair projects in the small gym before and after the program.

This spring's program will start off with the fifth and sixth grade bands playing some classics: "Ode to Joy" by Beethoven, "Trumpet Voluntary" by Jeremiah Clarke, and a couple of lighter pieces, "Regal March" and "Calypso Morning," both by Bruce Pearson, and "Big Beat Boogie" by Jerry Williams.

Following the bands will be the elementary program featuring kindergarten through sixth grade in an all-school musical revue called "Choices Count!" by Randy Rebold and Don Marah. This program features the six pillars of character – trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring and citizenship. This musical reinforces the character education program implemented at the school this year.

Marshall County Relay for Life meeting set

Have you ever had a song that stuck in your head and it just wouldn't go away? Well that's the song that I sing whenever I think about the Marshall County Relay for Life. The song is "I'm a Survivor!"

The next Marshall County Relay for Life meeting will be held April 16 at 5:30 p.m. at River Jordan Coffee House in Warren. The team captains will meet at 6:30 p.m. Come and share a story or two.

I look around my community and think of all the teachers, coworkers, children, grandparents, parents, aunts, uncles and acquaintances that have been affected by cancer and, I don't think any one of us can say that we do not know of someone who has battled this disease.

Relay for Life is a countywide event designed to celebrate survivorship, show our support for those who are battling cancer, and remember those who have lost the battle. It is also a time to raise money for the American Cancer Society.

To organize a team, contact Melanie Nelson at (218) 686-1913. To be a volunteer, contact Carol Anderson at (218) 745-5153. If you feel that you do not want to be part of a team or you do not want to volunteer but would like to donate to this worthwhile cause, contact Nelson or Anderson to make a donation. Luminaries are also available.

Minnesota Norwegians to cycle through Ireland

Sons of Norway members will welcome potential members and anyone else interested in visiting their program at 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 14 at North Star Apartments on the south side of Roseau. Irish-Americans are welcome, too. (The community room is wheelchair accessible.)

"Motorcycling through Ireland" will be the topic for local travelers Jerry and Marion Solom, who visited the Emerald Isle in the summer of 2006. Some music and Scandinavian news, a bit of business and refreshments will round out the evening.

New members are always welcome at Minnesota's most northerly branch of Sons of Norway – Nordlys (Northern Lights) – but visitors will not be pressured into joining. For information about dues and benefits, ask any officer at the meeting or call Secretary Roxanne Lee, Treasurer Lou Hermansen or Co-Chairpeople Leanne Johnson and Marion Solum.

Any members who are ready to part with back issues of SON's Viking magazine are encouraged to bring them along to pass on to visitors.

The May session will feature the traditional potluck smorgasbord supper plus a program of special interest to Norwegian Americans and those with roots in other Scandinavian countries.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

Dave Hill, Editor

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Unless specified otherwise, the editorials are written by Editor Dave Hill and do not represent opinion of other staff members. Opinions in items from other publications may not coincide with the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Energy consumption and conservation is in the news

Energy consumption and conservation has been in the news lately - not just national news, but local news - and that's a good sign.

How we obtain and use energy to keep our homes warm in the winter, and cool in the summer, and operate our motor vehicles, is an issue that should be important to everyone. We should be discussing the issue because whether you believe in greenhouse gases and global warming or not, high costs, jobs, quality of life, and our economy, are all impacted by our consumption and use of energy resources.

Stories in The Times and Northern Watch in the past month have focused on global warming and what's contributing to the changes in our weather. It's obvious that our readers and contributors have many different opinions on that subject. Writers and organizations have also discussed ethanol production, bio-diesel production, and wind energy. What's clear is that residents of northwestern Minnesota are concerned about the issue.

Because it is poised to take advantage of developments in ethanol production, legislators are describing Minnesota as being on the "cutting edge" of energy initiatives. Most of us would agree that the United States needs to reduce its dependence on foreign oil by developing alternatives, and renewing its focus on conservation. Our advantage in Minnesota is tenuous at best. A strong wind, lower energy prices, might cause us to lose our interest in energy and energy conservation. So, more needs to be done to make sure that Minnesota remains on the cutting edge, like investing in research, and providing incentives to invest in and utilize new sources of energy.

It's not going to be easy or inexpensive. Sen. Amy Klobuchar recently visited many communities in northwestern Minnesota and talked about these very issues. Klobuchar noted, for example, that while Minnesota may lead the way in E-85 pumps, use of E-85 fuel isn't taken advantage of as much as it could be because the pumps and stations are still far and few between. Fuel pump operators will need some kind of incentive to provide the fuel. If E-85 isn't available, it won't be used.

Klobuchar also talked about the investment needed in research to make production of bio-diesel, and cellulosic ethanol less expensive. For an effective change to take place, the market has to reach a point where it becomes profitable to provide alternative energy resources. We can help the market reach that point by providing research and development dollars that will help develop ways of making alternative energy sources less expensive and widely accepted. We should have only one caveat: Let's keep the research dollars here in Minnesota and become the leader. It'll keep us on the cutting edge, and help employ our citizens.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Dramatic Easter musical to be performed in TRF

The Choice, a dramatic Easter musical written by Robert and Cindy Sterling and Deborah Craig-Claar, will be performed Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 13, 14, and 15 at Open Arms Christian Fellowship, 401 St. Paul Ave. South, Thief River Falls. Performances will be given at the following times: Friday, at 7 p.m.; Saturday at 4 p.m., and also at 7 p.m.; and Sunday at 2 p.m. Community attendance is invited. There is no admission charge; a freewill offering will be accepted. Refreshments will be served following the program.

The Choice opens in the seaside city of Capernaum during the time of Tiberius Caesar. While serving at this rather obscure outpost, Marcus, a young Roman centurion (Ben Sayler, Jr.), and his second-in-command, Octavius (Paul Tandberg), become acquainted with Asa (Dan Sayler), and his family: Rachel (Jessica Mutnansky) and Hannah (Andi Sorvig). It is through the lovely Hannah that the centurion meets Jesus (Scott Wessel), the radical teacher from Nazareth. To Marcus, and many others, Jesus seems to be an unlikely candidate for a Savior, much less the Son of God. A penniless, itinerant prophet with a rag-tag band of misfit followers (disciples are Robby Rogalla, Joshua Anderson, and Michael Barnhart) could hardly be considered a King.

After all, why would any rational, ambitious person give credence to a preacher who begins his sermons with, "Blessed are the poor?" Marcus does not have long to ponder the answer to that question. Shortly after encountering Jesus, the young centurion receives orders that he is being transferred to the court of Pontius Pilate (played by Alan Rogalla) in Jerusalem and thus is separated from his Capernaum acquaintances.

In Jerusalem two years later, things don't look good for Jesus. He humiliates moneychangers (Kjell Melvie and Steve Nordhagen) at the temple and invokes the wrath of priests (Michael Dryud, David Fish, and Dan Sayler), who plot to get the Nazarene arrested. High Priest Caiaphas, (Scott Pream) strikes a clever deal with Judas (Ron Northup) for the betrayal of Jesus. Marcus is helpless to prevent Christ's execution, and after Jesus' death, is directed to make his burial place secure. Octavius and a soldier (Aaron Northup) are struck senseless when an angel (Dan Sayler) appears and opens the tomb for the risen Christ. As he considers all the tumultuous events leading to the conviction, execution, and resurrection of Jesus, Marcus thoughtfully weighs the words, and example, of Christ against the wealth and power of the world. He discovers that in the balance hangs ... The Choice.

Choir members are: (Soprano) Mikayla Adolphson, Christa Anderson, Elisa Anderson, Gianna Anderson, Kiara Anderson, Cindy Arlt, Brayden Drevlow, Brett Drevlow, Brianna Drevlow, Brielle Drevlow, Brock Drevlow, Jill Hall, Katy Nordvick, Elissa Northup, Evan Northup, Karen Pongo, Lydia Pongo, Caleb Richardson, Cheryl Saunders, Katherine Sayler, Lori Simpson, Andi Sorvig, Su Tumberg, Kayla Wollin; (Alto) Debbie Fish, Pam Kjensrud, Jessica Mutnansky, Darcy Nordvick, Sheryl Northup, Jolayne Simpson, Tiffany Wessel, Karen York; (Tenor) Loralee Nennich, Caleb Pongo, Joe Drevlow, David Fish, Aaron Northup, Ron Northup, Joshua Saunders, Ben Sayler, Scott Wessel; (Bass) Michael Dryud, Alan Rogalla, Dan Sayler, Chuck Simpson, Gary York.

The choir director is Dr. Ben Sayler, who is assisted by Dan Sayler. The drama director is Marilyne Sayler, assisted by Bonnie Dunston.

"It is exciting to see The Choice come alive through the singing and acting of this very talented cast!" observes Marilyne Sayler. "What a privilege to work with such a diverse and committed group - children, young adults, and veteran actors. We look forward to sharing this compelling story with the community."

MN heightens TB testing requirements

detection of any new TB infection in cattle that might result from exposure to TB-infected deer," said BAH Executive Director and State Veterinarian Dr. Bill Hartmann. "In addition, these measures will provide assurance to other states and cattle markets that animals in this Core Area are not infected with TB."

Herds located near the Core Area will be included in a TB Management Zone. These herds will need to test annually. All required tests will be done at government expense.

The DNR has taken several steps to reduce the risk of deer-to-deer spread of the disease. At the direction of the Minnesota Legislature, the DNR is enforcing a recreational deer-feeding ban in a 4,000-square-mile area of northwestern Minnesota. In addition, the DNR has continued to offer a cost-sharing program to assist cattle producers in installing deer-proof fencing around stored feed.

To further reduce the risk of deer-to-deer or deer-to-cattle transmission, the DNR has contracted with USDA Wildlife Services to remove potentially infected deer in critical areas where the disease has been found.

Rabbits: "Hopping" for good care

as such, they need companionship with humans or other animals. Rabbits that are left alone all day will become depressed.

Rabbits can be paired with other animals, but they need to be compatible. Mead has successfully raised rabbits in the same home as a Labrador Retriever, but many dogs will not tolerate rabbits. Cats and rabbits co-exist a little better, but they may not be the best companions, Mead said. Cats often ignore rabbits and when they do play, a cat's idea of fun may be different than a rabbit's idea of fun.

Rabbits are social animals, but they generally don't like to be held or carried. Mead said families need to be mindful of the fact that rabbits are ground animals and they generally don't like being held and carried. Mead recommends rabbits be handled on the ground level at the rabbits level.

"Rabbits are very social with humans, but they don't want to be held," Mead said. "Cats don't mind being held, but they can climb trees and are willing to jump from those heights."

Domesticated rabbits are indoor pets. Mead said that some rabbits are kept in hutches, but in that case, it is harder for owners to know if their rabbit is sick or injured. Rabbits should still spend some supervised time outside in a safe area and they never should be out past dark.

Much like other pets, rabbits need to follow a strict diet. The diet of an adult rabbit should consist mainly of grass hay and it should be supplemented by food pellets and selected vegetables.

More information on the care of rabbits is available at Mead's Web site: celebratingrabbits.com. Her book, "Gentle Hearts, Valiant Spirits – Inspirational Stories of Rescue, Triumph and Joy," is also available at the Web site and will be in bookstores in May.

Rabbits: Great pets but not so great gifts

properly care for them, but too many families rush into purchasing a rabbit, especially around this time of year, because of its symbolic ties with Easter.

"Many rabbits are injured or become ill due to poor handling and as a result, they either die or are euthanized," Mead said. "These rabbits are short changed – with good care, they have a life expectancy of eight to 12 years."

Local problem?

The problem appears to be relative to population. Pennington County Humane Society doesn't typically have the problem of an abundance of unwanted rabbits that were given as gifts and subsequently discarded – at least not following Easter. Dawn Williamson, operations manager for the Pennington County Humane Society, said the PCHS shelter does receive some unwanted rabbits during the summer, following county fairs.

The problem is slightly bigger in the Grand Forks area and it is worse in more populated areas. Arlette Moen, director of the Circle of Friends Humane Society, Grand Forks, N.D., said rabbits aren't given up at her animal shelter at the same rate as larger cities, but it is always a concern.

"People buy rabbits as gifts, because they are cute and cuddly, without realizing the work that is needed to care for them," Moen said. "They are not disposable pets and they require as much work as cats and dogs."

Moen said that Circle of Friends population of stray and unwanted rabbits fluctuates around two or three at a given time. It is, however, currently at zero, with three adult rabbits being adopted in recent weeks.

Potential rabbit owners who are interested in rabbit adoption, are screened through a questionnaire. Moen stressed that all rabbits housed at Circle of Friends are domesticated rabbits and as such, they would have a difficult time surviving on their own.

Like most humane societies, Circle of Friends will not allow the adoption of any animal as a gift. Moen said families are asked about their intent when adopting a pet. She added Circle of Friends typically houses adult rabbits, which tend to be less intriguing gifts due to their size.

Circle of Friends' rabbit population comes from both unwanted rabbits that are surrendered by their owners, and stray, domesticated rabbits that are dropped off by law enforcement.

"We don't get very many rabbits claimed by their owners," Moen said, noting that most owners assume the worst when their rabbit disappears and they don't even call Circle of Friends to investigate.

Information on the proper care of rabbits is available at the Circle of Friends Humane Society. Rabbits are available for adoption through Circle of Friends for an adoption fee of $30. Spaying or neutering is recommended, but not required.

Henry Linder: That's my life ...

shoveling snow into each other's yards. "You can depict pretty much all facets of life," said Linder about drawing cartoons.

Linder finds cartoon ideas just about anywhere – including the city of Oklee's water tower. Looking at the water tower one day, he noticed that the base looked like a golf tee. He then drew a cartoon depicting a giant taking a swing at the water tower which looked like a golf ball and golf tee. "If you have your eyes and ears open, you'll always get ideas," said Linder, who was formerly employed as a sign painter in the Thief River Falls area.

Even though Linder is a gifted cartoonist, it takes him days to create a cartoon. He roughs out the cartoon and goes over it again. Linder then makes sure it is free of smudges. He makes a copy of it and then looks at the copy to ensure there are no smudges on it. If the copy is clean, the copy is taken to the newspaper. If the copy isn't clean, Linder goes back to the original cartoon, takes out the smudges and then copies it again. He continues this process until the cartoon is free of smudges. Linder then takes the copy to the Oklee Herald. "It was such a joy to actually see them in print, to be published," said Linder, remembering the first time his cartoons were published.

And readers can bet that he has every one of the cartoons. Once the cartoons appear in the newspaper, he clips them out and puts them into his archives.

Indoor track is an answer for snow and cold

Snow and cold temperatures that delayed the start of spring high school sports like baseball, softball, tennis and golf haven't stopped the Thief River Falls boys and girls track teams. That's because the Prowlers opened the 2007 season with three indoor meets.

Their final element-protected outing of the year was Tuesday when Thief River Falls ran in the Little Amik II Invitational at Bemidji State University.

Host Bemidji won both team titles. The Lumberjacks finished with a 164-84 winning margin over second place International Falls in the boys' portion of the meet and and had a 150-120 edge over runner-up East Grand Forks in the girls' scoring.

Thief River Falls boys tied for third and the Thief River Falls girls were seventh in an 11-team field. Blizzard-like conditions did prevent nearly half of the 21 teams originally scheduled to be at the meet from making the trip to Bemidji.

Top finishes for the Thief River Falls boys were second place efforts by Jeremy Sich in the 200 meters; Mark Campbell in the 400; and Sich, Aaron Langan, Tom Loe and Lee Steva in the 4x400 relay.

Kathryn Walrath and Kailey Bakken had second place finishes in the 200 and 55-meter hurdles, respectively, to lead the Thief River Falls girls.

Head coach Tim Olson and the Prowlers will be keeping a closer eye on the weather when they open the outdoor portion of the schedule with the Tuesday, April 17, Northland Community and Technical College Invitational at the Multi-Events Center in Thief River Falls. The meet has a 4 p.m. start time.

Little Amik-II Team Totals

■ Boys - Bemidji 164, International Falls 84, Thief River Falls 71, East Grand Forks 71, Crookston 56, Pillager 51, Roseau 43, Lake of the Woods 37

NJCAA Division II vs. III in Texas...

Brandon Fontes will play in all-star game

Brandon Fontes of Northland Community and Technical College has been selected to play in the 2007 National Junior College Athletic Association Basketball Coaches all-star game April 21 in Kilgore, Texas.

Fontes was the lone sophomore on the Pioneers' 2006-07 NJCAA Division III national tournament runner-up squad that won the Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division pennant, the MCCC state tournament and NJCAA Division III Region 13 title en route to a 29-5 record.

A 2005 graduate of Grand Forks (N.D.) Central High School, the 6-3 Fontes was not usually listed among the Pioneers' statistical leaders on any given night, but he was widely recognized as a valuable floor leader with a strong feel for the game. He will be a member of the Division III squad that will take on a Division II all-star team in the special post-season match-up.

"This is quite an honor for Brandon," said Northland men's head basketball coach Rick Nikunen. "It's nice to see that Brandon is recognized for his 'team-first' style of play. This will give him another opportunity to showcase his solid, overall skills as complete basketball play. I am very excited for him."

Brandon is the son of Mary and Matt Fontes of Grand Forks. Matt is a former Northland basketball standout who will be inducted into the Pioneers' Athletic Hall of Fame during an April 28 banquet.

Pioneers sweep Raiders

Northland hanged out 18 hits en route to 9-6 and 4-3 Monday college baseball wins over Central Lakes.

Cloudy skies and 40-degree temperatures in the Brainerd area made for adequate early-spring playing conditions. "It was actually pretty nice," reported Northland coach Steve Gust.

The next day a 10-inch snowfall hit central Minnesota.

Casey Solem, David Lovly and Mike Amundson had two hits each in the Pioneers' 11-hit Game 1 attack.

Lovly, a sophomore from Goodridge, had two more hits in the nightcap, with Nick Stenberg joining him in the multiple-hit category. Freshman Tyler Earls of Pelican Rapids drove in a pair of second-game runs.

Both Northland starting pitchers picked up wins. Stenberg, a freshman from Park Rapids, pitched into the seventh inning in the opener. Derek Neset, a freshman from Finley, N.D., threw the first five innings in Game 2.

Freshman Dave Swatlowski of Thompson, N.D., pitched in relief in both games and collected two saves.

In addition to the offense and the pitching, the Pioneers threw in a little defense to complete the road sweep when Matt Puente, a freshman from East Grand Forks, threw out the potential Game 2 tying run at the plate from right field in the bottom of the sixth inning.

"We weren't great, but we were good enough to get two wins," explained Gust. "Swatlowski, Puente, Lovly and Amundson all had good efforts for us. We just need to find more consistently now."

Northland is 6-10 in nonconference play. Central Lakes was the first Minnesota opponent faced by the Pioneers, who opened the 2007 season with an eight-game trip to Cocoa, Florida, that was followed by six games in a tournament at Miles City, Mont.

"We are starting to play pretty good baseball," reported Gust. "Any time you can get a sweep, it's good for the team."

Central Lakes is 0-6.

The Pioneers' first Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division outing will be a Wednesday, April 11, doubleheader against Itasca in Grand Rapids.

Northland is scheduled to make its home debut with a four-game Northern Division series against Vermilion Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15.

Best nonconference start in the Northern Division belonged to Mesabi Range with a 9-3 record. Itasca opened 8-9, Vermilion 1-3 and Hibbing 0-17.

Northland	9	11	2
Central Lakes	6	7	2

NCTC pitching - Nick Stenberg-W (2-0), 6-plus innings, 9 runs, 3 earned runs, 3 walks, 1 strike-out, 4 hit-batsmen; Dave Swatlowski-S (1), 2 innings, 0 runs, 1 walk, 3 strike-outs.

NCTC offensive highlights - Mike Amundson 2/3, 2 RBI; Casey Solem 2/4, 3 RBI; David Lovly 2/3, 2 runs.

Northland	4	7	1
Central Lakes	3	7	4

NCTC pitching - Derek Neset W (1-2), 5 innings, 2 hits, 0 runs, 2 walks, 0 strike-outs, 1 hit-batsmen; Tomas Heaton 2 innings, 3 runs, 3 earned runs; Dave Swatlowski-S (2), 1 inning, 0 runs, 0 hits, 0 walks, 0 strike-outs.

NCTC offensive highlights - Nick Stenberg 2/4, RBI; David Lovly 2/4, RBI; Tyler Earls 1/2, 2 RBI.

NCTC softball schedule altered

A condensed 2007 Northland Community and Technical College softball schedule will feature only Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division games.

The school will count contests during a March 13-17 trip to Florida and a March 30-31 session at the St. Cloud State University Husky Dome as scrimmages, not games, and called off a scheduled doubleheader at the University of Minnesota-Morris Monday.

In addition, to reschedule earlier-announced postponements with of games involving division rivals Mesabi Range and Rainy River, the Pioneers dropped a nonconference meeting with M State Fergus Falls and an appearance at the Jennie Guyer Invitational in Itasca.

That will leave home and home twinbills with Northern Division foes Central Lakes, Hibbing, Rainy River, Itasca, Vermilion and Mesabi Range that must be completed before the May 5-6 MCCC state tournament in Brainerd.

The Pioneers, who were on the losing end of eight starts in Florida, won two of five scrimmages in St. Cloud.

Out-hit just 5-3, error-plagued Northland lost a 17-2 decision to Minnesota West and issued 14 walks in an 11-10 setback at the hands of St. Cloud Technical College.

The Pioneers bounced back to beat Madison (Wis.) Area Tech 2-0 behind the pitching of Mallory Anderson and edged Hibbing 6-4 before losing to a pitching strong Ridgewater squad 5-1.

"It's still a work in progress, but we saw some improvement," reported Northland coach Kathy Huschle. "Right now we just need to get out doors. You can only do so much inside."

The Pioneers are scheduled to face Central Lakes Wednesday in a 3 p.m. twinbill at Brainerd.

Prowlers' home opener with Roseau postponed

Thief River Falls' 2007 high school baseball home opener scheduled Tuesday, April 10, vs. Roseau has been postponed until a date to be determined later.

The snow and cold weather that hit the area had already forced postponement of the Prowlers' season opener at Red Lake Falls Thursday.

Thief River Falls is scheduled to play Thursday, April 12, at Bemidji.

The Prowlers' home opener is now set Monday, April 16, vs. West Fargo, N.D. It will be a 4:30 p.m. start at the Multi-Events Center.

Area players will be in Bemidji

■ Rosters listed for all-star basketball games

A number of area players will be participating in the third annual North Central High School All-Star Basketball Games scheduled to be played Saturday, April 14, at Bemidji State University.

Forty-one boys and 37 girls make up the rosters for the four teams – seniors from a northern Minnesota area stretching from Roseau and International Falls to Sebeka and Alexandria.

Ryan Winkelman, Alex Yaggie and Jeremy Sich of Thief River Falls will be members of the Boys Blue II squad, along with Nathan Thompson of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River and Brady Olson of Grygla-Gatzke. The team will be coached by Kent Christian and Brad Dahl of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River.

Nick Mickelson of Goodridge is on the Boys Maroon I roster.

Thief River Falls' Shawna Rogalla and Amanda Hoard will play for Girls Blue II against a Girls Maroon II team that includes Brittany Gustafson and Courtney Halvorson of Red Lake County Central.

The match-ups include Boys Maroon I vs. Blue I, 1 p.m.; Girls Maroon I vs. Blue I, 2:15 p.m.; Boys Maroon II vs. Blue II, 4 p.m.; and Girls Maroon II vs. Blue II, 5:15 p.m.

Activity starts with a slam dunk contest at 12:30 p.m. A 3-point shooting contest will be held at 3:15 p.m. – after the first set of boys and girls games.

Admission, good for all four games, is $10 for adults and $5 for students.

Boys Maroon I vs. Blue I, 1 p.m.

Girls Maroon I vs. Blue I, 2:15 p.m.

Lace 'em Up Baaketball camp is alated June 4-8

Fourteenth annual Lace 'em Up Basketball Camp will be held June 4-8 at the Lafayette High School Robert Matzke Gym in Red Lake Falls.

The event is open to boys and girls from any community in grades K-11 during the current 2006-07 school year.

Camp sessions for grades 6-11 will be held from 8 to 11:30 a.m. Sessions for grades K-6 will go from noon to 3:30 p.m. Sixth graders have the option of coming to camp in the morning or afternoon, both both, for one price.

The camp is designed to stress fundamentals and includes numerous games, contests and skill sessions. A number of awards and prizes will be given out to the camp participants.

Cost of the camp is $50. If paid before May 15, participants will receive a free camp shirt. If paid after June 1, the camp fee is $60. There is a maximum family fee of $100.

For additional information, or to receive a registration form, contact the Red Lake Falls schools, or Steve Philion, 518 Champagne Avenue, Red Lake Falls, MN 56750, telephone 218-253-2499.

ATV riders are urged to drive with caution

Conservation officers with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources want to get the word out early this spring to both adult and youth all-terrain vehicles (ATV) operators to ride with caution and care.

Twenty-two people, ranging from ages 9 to 86, were killed in ATV accidents in Minnesota last year. Most ATV accidents occur in the road right of way where a valid driver's license is required.

"The public thinks most ATV fatalities and accidents involve youths, but that's not really the case," said Capt. Mike Hammer, DNR Enforcement Education Program coordinator. "DNR statistics show a decline in youth-involved incidents, largely due to safety training requirements for those age 16 and under. It's the adults, those who have not completed DNR ATV safety training, who are most at risk."

According to a recent DNR survey, the typical Minnesota ATV rider is a white male in his mid-40s with some college or technical training. He is most often employed full time with an income greater than $50,000 and a family size of 2.8. It's almost assured he has not completed a DNR ATV safety course.

"Because most adults are experienced automobile drivers, they think they possess the skills to handle a powerful, 600 pound ATV," Hammer said. "But an ATV handles differently from other vehicles, including motorcycles, trucks and cars. A rollover can occur quickly, even during routine maneuvers such as turning and driving on hills and over obstacles, if you fail to take proper precautions."

Hammer recommends all adults complete the ATV safety training independent study course.

Anyone born after July 1, 1987, who operates an ATV on public lands in Minnesota, must successfully complete the independent study ATV Safety Training CD course.

Persons under age 16 must complete the ATV CD course and riding component before riding on public lands. Youth/Adult ATV Training CDs are available by calling 1-800-366-8917, or 1-888-646-6367.

"ATVs may look like a fun toy, but they aren't a toy," Hammer said. "Too many times people don't understand the safety rules and regulations that govern their use. You have to know what you're doing."

Hammer stressed that safety training is a must for anyone who rides an ATV. Understanding a few simple safety rules and knowledge of the regulations prevents accidents and reduces damage to trails, he explained.

Beginning Dec. 12, 2006, public use registration allows for the operation of Class 2 ATVs (machines weighing between 900 and 1,500 pounds) on the shoulder or extreme right side of county roads and state trunk highways and on the right side of township roads and city streets, if not prohibited by the road authority or other local laws.

Volunteers aid DNR programs

Each year thousands of dedicated volunteers help the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources with a variety of projects and programs. In 2006, 30,908 volunteers assisted DNR staff members. The value of their services is estimated at $7.6 million.

"We're fortunate to have so many dedicated and highly educated Minnesotans who are willing to donate their time and talents," said Renee Vail, administrator, DNR volunteer programs. "We're extremely grateful for their efforts."

Volunteers donated 421,423 hours of work last year which represents the equivalent of an extra 202 full time people helping the DNR expand and improve services.

"The volunteers provide work that supplements, but does not supplant DNR personnel," Vail said. "Their efforts add significant value to the DNR, which relies on the community for assistance. Many of our projects would not be possible without their help."

DNR managers, professionals and technicians work with the volunteers to help manage the state's diverse natural resources. Volunteer positions range from jobs requiring no previous experience to specialist positions requiring extensive skill and experience.

Volunteer opportunities occur at state parks, state forest campgrounds, wildlife management areas, fisheries and hatcheries, at more than 100 DNR area offices, four regional DNR offices, the St. Paul central office and at special event sites.

More than 700 volunteers assisted the DNR at the Minnesota State Fair acting as Smokey Bear, helping at the laser shot booth, dispensing lake data reports, and providing entertainment and environmental education presentations on the DNR volunteer outdoor stage.

Other projects volunteers worked on include firearms safety instruction, state park campground hosting, loon monitoring, snowmobile safety instruction, trail clearing, precipitation observing, river cleanups, burning permits issuing and wildlife research.

Volunteers work individually and in groups undertaking projects in both field and office settings. DNR staff provides training. The DNR volunteer programs office also works with the DNR Alumni Volunteer Association, a program that utilizes retired DNR employees in special DNR projects throughout the state.

For information about the DNR volunteering opportunities, contact Renee Vail, administrator, DNR volunteer programs, 651-259-5249 or visit the DNR Web site at www.dnr.state.mn.us.

The National Weather Service provides tornado safety information

April 9 through 13 is Severe Weather Awareness Week in Minnesota. The following tornado information is from the National Weather Service office in Chanhassen.

Tornado safety information

Before the tornado – Tornado watches highlight the area where tornadoes are most likely to develop. Continue your normal activities during a watch, but keep track of the latest weather information, and be ready to get to a shelter. Tornadoes develop quickly.

In the home – Go to the basement if possible. Get under a table, work bench, or some other sturdy furniture to protect yourself from falling debris. A stairwell is also a good place to go during a tornado.

If you cannot get to a basement – Go to a small, interior room on the lowest floor. Closets, bathrooms and interior halls afford the best protection in most cases. Get under something sturdy or cover yourself with blankets, and stay away from windows.

In an apartment, school or office building – Move to the innermost room on the lowest level or to a pre-designated shelter area. Stay away from windows. In a hallway, crouch down and protect your head from flying debris. Avoid areas with glass and large roof expansions.

In a mobile home, car, truck or other vehicle – Abandon a mobile home or vehicle as quickly as possible. Seek a permanent structure or a sturdy shelter. People who try to drive away in a vehicle often don't make it. They get caught in deadly winds. Avoid bridges – they act as wind tunnels.

Tornado drill day information

A tornado drill will be held April 12. Tornado drills will test statewide warning and communications systems.

The drill schedule is as follows:

- 9 a.m. – The National Weather Service will issue a simulated tornado watch for Minnesota.
- 1:45 p.m. – The National Weather Service will issue a simulated tornado warning for participating Minnesota counties. Most cities and counties will activate outdoor warning siren systems.
- 6:55 p.m. – The National Weather Service will issue a second simulated tornado warning for participating counties in Minnesota.

Scholarship deadline nearing for new NCTC students

New students planning to enroll at the Thief River Falls campus of Northland Community and Technical College have until April 15 to apply for NCTC Foundation new-student scholarships.

According to Bonnie Stewart, executive director of the NCTC Foundation, over $87,000 was awarded to new and current students of NCTC in Thief River Falls during the 2006-2007 school year. Scholarships are available to students enrolling in both liberal arts and technical programs.

"With tuition increases inevitable, the Foundation is doing its best to support students pursuing higher education," said Stewart. She added, "All of our fund-raising efforts are paying off. Thank you to all NCTC Foundation contributors; every contribution makes a difference."

Students interested in applying for a scholarship may pick up the New NCTC Student Scholarship Application from area high school counselors, NCTC recruiters, NCTC-TRF admission's office, NCTC-TRF financial aid office and the NCTC Foundation office. Applications can be found on-line at http://www.northlandcollege.edu/alumni/docs/scholarship_app0607.pdf.

For students attending NCTC, additional scholarships are available for those who obtain high academic achievement and/or positively impact the college. Those applications will be available immediately at the beginning of the academic year in the fall.

The mission of the NCTC Foundation is to encourage, enhance, support, and recognize NCTC's impact on the northwest region of Minnesota, to attract and retain area students by providing scholarships and to support NCTC functions.

The NCTC Foundation is a non-profit organization that seeks and administers private gifts for student scholarships and support of NCTC. Gifts are tax-deductible. For more information on how to contribute to the Foundation, contact the NCTC Foundation office at 218-681-0777.

Two people injured in accident Tuesday

Two people were injured in a two-vehicle accident Tuesday afternoon south of the city of Thief River Falls.

Shelley M. Muri, 28, Kenyon, suffered minor injuries to her arm and neck, according to the Minnesota State Patrol. Rachel R. Muri, 5, suffered a minor injury to her arm. They were taken to Northwest Medical Center. They weren't listed as patients at the hospital on Thursday morning, according to the NWMC nursing director.

The other driver, Serena Jo Jesme, 19, Oklee, wasn't injured in the crash.

At the time of the accident, Shelley Muri was driving a 2006 Chevy Aveo westbound on State Aid 3 at the intersection with Highway 59. According to the report, she didn't see Jesme's northbound 2000 Toyota Corolla. Jesme's car then collided with Shelley Muri's car. Jesme and both Muris were wearing their seat belts.

Muri's car sustained minor damage, and Jesme's car sustained moderate damage. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 12:02 p.m. Tuesday.

Two captured after chase

Law enforcement responded to the scene. A high speed chase, with speeds in excess of 80 mph, ensued through Thief River Falls, taking officers down First Street and eventually down Oakland Park Road. The chase ended in Oakland Park. At some point during the pursuit, Rogers' vehicle collided twice with a squad car, leading to the second degree assault charge. A tire blew out on Rogers' vehicle, making it inoperable in the park. It was later towed from the scene.

One of the men attempted to flee from law enforcement by crossing the Red Lake River, Murphy said. He fell through the ice and came back to shore. He and the other man were apprehended.

Later Thursday, law enforcement executed a search warrant in Thief River Falls. Rogalla declined to say where that search warrant was executed or any other information pertaining to the execution of the search warrant.

At this time, it is unknown if Thursday's burglary is related to a burglary at Computer Run/Radio Shack in January. At that time, an individual wearing a ski mask smashed a glass front door and took car stereo equipment. Thief River Falls police are investigating whether the two men were involved in that burglary.

Rogers and Nordrum are also being investigated for other criminal activities. "Thief River Falls law enforcement is in contact with other law enforcement agencies about any connections between other criminal activities in northwest Minnesota and these suspects," Murphy said.

Murphy credits the anonymous citizen who called police about Thursday's burglary. He said, "Because of a very alert, concerned citizen, we were able to get these two guys in custody."

Lundeen elected to Minnkota Board

Kelly Lundeen of Trail has been elected to the Minnkota Power Cooperative Inc. Board of Directors. He was elected at the generation and transmission cooperative's annual meeting, which was held March 30. Lundeen will represent Red Lake Electric Cooperative, Red Lake Falls, on the 11-member Board.

Lundeen replaces Veral Mosbeck, Red Lake Falls, who served 15 years on the Minnkota Board and 30 years on the Red Lake Electric Cooperative Board.

Backstroms to speak April 27

Nathan and Connie Backstrom, who lost three sons due to a drunk driver on a cell phone, will speak Friday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. at Our Saviors Free Lutheran Church in Argyle.

The event is sponsored by the Marshall County Temperance Society. The society will host its annual meeting Saturday, April 28 at 2 p.m. at the Newfolden Community Center. The Backstroms' talk will be a substantial portion of that meeting as well. Coffee will be served.

Border State Bank announces Community Scholar Awards

Border State Bank has announced its new Community Scholar Awards. These scholarships, totaling $10,000 annually, will be presented to graduating seniors who participate in and recognize the importance of service to their communities. These awards reflect Border State Bank's commitment to public and community service in its many forms as an integral part of its mission and core values.

Three scholarships will be given away annually: one $6,000 scholarship ($1,500 per year renewable for up to four consecutive years) and two $2,000 scholarships ($500 per year renewable for up to four consecutive years.) Renewability dependent upon maintenance of a 3.00 grade point average and full time student status. To be considered for these awards, students must have a strong commitment to community service, demonstrated by volunteer and other community activities, a strong academic record and good character throughout their high school years. The best candidates will have successfully blended their academic, personal and service lives into an integrated whole.

Award selection will be based on: participation in community service activities and volunteer work; participation in extracurricular activities; teacher recommendation; academic grade point average; and the content of a 500-word essay. Class rank, test scores and financial need will not be determining factors. The eligibility standards for Border State Bank Community Scholars are: Applicants must be graduating seniors from Badger, Greenbush-Middle River, International Falls, Lake of the Woods, Roseau or Thief River Falls high schools. Applicants must be current customers or a dependent child of a current customer of Border State Bank. Applicants must plan to enroll in a full-time undergraduate course of study at an accredited two- or four-year college, university or vocational-technical school. Applicants must have a 3.00 grade point average on a 4.00 scale. Applicants may not be dependents of Border State Bank employees.

Applications for the Border State Bank Community Scholar Awards are available at Badger, Greenbush-Middle River, International Falls, Lake of the Woods, Roseau or Thief River Falls high schools or any Border State Bank. The deadline to submit completed applications is April 27.

BSU students participate in Habitat for Humanity

Mathew Verbout of Grygla and Nicole Haugen of Goodridge participated in the annual spring break service trip through the Habitat for Humanity chapter at Bemidji State University.

Verbout, a sophomore majoring in mathematics and computer science, is the president of the Habitat chapter. Haugen is a sophomore majoring in biology.

The BSU Chapter of the Habitat for Humanity takes part in a number of campus and community volunteer events locally throughout the year. Their annual spring break service trip was to Ocala, Fla., this year. On the trip, students helped build a Habitat for Humanity house and assisted in the cleaning of weather-torn areas in Florida.

TRF woman injured in rollover Tuesday

A Thief River Falls woman was injured Tuesday afternoon in a rollover seven miles south of Thief River Falls.

Elizabeth A. Mehrkens, 24, suffered a minor injury, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. She had to be extricated from her vehicle after the accident. Mehrkens was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls. Mehrkens wasn't listed as a patient at the hospital Thursday morning, according to the NWMC nursing director.

At the time of the accident, Mehrkens was driving a 1985 Ford van northbound on Highway 59. She lost control on the icy road. Her van then went into a west ditch and rolled. The report indicates Mehrkens wasn't wearing a seat belt.

The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 5:32 p.m. Tuesday. The Thief River Falls Fire Department and Pennington County Sheriff's Department assisted at the scene.

Froiland to present senior vocal recital

Dane Froiland

Dane Froiland will present his undergraduate senior recital at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 14 in the Josephine Campbell Recital Hall located in the Hughes Fine Arts Center on the campus of the University of North Dakota.

Froiland, a native of Thief River Falls, is a senior at UND majoring in vocal music education. He has studied voice for four years under Dr. Royce Blackburn. He will be presenting the works of Handel, Vaughan Williams, Mozart, and many other great composers.

Froiland is a member of the University of North Dakota Concert Choir, a section leader in the Concert Choir, a former member of the UND Varsity Bards, and is in his second year as a resident assistant. The public is invited to attend.

Dziengel took part in BSU event

Sarah Dziengel of Strandquist volunteered to work at the 17th annual Share the Future Program at Bemidji State University. Dziengel is a junior majoring in education.

Volunteers assisted with registration, helped conduct sessions, escorted participants to the various classes and performed other duties.

Share the Future is a program hosted by BSU to support interest in science, mathematics and technology in young women. Approximately 300 seventh and eighth grade students from north-central Minnesota attended this year's event, which featured hands-on demonstrations, exhibits, and presentations by women who work in these professions. The BSU Foundation, the BSU College of Social and Natural Sciences, and the Red River Valley Section to the American Chemical Society sponsored the event.

Pastor John Voelker to speak at Kiwanis

Pastor John Voelker of the Trinity Lutheran Church will be the guest speaker for the April 10 meeting of the Thief River Falls Kiwanis Club. The Kiwanis Club meets every Tuesday at 6:30 a.m. Meeting Room "A" at the Best Western Inn (by the pool).

Roseau Co. Historical Society to host annual meeting

The public is invited to attend the Roseau County Historical Society Annual Meeting on Saturday, April 14, at 6 p.m. at the Roseau City Center Community Room in Roseau. There will be a potluck dinner, followed by the business meeting, including an election of directors. The following directors' terms will expire at that time: Ida Novacek, Jeff Pieterick, Bruce Olson, and Irene Olson.

Dean Sather, current Executive Director of the Hjemkomst Heritage Center is the guest speaker for the evening. There will be a drawing for door prizes. Those attending are encouraged to bring their potluck contribution at 5:30 p.m.

Organized in 1927, the Roseau County Historical Society gathers historic information and artifacts that pertain to the history of Roseau County. Memberships will be available during the evening or at the Research Center. This year marks the 80th year since the establishment of the historical society.

Purchase pending

Pennington Co. plans to purchase TRF City Auditorium

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

The best way to address the space needs of Pennington County has not been determined, but Pennington County commissioners have decided that the Thief River Falls City Auditorium and surrounding land fit into the future plans of Pennington County.

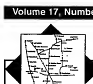
Commissioners announced their intention for Pennington County to move forward with the purchase of the Thief River Falls City Auditorium during the board's meeting Tuesday (April 10).

The unanimously-approved purchase resolution details the county's need for property at the present courthouse location that would allow for an addition to the courthouse. The resolution states that the county board approves taking the necessary steps to open negotiations with the city of Thief River Falls on all possible options concerning the acquisition of the City Auditorium and adjacent property. The resolution also asks for the city of Thief River Falls to consider the option of Pennington County acquiring the Old Arena if and when it becomes available.

The board's decision to purchase the historic structure comes nearly one year (April 25) after the city of Thief River Falls first offered to sell the 74-year-old facility. The two sides had been involved with several discussions about a sale or lease agreement prior to the city's sale offer.

Commissioners have taken several steps to determine how the City Auditorium would fit into the future needs of Pennington County. The city has also agreed to extend the deadline of the offer, which was originally set to expire May 31, last year.

Since the initial offer was made, the county has submitted and accepted a request for proposals for space needs and facility needs assessment of Pennington County; and contracted with the Klein-McCarthy Architects of St. Louis Park for a study of space and facility needs for all departments of Pennington County.



The potential future of the City Auditorium as it relates to use by Pennington County has been addressed by Klein-McCarthy Architects during face to face meetings with commissioners and county management. A total of nine options have been presented to county officials that are intended to address space and facility needs.

Loose moose

Dilene Spielmen spied this young moose strolling through the neighborhood early Thursday morning in Thief River Falls. Spielmen took the picture at about 8:30 a.m. in the 1000 block of Knight Avenue. She said she noticed that local police officers were nearby giving the moose a proper escort out of town.

County commissioners support 25 by 25

Hallock - "Last month, in a bill introduced in the House of Representatives, Congress gave its support for the 25 by 25 Initiative. This legislation envisions that farm, forestry and ranch land in the U.S. will provide at least 25 percent of the energy consumed in the U.S. by the year 2025. This would promote using the renewable resources of wind, solar and biofuels, perhaps making the nation's dependency on oil and oil-producing countries less.

"Kittson County commissioners also last month, received a resolution from the Pennington County commissioners stating their support for the federal initiative. They also asked that Kittson County show its support in the same manner.

"Last Tuesday, the board adopted its own resolution in support of the 25 by 25 action plan." - Kittson County Enterprise, April 11, 2007, by Louise Money

Local teacher keeps in contact with soldiers

Bagley - "Fosston resident Vanessa Goss is passionate about teaching. She has instructed one of the fifth grade classes at Bagley Elementary for the last few years. When entering her classroom, an individual will see all the standard educational adornments that one would expect ... desks, a chalkboard and various school projects displayed around the room. However, near her desk is a set of items not normally found in such a setting. These pieces are mementos from places like Iraq and Afghanistan.

"Over the last four years, Goss has kept her students in touch with our military through letters and care packages. Most recently, a flag was sent from the Bemidji-based Able Company from the 136th Combined Arms Battalion of the National Guard courtesy of Capt. Adam Gilbertson. The special gift was in appreciation of Goss and her fifth grade class from last year participating in the school supply drive that Gilbertson spearheaded. The effort was meant to assist Iraqi schools with resources not readily available to them, along with some recreational items for their students. Her class sent over several kits for the children Gilbertson was serving.

"Goss said it was her former husband Jim Goss' involvement in the Gulf War in the early 1990s that originally sparked her desire to support our nation's military personnel. She originally started this most recent effort through contacts on the Internet but soon accessed a local resource." - The 13 Towns of Fosston, April 10, 2007, by Dan Kindall

Let's talk turkey

Badger - "Their cozy, warm home was waiting for them as was feed and water. The floor was covered with sunflower hulls. And just who was coming? Thirteen thousand four hundred turkey poults, that's who.

"These babies came from a hatchery in Gunton, Manitoba, Canada, which is located north of Winnipeg. For not even being 12 hours old, they already had 'been through the mill,' so to speak. Before they left the hatchery for John and Joni Burkel's farm in rural Badger, they were sexed, their beaks and toes are microwave treated, and they each receive a shot of antibiotics." - The Tribune of Greenbush, April 11, 2007, by Mavis Gonshorowski

19 dogs and 7 cats need rescuing

This cat is one of seven cats and 19 dogs to be rescued by the Pennington County Humane Society. The Humane Society is now looking for homes for the pets and monetary donations to help cover the cost of temporary care for the pets.

Rescue in progress

Pennington County Humane Society needs financial support

by David Hill
Editor

Pennington County Humane Society is attempting to rescue 19 dogs and at least seven cats from a rural Red Lake County residence. Over the weekend, the Humane Society was contacted by Red Lake County Sheriff's Department regarding a situation in which a Red Lake County woman had passed away leaving several dogs and cats without an owner.

Typically, the Humane Society receives its pets from the animal pound and doesn't go out and "rescue" animals. Due to the nature of this situation, Dawn Williamson, operations manager for the Society, said something had to be done quickly.

Williamson declined to name the woman or use the family name because she didn't want to embarrass family members who may still live in the area. To her knowledge, no crime had been committed, and law enforcement officials are not investigating. She said the woman lived alone at the residence, and a hired man took care of the livestock and pets, all of which appear to be in good condition. Six of the dogs were living in a horse trailer; however, Williamson said most of the dogs appear to be mixed breed chow chows, labradors and German shepherds.

By Thursday, nine of the 19 dogs and seven cats had been removed from the property. Volunteers for the Humane Society were having difficulty rounding up all of the pets. Although not aggressive, they are skittish around people and haven't been easy to capture. Because it has been so difficult to capture the pets, the Humane Society is considering whether or not to use live traps.

The major concern for Williamson and the Humane Society will be veterinary bills. Williamson doubts that any of the pets have had veterinary care, and that will mean additional costs for the Humane Society.

Williamson said she has contacted the Minneapolis-St. Paul Humane Society to request assistance. She said they were willing to come up and help, but at this time

"Little Shop of Horrors" in TRF

NCTC presents musical on school stage

This April 26 through 28 at 7 p.m., Northland Community and Technical College music department will present "Little Shop of Horrors" on the stage. The show features the man-eating Audrey II puppets built by Lincoln High School and NCTC Graduate Philip Huks. The show is directed by Vanessa Martell and Linda Samuelson, who are both music instructors at NCTC.

The story focuses on the shy Seymour Krelbourn played by Lincoln High School graduate Josiah Westerman. He is a florist's assistant stuck in a dead-end job on Skid Row. During a total eclipse of the sun, Seymour runs across a very unusual plant one day. He takes it back to the florist's shop and names Audrey II after his secret love and co-worker, Audrey, played by Kristin Redd. Everything is going well until Seymour discovers the preferred diet of Audrey II is blood. As Audrey II grows it makes a deal with Seymour that if he supplies the blood, it will provide Seymour with financial success and fame. Before long, the need for food increases and Seymour is asked to supply more than just blood, and the real plans of Audrey II come to light.

The cast includes Josiah Westerman as Seymour Krelbourn and Kristin Redd as Audrey. Audrey II is the larger than life series of four puppets that will be manned by Vanessa Martell and supplied with a voice and a presence by TJ Johnson. Harry Lipsied and Mark Askelson play Mr. Mushnik, the flower shop owner, and the sadistic leather wearing dentist, Orin. A trio of ladies including Elizabeth Oppegaard, Millie Dudson, and Christina Peterson will play a variety of roles including winos and reporters. To complete the cast is the Greek chorus of Anna Krause, Karla Underdahl, Amanda Olson, Maggie Murphy and Katie Kezar.

The piano is played by NCTC piano instructor and accompanist Catherine Hagen. Keyboards are played by Regina Goodball, bass by Linda Samuelson and the percussion is covered by Jon Kays, a Lincoln High School graduate.

Tickets went on sale April 2 and will be available at Kezar Music in downtown Thief River Falls, and from the main receptionist at NCTC - Thief River Falls. General admission tickets are $8 for adults, $5 for students, and $5 for senior citizens. For more information, or for tickets, call Linda Samuelson at 681-0733 or Vanessa Martell at 681-0732.

Commitment hearing pends for sex offender

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

Thomas Daniels

A Level 3 sex offender is scheduled to move back to Thief River Falls on Thursday, April 19. At that time, Thomas Lee Daniels, 19, is scheduled to be released from prison. However, a petition has been filed to civilly commit Daniels.

Daniels plans to live in a home along Douglas Avenue Northeast in Thief River Falls. In cities the size of Thief River Falls and in cities smaller than Thief River Falls, the Minnesota Department of Corrections doesn't provide the specific addresses of homes where Level 3 sex offenders will live.

On Wednesday, Pennington County Attorney Al Rogalla and Pennington County Social Services Director Ken Yutrzenka filed a petition to civilly commit Daniels. On Thursday, Rogalla said that further proceedings are pending.

Level 3 sex offenders are classified as those most likely to re-offend. Under Minnesota Statute 244.052, law enforcement agencies are required to inform the public if a Level 3 sex offender is being released from prison and intends to live in a community. Thief River Falls Deputy Police Chief Craig Mattson said that police will not hold a community notification meeting about Daniels. The public is reminded that Daniels is not wanted

Fire Dept. rescues dog

Tyson displays a tail-wagging ending to his rescue from river

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

Tyson wasn't in the mood to get back into the boat Tuesday night. The hyper 12-year-old was too busy trotting back and forth at the Thief River Falls Fire Department. He was just happy to be alive.

Tyson, a Chesapeake Bay retriever, decided to leave home Tuesday. At 5 p.m. Tuesday, his journey almost ended in the Thief River.

Paula Praska, who lives along 140th Avenue Northeast, found Tyson in the river. "I just looked out my window," said Praska. "I thought he was something else at first." Praska thought Tyson was a beaver. She told her daughter to look at the animal. That's when Tyson put his paws on the ice, and Praska realized Tyson was a dog. She called the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center, which notified the fire department.

About 10 firefighters responded to the scene to help Tyson. "He didn't have long left. He was tired and cold," said firefighter Blair Lund. By Lund's and Praska's estimates, Tyson may have been in the water anywhere ranging from 10 minutes to more than 30 minutes.

Ice was breaking as Lund tried to pull Tyson into the department's 14-foot water ice rescue boat. Lund reached Tyson, who was treading water about 20 feet from shore. Lund grabbed him and pulled him to safety. Once on land, Tyson was still a little shaken from what had just transpired. He acted like a fawn, said Lund, who noted Tyson eventually came to his senses.

Tyson was then taken to the fire department. Since Tyson wasn't wearing a collar, Co-Fire Chief Jerry Stenseth called nearby property owners to determine the identity of Tyson's owner. A neighbor called Marc Hanson. Hanson, Tyson's owner, then went to the fire department and was reunited with his dog less than an hour later. Hanson didn't know that Tyson had wandered away from home. He lives across the river from the Praska family and closer to the city of Thief River

Tyson looked at his owner Marc Henson (not pictured) after they were reunited Tuesday night. Tyson wandered away from his Thief River Falls home, and his journey almost ended in the Thief River. Thief River Falls firefighters rescued him from the river.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacours@mncable.net

Today's recipes are from the Thief River Falls Trinity Lutheran Church 100th Anniversary Cookbook (1993). You'll like them.

Spring is on the way. Save this one until your rhubarb is up or buy some frozen rhubarb at the store. What a delicious way to have some vitamin C:

RHUBARB CUP CAKES
Julie Olson

1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2/3 cup oil
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 1/2 to 1 2/3 cups rhubarb
2 3/4 cups flour
1/2 cup walnuts

This recipe doesn't give mixing directions except to say to mix the egg and rhubarb. I would mix flour, salt, soda and brown sugar together in a bowl, and then add oil, egg mixed with rhubarb and the walnuts.

Recipe makes about 18 cupcakes. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Frost with powdered sugar frosting, if desired.

Here's a tasty way to cook a chicken - lots of flavor and little fat:

TOMATO ROASTED CHICKEN
Mrs. Harold Aker

Flour
1 medium onion
1/2 cup celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 to 2 chickens, cut up
1 cup ketchup
1 cup water
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Roll chicken in flour, salt and pepper. Brown in roaster. Pour off fat and leave chicken in roaster.

In a large bowl, mix onion, celery, green pepper, salt, ketchup and water. Pour over chicken, cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.

Here's a recipe for oven-baked potatoes that will be great with your chicken. You can half the recipe if you don't want so many:

OVEN BAKE FRENCH FRIES
Selma Waldal

4 potatoes (8 ounces each)
1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
1/2 stick unsalted butter
1/4 cup corn oil
Salt

Peel and cut potatoes 1/4 inch thick lengthwise. Place strips in cold water (may use ice cubes too) with the vinegar and soak 1 hour.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Drain potatoes and pat dry.

Heat butter and oil in saucepan, add potatoes and toss to coat. Drain potatoes in a strainer and place on 2 baking sheets. Bake 20 minutes, then turn and bake another 15 to 20 minutes. Remove to paper towels and sprinkle with salt.

A simple lettuce salad would be delicious with this meal. But top that salad with a tasty homemade dressing:

BLUE CHEESE DRESSING
LaVonne Haraldson

2 cups mayonnaise
1/2 cup sour cream
1/4 cup vinegar
4 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
4 ounces crumbled blue cheese

Blend all ingredients. Keep covered in refrigerator.

Here's a tangy dessert you can serve the family or save for company:

S'WONDERFUL DESSERT
Mrs. Lowell G. Larson

1 can strawberry pie filling
1 can crushed pineapple, drained (15 ounce)
2 cups miniature marshmallows
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1 cup nuts
9 ounces whipped topping
1 can mandarin oranges, drained

Mix all ingredients except whipped topping. Fold in whipped topping. Chill.

This recipe isn't from the Trinity cookbook, but it's a lovely little dessert recipe with nutritional information for those of you who are keeping an eye on such things:

STUFFED STRAWBERRIES

24 large fresh strawberries
1/2 cup spreadable strawberry cream cheese
3 tablespoons sour cream

Remove stems from strawberries. Place point side up on a cutting board and cut a deep X in the top of each berry (pointed end): Carefully spread berries apart.

In bowl, beat cream cheese and sour cream until smooth. Pipe or spoon filling into each berry. Refrigerate until serving.

Nutritional info: One strawberry (with reduced fat cream cheese and reduced fat sour cream) equals 17 calories, 1 g fat, 2 mg chol, 20 mg sodium, 2 g carb, 1 g fiber, 1 g protein. Diabetic exchange is 0.

Crookston DAV and Auxiliary hold monthly meeting

Disabled American Veterans Crookston Chapter 14 and Auxiliary met on Monday, March 19 at the Golden Link Senior Center.

Commander Phyllis Sheridan presided a the Auxiliary meeting. Adjutant-Treasurer Tillie Gebhardt read the minutes from the last meeting and also gave the treasurer's report. It was announced that the Disabled American Veterans and Auxiliary State Convention will be held in Mankato at the Country Inn May 3-6. The DAV Auxiliary state commander, Audrey Tolzman of North Mankato, will be presiding at the convention. Auxiliary members were reminded to start collecting items to send along to the convention for the silent auction and also for the live auction, which are the biggest fundraisers the Auxiliary has.

It was voted to have the same officers in the Auxiliary serve again, with Phyllis Sheridan as commander; Doris Heuer as senior vice commander and membership chairwoman; Bette Laurent as junior vice commander; Edna Bendickson as legislative chairwoman; and Tillie Gebhardt as the adjutant treasurer. Phyllis Sheridan will again serve as the state executive committee member; and Tillie Gebhardt will serve as the alternate state executive committee member.

The next meeting of the Disabled American Veterans, Crookston Chapter 14, and the Auxiliary, will be held in Thief River Falls at the Best Western Inn, April 16, for a 9 a.m. breakfast meeting. Auxiliary members are reminded to bring their silent auction and live auction items for the state convention to this meeting.

American Association of University Women to meet April 16

The American Association of University Women will meet Monday, April 16 at 7 p.m. at the home of Cindy Tsukichi. Lakshmi Holakere will speak about life in India from a woman's viewpoint. AAUW is open to women with a two-year or four-year degree. Hostesses are Linda Shelquist and Carol Torgerson. Any questions should be directed to Elvera Cullen at 681-3136.

SON Granlund Lodge to meet April 19

The Sons of Norway Granlund Lodge No. 240 will meet Thursday, April 19 at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston. The meeting will convene at 7 p.m. and it will include a short business meeting with an attendance gift being awarded.

The program will consist of a demonstration by a group of children under the direction of Jennifer Faldet of Gunvick, called "Kicks for Kids" from several communities in the area. Refreshments will be served by Mae Johannessohn, Debbie Armstrong and Rayome Koehler.

Ella Larson
Sept. 14, 1912 - Apr. 12, 1997

God saw she was getting tired
And a cure was not to be,
So He put His arms around her
And whispered,
"Come with Me."
In tears we watched her suffer
And saw her fade away
Although we loved her dearly
We could not make her stay.
A heart of gold stopped beating hardworking hands now rest
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.

Missed as much today as she was ten years ago

Rural Reflections

Sounds of the Seventies

I like the music of the 70s - enough to like infomercials about music of the 70s. Graham Russel and Russel Hitchcock of the musical group "Air Supply" recently have spent their evenings on the television selling a compact disc called "Songs of the Seventies" This is a commercial made up of snippets of 70s music that really caught my ear and must have tripped my karaoke nerve because I've even caught myself singing with the music. The commercial reminded me how much I like the music created after Woodstock and before I got my first car.

I spent one summer of my life riding figure eights on my bicycle and listening to the Beach Boys, The Bee Gee's and Journey. My parents had laid a pad of concrete for a new shed but the construction crew had yet to arrive. My brother created an alfresco bachelor pad out on that slab complete with an eight-track tape player and a couch. I rode figure eights endlessly on my bicycle while the Beach Boys sang about a summer without end. The eight-track was attached to a 12-volt battery so the fun (fun, fun) actually did have an end, at least until my brother, Darrel, could re-charge our music source. I think the whole scene played not only to my love of music but to that slightly obsessive side of me which seeks to perform an act (like making figure eights) to perfection.

Music of the 70s wasn't all fun and riding figure eights with your bicycle on your parent's concrete pad. I had a crush on my swimming teacher when I was about 10 years old. She was 20 and didn't believe in May/December romance, which caused me great sadness. I spent most of that summer in the bathroom crying to the song "I'm Not in Love" by Ten CC. The song "Shannon" was about a missing dog and I would immediately turn the station whenever it was played. Even writing about the song makes me feel bad taday as I love animals as much as I hate loss.

I think 70s music also introduced me to feeling groovy (I can't define groovy so don't ask.) I loved "Afternoon Delight" by the Starland Vocal Band and the lyrics always reminded of a small town, Norman Rockwell Independence Day dressed in 70s polyester. I see images of deep grass (the mowing kind,) picnic lunches, sun dresses and fireworks whenever this old classic manages to steal a little radio time. The music of "America" introduced me to a little healthy escapism and taught me to put worry aside and just enjoy the moment. When I listen to "Ventura Highway" my mind is too busy watching alligator lizards along the coastline from the open window of a 1970 Ford Torino to concern myself with the endless winter outside the front window of our house.

I was about 15 when 70s music turned a decade older. I love the music, although I probably wasn't mature enough at the time to capture all of its subtle nuances or secret meanings. I don't grasp every bit of its symbolism and would be a poor partner for 70s music trivia. I just know what it felt like to be young, wait for the eight-track player to click to the next song and drive figures eights with my bicycle all summer long on my parents concrete pad.

Fosston Library presents Festival of Tables April 14

The Fosston Community Library & Arts Association presents the Sixth Annual Festival of Tables on April 14th 2007, beginning at 11:30 a.m. at St. Mary's Social Hall in Fosston. The Festival is a fundraiser to benefit the Fosston Community Library and Arts Association building project and programs.

A sure sign of spring, the festival begins at 11:30 a.m. when guests will arrive and sign in for fantastic door prizes donated by area businesses. Raffle tickets will also be sold for a chance to win a beautiful quilted hanging from Best Friends Quilting, or a Girlfriend Getaway trip. Each guest will receive a place card with their name on it to reserve their seat at a table. Piano music performed by Mary Laubenstein will provide a comfortable atmosphere for guests as they wander throughout the festival sipping punch and choosing their seats.

Choosing where to sit may be harder than anticipated. Fifteen tables will be set in varying styles by talented artists. This year, table setters have come from as far as St. Cloud and the Twin Cities, not to mention Fosston, McIntosh and Winger to participate, bringing with them lovely dishware and inspired ideas. Wedding china, seashore visits, apple orchards, snowmen and girlfriends, are just a few of the themes for this year's festival.

These settings will be available through the creative efforts of Carol Hammer, Michelle Levin, Marcy Hanson, the Steinbrenner ladies, Bonnie Stich, Martha Roue, Gerry LaVoi, Carol Danielson, Barbara Meusing, Kim Roysland, Terisa Vig, Miriam Buchanan, Kristi Nocl, Kari Nelson, Sandy Bjornerud, Sue Flermoen, Joann Fultz, Lori Balstad and BeverLee Ostenaa.

Many other volunteers are involved in preparing and serving the luncheon, which will consist of our Signature Chicken Salad, fresh fruit, croissants, relish tray and a light dessert which will be served family-style beginning at 12:00.

The Festival of Tables planning committee consists of the following volunteers: Kim Wilson, Sheryl Magelssen, Lori Balstad, and Joan Dufault. Proceeds of the fundraiser will benefit the FCLAA building project and arts programming.

Tickets are $20 each and are available in advance at the Fosston Library or by calling Joan Dufault (435-6986) or Kim Wilson (435-6753). There are a limited number of tickets available, so get yours today.

Thank You to my family and friends for a great 80th birthday party on March 18th.

NRPCC hosts fundraising banquet

North Region Pregnancy Care Center hosted its third annual fundraising banquet March 23 at First Baptist Church in Roseau. Almost half of the 2007 operating costs were donated that night.

Maggie's Catering of Karlstad provided the meal for 180 guests, and it was served by a group of area young women headed to Africa for mission work. The special music for the evening was provided by Kay Prothero, Aaron and Melissa Weil, Mark Watson and Vicki Batten. During the dinner, Pastor Bob Ludwig played piano. Brenda Yanok, the center's director, and Melanie Foss, treasurer, updated everyone on the activities and needs at the center.

NRPCC is a pro-life, nonprofit organization helping those who are pregnant or have pregnancy related issues to make informed and healthy decisions. With education, support, material help and referrals, it strives to help clients improve their situations and become nurturing mothers. The center is also committed to bring an abstinence message to young people. All services at the center are free and confidential.

The center is located in the Roseau Business Plaza on the east edge of Roseau and serves Roseau County and the surrounding area. For more information, contact the center weekdays at (218) 463-0580 or visit www.northregionpcc.com.

Marshall County requires construction permits

Construction season is here, so plan in advance to get your permit if you're doing a construction project in Marshall County.

Determine if your property is located in the Floodplain or Shoreland Zoning Districts that require building and land-use permits. Permits in floodplain and shoreland areas are required for:

- The construction of buildings, additions, decks and remodeling
- The installation, repair and or alteration of sewage treatment systems (privies and holding tanks require permits also)
- The placement of roads, driveways and parking areas
- Modification of feedlots
- Specific grading, filling and other land alteration activities
- Other activities

Setbacks from Water (Ordinary High Water Level)

- Natural environment lakes (Thief, Mud, Kuriko, Elm, Horseshoe) – 150 feet for structures, 150 feet for sewage systems and 200 feet lot width
- Recreational lakes (Florian Reservoir) – 100 feet for structures, 75 feet for sewage systems and 150 feet lot width
- Forested rivers (part of the Middle River) – 150 feet for structures, 100 feet for sewage systems and 200 feet lot width
- Agricultural rivers (Red River of the North, Tamarac, Snake, Middle, Thief) – 100 feet for structures, 75 feet for sewage systems and 150 feet lot width
- Tributaries (part of the Tamarac River, Middle River) – 100 feet for structures, 75 feet for sewage systems and 100 feet lot width

Septic systems in all areas of the county require permits. A permit is required prior to installation and must be obtained from the Water and Land Office. All sewage systems in the county must be designed, installed, inspected, altered and repaired by a Minnesota licensed Individual Sewage Treatment Systems professional except as provided under MN Rules 7080.0700, subpart 1. Applications for permits must be submitted with time allowed for the technical work of determining ordinary high water lines for setbacks, floodplain elevations and application reviews. Minimum lot size for a property with a septic system is one acre with room for two drain fields. $25 will be charged per permit project. Charges for conditional use permits are $200 and $300 for variances. Call Jan at the Marshall County Water and Land Office at (218) 745-4217 to obtain zoning requirements, information, contact lists and permit applications. She can also be reached at jan.kaspari@co.marshall.mn.us, or check out the Marshall County Web site at www.co.marshall.mn.us.

Loans available for Agricultural Best Management Practices

Dollars are available for conservation practices and water quality improvement.

The Agricultural Best Management Practices Loan Program provides low interest financing of 3 percent plus the usual and customary fees charged by the lender. Loans are made to farmers, rural landowners and agriculture supply businesses to encourage agricultural best management practices that prevent or reduce runoff from feedlots and farm fields and other pollution problems. The loans are provided for projects that reduce existing water quality problems caused by agricultural activities or failing septic systems.

Some of the eligible activities are:

- Conservation tillage equipment
- Feedlot improvements
- Manure storage basin upgrades
- Manure handling, spreading and incorporation equipment improvements
- Terraces, waterways, streambank protection, sedimentation basins, windbreaks and other practices that prevent erosion
- Individual sewage treatment system repairs or replacements
- Sealing abandoned wells

Marshall County's Ag BMP Revolving Loan Fund is available through the American State Bank of Grygla. For a loan application, call Jan at the Marshall County Water and Land Office at (218) 745-4217 or email jan.kaspari@co.marshall.mn.us.

The weather will change; just give it a few minutes

Thunderstorms, lightning, hail and high winds are just some of the severe weather problems residents of northwestern Minnesota face every year.

We usually don't associate blizzards and snow with severe weather events in April, but it happens. In 1997, a blizzard and flood crippled most communities along the Red River Valley and caused millions of dollars of damage. Next week, many area news outlets, including The Thief River Falls Times, will be reviewing that event. In reading one account that will appear in the next edition of The Times, Pennington County Sheriff Mike Hruby states that "No community is ever, or can ever, be ready for a catastrophic event. The best you can do is manage it."

After last week's snowstorm, like many residents, I was ready to attach a plow to the front of my Jeep and drive south until I had to stop for sunbathers. But, there's nothing we can do to control the weather - just sit back and wait for it to change.

Hruby is correct - we can never be totally prepared. There are, however, things we can do. The most important thing we can do when severe weather threatens, is to be aware of what's happening and do whatever we can to protect ourselves and families. If that means going into a basement during a tornado warning or watch, then do so. It shouldn't be too surprising that we can improve almost any situation simply by doing what's reasonable. It's not reasonable to stand outside during a lightning storm; and, it's not reasonable to start driving down the road when weather officials announce a blizzard warning. Please do what's reasonable.

It's also reasonable to take stock of your personal inventory - do you have a weather radio, extra supplies, an escape route, and a plan for your family? This is Severe Weather Awareness Week, and in northwestern Minnesota, we all know we experience our share of bad weather. If we all take some simple precautions, we'll all be around when the weather changes again - that shouldn't take too long: give it a few seconds.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Red Lake Band receives $1 million grant for commercial fishery

After a 10-year closure, the Red Lake Band of Chippewa will be able to reopen a commercial walleye fishery with the assistance of a $1 million Shakopee Mdewakanton Sioux Community economic development grant. The Red Lake Band of Chippewa plans to reopen the fishery in the summer of 2007.

The Red Lake Band opened the commercial fishery on Red Lake, the sixth largest natural, freshwater lake in the United States, in 1917 to help with the World War I effort to provide fresh meat for Minnesota citizens. Eighty-five percent of Red Lake lies within the boundaries of the Red Lake Indian Reservation and is entirely under the jurisdiction of the Red Lake Band. The other 15 percent is controlled by the state of Minnesota.

The Red Lake fishery is the only commercial walleye fishery and one of the largest freshwater commercial fisheries in the United States. Through the years, the fishery supported several hundred commercial fishers and their families on the reservation and has been important to the off-reservation economy as well.

Populations of walleye in Red Lake collapsed in the mid-1990s, forcing the closure of the commercial fishery for the first time. The Red Lake Band led an effort to bring walleye back, which commenced in 1999 with the signing of an historic 10-year agreement between the Band, the state of Minnesota, and the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Other partners included the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the University of Minnesota, and the Red Lake Fisheries Association. The recovery process included a complete moratorium on walleye harvest and a large scale stocking effort. It was uncertain if the walleye stocks could actually be recovered. The unprecedented success the Red Lake walleye recovery team has brought the walleye population back from virtual extinction to an optimal level in just seven years. Fishing for Red Lake walleye resumed in 2006 under a sustainable management plan guided by a technical committee of fishery experts. To ensure future sustainability of the walleye population, regulation of the fishery will be by the Red Lake Band of Chippewa.

"We appreciate that the Red Lake Tribal Council wants to make life better for its members. It is very important to us to help other Indian people help themselves. It is an important step for tribal sovereignty for Red Lake to reopen its fishery and provide jobs and resources for its members," said SMSC Chairman Stanley R. Crooks.

In Resolution No. 13-07, dated Jan. 25, 2007, the Red Lake Tribal Council declared, "Be it finally resolved, the Red Lake Tribal Council expresses its strongest gratitude to the Shakopee Mdewakanton Sioux Community for its consideration to assist the Red Lake Band in achieving our goal of economic self-sufficiency."

The Red Lake Reservation, which consists of 1,259 square miles in northwestern Minnesota, has a present population of over 6,000. In 2006, the SMSC awarded a $1 million grant to the Red Lake Band of Chippewa for a Boys and Girls Club.

Food Plot Day at Streiff's set for April 21

Streiff Sporting Goods of Warroad will conduct its Food Plot Day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on April 21. Companies and representatives planning to attend the event include Todd Amenrud of Biologic, Shawn Lind of Whitetail Institute of America, and Bob Topp of Summit ATV division.

Todd Amenrud, who has written four books on the subject of white tail deer, and who is a full-time sportsman, will present a seminar entitled "Planting Food Plots and Managing Your White Tail Herd," at 9:30 a.m.

At 2:30 p.m., Bob Topp, will conduct a demonstration of Summit ATV products (weather permitting).

For more details about the 2007 Streiff Sporting Goods Food Plot Day, visit www.streiffsporting-goods.com.

Women of Today, Thief River Falls, conducted an Easter Egg Hunt at Lions Park in Thief River Falls on Saturday, April 7. The event was so well attended, organizers hope to continue this event every Easter. Members present for the event on Saturday, included: (from left) Susan Bakke, DeDe Coltom, "Easter Bunny," Lynn Kasprowicz, Sheila LeTourneau, and Tara LeBrun.

Cluster 2 Women of ELCA to meet

The Spring Gathering of the Cluster 2 Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America Northwestern Minnesota Synod will be held Saturday, April 28 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls. Registration will be held at 8:30 a.m. with coffee served at that time by the ladies of St. Pauli Lutheran Church of St. Hilaire. The program will begin at 9 a.m. with opening devotions led by Pastor John Voelker of Trinity Lutheran.

The gathering's theme is "You are the Potter, I am the Clay." Maryel Anderson and Diedre Nordin will be the featured speakers. Evie Johnson will also do a short presentation. Greg Dally will present special music. Carol DeLap, accompanied by Sally Erickson, will lead a singalong. The program will close with the Trinity Lutheran women serving a noon luncheon.

Cluster 2 officers include Arden Solheim of Trinity Lutheran as coordinator, Gloria Ness of Zion Lutheran Church in Viking as recorder, Virginia Anderson of St. Pauli Lutheran as financial recorder, and Pat Isaacson of Sion Lutheran Church in Hallock as synod women's representative.

LSS seeks adoptive parents

Have you, or someone you know, ever considered expanding your family through adoption? Lutheran Social Service will hold a free adoption information meeting on Tuesday, May 1, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church in Detroit Lakes, 1401 Madison Avenue.

The meeting will focus on domestic infant and international adoption. Lutheran Social Service staff will be available to describe the adoption process, the costs involved, and the children available through all of their adoption programs. Lutheran Social Service places children from Minnesota in adoptive families, as well as from many countries around the world, to include Guatemala, Colombia, Vietnam, and China.

The orientation is open to anyone interested in learning more about adoption. To register, please call 218/236-1494 at ext. 207 or ext. 215. Walk-ins are also welcome. For more information, visit www.minnesotaadoption.org

Stolen pickup truck found

A pickup truck that was stolen March 28 from a Donaldson farmstead was found Tuesday morning in Grand Forks, N.D. It is believed the pickup truck was stolen after another vehicle, believed to have been used in an ATM theft in Drayton, N.D., was set on fire at that same farmstead.

The 1990 Chevy pickup truck was found at about 11:15 a.m. Tuesday in the 400 block of River St. in Grand Forks. "It appeared it had been parked there for some time," said Lt. Rahn Farder with the Grand Forks Police Department. Farder said that the pickup truck wasn't damaged. Grand Forks police processed the vehicle for evidence and contacted the Kittson County Sheriff's Department and the FBI about the recovery. The pickup truck has been returned to its owner whom the sheriff's department hasn't identified.

Law enforcement began searching for the pickup truck after a call at 6:16 a.m. March 28. The sheriff's department received a report that a vehicle was on fire at the farmstead. The vehicle, a cargo van, was stolen from a location in Grand Forks. Diesel fuel had been used as an accelerant, according to a press release from the sheriff's department.

Law enforcement is currently looking into whether two Grand Forks men were involved in the ATM theft in Drayton and other ATM thefts throughout the region. Zachary James Rogers, 23, and Gregory Wade Nordrum, 38, were arrested April 6 in Thief River Falls. They allegedly stole laptops and other electronic equipment from Computer Run/Radio Shack in Thief River Falls. They then led police on a high speed chase through Thief River Falls and were apprehended a short time later.

For that case, Rogers has been charged with felony fleeing a peace officer in a motor vehicle, felony receiving stolen property, second degree assault, gross misdemeanor refusal to submit to a chemical test, and two counts of felony second degree burglary. Nordrum has been charged with felony theft, misdemeanor fleeing a peace officer by means other than a motor vehicle, and two counts of felony second degree burglary.

Northwest Region of MSF to host annual meeting

The Northwest Region of the Minnesota Senior Federation will hold its annual meeting at 10 a.m. Friday, April 20 at the Heritage Center in Thief River Falls. All members, as well as the public, are welcome and encouraged to attend the meeting.

Regular business matters will be handled, and officers will be elected. Representatives from the state office will attend the meeting to discuss topics important to all seniors.

Agassiz Swedish Society plans its annual meeting

Agassiz Swedish Heritage Society will conduct its annual meeting on Wednesday, April 25, at Bethany Lutheran Church, 1315 Sixth Street N.E., Red Lake Falls (just two blocks north of Highway 32).

This is a dinner meeting that begins at 6 p.m. No reservations are necessary. Entertainment will be provided by Bethany Men's Chorus.

There will be an election of officers and annual reports will be given. ASHS President June Mosbeek will greet the assembly and conduct the meeting. Everyone is cordially invited, whether or not of Swedish descent.

Renowned Christian recording artist to perform April 21

Christian Recording Artist Steve Green will be in concert at First Baptist Church, 402 11th Ave. S.E., Roseau, on Saturday, April 21, beginning at 7 p.m.

Green began in the music industry during the mid-'70s, singing backup vocals and playing bass with Sandi Patti, White Heart and the Gaither Vocal Band. By the early '80s, he had gained a solo contract with Sparrow Records, and his self-titled debut album appeared in 1984.

He has been honored with four Grammy nominations, thirteen number one songs, and seven Dove Awards, Christian music's highest honor. With 23 recordings to his credit, including children's projects and Spanish-language albums, Green has sold over three million albums worldwide.

Tickets are on sale NOW in Roseau at First Baptist Church, Kerri's Ideal Diamonds & Gifts, and Inspiration Hollow, as well as at the Optometric Clinic in Warroad. Ticket prices are: premium seating, $15; advance general admission, $12.50, or $15 at the door.

Prowlers who were selected to play in the 2007 Ted Brill Great 8 High School Hockey All-Star Tournament were recognized at the Thief River Falls boys team banquet. The trio included, from left, Corey Horien, Cody Bottem and Michael Benedict.

2006-07 Thief River Falls boys hockey...

Banquet closes out season

A Sunday team banquet capped the 2006-07 Thief River Falls boys high school hockey season.

The Prowlers traditionally do not announce individual team awards, but recognition did go to players who earned post-season honors.

Corey Horien, Cody Bottem and Michael Benedict were introduced as the Prowlers' participants in this year's Ted Brill Great 8 All-Star Tournament.

Horien and Benedict were also named All-Section 8A and All-Mariucci Conference, while Bottem, who missed half the season with a should injury, was an all-conference pick and honorable mention all-section.

Cole Hunt, Jordan Swanson and Matt Olson were honorable mention [illegible] all-conference.

Horien was Thief River Falls' recipient of the Minnesota High School Hobey Baker Award.

Aaron Langan and Spencer Johnson were named the Prowlers' 2007-08 captains, while Jesse Castle and Lucas Dillon were tabbed as alternate captains.

Thief River Falls finished 13-13-2. The defending Section 8A champions returned to the tournament finals again this year, but lost a 2-1 title game to Warroad.

"I thought we had a good year," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Bergland. "We played an extremely difficult schedule. Having Cody Bottem out for 15 games hurt. I think we could have had another four or five wins with him in the line-up the whole season."

This year marked the third straight Section 8A championship game appearance for the Prowlers – a feat accomplished for just the third time in school history and for the first time since 1955-56-57.

"At the end of the year we were playing as well as we did all year," noted Bergland. "Hold Warroad to four shots on goal over the final 26 minutes of a championship game like we did, you're doing something right."

Horien led the Prowlers in scoring this winter with 25 goals, 34 assists and 59 points. Those figures put him at No. 6 in assists and No. 9 in points on the school single-season scoring charts.

With 39 goals, 82 assists and 121 points, Horien finished No. 3 in assists and No. 8 in points among the Prowlers' career scorers. Only Michael Forney (105) and Alec Holen (95) rank ahead of him in career assists. Those two also rank 1-2 in career scoring with 178 and 169 points, respectively.

Benedict finished his senior year with 15 goals, 16 assists and 31 points. The four-year varsity regular on defense wound up with 34 goals, 57 assists and 91 points. He ranks No. 10 on the Prowlers' career assist chart.

Completing his tenth year as Thief River Falls head coach, Bergland achieved a milestone, too.

Thief River Falls players earning post-season Section 8A and Mariucci Conference honors were introduced during the Prowlers' team banquet. The group included, front from left, Michael Benedict, Cole Hunt; back row, Corey Horian, Cody Bottem, Jordan Swenson, Matt Olson. Benedict and Horien were all-section and all-conference; Bottem was all-conference and honorable mention all-section. Hunt, Swenson and Olson were honorable mention all-section and honorable mention all-conference.

Corey Horian was named Thief River Falls' recipient of the Minnesota high school hockey Hobey Baker Award during the Prowlers team banquet. The award, made available to schools across the state, is based on character and ability.

He has now coached a school hockey record 263 games. His 126 wins is second on the career list. Only Wendell Grand, who held the job for 11 years and has a school-record 133 wins to his credit, has had a longer coaching tenure with the Prowlers.

"This was as good a group of seniors I've ever had," said Bergland. "They're a quality bunch of kids. They kept the lockerroom going. And they included the younger kids – something that hasn't always happened."

It was announced earlier that beginning in 2007-08, Bemidji will become a Thief River Falls Section 8A opponent, replacing Detroit Lakes. The Lumberjacks had been in Section 8AA. The Lakers will move to Section 6A.

Prowlers open with double-dual sweep

Thief River Falls opened the 2007 boys tennis season Tuesday with wins over Moorhead and East Grand Forks in a double-dual at the Center Court Fitness Club in Grand Forks, N.D.

The Prowlers edged the Spuds 4-3 and beat the Green Wave 5-2.

"We played well considering we had only a couple of practices on real courts," reported Thief River Falls coach Corey Thorson.

Four of the seven Thief River Falls-Moorhead matches went to a tie-breaker, with the Prowlers winning three of them.

"Three tie-break wins shows me that we were mentally tough," said Thorson. "It's nice to get a win against them considering they gave us our only regular season losses last year."

The Prowlers' victory over the Spuds featured wins by senior Cody Bottem at No. 2 singles; eighth grader Brenden Skime, No. 4 singles; seniors Jordan Swanson and Corey Horien, No. 1 doubles; and sophomores JD Robson and Cody Reese at No. 3 doubles.

"Lots of good things from our younger players," mentioned Thorson, pointing to Skime, Robson and Reese.

Junior Jacobson Engelstad and Skime were Thief River Falls winners at No. 1 and No. 3 singles, respectively, against East Grand Forks.

The Prowlers swept the Green Wave in doubles with combinations of Bottem-Swanson at No. 1; Horien-junior Chase Haviland at No. 2; and junior Brian Kays-sophomore Parker Nessen at No. 3.

"I was impressed the way everyone competed," said Thorson. "East Grand Forks is much-improved from last year."

Competition was originally scheduled to be held in East Grand Forks, but was moved to the indoor facility in Grand Forks due to the weather. Time constraints required some of the Prowlers-Green Wave matches to be shortened.

Northern Freeze has seven letter winners

Seven returning letter winners provide Northern Freeze coach Jake Foslien with a solid nucleus to build around for the 2007 high school softball season.

The group is headed by juniors Ashley Hestekind and Alycia Dahl, along with freshman Mariah Richard.

Hestekind is the team's No. 1 pitcher. [illegible] last year, giving up 105 hits, walking 84 and striking out 98 while going 11-7 with a 2.82 earned run average.

An outfielder, Dahl is a three-year letter winner who hit .304 last spring with 14 hits in 46 at-bats.

Richard is a utility player who made a varsity splash as a 2006 eighth grader by hitting .417 (15/36).

Two seniors on the squad are Kala Anderson, a first baseman who hit .255 (14/55) and drove in 14 runs, and Morgan Halvorson, a catcher who batted .232 (13/56).

Other returnees include Sasha Magner, a junior utility player/pitcher who hit .128 (6/47), and sophomore Molly Magner, a third baseman who hit .125 (1/8).

"This year's team is very athletic and one of the hardest working team's I've had," said Foslien. "We are young. However, with the hard work these kids have put in, I think our youth will not be that evident."

Varsity newcomers include sophomore outfielders Lacey Petersen and Becca Larson; freshman utility player/pitcher Kinzie Magner; and eighth grade shortstop Liza Hoglo.

"This is a fun group of kids," offered Foslien. "They work hard every day; they are willing to put in extra time; they are eager to learn; and they can see the vision and direction of the program."

Players starting the year on the junior varsity include junior Caitlin Browning; sophomores Shelby Lee and Chelsey Davidson; freshman Ashley Swenson; eighth graders Breanna Westling, Katy Martinson, Kylee Davidson, Jessica Hestekind, Shandy Nelson and Desiree Umber; along with seventh graders Lexi Melvie, Arianna Anderson, Jena Garthus, Jessa Adamek and Justine Teie.

"We have high goals for this team and this program," said Foslien. "Hopefully as a result of the hard work these girls put forth every day their goals can be achieved."

Northern Freeze home games are played in Newfolden.

NCTC baseball team has Willmar games called off

Baseball season for Northland Community and Technical College was shortened by four games when the Ridgewater-hosted Crossover Tournament planned April 6-7 in Willmar was weathered out.

The Pioneers were scheduled to face Ridgewater twice, while playing St. Cloud and Itasca once each.

Northland has been idled by the weather since a March 23-25 Miles City, Montana, tournament.

Kyrk Freeman is named to NJCAA All-America squad

Kyrk Freeman, a Northland Community and Technical College freshman from Canton, Ohio, has been named a 2006-07 National Junior College Athletic Association Division III Third-Team All-America basketball player.

Freeman's earlier selection as NJCAA Division III All-Region 13 made him eligible for All-America honors, based upon a player's statistics and the role they play in their team's success.

A 5-11 guard, Freeman averaged 17.4 points, 6 rebounds, 4.5 assists and 4.1 steals per game this winter. He shot 41.1 percent from 3-point range and 74.2 percent at the free throw line.

Freeman helped lead the 29-5 Pioneers to a perfect 12-0 finish in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division, an MCCC state tournament title, an NJCAA Region 13 tournament crown and a runner-up finish at the NJCAA Division III national tournament.

Operation Round Up grants total $10,800

Area nonprofit and charitable organizations were recently awarded Operation Round Up® grants totaling $10,800.

Four grants were made to organizations directly serving senior citizens. Inter-County Nursing Service, the Middle River/Thief Lake Living at Home Program and Tri-Community Living at Home/Block Nurse Program were each given $500 to provide services to the elderly to enable their continued living at home, when the recipients don't qualify for other aid. The Middle River Seniors received a $500 grant to supplement their medical transportation program.

The Goodridge Fire and Rescue squad received $800 to purchase two more portable oxygen kits for its first responders. The Red Lake Falls Volunteer Ambulance Service received $1,000 to supplement its previous fundraising for two new defibrillation machines. A $500 grant was given to the Oklee Fire Department for its purchase of additional turn-out gear for its volunteers.

Three grants were awarded to provide funds for youth-related activities. The city of Holt was granted $500 to supplement its current fundraising effort to install playground equipment in its new park. A $500 grant was also made to the Red Lake Falls Cub and Boy Scouts organization. They are starting a Boy Scout program now, and the grant will help them purchase camping equipment for their camping and survival training outings. The Little Brother/Little Sister Program in Thief River Falls received a $500 grant to help fund programs to mentor children.

A $1,000 grant was made to the Goodridge Area Development Association to help install air conditioning at the Goodridge Community Center. The Oklee Public Library received $500 to remodel a portion of the school library used for public access. A $500 grant was also made to the Oklee Veteran's Memorial Fund to help construct a memorial and garden.

The Occupational Development Center in Thief River Falls received a $500 grant to continue the expansion of its Sensory Garden. The Violence Intervention Project in Thief River Falls was given $500 to aid its programs that help victims of domestic abuse. Pennington-Red Lake County Victim Services received $500 to help victims of crime.

A $500 grant was made to the Red Lake County chapter of the American Cancer Society. The grant will help pay expenses related to its Relay for Life fundraising effort. First Care Hospice in Thief River Falls received $500 to help pay for staff and volunteer participation at the state hospice conference.

The Operation Round Up program, administered by Red Lake Electric Cooperative, accumulates funds through its members' voluntary "round up" of their electric bill payments each month. Red Lake Electric Trust Inc. is the organization that receives the Operation Round Up money and determines grants.

The board of directors of Red Lake Electric Trust meets semi-annually to evaluate grant applications and to determine grants. Kim Swanson, rural Thief River Falls, serves as president of the RLE Trust Board. Rodney Hoffman, Goodridge, is the vice president. Bonnie Cote, Oklee, is the secretary-treasurer. Red Lake Electric Cooperative Board President Veral Mosbeck and General Manager Ron Kennedy serve as ex-officio members of the board.

For more information, contact Ron Kennedy at RLE Cooperative in Red Lake Falls at 1-800-245-6068.

Local house museums featured in new book

Minnesota has a remarkable array of house museums, each with its own unique history and architectural significance. Several local house museums are featured in the book "Minnesota Open House: A Guide to Historic House Museums" by Krista Finstad Hanson.

The book features nearly 200 of these grand mansions, humble homes, log cabins, frontier forts and pioneer villages that are open to the public. Among the featured homes are Old Home Town Museum in Stephen, the Old Mill State Park cabin in Argyle, Settlers Square Museum in Warren, Peder Engelstad Pioneer Village in Thief River Falls, Goodridge Area Historical Society, the William Lewis Larson House in Fosston, Pelan Pioneer Park in Greenbush, and Pioneer Farm and Village in Roseau.

The Gizibii Resource Conservation and Development Association recently presented the Red Lake Watershed District with the Outstanding Supporting Organization Award. Gizibii Resource Conservation and Development Association Chairman George Swentik (left) presented the award to Red Lake Watershed District Board members Vernon Johnson (center), representing Clearwater County, and Lee Coe, representing Beltrami County. Red Lake Watershed District receives award

The Red Lake Watershed District was presented with the Outstanding Supporting Organization Award from the Gizibii Resource Conservation and Development Association (RC&D).

The Gizibii RC&D's primary goal is to assist communities to preserve natural resources within their region. The RLWD's goal is to manage water in the area of flood control, drainage and water quality. The RLWD encompasses an area of 5,990 square miles in northwestern Minnesota and includes all of Red Lake County, most of Pennington County, and parts of Mahnomen, Polk, Itasca, Marshall, Clearwater, Beltrami, Roseau and Koochiching counties.

Recent accomplishments of the Red Lake Watershed District within the Gizibii RC&D region include erosion control, buffer strips and water quality studies on the Clearwater River and Clearwater Lake, development of the Bagley urban runoff retention ponds, ongoing water quality monitoring, the River Watch Program and maintenance of ditches.

MPCA seeks volunteers to monitor water quality

Do you live on a lake? Do you own a boat or visit lakes in the summer? If so, the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency's Citizen Lake-Monitoring Program is looking for you.

Volunteers are needed to monitor water quality on the following area lakes weekly during the summer months: Bronson at the town of Lake Bronson; Breeze, two miles southwest of Trail; Cahle, two miles south of Mentor; Cross, six miles northeast of Fosston; Store, four miles southwest of Trail; Turtle, four miles northeast of Fosston; and Whitefish, four miles east of Fosston.

Monitoring data gathered by volunteers provides valuable information about the current health of Minnesota's waters. The MPCA would like to have volunteers on these lakes as they have all been monitored in the past, but they don't currently have a CLMP volunteer. By getting current data, the MPCA can determine if water quality in these lakes is changing over time.

Monitoring is a simple and relatively quick process. Volunteers visit a designated spot on one or more lakes weekly, where they drop anchor, make notes of the water's physical condition and recreational suitability, and measure the clarity of the water with a Secchi disk.

A Secchi disk is an eight-inch white metal disk that is lowered into the water until it can no longer be seen. The depth, measured by markings on the cord, is a useful indicator of the lake's relative water quality. By helping the agency track long-term trends in Secchi transparency, volunteers help protect our precious lakes and contribute greatly to the MPCA's understanding of overall water quality in Minnesota.

For information on becoming a CLMP volunteer, call the MPCA at 1-800-657-3864, or check out www.pca.state.mn.us/water/clmp.html.

Thank You...
We sincerely want to thank all our relatives, neighbors and friends who helped us in the loss of our wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Dorothy Quam.
We especially want to thank Pastor Robert Dahlen, the first-responders, Johnson Funeral Service, Dr. Sanjay Patel, singers Lois and Lois, organist Tanya Kotrba, Tana McGregor, Lou Ann Rindahl, Twyla Henrickson and Sharon Englund.
Also, Sue Aune, Marion Vraa, Alvina Hermanson, Marlin, Olson, Leland and Thelma Thomas, the Grygla Lions Club and Ekelund Ladies Aid who each helped in their special way.
We want to thank everyone for the memorials, cards, letters, phone calls, floral arrangements, for the food brought to our homes, and last but not least for the prayers that brought us through this sad time.
May God bless each and everyone of you!

The city auditorium is directly involved with two of Klein-McCarthy's presented options, that call for remodeling of the 74-year-old building or demolition, with new construction connecting to the courthouse. The City Auditorium is also indirectly involved with a third option, that calls for an addition to be constructed on the north side of the courthouse.

Based on comments made by commissioners during Tuesday's meeting, the board decided to purchase the City Auditorium to lock up the property between the City Auditorium and the Pennington County Courthouse. Both properties are located on the 100 block of Main Ave (Hwy 32) in Thief River Falls.

The city of Thief River Falls offered to sell the City Auditorium to Pennington County in April 2006 for $10,000. It should be noted, however, that the city listed an estimated annual loss of $16,000 per year while operating the facility.

During the 12 months between the initial offer and the purchase, commissioners listed several concerns that needed to be addressed. The City Auditorium is not accessible for persons with disabilities, which would need to be addressed if any significant remodeling is done. The building contains asbestos, which would have to be removed prior to demolition. Also, because of the operating deficit, the county would likely need tenants to defray costs incurred due to operating the building – which is something commissioners have been opposed to from the start.

A portion of Klein-McCarthy Architect's space and facility needs study has focussed on potential uses for the city auditorium. Those uses range from using the building for storage to demolition of the building and construction of an addition to the courthouse that stretches into the space the City Auditorium previously occupied.

During discussion Tuesday, Commissioner Don Jensen said it makes sense to purchase the building while it is still available.

Commissioner Bob Carlson agreed with Jensen's assessment, but he said that he would be opposed to demolishing the building, because it is "too sound" and because of its historical importance to Thief River Falls.

Commissioner Charles Naplin said the $10,000 price is relatively inexpensive, compared to what the value of the land would be if a third party purchased the auditorium and tried to sell the land separately.

Discussion continued, with the topic of the Old Arena's potential availability included. Jensen said the county should have some consideration in any sale of the Old Arena; and Oliver "Skip" Swanson, chairman of the county board, said he would only support the purchase resolution if it included wording that asked for consideration for the county to acquire the Old Arena upon availability. Swanson said that he would not support two separate motions. The sale of the City Auditorium and consideration in acquiring the Old Arena needed to be tied together.

The county's consideration in a potential sale of the Old Arena was eventually included in Jensen's motion to approve a resolution to purchase the City Auditorium. Jensen's motion was seconded by Carlson and was unanimously approved.

Resolution

Whereas, Pennington County is in the process of completing a space needs and facility needs assessment; and

Whereas, the County does not own any property at the present courthouse location that would allow an addition to the courthouse facility; and

Whereas, the Thief River Falls City Council has offered to sell the property and City Auditorium Building located directly north of the courthouse to the county.

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Pennington County Board of Commissioners does hereby approve taking the necessary steps to open negotiations with the city of Thief River Falls on all possible options concerning acquiring the City Auditorium and adjacent property from the city of Thief River Falls.

Be it further resolved, that the county ask the city of Thief River Falls to consider the option of the county acquiring the Old Arena if and when it should become available.

Falls.

Hanson and Praska are pleased with the effort put forth by the fire department. "The fire department did a good job," Praska said.

Tyson's rescue was made possible as a result of equipment and a boat purchased in fall 2005. Those items were purchased with the proceeds from a fundraiser held by the Thief River Falls Volunteer Fire Department. The Thief River Falls Fire Department is a combination department with both volunteer and full-time firefighters.

Lund is glad that the department had the necessary equipment to rescue Tyson. He said, "I'm just glad that everything went well."

she thinks the local Humane Society may be able to handle the situation.

The Pennington County Humane Society is licensed for 27 pets and the addition these dogs and cats may put them over their limit. But as Williamson noted, she is more concerned about resources to address such a large problem. She said the Humane Society has enough food, but what it doesn't have is enough money to cover veterinary costs, which could be in the neighborhood of $4,000.

by law enforcement and that he has served his sentence.

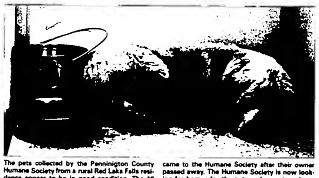
Daniels is being released after serving time for a felony charge of third degree criminal sexual conduct in the city of Thief River Falls in 2005, according to Pennington County court documents. He is also serving time for a furnishing alcohol to minors charge. Daniels is serving that sentence concurrently with the criminal sexual conduct sentence. Daniels was sent to prison after he violated the conditions of his probation for the sexual conduct charge.

When he was 15, Daniels was also charged with indecent exposure in Polk County, according to information that Daniels' probation agent filed in Pennington County District Court. That case involved a female between the ages of 8 and 15, according to a fact sheet provided to the Thief River Falls Police Department by the Minnesota Department of Corrections.

The latest charges stem from Nov. 21, 2005, incidents at Daniels' former residence, 1004 Longren Ave #202. At a party, Daniels, who was then 18, had sex with a girl who was then 15.

The furnishing alcohol charge stems from an incident in which Daniels furnished alcohol to a female under the age of 21.

For the criminal sexual conduct charge, Daniels was ordered to serve 90 days in jail. A 15-year stay of imposition was granted. That stay of imposition was vacated after he violated the conditions of his probation.



Court files indicate that Daniels violated his probation by having unsupervised contact with minor females, ages 13 and 14. He also violated his probation by failing to maintain contact with his probation agent. He was told to give his probation agent the address of and directions to a home he intended to rent in Goodridge. Daniels failed to notify his probation agent of that information. He also failed to let his probation agent know his whereabouts.

The stay of imposition was revoked, and Daniels was sentenced to 18 months in prison with credit for time served. He was also ordered to register as a predatory sex offender. He was sentenced to 12 months in prison for the furnishing alcohol charge. That sentence was served concurrently with the criminal sexual conduct charge. Like other prisoners, Daniels served two-thirds of his sentence behind bars. He will remain on supervised release until 2017.

Rydell to host Bluebird Day celebration

The Rydell National Wildlife Refuge will host its annual Bluebird Day celebration from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 21. The public is invited to come to the refuge to hear a short program on bluebirds (at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.) and to build up to two free bluebird nesting boxes to take home. Volunteers will be available to help build boxes, just bring a hammer if possible.

To get to the Rydell NWR, travel three miles east of Mentor or three miles west of Erskine on U.S. Highway 2 and turn south on Polk County Road 210. Follow County Road 210 about 2½ miles south to the large entrance sign and main gate of the refuge. For more information, call 1-800-841-0172.

The pets collected by the Pennington County Humane Society from a rural Red Lake Falls residence appear to be in good condition. The 19 dogs, most of which appear to be mixed breed chow chows, labradors and German shepherds, came to the Humane Society after their owner passed away. The Humane Society is now looking for homes for the pets and monetary donations to help cover the cost of temporary care for the pets.

Board asked to consider countywide liquor ordinance

Roseau - "At Tuesday's Roseau County Board meeting, Roseau County Attorney Lisa Hanson requested that commissioners consider passing an ordinance that would set penalties for county establishments selling or serving alcoholic beverages to minors.

"The board will consider the proposal at the next board meeting. The proposal, if enacted, would affect those municipalities that don't have ordinances already in effect." - Roseau Times-Region, April 14, 2007

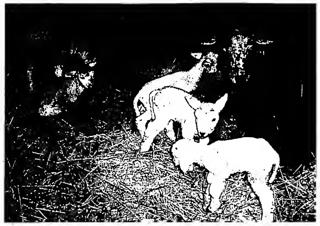
City approves rate increases for electric, water and sewer

Warren - "Significant utility rate increases for electric service, water and sanitary sewer utilities were approved by the Warren City Council at its meeting April 10. The new rates will take effect with the utility bills that will be mailed out by early May, payable May 10.

"Mayor Bob Kliner, reporting on the analysis and recommendations of the council's Finance and Human Relations Committee, said the rate increases for water and sanitary sewer were necessary because those two utilities have been operating at a deficit. The rate increases will put those utilities on a basis where they have a surplus instead of a deficit.

"In the case of electric rates, the city utility has been operating with a surplus. The new rates, while increasing the surplus slightly, represent more of a structural change in that they significantly increase the customer charge. That charge represents the recovery of at least some of the fixed costs of operating the utility. The energy charge, which is based on the amount of electricity used, is also being increased but by a much smaller percentage than the customer charge." - Warren Sheaf, April 18, 2007

Tom Waling named Friend of Education



Grygla - "Tom Waling, foster grandparent at Grygla School, has been named a Friend of Education.

"Waling has participated in the Foster Grandparent Program at Grygla School since its inception six years ago. He began helping out the second grade with its reading skills and has since moved on to work with grades 3-6. Waling spends his time helping students with a variety of subjects, and said he averages about an hour with each class." - The Grygla Eagle, April 19, 2007

Awards presented to top collectors in elementary school

Erskine - "The elementary students at Win-E-Mac School collected over 6,000 General Mills Box Tops for Education and 4,000 Land O Lakes bottle caps for their school. General Mills pays 10 cents for every box top, and Land O'Lakes pays 5 cents for each cap. The students also collected over 8,000 Campbell's labels, which can be used to purchase items for the school.

"All students who brought in box tops, bottle caps and labels were given a small reward. The top 10 contributing students brought in from 430 to 1,120 of the three items and were given cash awards. Fourth grader Zac Tradewell won first place with 1,120." - The Erskine Echo, April 19, 2007

Five lambs were born to one ewe at the Gary Halvorson farm near Gully in March. All five are doing well.

Ewe ... five lambs

Sheep gives birth to five lambs at Gary Halvorson farm

by David Hill
Editor

Counting sheep is thought to be a good way to fall asleep. But even though it was between midnight and 2 a.m. when Betsy and Sarah Halvorson of Gully began counting sheep, they got pretty excited.

On March 14, the Gary Halvorson farm near Gully became the location for a rather unique event - five lambs born to one ewe.

When it became apparent that there were going to be multiple births born to their ewe named Anna, Betsy said she and her twin sister Sarah became pretty excited. Triplets born to an ewe is a pretty rare event at their farm, she explained, but then, she noticed more little hooves, and Betsy said she just kept pulling.

In all, there were five: Beatrice, a female named for a dog at a horse barn where Betsy works, Mary Claire, Ashtyn, Ayden, and Shrimpo, who was the littlest.

All of them were pretty small, said Betsy, so much so that Betsy and Sarah stayed with them, dried them off and offered help. The help offered involved feeding them from a bottle for a few days.

Betsy said she's heard of a lamb giving birth to six before, but she's never been part of an experience like this. To have quintuplets, she said, was shocking.

She said there's been a lot of interest in the quints. People, said Betsy, have been bringing their children over to see them. She doesn't mind. In fact, she said it's cute and doesn't bother her at all.

It was interesting, of course that the quints were ushered into the world by Betsy and Sarah, who are twins. To dispel any theories about weird cosmic coincidences, the birth date for the twins is in September; but then again, the quints were born on the birthday of the twins' mother, Anita. birthday. No, the fact that five were born, has more to do with the ewe. The ewe, Anna, is a 5-year-old Hampshire/Dorset. Betsy said Anna has had twins before, and the grandmother of Anna, was a tripplet and bottle lamb raised at the Halvorson farm. The father of the lambs is a Texel breed.

Sgt. Smith goes to Baltimore
He's a Trooper of the Year

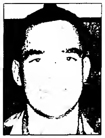
by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Sgt. Dean Smith was at home in Fisher when the call came in Oct. 20. He climbed into his truck and made his way to East Grand Forks.

"All I knew was that the officers had been shot at," said Smith, a Minnesota State Patrol sergeant in the East Grand Forks and Crookston area. For his work that day at the scene, he was recently honored with the International Association of Chiefs of Police's North Central Trooper of the Year award in the provisional and state police division. He has also received the State Patrol's Medal for Valor.

Capt. Dick Wittenberg, who nominated Smith for the Medal for Valor, was instrumental in nominating Smith for the IACP award. "This is a real big deal. I do not believe that there was a trooper from Minnesota that has made it this far," Wittenberg said.

About the honors, Smith said, "I was pretty excited."



The honors were bestowed upon Smith for his actions on Oct. 20. That morning, law enforcement received a call that a man had pointed a rifle at a woman who wanted to

Bronze Star Medals go to area men

Guardsmen earn medals fighting off attack by insurgents

Two local residents are among five Minnesota National Guard members who will receive Bronze Star Medals with Valor for their bravery in Iraq. They are Sgt. David Olson of Thief River Falls and Spc. Charles Knetter of Roseau. The others include Staff Sgt. David Hammac of Lino Lakes, Spc. Jasen Klimek of Crookston and Spc. John Olson, an education major at Minnesota State University-Moorhead.

The medals will be awarded due to their actions on Aug. 12, 2006, according to the Minnesota National Guard. After two dump trucks pulled up on the only road in or out of the Flanders outpost, one of the trucks accelerated. An insurgent then jumped up from one of the trucks and began firing his AK-47 machine gun at Spc. Billy Feragen, a member of Crookston and Thief River Falls-based Company B, 2nd Combined Arms Battalion, 136th Infantry. Other insurgents also attacked the Flanders outpost, firing guns and throwing an estimated 40 grenades over the barriers. Feragen engaged the insurgents, slowing them down.

Once the battle ended more than an hour later, 20 insurgents were killed, a Marine and a Guardsman were injured, and the five Guardsmen had earned Bronze Star Medals with Valor for defending the outpost against about 30 insurgents. The Bronze Star Medal with Valor is the country's fourth highest award for bravery and the ninth highest military award (including both combat and noncombat awards).

David Olson provided ammunition to tower one and tower two. Upon learning that the soldiers in tower two needed ammunition; he ran back to the ammunition room. While he was there, he was told to take cover due to imminent mortar fire that was going to be within 50 meters of the outpost. Ignoring the warning, David Olson delivered the ammunition to tower two and informed the soldiers there and in two other towers of the "incoming mortars" fired by "fellow monarmen" stationed nearby at Camp Fallujah.

NCTC grant will help nursing on White Earth

The development and implementation of a comprehensive education program that will increase the number of Native American students trained as nurses on the White Earth Reservation will be made possible through funding from a Otto Bremer Foundation grant awarded to Northland Community and Technical College.

A grant in the amount of $340,500 over three years will support an on-going training collaboration between NCTC and White Earth Tribal and Community College.

Funding will be provided to lease a building in Mahnomen for three years that will provide all the necessary requirements of the White Earth Nursing program. The building located on Highway 59 in Mahnomen, has two rooms that will be used for classrooms, another room that will be set up as a lab, an area for computers, office space, study area and a social area. The grant will also provide financing for a program coordinator. The coordinator will manage the grant and coordinate the White Earth Nursing program. Duties will include coordinating the Nursing Assistants, Practical Nursing, and Registered Nursing programs, coordinating the registration of students, the advising of students, supervising the tutors and retention specialist, and coordinating the scheduling of classes.

In October of 2005, NCTC received a Minnesota State Colleges

Goodridge woman sentenced for theft

A Goodridge woman was sentenced Monday in Pennington County District Court for stealing $82,100.

Lana Kaye Anderson, 54, received stays of imposition for all three charges of felony theft, according to the Pennington County Court Administrator's Office. As part of a plea agreement, several other charges of theft were dismissed.

For one of the three charges, she received a 20-year stay of imposition concurrent to the other files. Anderson was also ordered to serve supervised probation for 20 years for that offense. For each of the other two charges, she received a 10-year stay of imposition. For each of those two charges, she was also ordered to serve supervised probation for 10 years. Anderson has already paid restitution to her victims, Eklund Women of the ELCA, Nelson Services Inc. and Falls Electric. She was ordered to pay $132 in fees and fines for each count of felony theft.

For all three charges, she was ordered to serve a total of 1,275 hours of community work service as well as pay $1,872.87 for the cost of prosecution. Among the conditions of her sentences, she was ordered to submit to random tests and searches. Anderson was ordered to attend counseling and send letters of apology to her victims. She was ordered to submit a DNA sample. Anderson was ordered to not work anywhere that would involve money. She was also ordered to have no contact with the church except to go to honor it she so chooses.

Anderson was [illegible] treasurer of the Eklund Women of the ELCA when she stole money from that organization. She admitted to a sheriff's deputy that she took about $11,240.13 from January 2003 to December 2005, according to the criminal complaint.

While employed as the bookkeeper for Nelson Services, Anderson took cash and used credit cards and a direct deposit scheme to steal from the company, the criminal complaint indicated. A forensic audit determined Anderson took $41,487.11 from the company from January to December 2005.

While employed as the bookkeeper for Falls Electric, Anderson stole about $28,874.[illegible] from the company from January 2002 to December 2005 [illegible]

TRF hospital gets grant for imaging system

Northwest Medical Center, with the help of Brenda Russ, NWMC's ancillary services director, and Tammy Hansen, Respiratory Therapy, has secured a $110,474 grant for new endoscopic and laparoscopic imaging systems.

This is a significant equipment improvement for the hospital as the current endoscopic and laparoscopic imaging systems are limited in their capabilities [illegible] picture size and resolution. The new equipment will improve visual accuracy and thus patient safety through enhanced [illegible]

"The grant receives many requests so securing the full dollar amount of the original grant request is an amazing accomplishment," said Chris Hatt, CEO of NWMC. "This new clinical equipment will [illegible] improve the quality of patient care for the region at Northwest Medical Center."

HOW DOES A GOOD NEIGHBOR THANK MILLIONS OF GREAT DRIVERS?

State Farm®
Providing Insurance and Financial Services

Great news!

We're very pleased to announce a $1.25 billion dividend will be distributed to millions of eligible State Farm Mutual auto policyholders. Dividend payments will occur throughout the year, beginning in April, 2007.

Thanks in part to your safe driving, auto insurance financial results were better than expected.

As a mutual company, State Farm has no stockholders. So when business conditions permit, State Farm Mutual is able to return premium in the form of a dividend. In fact, this is the fourth dividend in the past ten years.

We're especially proud State Farm Mutual is providing this dividend after a three-year period when overall mutual auto rate levels have been reduced by 10.2%.

We're working just as hard to continue providing fair, reliable and quick service whenever and wherever you need it. Thanks for being part of State Farm and for helping us make this dividend possible.

Sincerely,

Actors sought for "Mame"

The Thief River Falls Community Arts Council recently held auditions for its first show of the season, "Mame," which will be performed in Thief River Falls on June 21-26.

Directing this classic musical is Philip Hoks, a seasoned director with several years of experience working with council productions. Most of the roles for "Mame" are already filled, but Hoks has a few openings for male actors and a few small roles for females. He is also requesting volunteers to work backstage with props and sets. If you would like to be involved backstage or are interested in auditioning to take part in this production, e-mail Philip at pjrhoks@yahoo.com or call (320) 248-2141 for more information.

Anglers being asked to 'take the pledge,' invite someone to go fishing

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Commissioner Mark Holsten is encouraging anglers to "take the pledge" to take someone fishing.

The commissioner's outreach effort, part of a national campaign called Anglers' Legacy, asks avid anglers to take someone who has never fished before out on the water. The campaign is based on research that shows 99 percent of today's anglers fish because someone took the time to show them how.

"The pledge approach asks anglers to give back what they have been given - the gift of fishing," said Holsten. "It also stems from research that shows most adults and kids would gladly go fishing if only someone would ask them."

Though Minnesota maintains a strong fishing tradition, in the 1970s close to 40 percent of Minnesota's population age 16 and over held a fishing license. Today, participation has dropped to 29 percent of the state population. The lower percentage, among other things, reflects a decline in fishing participation by younger adults. Also, people in urban areas are not fishing as much as their rural and suburban counterparts.

More information on the program is available at www.anglerslegacy.org.

Thank You...

I would just like to apologize for the behavior of the church, on preaching of money. These so called "ministers" are taking advantage of God's pulpit to rob the weak, blind, elderly, and gullible of their hard earned money. They got churches on almost every block with only twenty to thirty people in each church and most are dying for money. Jesus said this about them. "They preach on tithes and offerings, but neglect the heavier. matters of the law, like Mercy, Righteous, and Justice." They forget the commandment that Love does no harm to they neighbor and Do not steal. This type of behavior is expected from unbelievers, but not believers. These so called "Robin Hoods" only preach one side of the money message. They hardly preach that the love of money is the root of all evil, and you can't serve God and love riches, more than God. That shows you that they are greedy and in it for the money. They try to justify themselves by saying, "other ministries are doing it," or they condemn other ministries for preaching money, but they themselves all they talk about is money, money. Most people, who want money, work for it. Yes, a person should give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's. I'm not saying all ministries are greedy. Some preach the gospel out of good motives and it shows by their fruits that there on good ground. They need money to pay bills, and other ministry expense. It's the 2% that is making the good ministries look bad.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacours@mncable.net

Today's recipes are from the McIntosh Centennial Cookbook of 1989, which was recently reprinted.

This dish that will make cooking pork chops easy, if you want, use lighter soup and those nice, lean pork chops they have now:

PORK CHOPS AND POTATO HOT DISH
Mrs. Ella DeFrang

2 tablespoons oil
6 lean pork chops
4 large potatoes
1 can mushroom soup
1 package onion soup mix
1 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Heat pork chops in oil in skillet. Brown well on both sides. Remove from skillet and set aside.

Peel and slice potatoes. Arrange slices in bottom of 9x13 inch baking dish. Add mushroom soup and top with browned chops.

Combine onion soup mix, water and mustard and mix well. Pour over chops in dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour and 15 minutes or until meat and potatoes are tender.

I love tuna hot dish with potato chips on top (of course), and I like to put some cream style corn in it:

TUNA AND NOODLES WITH MUSHROOM CREAM SAUCE
Dolores Narveson

1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 teaspoon butter or margarine
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/3 cup milk
1 can tuna
2 cups cooked noodles (4 ounces uncooked)
3/4 cup crushed potato chips

Cook onion in butter until soft. Stir in mushroom soup, milk and onion (if you like creamed corn, put it in now - half or a whole can). Break tuna into chunks and mix lightly with soup mixture and noodles.

Place in greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with potato chips and bake at 350 degrees for 20-30 minutes. Serves 5.

If you love German chocolate cake, try this quick one to satisfy your craving. Use German chocolate in the recipe to make it taste like the real thing:

GERMAN OAT CAKE
Mrs. David Salvhus

1 1/4 cup boiling water
1 cup quick oats
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 (4 ounce) bar sweet chocolate, broken
1 1/2 cups flour
1 cup white sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar
3 eggs

Topping
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup light cream
3/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped pecans or walnuts

In medium bowl, pour water over oatmeal. Add butter and chocolate. Let stand 20 minutes and then stir until well combined and chocolate is melted.

In large bowl, sift flour, white sugar, soda and salt. Stir in the brown sugar. Add eggs and oatmeal mixture. Beat at low speed just until thoroughly combined. Put in greased and floured 9x13 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35-40 minutes. Spread topping over hot cake and broil 4-5 inches from heat for 1 minute.

To make topping, in pan combine butter, sugar and cream. Cook and stir until mixture boils. Simmer 2-3 minutes more until thickened, stirring frequently. Add nuts.

Here's one of those desserts that would be nice to have for a shower or graduation party:

MANDARIN ORANGE DESSERT
Elvie Wiberg with similar recipe from Mrs. Orville T. Olson

Crust
3 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup sugar
1 cup crushed krispie rice cereal
1 cup crushed walnuts

Filling
1 pint whipping cream
1 cup powdered sugar
1 box instant vanilla pudding
3/4 cup coconut
2 cans mandarin oranges

Beat egg whites and cream of tartar. Beat in 1 cup sugar and beat stiff. Fold in crushed rice cereal and walnuts and spread in greased 9x13 inch pan. Bake 20-25 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool.

For filling, whip cream. Add powdered sugar and then instant pudding, mixing well. Add coconut and drained mandarin oranges. Spread over cooled crust. Refrigerate 12 hours or overnight. Serve with whipped cream and a cherry, if desired.

This recipe is not from the McIntosh cookbook, but would be nice to serve to guests who want something light. Serve this fresh fruit in cantaloupe shells with the light dressing to give everyone a treat. Double or triple the recipe and serve in a watermelon shell for a bunch:

FRUIT-FILLED MELONS

2 large cantaloupes, halved and seeded
1 medium orange, peeled and sectioned
1 medium apple, cubed
1 medium peach, sliced
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup fresh blueberries
1/2 cup halved fresh strawberries
4 large lettuce leaves

Sauce
1 (6 ounce) carton nonfat pineapple, lemon or vanilla yogurt
2 tablespoons unsweetened applesauce
1 teaspoon honey
1/4 teaspoon ginger

With a melon baller, scoop out 2 cups of cantaloupe balls. Set aside. Cut out and reserve remaining cantaloupe for another use, leaving 1/2 inch thick shells.

In a large bowl, combine orange, apple and peach. Sprinkle with lemon juice and toss gently. Stir in cantaloupe balls, blueberries and strawberries.

In a small bowl, combine yogurt, applesauce, honey and ginger. Line melon shells with lettuce and add fruit. Top with yogurt mixture. Makes 4 servings.

ask him for directions in East Grand Forks.

Smith arrived at the scene shortly after hearing his fellow officers' call for assistance. Even though law enforcement had some control over the scene, vehicles were still able to drive through that section of East Grand Forks. Smith, who was posted in the Brian's Flooring parking lot, waved a car through the area. The second time he waved, he heard a bang and a clunk. "His first shot hit right in the line where I was at," said Smith, who was 70 yards away from shooter Darin Frans. The shot missed Smith by 15 inches and slammed into a dumpster. Smith wasn't wearing his bulletproof vest.

Smith immediately took cover, shooting two rounds. The second round struck Frans, wounding him in the back. Frans got back up and continued shooting at law enforcement. Despite taking fire from Frans, Polk County deputies Dave Emanuel and Trent Stahlecker went to check on Smith. Smith shot another round at Frans, hoping to hit him in the leg and incapacitate him.

It is believed Frans shot a total of between 30 and 50 rounds, Wittenberg said. All of his shots were near misses.

Eventually, Frans stopped shooting. Law enforcement waited and later learned that Frans had died by suicide.

"He was going somewhere to do a lot of damage to somebody," said Wittenberg, who noted Frans had a .32-caliber handgun, a 9-mm intertech gun with scope and laser, 10 hunting knives and an ASP baton. He also had 200 rounds of ammunition still on him when he died.

Bullets from the 9-mm gun came close to penetrating the dumpster, said Smith, noting he could have been injured or killed if they had gone through the dumpster.

Wittenberg also noted the situation could have ended differently. "We could've had a Columbine, Red Lake or even worse," said Wittenberg, who referred to the number of weapons that Frans had.

Head Start, a high school and Northland Community and Technical College's East Grand Forks campus were a short distance away from where Frans was shooting.

Smith, who has been employed with the State Patrol for 21 years, was notified in February that he was one of four finalists for the national IACP award. Kelly A. Kalmbach, a Washington State Patrol trooper, received the national award. Other finalists were from Connecticut and Arkansas. (Each of the finalists were winners of their respective region's IACP Trooper of the Year award.)

Mark Dunaski, chief of the Minnesota State Patrol, presented Smith with the IACP award on March 28 in Baltimore. Smith also received a commemorative Glock pistol with a faceplate bearing his name and North Central Trooper of the Year. Smith was also presented with a U.S. flag that flew over the U.S. Capitol in his honor.

Presently, there are 80 ewes and 106 lambs on the Halvorson farm. In the fall, most of the lambs will be taken to Winger for the auction. Betsy said they plan to keep the quint females - Bentlee and Mary Claire. She's quite aware of the fact that naming the lambs and the fact that they are so unique will make it more difficult for them to let them go, but the sheep aren't show animals.

Betsy and Sarah have been raising sheep for about 13 years. The 21-year-old twins are attending Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls. Betsy said she plans to stay in the business, and someday receive a degree in animal studies.

press release quotes David Olson as saying. "It was really scary at first because as I was running down there, there were rounds ricocheting off the walls next to me."

Both Hammac and Klimek engaged the insurgents. John Olson opened the door of his sleeping quarters just as injured Spc. Jared Moe was being assisted by Knetter into the room. The room was being peppered by enemy fire. Klimek applied a field dressing to the shrapnel wounds on Moe's legs and side.

As John Olson was treating Moe, Knetter laid down covering fire to allow Spcs. Justin Dunn and Domingo Augilar to "join the fight." As John Olson finished attending to Moe, the squad's medic, Spc. Matthew Genereux, opened the room's door to repel the attack. He, Knetter and Feragen caught a wounded Marine about to fall into the room. Once the Marine was moved to safety and receiving first aid for a gunshot wound to his side, they rejoined the fight. John Olson later delivered ammunition while under fire and was engaged by the enemy.

Knetter grabbed an M249 squad automatic weapon and charged to tower two. Just as he was about to reach the tower, he was engaged by enemy fire from two different locations. He made it up the ladder in time to lay down fire on the enemy in the gravel trucks in front of his tower.

and Universities Underrepresented Students Transition Grant to develop the nursing program on the White Earth Reservation. The program aligned with national data addressing the nursing shortage. The $98,000 matching grant targeted Native American high school students and adult learners who desire to pursue nursing as a career.

In the two years since the nursing program began in Mahnomen, the program has offered three nursing assistant camps in the summer of 2006 in which 38 students completed the Nursing Assistant course," said Director of Registered Nursing, Sue Field. "We had 100 percent retention of these students. We had 97 percent of the 38 students who became certified as State Board Certified Nursing Assistants, and many of these students are now working in the nursing field as Certified Nursing Assistants. We currently have another 30 to 40 students who have been put on a waiting list for Nursing Assistant courses for the summer of 2007.

Twenty five students have completed general education courses successfully during the academic school year 2006-07. These 25 students will begin their first nursing classes in the fall of 2007. These students plan to progress through the Practical Nursing Program, become licensed as Licensed Practical Nurses and then complete the Registered Nursing program.

There are an additional 20 students who are currently licensed as practical nurses and working in the area as LPN's. These 20 students took their general education courses in the past year at White Earth Tribal Community College and will be starting the Registered Nursing program May of 2007.

Funding from the Otto Bremer Foundation will help to accomplish the goals of the White Earth Reservation Nursing Program and allow the program to continue in its success," said Dean of Academic Affairs Dr. Jeffery Thomas. The nursing courses should be completed spring of 2010. The time frame for the renting of the facility and hiring a fulltime coordinator would be May 2007 through May of 2010," said Thomas.

Fire burns about 20 acres Thursday

A fire burned about 20 acres Thursday afternoon in Section 7 of Excel Township in Marshall County. No injuries were reported.

A passing train started the grass and cattails on fire, according to the Thief River Falls Fire Department. The fire came within seven feet of some buildings. It's not known who owns the property.

Firefighters were dispatched to the scene at 1:57 p.m. Thursday and were on the scene for about three hours.

Start watching for motorcycles

We've gone at least six months without seeing them, and now they're back. No, we're not talking about mosquitoes. Sometimes motorists forget that they have to share the road with other vehicles. They shouldn't, but many motorists fail to give motorcyclists space on the road.

Minnesota Motorcycle Safety Center reminds us that since motorcycles are smaller and less visible, and their operators are more exposed and vulnerable in a crash, drivers need to take extra care to watch out for motorcycle riders—to take a second look.

About half of all motorcycle crashes involve another vehicle. A common scenario is a car driver turning or pulling out into a motorcyclist's path of travel, violating their right-of-way. The motorcyclist then crashes into the vehicle or crashes trying to avoid it. Motorists involved in these types of crashes often never saw the motorcyclist, or didn't see him or her until it was too late.

Nationally, motorcycle fatalities have more than doubled in the last 10 years and now account for more than 4,500 deaths and 78,000 injuries annually.

Motorcycling popularity is at an all-time high in Minnesota with more than 180,000 registered bikes. However, one in 10 traffic fatalities in 2005 was a motorcycle rider. In 2006, 52 riders and passengers died on Minnesota roadways. Let's start seeing motorcyclists and help decrease the number of accidents, injuries and deaths.

Now is the time to offer condolences and solace

One could hardly not be touched by the immense sorrow caused by the killing of 33 individuals at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va.

When we struggle to comprehend the violence, anger is a natural reaction. As so often happens early in such situations, many are easily preoccupied with assessing blame. We want answers to such questions as whether it could have been prevented with better security and timely intervention. Yet, we must know at some level that we may never fully understand the motives for the violence.

In time, we may more fully understand what has happened, but this is not the time to assess blame. The next few days are for prayer and offering solace where possible.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch, the state capital city's daily newspaper, showed us the right tone for our words: "The next few days are for prayer - for those killed, for their families and friends, for the Virginia Tech community, and for souls caught in a place where they feel the need to inflict the ultimate harm. Piecing together answers for the seemingly unanswerable will take time. Now is an hour to search for comfort and give it."

In the near future, we do need to begin asking questions, and to look for ways to make sure that all schools secure, and safe places of education.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

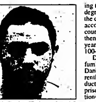
•Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.



Level 3 sex offender moves to TRF

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

A Level 3 sex offender moved to Thief River Falls on Thursday, according to the Minnesota Department of Corrections Web site. Yet, a Pennington County District Court judge has ordered that another psychologist needs to examine Thomas Lee Daniels, 19. The outcome of that examination will determine whether the state will petition the court for a civil commitment hearing.

Daniels moved to a home along Douglas Avenue Northeast in Thief River Falls. (In cities the size of Thief River Falls and in cities smaller than Thief River Falls, the DOC doesn't provide the specific addresses of homes where Level 3 sex offenders will live.)

On Tuesday, Judge Donald Aandal ruled that another psychologist needed to examine Daniels. Aandal also ruled that Daniels would not be held at the Minnesota Security Hospital in St. Peter, according to Pennington County Attorney Al Rogalla.

Daniels is classified as a Level 3 sex offender. Those offenders are classified as those most likely to re-offend. Under Minnesota Statute 244.052, law enforcement agencies are required to inform the public if a Level 3 sex offender is being released from prison and intends to live in a community. Police decided not to hold a community notification meeting about Daniels. The public is reminded that Daniels is not wanted by law enforcement and that he has served his sentence.

Daniels was released after serving time for a felony charge of third degree criminal sexual conduct in the city of Thief River Falls in 2005, according to Pennington County court documents. Daniels, who was then 18, had sex with a then-15-year-old girl at his former residence, 1004 Longren Ave. #202.

Daniels also served time for a furnishing alcohol to minors charge. Daniels served that sentence concurrently with the criminal sexual conduct sentence. Daniels was sent to prison after he violated the conditions of his probation for the sexual conduct charge by providing a ride to two teenage girls.

When he was 15, Daniels was also charged with indecent exposure in Polk County, according to information that Daniels' probation agent filed in Pennington County District Court. He was placed on probation and ordered to complete treatment. Daniels has been discharged from that file. That case involved a girl between the ages of 8 and 15, according to a fact sheet provided to the Thief River Falls Police Department by the DOC.

TRF firefighters to conduct controlled burn

The Thief River Falls Fire Department, in cooperation with Northland Community and Technical College, will conduct a controlled structural burn Tuesday night. They will burn down a home located near the intersection of Fourth Street and Kinney Avenue at 6 p.m. Tuesday. The home is owned by Robert Benson, who intends to build a duplex at that location.

The purpose of this training session is to give the firefighters an opportunity to deal with a "live fire" situation. More importantly, it allows firefighters to actually observe how a fire spreads in a structure and how it reacts within its environment. A team consisting of three firefighters and a qualified instructor will enter the structure. The instructor will proceed to build a fire based upon the experience level of the firefighters. It will be up to each team to bring the fire under control. As a precautionary measure, a backup or safety team, also consisting of three firefighters and an instructor, will be in close proximity to the structure. Following the training session, the firefighting team will leave the structure and participate in a "question and answer" session with the instructor.

When a structure burns

The controlled structural burn demonstrates the importance of fire safety in the home. During the course of the fire, interior temperatures will range from an average of 200 degrees to 1,800 degrees. The average person, dressed in street clothes, can only withstand 130 degrees. Deadly gases, which are produced in just a matter of minutes, can be so toxic that they can kill a person in only one or two breaths. For these reasons, it is important to prevent fires and practice escape plans. If a fire occurs, it is important that you leave the structure immediately. Seconds count. Always have two ways of getting out of the house or building you are in. Have an escape plan. And, above all, make sure that your smoke detectors are installed and working. These simple steps could save you and your family's lives.

How could they have missed it?

Caiaphas and the temple priests in the recent musical "The Choice" did not recognize Christ as the Messiah but turned Him over to the Roman authorities to be crucified. Those who attended this cantata may well have wondered why many of the Jews in Christ's time would not believe that he was the "promised one" of the Old Testament prophecies. A careful investigation of the prophecies concerning the "Star of David," the coming of the "Anointed One," the "Prophet" to come, the One like Moses, and even the time prophecies related to His ministry and death, reveal conclusive and thrilling evidence that Jesus of Nazareth was their fulfillment.

A seminar entitled "How Could They Have Missed It?" will be held on three successive Thursday evenings: April 26, May 3 and May 10 from 6-7 p.m. at Open Arms Christian Fellowship, 401 St. Paul Ave. S., Thief River Falls, to take an exciting look at the Old Testament prophecies pointing to the Christ of the New Testament. The seminar is free and open to the public. A light meal is available beforehand at 5:30 p.m. Call 681-1776 or 689-3276 by 8 p.m. on Wednesday for meal reservations.

NCTC to host Native Images Month celebration

Nicole Brenny, director of Multicultural Services and the All Nations Club at Northland Community and Technical College - Thief River Falls, invites the community to join the NCTC community in a celebration in honor of Native Images Month. The celebration will be from noon to 2 p.m. on Friday, April 27, in the commons at the campus in Thief River Falls.

The opening ceremony will commence at noon, and will include entertainment by "Little Red Tail," an eight-member drum group from White Earth Reservation. The fourth generation drum group originated in the 1920s by Jonny Mason of White Earth Reservation. Joining the drum group will be the Detroit Lakes Dance Group.

The two groups have been performing together for the past five years, traveling throughout Minnesota performing at colleges, high schools, and at International Cultural Festivals. The one-hour presentation showcases the Woodland and Northern Plain Powwow dance styles.

"Our mission is to educate people about the Native American culture and break down the racial barriers that still exist today," said Tom Mason, member of the Little Red Tail Drum Group.

Visitors are also invited to take part in the Native American Feast that will be served from noon to 2 p.m. The cost for the feast is $4.75, and will be served in the NCTC cafeteria.

Mn/DOT reopens highways in Marshall County

The Northwest District of the Minnesota Department of Transportation has reopened State Highway 317 and the portion of State Highway 220 in Marshall County that have been temporarily closed for the past several weeks due to flooding.

According to Steve Hufnagle, Mn/DOT northwest sub-area maintenance supervisor, the water over the road receded enough last week and warmer weather has allowed his crews the chance to start clearing trees, branches, hay and other debris that was floating in or frozen to the highways, shoulders and ditches.

Mn/DOT thanks the public for their patience when they were required to use detours and for their concern for safety during difficult driving conditions caused by weather.

Funding available for well sealing

Cost share dollars are available through the Marshall County Water Plan Office for the sealing of abandoned wells. The county's 75 percent cost share is provided through the Minnesota Natural Resource Block Grant. The property owner pays 25 percent.

Improperly sealed wells are potential sources of contamination to groundwater, and can consequently affect nearby drinking water wells. Abandoned wells can act as channels for surface pollutants to enter groundwater. Many abandoned wells also go uncovered, posing a physical threat to humans – mainly small children who could potentially fall into the open wells.

To get an application for the Well Sealing Cost Share Program, contact Jan at the Marshall County Water and Land Office, 208 E. Colvin Ave., Suite 3, Warren, MN 56762; call 218-745-4217; or e-mail jan.kaspari@co.marshall.mn.us.

The Fargo Theatre

Many of my life experiences have occurred while I was at work, which have been multiplied by the fact I've often held a second job in addition to my full-time gig. In 1987, I worked as a janitor at the Fargo Theatre, which was a job that was as rich in experience as it was deeply scarring to my very psyche. I want to tell you about it.

In 1987, the Fargo Theatre was deep in renovation and second run movies. The "Incomparable Hildegard" was a very talented elderly lady who played a huge organ that rose from the orchestra pit during silent movies. The movie screen had an actual curtain that opened before the previews rolled and closed at the end of the midnight movie. It was quite a place and for a time, I was the one who cleaned it.

I really appreciate a clean public building because I know what it takes to make it so. I usually came for the theatre's last show so I could sit in the balcony to see where people sat so I could focus my efforts on those locations. Cleaning bathrooms was not as scientific and I could shock a sewer rat with what I've seen. The guy's toilet at the Fargo Theatre was a breeze, but I would normally hold my head in my hands and cry after I'd finished the ladies' bathroom.

After I finished the bathrooms, I'd go to the front of the theatre via the basement. At three in the morning, everything is scary and that was when I'd make my sprint through the basement. The basement is where the theatre props were stored, which included many wax dummies and even a coffin. My first night of work I sang "Amazing Grace" loudly as I hoped it would keep away the ghost, which the manager promised would appear around midnight. The singing worked on the ghost but not on the bum that later stumbled into the building (I would have preferred the ghost).

My closest brush with a famous person came at the Fargo Theatre. Randy Bachman and Burton Cummings formed a reunion tour in 1987 and played the best songs from their bands, "The Guess Who" and "Bachman, Turner Overdrive." I was picked for security and told to allow no one backstage. Prior to the show, a very large man was intent on going backstage. I followed orders and would not let him pass, even when it came to actually placing my hands on him and resisting his charge. What a surprise it was to find that Bachman had not only gained a lot of weight (so I didn't recognize him) but that he was the person that I was busily restraining from playing at his own concert. The promoter was not happy with me, but Bachman was very nice about it. He and Cummings played a great show that night and the crowd gave me no trouble except for the only two teenagers in attendance I threw out along with their bottle of vodka.

The Fargo Theatre has been completely renovated to its historic art-deco roots. It now hosts independent films and stage performances. If you ever find yourself seated in one of its chairs, bathed in neon glow prior to the curtains parting, then stop and listen; in the distance you can hear Hildegard playing, footsteps with no earthly cause emanating from the basement, and a scared janitor singing "Amazing Grace!"

NCTC Invitational high school track meet...

EGF boys, girls sweep titles

East Grand Forks, Warroad and Thief River Falls went 1-2-3 in both the boys and girls portions of the 2007 Northland Community and Technical College Invitational high school track meet Tuesday.

An annual early-season affair that has been plagued by cold temperatures, rain/snow and wind in the past, this year's 10-school meet was bathed in warm sunshine with just a whisper of a breeze.

East Grand Forks boys finished the day with a 124-113 edge in team points over runner-up Warroad. It was a 233-92 spread on the girls' score sheet. Third place Thief River Falls had an identical 68-point performance in both portions of the meet.

It was the first outdoor competition of the season for the Prowlers, who opened the year with three indoor meets. Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson admitted his team was getting a little stir-crazy. "Once we got on the track, things have started to pick up," he said. "For the first meet outdoors, we did very well. We had a number of personal-best performances. We're very happy with the results."

Thief River Falls boys had two first place finishes – a 23.53 clocking in the 200 meters by Jeremy Sich and an eye-catching 47-2 1/2 toss in the shot put by Andrew BlackLance.

One winning performance for the Thief River Falls girls came from Kailey Bakken with a 51.46 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles. The Prowlers' Kathryn Walrath was second in the 100, 200 and discus.

Jake Bahnmiller of Warroad was the top individual point-producer with a sweep in the boys' jumping events – the long jump, triple jump and high jump.

Thearon Helgeson of East Grand Forks was the boys' top distance runner with wins in the 800 and 1600 meter races.

Faith Kruchowski of Red Lake County was also a winner in both the 800 and 1600 for the girls.

Other double-event winners in the girls' competition were Alicia Olson of East Grand Forks, shot put, discus; Nikki Laufman of Warroad, 200, 400; and Bridget Piche of East Grand Forks, 100, pole vault.

Thief River Falls will be back at Lowell T. Swenson Field Friday, April 27, for the Prowlers' annual Quent Jones Relays.

TRF offense has first week ups and downs

■ Prowlers split softball starts

It was feast or famine for the Thief River Falls offense as the Prowlers opened the 2007 high school softball season with split on the road.

The debut for new Thief River Falls head coach Corey Poole was an 18-5 Monday win at Detroit Lakes.

A trip to West Fargo, N.D., the next day resulted in a 2-1 setback.

"Both games were well-pitched," noted Poole, who got route-going performances from Brittni Johnson against the Lakers and Shawna Rogalla vs. the Packers. "We were just over-powered by a very hard-throwing West Fargo pitcher."

With early-season practice limited mostly to indoor sessions due to the weather, Poole was anxious to see how the Prowlers reacted in game conditions. "All in all, the first two games were a good measuring stick to see what we need to work on," he explained. "I am very happy with the defensive effort – we kept the ball in front of us both games."

The Prowlers are scheduled to make their first home appearance Monday with a 4:30 p.m. game against Crookston at the Multi-Events Center.

Pioneers extend streak to 10 with a twinbill sweep

Northland Community and Technical College baseball team ran its winning streak to 10 games and improved to 14-10 for the year with a Wednesday nonconference doubleheader sweep over Minot State University-Bottineau.

The Pioneers made the long trip to north-central North Dakota a productive venture by beating the host Lumberjacks 6-2, 10-3.

"We didn't play our best baseball, but we got the job done," reported Northland coach Steve Gust.

Tyler Earls, a freshman from Pelican Rapids, picked up his first college win with a complete game pitching performance in the opener. He scattered five hits, did not give up an earned run and walked just one.

Nick Stenberg, a freshman from Park Rapids, was 2-for-2 at the plate with a pair of doubles and four RBI in the nightcap.

"Tyler Earls was fantastic on the mound," noted Gust. "He did a great job of throwing strikes and changing speeds and locations. Nick Stenberg swung the bat well. He did a nice job of staying focused with runners in scoring position."

Northland	7	10	1
MSU-Bottineau	3	5	2

NCTC pitching - Tyler Earls-W, 7 innings, 5 hits, 3 runs, 0 earned runs, 1 walk, 5 strike-outs.

NCTC offensive highlights - Casey Solem 3/4, 1 RBI; Matt Puente 1/3, 2 RBI; Alex Sumner 2 runs

Northland	10	6	1
MSU-Bottineau	2	8	3

NCTC pitching - Matt Puente-W, 5 innings, 2 runs, 2 earned runs, 1 walk, 4 strike-outs, David Lovly 2 innings, 3 hits, 1 run, 2 strike-outs.

NCTC offensive highlights - Nick Stenberg 2/2, 2 doubles, 4 RBI, Charles Thompson 1 RBI, Dave Swatlowski 1 RBI

Itasca third baseman Jen Steen applied the tag to Northland base runner Jamie Hoglo during the first game of Tuesday's Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader at the Multi-Events Center. The Vikings swept the Pioneers 10-4, 15-4.

Casey Solem earns Player/Week honors in Northern Division

Casey Solem, a Northland Community and Technical College sophomore from East Grand Forks, is the latest Northern Division Player of the Week in Minnesota Community College Conference baseball.

Solem earned the recognition after going 11-for-19 (.579), including two triples, six runs-batted-in and a game-winning walk-off home run during the Pioneers' six-game April 13-15 sweep against Itasca and Vermilion.

"Casey has done a fantastic all-around job for us," said Northland head coach Steve Gust. "He is so unselfish and wants to help the team in any way possible. We look for more great things from him as the season progresses."

Itasca beats Northland twice

Itasca combined nine base hits with 10 walks and 10 wild pitches Tuesday to beat Northland 10-4 in the first half of a Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader at the Multi-Events Center.

The visitors completed the Northern Division sweep with a 15-4 Game 2 win.

There were just too many Vikings running around the bases. Half of the Itasca first-game runs were scored by players who had drawn walks, and four runs crossed the plate on wild pitcher.

Northland began the 2007 season with freshman Mallory Anderson of Grand Forks, N.D., as the only player with pitching experience on the roster. She threw during a March 13-17 spring training trip to Florida, hurt her shoulder and isn't expected to pitch again this spring.

Looking for team volunteers, Northland coach Kathy Huschle first handed the ball to Kindra Trontvet, and Tuesday gave Amber Sterling her first college pitching assignment. Trontvet and Sterling are sophomore infielders by trade.

After falling behind 4-0 in the opener, Northland made a game of it by scoring twice in the bottom of the third when No. 9 hitter Jamie Dahlen drew a one-out walk and Ashley Lund followed with a double to left-center. An infield single by Jackie Fossum pushed one run across the plate and a double to left by Trontvet drove in the second run.

It was 7-2 before the Pioneers scored again in the fifth on back-to-back singles by Lund and Fossum, an RBI ground-out by Trontvet and a run-producing single by Jamie Hoglo. The Pioneers, who left the bases loaded in the third, ran themselves into an inning-ending double play in the fifth when outs were recorded at home plate and third base on Hoglo's single.

Northland had a 3-2 lead after one inning in the nightcap, but the Vikings scored five times in the third inning and ended it early with an eight-run fifth. Hoglo hit a solo home run in the third inning.

Combining early-season contests played in Florida and St. Cloud that were counted as scrimmages instead of games with 10 weather-forced postponements, the Tuesday home opener was just the second official outing of the year for the Pioneers, who lost an earlier 15-1, 15-3 Northern Division doubleheader at Rainy River.

Sun, warm weather greets Prowler girls in 2007 golf opener

Perfect timing. The season-opener for the 2007 Thief River Falls girls high school golf team was played under nearly ideal weather conditions Wednesday at the Longbow Country Club in Walker.

"Sunny, 63 degrees, no wind," reported Prowlers coach Gary Laidley. "An absolutely beautiful day."

Host Walker-Hackensack-Akeley won the best-ball format with a 178. Thief River Falls tied for third with a 195.

Medalist honors went to the Walker-Hackensack-Akeley combination of Kristine Day and Sydney Westfield with an 86. The Prowlers' Chelsea Daley and Laura Heschke tied for fifth in the medal standings with a 94.

W-H-A Invitational

■ Team totals - Walker-Hackensack-Akeley 178, East Grand Forks 186, Thief River Falls 195, Mahnomen 195, Cass Lake-Bena 199, Blackduck 208, Bigfork 209, Kelliher/Northome 241.

■ Medalists - 1. Kristine Day-Sydney Westfield, W-H-A, 42-44-86, 2. Bailey Manke-Karley Theil, EGF, 41-47-88

■ TRF scores - Chelsea Daley-Laura Heschke 45-49–94, Corissa Kruse-Nicole Thompson 48-53–101; Audra Wheeler-Aundriah Lindgren 57-57–114.

Prowler pitchers are on target

Three games into the 2007 high school baseball season, Thief River Falls pitchers have not walked a single batter. That's an impressive feat at any level, especially early in the year when teams are usually searching high and low for people who can throw the ball across the plate on a consistent basis.

The Prowlers' pitching staff has thrown 20 shutout innings in an opening day doubleheader sweep over visiting West Fargo Monday and a 9-0 single-game win at Crookston Tuesday.

Junior lefthander Spencer Johnson put an exclamation point onto the first-week pitching line by striking out 16 of the 18 Pirates he faced in six-innings of two-hit ball. Patrick Barry finished the shutout with a 1-2-3 seventh.

"Spencer really pitched well," confirmed Thief River Falls coach Shane Zutz. The strike-outs were great, he acknowledged, but it was the continuation of the no-walk streak that really impressed him.

It was a scoreless pitching battle between Johnson and Crookston's Joel Stegman until the fifth when Alex Yaggie reached base on lead-off error and scored on a suicide squeeze hunt laid down by Michael Benedict.

Barry walked and scored in the sixth, then the Prowlers broke it open with a seven-run seventh that featured a two-run double by Michael Benedict, a two-run single by Jordan Espeseth and an RBI single by Michael Blix.

"We executed our hunting game well," reported Zutz. "The top of our order – Michael Benedict and Jordan Espeseth – did a great job setting the table and coming up with big hits in the seventh inning."

Missions service planned for April 25

A special missions service is scheduled at the Roseau Community Church in Roseau for Wednesday, April 25, beginning at 8 p.m. The guest speaker will be Amy Fry, missionary to England. Amy will be sharing about her work with the youth in England. Lunch will be served after the service. Everyone is invited to attend.

NCTC Library to hold book reading for author S.T. Underdahl

The library at Northland Community and Technical College has announced it will host author S.T. Underdahl for a reading from her new book, "The Other Sister," on Thursday, May 3 at 12:30 p.m. This event will take place in the library, and a question and answer session will follow the reading. Dessert will be served. This event is free and open to the public; no pre-registration is required.

The young adult book is the story of a young woman who learns she has an older sister she never knew about. "Thursday, Oct. 1st. That's the day I found out everything I'd ever believed about my life, my family, and especially my parents, was a big fat lie. Or maybe I should say the whole thing began on July 12th, 1974, ten years before I was even born. But that would be jumping ahead ..."

Underdahl is a neuropsychologist in private practice in North Dakota. Her own adoption as an infant has made her especially aware of the profound impact adoption and reunions have on all those involved. This is an exciting opportunity to meet the author, and talk to her about the book, being an author and the process of writing.

"The Other Sister," released in March 2007, is published by Flux, an imprint of Llewllyn Publications, Woodbury.

For more information, contact NCTC Library staff at (218) 681-0757 or (218) 681-0756.

Free paint awarded for community restoration projects

The Northwest Minnesota Foundation recently announced awards of free paint for community fix-up and restoration projects. Through a collaborative effort with the Valspar Corporation and the "Picture-It-Painted" program, paint and other coating materials necessary for rehabilitation activities will be given to local towns and organizations.

"We're very pleased to help sponsor this program for another year," said John Ostrem, NMF president. "These community beautification projects really add significant social and cultural value to places throughout our region. I would like to thank Valspar for their generous contribution again this year."

Awards of 371 total gallons of free paint will be made by Valspar and the NMF for the following local projects:

- City of Argyle – Centennial gazebo
- City of Halma – interior walls and sealer for hardwood floor
- City of Greenbush – pool house, mural

"Valspar was very impressed with the quality of the proposals that were submitted," said Gwen Leifeld, manager of the Valspar Foundation. "The projects selected will have a positive impact on the visual character of many communities in the region."

"Picture It Painted" recently celebrated 10 years, and Minnesota's six Initiative Foundations honored Valspar Corporation for 10 years of helping beautify small towns in Greater Minnesota through the annual program. Through this partnership, Valspar has awarded more than 27,672 gallons of paint to more than 652 community beautification and restoration projects throughout Greater Minnesota.

"This is our only program in Greater Minnesota," said Leifeld as she accepted a Valued Partner Award earlier this month at the McKnight Foundation offices. "We are thrilled to have partnered with all of you for the past 10 years and feel we are a part of small town Minnesota through your efforts."

This unique partnership was created out of a desire by Valspar to have a greater presence in rural Minnesota. "Our partnership with the Initiative Foundations allows us to have an impact on communities throughout the entire state," Leifeld said.

NCTC nursing students attend Nurse's Day on the Hill

Eighty-two nursing students from Northland Community and Technical College's Associate Degree program, Thief River Falls campus, attended the Minnesota Nurses Association Nurse's Day on the Hill on March 27. The annual event rallies around legislative priorities for health care.

The effort was organized through the NCTC Student Nurses' Association. Diane Scott and Loretta Vobr, faculty advisers for that association, believe students can make a difference in helping their legislators see the health care system through the eyes of a nurse and patient advocate. While in St. Paul, the students attended an issue briefing and met with their legislators.

Public hearing to be held about removal of mayor

Red Lake Falls - "Red Lake Falls Mayor Robert Philion is currently going through a court process following the removal of structural items from his former home that was involved in the buyout program. ... Before Philion heads to pretrial, he will undergo a public hearing May 10 at 7 p.m. At this hearing, discussion of removing Philion from office will take place. It is possible Philion will be removed from office following the hearing." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, April 24, 2007, by Destiny Harmoning

Status of Wannaska School is still in limbo

Wannaska - "At the special school board meeting in Wannaska on Tuesday evening, Roseau Superintendent Larry Guggisberg gave an hourlong PowerPoint presentation to a crowd that numbered less than three dozen.

"Guggisberg explained the recent and continuing decline in enrollment will necessitate further cuts and reductions."

"One of the problems is that revenue in 2007-08 will not be sufficient to maintain the current level of programs and services without deficit spending."

"Approximately 90 minutes into the meeting, the board discussed the proposal to close Wannaska School, which the superintendent estimated would save $148,505 annually.

"Less than a year ago, the Roseau School Board made the decision to close Malung Elementary School, causing an uproar in that community and resulting in a number of students opting to enroll in area schools outside of the school district.

"Board members discussed that possibility again, estimating that more students could choose to attend Grygla, Badger, Greenbush or home school, resulting in further loss of state aid per pupil." - Roseau Times-Region, April 21, 2007, by Jeff Olsen

Warren - "Hiring activities to find a replacement for High School Principal Seann Dikkers have been concluded by the Warren/ Alvarado/Oslo School Board, with the decision made to hire a dean of students instead of a principal.

"After conducting interviews with three finalists April 18, the next day, the board decided to offer the position of dean of students to Craig Peterson, high school principal at the New Rockford-Sheyenne School District in North Dakota.

"W/A/O Superintendent Ken Henry said Peterson called Monday to accept the offer. He will be hired for a standard one-year (210 day) contract at a salary of $57,500." - Warren Sheaf, April 24, 2007

Trial in Indonesia

Minnesota native acquitted of polluting bay

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

A Minnesota native, along with his employer, was acquitted Tuesday of polluting a bay in Indonesia.

"The verdict just confirmed what I knew all along, that the bay was clean, the fish were fine and the people were never impacted by our mining operations," wrote Rick Ness in an e-mail to the Northern Watch.

Ness grew up near Holt and graduated from high school in Newfolden in 1967. He has worked in Indonesia since 1979.

Ness, president director of PT Newmont Minahasa Raya in Indonesia, faced three years in jail and a fine if he had been convicted of the charges filed against him. The maximum penalty was 10 years in prison and a fine. Newmont Mining Corporation, which is based in Denver, was also acquitted of the charges. Indonesia's Ministry of the Environment is supporting an appeal of the case.

The criminal case stemmed from reports of North Sulawesi villagers who claimed they had Minamata disease, which is caused by mercury. The Indonesian government alleged that NMR polluted Buyat Bay, causing the villagers to become sick. NMR operated a mine at Buyat Bay for about 10 years. The mine closed in 2004 after reserves were depleted.

"This case should have never been in the court system to start with as both the investigation and prosecution were flawed from the start," wrote Ness, who noted the charges were based on a hoax.

He added, "I guess the only good thing that can be said is that the court did give us a platform to prove to the world that the bay was never polluted to start with, we were good stewards of the environment and upheld all the laws and regulations of this country."

The case stemmed from a complaint filed in August 2004. A year later, the trial began. In Indonesia, trials are usually held two days a

Burning down the house

Thief River Falls firefighters conduct training exercise

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

"Burning Down the House" would have been an appropriate song to play Tuesday. Thief River Falls firefighters suited up and burned down a house near the intersection of Fourth Street and Kinney Avenue. Firefighters destroyed the house as part of a training exercise and also to make way for a duplex that will be built on the property owned by Robert Benson. About 40 people watched the exercise.

"Safety first on everything," said fire coordinator Rick Besser to the firefighters before they started their training exercise.

Firefighters hauled straw bales and later ignited them during their two levels of training. During Level 1, firefighters ignited a small fire in the house. "They actually watch the fire build in stages, so it actually comes up the walls and ceiling," said Co-Fire Chief Barry Newton. Firefighters then sprayed water on the fire for about one-and-a-half seconds. The water produced steam which then knocked the fire out by eating up all of the oxygen in the room. The firefighters then sprayed water in the home and through a window to ventilate the room.

During Level 2 of the exercise, firefighters set fires in several areas of the home. That simulated what happens during a house fire when the heat generated at the beginning of the fire causes furniture and other items to self-ignite, Newton noted. The challenge was then to knock down the fires and then ventilate the home without the fire reigniting.

Outside, other firefighters were then able to use a thermal imaging camera to see their counterparts while they battled the blaze inside the home. "Through the naked eye, you couldn't see the guys through the smoke," said Newton, who noted the thermal imaging camera produces a picture that looks like a negative produced by a traditional camera.

Firefighters weren't the only ones participating in the training exercise. Thief River Falls Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen decided to experience what it was like to be a firefighter - even if it was only for five minutes. "I don't know how those guys do it," he said. "It was a little scary almost."

Nordhagen was fitted with a firefighter's uniform that was a little too small. He didn't have a breathing apparatus, and Newton advised to him to keep low to the floor as they crawled about eight feet into the house. "He thought we were crazy," said Newton. "We're just a little bit more crazy than anybody else."

Triplets born

They're not Huey, Dewey and Louie

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Mom thought it would be a great idea to head butt the photographer who was trying to take pictures of the triplets. She was greeted with a swat.

The calves weren't too thrilled either. The 2 day-old calves were walking around and trying to nurse.

Mom, a Red Angus mixed breed beef cow, gave birth to the triplets on Monday morning at the Steinhauer farm near Holt. Gail Steinhauer said he has seen nothing like it. He operates the farm with his wife, Angie, and his brother Tom.

The Steinhauers knew that the unnamed cow was pregnant. "She was really big," Gail said.

What they didn't know was that she was pregnant with triplets, a rare event for beef cattle. It happens during 1 in 105,000 births. "That isn't very common. Twins are very common," said Van Swanson with the University of Minnesota Extension Service in Marshall and Pennington counties.

The twins are known by their numbers, 44, 45 and 46. If the calves were boys, they would've been named Huey, Dewey and Louie. "As far as I can tell they're identical females," said Gail, who noted one of the calves is thinner than her sisters.

Right now, the calves are doing well. The Steinhauers [illegible] monitor [illegible] the calves' health. "One cow can't handle three calves," said Gail, who noted another source of milk [illegible] be needed for the triplets.

Artist features antler art at Scout Expo

by David Hill
Editor

Scouts and visitors attending the Annual Boy Scout Exposition on April 28 and 29 at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center will see and experience lots of interesting things, but Don Nygaard's creations that include an 18-foot python, promise to catch your eye.

Don Nygaard is the owner and operator of Antler Art. Area residents are probably familiar with his work, because he's been creating his art since he was a teenager back in the 40s, and has been displaying and selling his art at local craft and art shows ever since.

Nygaard's introduction to this art began when his Dad bought him a correspondence course that taught him to be a taxidermist. Taxidermy never became a full-time job for Nygaard, but it has always been an important hobby. Now that he's retired, "it's a lot of hours of enjoyment, especially in the winter."

As he recalls, he's always been interested in more of the novelty aspect of taxidermy. He's created

Boston's allure attracts runner

by David Hill
Editor

Lori Warne

She's a college graduate, has her master's degree, is a wife and mother, but now she can add one more item to the list of things she can be proud of - she's a Boston Marathon finisher.

Lori Warne, school psychologist for School District 564 in Thief River Falls and resident of Newfolden, completed the 111th running of the 26.2-mile Boston Marathon on April 16 in a time of 3:59:20.

Getting to the world's most prestigious marathon was no easy task. Unless you're among the world's elite, most participants have to qualify to get to Boston. Lori had to run a 3:45 on another certified marathon course. So, instead of training and running just one marathon, most marathoners train and race and train and race in an endless cycle until they accomplish that elusive goal. Lori's husband, Kent, still has his eye on qualifying for Boston, but hasn't qualified yet. (The time is different for men and women and age groups.)

The Warnes began running in 1992, but didn't start running marathons until 1994 when a relative inspired Kent to run a marathon. Lori ran her first marathon in 1996. In fact, she completed her first marathon just eight months after she gave birth to her son [illegible]. Lori has completed 17

A Flame to light the winter.

The brilliant orange bark of the Flame Compact Willow lights up the winter landscape. Unlike other Willows, the Flame Willow does not drop branches.

In addition, the Flame Willow grows in a tight oval shape, with its branches neatly upswept.

Any yard can benefit from a single Flame Willow planted in the back corner of where it will be visible from the kitchen sink or picture window.

Any farmstead will benefit from a row of Flame Willow as a windbreak along the drive. The orange splash of color from a row of Flame Willow can be seen from well over a mile away.

Melvin Bergeson discovered the Flame Willow growing in an area swamp. His wife Olga took one look at the tree and gave it the name "Flame." Since then, the Flame Willow has been lighting up yards all over Northwestern Minnesota.

In addition, the Flame has become popular in cloverleaf interchanges down in the Cities, and was recently featured in a book on landscaping for winter color published in Chicago.

Get in on the famous Flame Willow Phenomenon! Purchase a Flame Willow at the bare root building at Bergeson Nursery for a mere $5.00.

Bring your jacket and browse the hundreds of trees and shrubs for sale in the Bare Root Building at Bergeson Nursery. Planting is easy with Bare Root!

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

I got a new cookbook - "Cooking With Grace" by Grace Lutheran Church women in Grygla, and I found today's recipes there.

There may not be a bag of caramels or a box of German chocolate cake left in local stores after people taste these bars:

CARAMEL LAYER CHOCOLATE SQUARES
Joy McLean Austin

(14 ounce) package caramels
1/3 cup evaporated milk
1 German chocolate cake mix
3/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/3 cup evaporated milk (yes, another one)
1 (12 ounce) bag chocolate chips (1 1/2 cups)

Melt caramels with 1/3 cup evaporated milk in microwave. Set aside.

Combine cake mix, butter and the other 1/3 cup evaporated milk and stir until dough holds together. Press half of the dough mixture in a greased 9x13 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 6 minutes.

Sprinkle chocolate chips over baked mixture, then pour caramel mixture over. Crumble remaining half of dough mixture over caramel layer. Bake at 350 degrees for 14-18 minutes. Cool 30 minutes before cutting.

Well, here's another German chocolate cake mix recipe for you and it sounds good too:

DALLOP CHOCOLATE CAKE
Elaine Mellstrom

1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup coconut
German chocolate cake mix
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 stick margarine (or butter)
1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese
2 1/2 cups powdered sugar

Put nuts and coconut in greased and floured 9x13 inch cake pan.

Mix cake mix according to directions and add vanilla. Pour over first mixture.

Cream margarine (or butter), cream cheese and powdered sugar. Drop in dallops on top of cake. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

It's always nice to have a cookie jar filled with delicious treats when company comes. Here's a recipe that sounds like some my grandma made often. I made them Sunday and they were really good-sized and nice and tender - filled up my cookie jar - were great dipped in coffee or milk:

ANGEL CRISPS
Lena Loberg

1/2 cup white sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup shortening
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar

Cream sugars, shortening, egg and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients. Form into balls the size of a walnut. (I refrigerated the dough now for about an hour-SL.) Dip top half in water then in sugar (Whoops - I forgot to dip in water - just dipped mine in sugar-SL.) Press down and bake. (Baked mine at 350 for about 8 or 9 minutes-SL.)

PUDDING CHIP COOKIES
Darlene (McLean) Anderson

2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup light brown sugar
1 small package vanilla instant pudding
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 (12 ounce) package chocolate chips
Nuts, if desired

Mix flour and soda. Combine butter, sugars, pudding mix and vanilla in bowl. Beat until smooth and creamy. Beat in eggs. Gradually add flour mixture and then stir in chips and nuts. Drop on ungreased baking sheet.

Bake at 375 degrees for 8-10 minutes. Makes 6 dozen cookies.

If you can't have sugar, here are some cookies for you:

NO SUGAR REFRIGERATOR SUGAR COOKIES
Sylvia Sorenson

1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup cottage cheese
2 teaspoons Sweet 10
2 teaspoons vanilla

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter. Add cottage cheese, Sweet 10 and vanilla and beat well.

Blend in dry ingredients gradually. Place on waxed paper and shape into 9 inch long rolls. Wrap in waxed paper and chill 2-3 hours. Cut into 1/4 inch slices. Place on greased cookie sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

ROSEAU AREA COMMUNITY FUND REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

The Roseau Area Community Fund is calling for funding proposals for programs and services that benefit charitable, educational and public purpose activities, projects, or services. The desired outcome for these grants is to enhance or improve the quality of life enjoyed by people in the Roseau area.

This year the Roseau Area Community Fund has a pool of $1,800 available for grants to non profits or public entities within the Roseau School District area. The proposal must address one or more of these areas: Leisure and Recreation, Aesthetic Development, Arts, Culture and Education, Youth Activities and Senior Enrichment.

Selection criteria will focus on how the project meets the Roseau Area Community Fund mission, if it reaches beyond traditional opportunities, how inclusive it is to all types of diversity and the number of participants or number of organizations that are served.

The deadline for submission of proposals is May 22, 2007. The grants will be awarded by June 1st. Applications will be available at the Roseau Public Library and Lee's Store in Wannaska.

For questions about the application, call Mary Ross at 463-2676 or Phil Sallberg at 463-3090.

Applications can be mailed to: Roseau Area Community Fund; c/o Mary Ross, 200 4th Avenue Northeast; Roseau, MN 56751.

Together, we bring the best insurance value to our community.

We've teamed up with AAA and its insurance company to offer you insurance coverage from the most trusted name on the road. Boston's allure attracts runner

The Boston Marathon is an elite event that attracts the best runners in the world. Therefore, the runners are well trained and experienced. This year, 99 percent of all registered runners finished the marathon. Getting there and preparing for this race is much more difficult than statistics may indicate.

Typically, Kent and Lori run 40 to 50 miles per week getting ready for a marathon. Runners break that distance down into different distances. Some are short and others are very long - 19- to 23-mile distances are not uncommon.

Training for a marathon is tough enough on warm days and dry roads, but because the Boston Marathon is conducted in April, that means northwestern Minnesota athletes are running on icy, wind-swept roads in frigid temperatures.

It also takes a lot of time. Kent and Lori started training for this race at the end of December. Early in the training that meant Lori had to get up at 4:30 a.m. to get her run in, which would then allow Kent to leave for his run after she returned. For parents who run, this is a familiar pattern. In March, they were able to switch their running time to afternoons, but Lori remembers some tough days when sleet, wind and cold temperatures all seemed to conspire against them.

When faced with these challenges, training for a marathon becomes a psychological challenge, too.

Lori confesses to being rather competitive - more so with herself than others, but she uses that to help her find dedication to continue. When it's race time, she's focused on the race. Kent, said Lori, is much more social. A race to Kent is an opportunity to visit, and enjoy the scenery.

While the challenges of training for a marathon may seem insurmountable, the challenges of training for this marathon probably helped her reach the finish line. This year, the entire Northeast was battered by a Nor'easter, a strong, cold and wet weather pattern. On race day, it was cold and wet. Lori said she covered up, and put plastic bags around her shoes to prevent them from getting wet, which might cause blisters later, and tried to keep out of the wind.

Lori said all of that faded into the background when she started on the famed course. She described it as running through a lot of little towns - towns that have a lot of character. Running through town after town in an urban setting is something runners from northwestern Minnesota don't experience very often, so she found it interesting. There were hills, too, which is something northwestern Minnesotans don't find in their training. She described the hills as "plentiful and challenging." But the crowds set the race above all others. Lori said the crowds of people on the course were several feet deep.

A mile or so from Wesleyan College, Lori said she heard an unusual sound. By the time she reached that point, the roar of girls screaming and cheering them on was deafening. Boston College was another loud spot on the course, she said.

The finish was somewhat anticlimactic. Lori confessed to getting a little emotional at finishes, even though it's a common experience among runners. At this race, however, she just kind of finished and that was it. Lori said maybe it was due to the fact that she didn't have any high expectations or goals for this race. All she wanted to do for this race was run under 4 hours, which she did with 40 seconds to spare.

After a couple of days playing the tourist, Lori, Kent and Ty returned home. Of course, Lori proudly wore her Boston Marathon jacket and medal she earned, to work.

Although this may be a highlight in her running career, and she may deserve a long rest, Lori will be lacing up her running shoes for more long distance races. Lori and Kent will be running in the Fargo Marathon on May 19, and Grandma's Marathon in Duluth in June.

To racers competing in the Boston Marathon, their most important team members include the large throngs of people along the route. (Submitted photo)

Runners make their way along the Boston Marathon race route. Lori Werne of Newfolden, was among those runners. (Submitted)

Music theory compositions to be performed

Northern Expressions School of Arts will present the annual Music Theory Composition Recital at 7 p.m. on Sunday, May 5, in the Lincoln High School band room.

Nine music theory students will be performing their music compositions for the general public. There is no admission fee to this event.

Featured composers this year include Seri Broden, Joel Lunsetter, and Adam Sisler. First year theory students include Calli Adamson, Eric Swanson, Amber Galizia, Dana Dyrud, Zak Larson and Amanda Jesme.

The compositions have been written for various instruments including piano, flute, violin, bass, guitar, cello, drums and voice.

The music theory instructors include Darcy Reese and Rachel Routa. The students have been working very hard to prepare their compositions for the public, so the instructors encourage the public not to miss this event.

Ride on trails responsibly

Winter has finally let loose its grip on northwestern Minnesota. That means many Minnesotans will be headed for the outdoors. For some residents, that means turning over their ATVs and heading out for some trail riding.

Off-Highway Vehicle or ATV trail riding in northwestern Minnesota is important to many people. Not only are many of those vehicles manufactured here, there are many enthusiasts, too. Time is too short, however, for many to have forgotten recent battles to secure access to trail and roads; so, don't forget how important it is to obey the rules of the road and trail. Rider cooperation is needed to make future trails happen and put anti-access proponents at ease.

In a recent edition of Minnesota Off-road, Alex Woodmansee, writes about his trailriding experience. He writes that he saw a set of ATV tracks heading off Soo grade on one recent ride where it was obvious that a rider ran into a low spot almost immediately after leaving the grade and his tires made two very deep ruts that zig-zagged about 100 feet before finding dry ground. "It was a mess and the nearby markings indicated that path was right on a snowmobile trial, closed for the season. These unfortunate events and many others like them have the potential to create opposition to a perfectly sustainable trail by providing a big, ugly and visible example of the negative side of riding ATVs."

Woodmansee is brutally honest about his opinion: "One thoughtless loser, leaving the marked trail and making a mess, can generate a threat for responsible riders who have every right to hope they can have sustainable trails for many years to come."

I might add that this is an important time of year for many wildlife species. Please don't disturb, by chasing or threatening, any of our wildlife.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LHS to celebrate An Evening with the Arts

As spring once again makes its presence known, it is also once again time for Lincoln High School's spring fine arts festival, An Evening with the Arts, on Thursday, May 3 from 6 to 9 p.m. The annual event is a multidisciplinary arts gala beginning with a visual art show, progressing through literary arts readings, and ending with a combination of drama productions and jazz band performances. It is free to the public.

The evening begins with visual demonstrations by Northern Expressions School of the Arts students Ashley Anderson, Angie Franks, Alison Jesme, Bridgette Pachel, April Peterson and Sarah Vigness from 6 to 7 p.m. These students will work in painting, drawing, air brushing, and clay. The LHS hallways will be transformed into an art gallery as the magnet arts students, as well as other students in visual arts classes taught by Marilyn Adams, display their artwork of various styles, media and forms. These pieces will be on display throughout the evening.

From 7 to 7:30 p.m., everyone is invited into the adjoining drama room which will become a "Literary Lounge" where literary arts students Bridgette Pachel, Sarah Chamma, Sarah Michaels, Amanda Jesme, Tevia Reese and Elissa Northup will read their original works. The readings will be presented in an informal coffee shop atmosphere, complete with coffee, provided by A Cup@ Joe's, and hors d'oeuvres prepared by Joan Abercrombie's foods students. The literary arts instructor is Connie Steck.

Then, at 7:45 p.m., the focus will move to the auditorium, where the jazz band, under the direction of Rachel Routa, and theatre students, under the direction of Rosaline Groven, will perform. This is a change from previous years when the jazz band performed at a different time and place. The theatre piece consists of several productions, some of which have second year students as assistant directors, interspersed with jazz performances. The theme of this year's production is "Viewpoints." Each play will be presented in differing styles, some with a surprising twist, and others portraying ordinary situations seen from a unique viewpoint. Students performing in the productions include Joe Welch, Kimberlee Anderson, Sara Mills, Bree Larson, Anne Odegard, Chesnay Dobias, Laura Johnson, Ava Kong, Sarah Chamma, Jessica Appel, Alison Jesme, Jade Gothberg, Coartney Bruggeman, Lauren Rogalla, Bridgette Pachel and Alicia Timm. Assistant student directors include Anne Odegard, Chesnay Dobias, Sara Mills, Ava Kong and Bridgette Pachel, who is performing her own original piece. Student stage managers are Joe Carlson and Kristen McCullough. Stage crews include MacKenzie Swick, Sebastian Groo, Jenna Rybacki, Jessica Slinsky, Karina Towne, Megan Aaland, Whitney Lian and Kim Jones.

American Legion Auxiliary to hold meeting Tuesday

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a meeting Tuesday, May 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Club in Thief River Falls. Dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. All members are welcome to attend.

Department (State) President DeeDee Buckley will speak at the meeting. She is serving under the theme "Forever Making a Difference." Buckley is a 20-year member of the American Legion Auxiliary and an honorary life member of Pequot Lakes Unit #49. She is eligible for membership through her late father, Loren Lien, a World War II U.S. Navy veteran, and her son Matthew Karvonen, a U.S. Navy veteran of the Kosovo Campaign.

Active on the unit and district levels, Buckley has served in every office, including unit president three times and Sixth District president for the 1997-98 Auxiliary year. She has held numerous chairmanships for both the Pequot Lakes Unit and the Sixth District.

Buckley has served the department as second vice president and first vice president. She has also served the department in several chairmanships, including Girls State, leadership, Musical Extravaganza, national security and public relations. She has also served on the Gift Shop Committee, as a hospital representative at the Brainerd Treatment Center. Buckley has served on the Girls State staff for eight years. She is a certified leadership and field service instructor.

Buckley was employed by Nuclear Metals Inc. and is vested by Honeywell Inc., Defense Systems Division. She resides in Roseville.

Beefmobile to visit Winger Livestock

Beef producers who contribute to the Beef Checkoff Program will have an opportunity to learn how their checkoff dollars are invested when the Beefmobile visits Winger Livestock on Saturday, May 5 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Beefmobile's visit is one of 250 stops at livestock marketing facilities and events authorized by the Cattlemen's Beef Board during fiscal year 2006-07.

"The Beefmobile is funded by the Cattlemen's Beef Board on behalf of America's beef producers," said Ken Stielow, chairman of the Cattlemen's Beef Board. "The Beef Act and Order of 1985 mandates that those contributing to the Beef Checkoff Program know how their dollars are invested, and this is one of many tactics used to help achieve that objective.

"The Beefmobile, initiated three years ago, provides producers with direct access to the results of beef checkoff research and promotional efforts. It also gives producers in the area a chance to ask questions about the checkoff and to provide input regarding how checkoff dollars should be invested."

The Beefmobile project is conducted on behalf of America's beef producers and the Cattlemen's Beef Board by the National Livestock Producers Association. NLPA serves as one of the Beef Board's contractors for checkoff funded programs.

Microcontrollers Technology Fair at NCTC May 1

Andrew Dahlen's microcontrollers class at Northland College - Thief River Falls, will conduct a Microcontrollers Technology Fair from noon to 3 p.m. on Tuesday, May 1, in the Commons at NCTC - TRF campus.

Cars, robots, cell phones and appliances are all under the spell of the master electronic puppeteer "the microcontroller." This device is embedded into nearly every modern electronic product. Dahlen invites the public to come and view the exhibits. The Technology Fair is open to the public and is free of charge.

Introduction to Microcontrollers is one of the courses in the Electronics Technology/Automated Systems program at NCTC. This program prepares students for technician level positions in business and industry such as manufacturing technician, robotic technician, quality technician, technical lead, systems integration or manufacturing engineering technician. Students receive a diversified education in automated systems specializing in electronics. The program has been developed in concert with business and industry partners.

For more information on the Electronics Technology Automated Systems program contact Instructor Andrew Dahlen at (218) 681-2986.

Attention Patients of Altru Northwest Clinic
On May 1, Altru Northwest Clinic will become Northwest MeritCare Clinic

The providers and services at the clinic will remain the same; however, patients with insurance will need to contact their insurance company to ensure coverage under the new clinic name.

- If you are a Clinic patient with insurance, please call your insurance company and ask that your primary care clinic be changed from Altru Northwest Clinic (which will no longer exist as of May 1) to Northwest MeritCare Clinic. This needs to be done prior to your first clinic appointment on/after Tuesday, May 1. You must call your insurance company yourself to make this change. Janet Hofford, office specialist in Patient Financial Services, will be happy to answer any questions at (218) 683-4875.
- All appointment times/dates will remain as scheduled.
- We are pleased that Scott Petrescue, M.D., and Malle Roper, D.O. and nurse practitioners Vicki Graves and Paul Klein will remain at Northwest MeritCare Clinic to care for you.
- The clinic will be located in the same place and the phone and fax numbers will remain the same.

In December 2006, Northwest Medical Center announced that we are considering a formal relationship with MeritCare Health System in Fargo, N.D. Those talks are continuing. Be assured that Northwest Medical Center remains committed to the community of Thief River Falls. Please call (218) 683-4400 with any questions or concerns.

"Letter to brother Dave"

Dear Dave,

If some of this letter sounds a little bizarre it's partly due to the fact that a portion was written at three in the morning. I like working nights, but my body doesn't realize that I'm not working tonight and so it wants to stay up. This is a condition I have termed "learned insomnia" as I never have trouble falling asleep except when I am working nights. It's either write you a letter or watch another infomercial on how I can have financial freedom by the end of the week. Lucky you, I've decided on the letter.

Enough about nights spent hiding from sleep, how are things in Carrington, N.D.? I would guess that small grain planting is well under way as your spring planting usually starts earlier than here. How has your life changed since becoming a grandfather? I'm interested as I know the responsibility of being a great uncle carries great responsibility, so I imagine the "grandpa crown" weighs even more heavily. We're really happy for you.

My responsibilities around here are, as always, to simply ask "how high" whenever Lisa requests that I jump. I am currently extending the reach of her flowerbed and collecting pieces for a pondless fountain. I like the idea of a pondless fountain as the water stays fresh and it's safer which is important as I fear water and am resourceful enough to find a way to drown in six inches of water. I also need to paint the house this summer which really appeals to my fear of heights. I hate to be defined by phobias, but at least I've chosen a couple of real nice ones that appeal to a broad spectrum of the population.

The best indications of spring planting are farmers picking rocks or cultivating the edges of their fields. Farmers are chomping at the bit (and their fingernails) to start their short planting season and you can see a few out scratching wet ground with a multi weeder which is a kind of therapy. My old friend, Lloyd Noreen, used to cultivate a little high ground as soon as the snow was gone and then say, "there, that should make the neighbors sweat a little." I'm kind of excited to use my GPS unit for planting, but I won't plant my grazing corn until later in May, so I took your suggestion and mounted the GPS in my pickup and performed some simulated, therapeutic planting of my own.

We are a family of builders and I am no different. Currently, I am fixing up and old shed for my '70s-era John Deere snowmobiles. I had to clean it out first and I kept thinking about the hantavirus scare they had out in South Dakota some time ago. The building is still standing, I'm not coughing or displaying any "flu-like" symptoms and the snowmobiles look comfortable, so I guess I can stamp this project successful.

I believe this is the third letter I've written to you since I started writing for the Northern Watch. I think my previous writing experience and the fact I'm writing for my hometown paper have made this a more enjoyable experience. My only complaint is that people are recognizing me from the picture that goes with the column. If I truly look like the image in that picture then I have bigger things to worry about than heights, drowning in six inches or water, late spring planting or even hantavirus.

I'll have more for you next month, hope you can stand the wait.

Your little bro'

Grant

Cinco de Mayo Fiesta set for May 5

The Stephen Arts Council will host a Cinco de Mayo Fiesta on Saturday, May 5 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Community Arts Center, 506 Fifth St., Stephen. Cinco de Mayo is widely celebrated around the U.S., and the Arts Council is excited to be part of this celebration. The Fiesta is for the whole community, young and old alike, and includes all ethnic backgrounds.

Margarita Bracamonte will demonstrate salsa dancing and will give lessons to anyone who wants to learn. Carmen Garcia will be the cook for the day. She will demonstrate how to make tortillas. Garcia will also prepare the supper that will be served at about 5 p.m. There will be a small charge for this supper.

Throughout the afternoon, there will be children's games, including a piñata. Artifacts and costumes will be displayed. Musicians will entertain attendees throughout the afternoon.

This activity is sponsored by a grant given to the Stephen Arts Council by the Northwest Regional Arts Council.

Sportsman club to host trail clean up day

The Roseau /Lake of the Woods Sportsman Club will be holding its Annual Trail Clean Up Day April 28. A cookout will follow at the Faunce Tower Campground, sponsored by the club. The cleanup will consist of roadway trails: Thompson, Blacks Winner, Dicks Parkway, Bednar, Norris Camp, Hogsback, Krull, Faunce Butterfield and The River Forest Roads.

Participants should bring collected trash to the cookout, where a trailer is available. Off road trails are not open at this time and there are some trails marked with weight restrictions.

Anyone who does not know where to go should be at the NiteHawk in Roosevelt at 11 a.m. April 28. Contact Myles Hogenson at 218-689-6889 with any questions.

Northland pitcher Kindra Trontvet sent a delivery to the plate against Mesabi Range during Tuesday Minnesota Community College Conference softball action at the Multi-Events Center.

Prowlers beat Moorhead 6-4

Twenty-four hours after suffering its first loss of the season, the Thief River Falls 2007 high school baseball team was back in winning form Tuesday when the Prowlers knocked off Moorhead 6-4 at Matson Field.

A five-run second inning produced the Prowlers' fourth straight win over the Spuds, who will be at the Multi-Events Center for a Tuesday, May 15, rematch. Thief River Falls, beaten at Bemidji 5-3 Monday, is 4-1, overall, and 1-1 against North Sub-Section 8AAA teams.

All five of those Thief River Falls second inning runs were scored with two out. It was a scoreless game with a runner at second base when Eric Blix came up with an RBI single. Alex Yaggie and Nick Gagner drew back-to-back full-count walks to load the bases and Michael Benedict scored all three runners with a double to center. A passed ball made it 5-0.

Moorhead cut the difference to 5-2 with three fourth inning singles.

An error and sacrifice fly by Yaggie in the top of the sixth made it 6-2 for the Prowlers, whose only base hit after the second inning was a fifth inning single by Gagner.

"We took advantage of some mistakes by Moorhead, which we didn't do Monday against Bemidji," explained Thief River Falls coach Shane Zutz.

A triple by Tony Emmench, double by Michael Weiss and sacrifice fly by Scott Petry plated two more Moorhead runs in the bottom of the inning.

Sophomore Cody Conners pitched the first four innings for the win. Patrick Barry worked the final three frames in relief for a save.

"Cody pitched very well, staying out of trouble, and Patrick came in and pitched well, especially the last two innings," mentioned Zutz. "We kept our composure and didn't get rattled when things got tight."

Northern Freeze wins 4-2 softball game vs. Eagles

Mariah Richard came through with a tie-breaking two-run double in the fifth inning to lift Northern Freeze past host East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 4-2 Tuesday in high school softball.

That was one of just three hits by the winners, who improved to 4-0.

"A game where we again did not do a great job at the plate," admitted Northern Freeze coach Jake Foslien. "But we faced a good pitcher, who had our number the majority of the game."

With the offense struggling, Northern Freeze relied on another strong pitching performance by Ashley Hestekind to remain unbeaten.

"Hats off to Ashley and the defense behind her," said Foslien. "She did a great job hitting her spots and making hitters hit her pitch. And the defense did a great job making the plays."

Northland, Hibbing play back-to-back doubleheaders...

Pioneers take three of four

Northland won three of four games in back-to-back Minnesota Community College Conference baseball doubleheaders against Hibbing that were played at the two home sites Monday and Tuesday.

The Pioneers won 17-3 and 9-2 Monday games in Thief River Falls and opened the next-day twinbill in Hibbing with a 6-5 victory before the Cardinals salvaged the final game 4-2.

It was originally scheduled as a four-game Saturday/Sunday series in Hibbing, but weekend rain on the Iron Range forced a change in plans.

The Hibbing victory snapped a school-record 13-game winning streak for Northland, and ended the the Pioneers' unbeaten status in the MCCC Northern Division where they had opened with nine straight wins.

"Monday, we didn't play great baseball, but we did enough things well enough to win two games," said Northland coach Steve Gust. "Tuesday, we ran into a completely different Hibbing team. They (Cardinals) played much better than they did on Monday."

Northland began the series with a 19-hit attack in Monday's first game that included home runs by Nick Stenberg and Ross Helling.

The Pioneers' Game 2 Monday offense was bunched into a nine-run second inning that featured a three-run home run by Casey Solem.

Tuesday's Game 1 highlight was a pitching performance by Dave Swatlowski, who picked up his sixth save of the year when he came on in relief of starter Derek Neset.

The Cardinals, down 6-3, had the bases loaded and nobody out when Swatlowski, a freshman from Thompson, N.D., took over. He got a double play ground ball (which scored a run) and a pop-up for the third out.

But the deficiencies the Pioneers overcame with offense and pitching the first three games caught up to them in the finale when they were out-hit 9-6 and collected three of the game's four errors.

Monday Game 1

MCCC state tournament will be held in St. Cloud

Northland's 2007 baseball season will include an appearance in the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament May 3-5 at St. Cloud.

In addition to naming a state champion, the eight-team event will advance its top five finishers to the National Junior College Athletic Association Division III Region 13 tournament, scheduled to be played May 11-13 in Willmar.

After forcing Northland runner Matt Graak at second base, Minot State University-Bottineau shortstop Travor Scott made the throw to first base to complete a fifth inning double play in the first game of Thursday's baseball doubleheader in Thief River Falls.

Slow start doesn't stop NCTC sweep

Northland went outside the Minnesota Community College Conference baseball ranks Thursday for a nonconference doubleheader against Minot State University-Bottineau. And for the first three innings in Game 1, the Pioneers played like the match-up at their home park had little importance. Lacking emotion, they fell behind 4-1. Their energy level picked up, though, with a late-inning rally that netted a 6-5 come-from-behind win that was followed by a 13-0 second-game blowout for the sweep.

A lead-off home run by Nick Stenberg in the second inning was the only early highlight for the Pioneers, who hit into four double plays in the first five innings.

Matt Greek's two-out, two-run single capped a sixth inning rally that put Northland ahead 5-4, only to see the Lumberjacks tie it on two walks and an error in the top of the seventh.

The Pioneers responded in the bottom of the inning when David Lovly drew a one-out walk and stole second. At that point, a decision by coach Steve Gust to keep Casey Solem on the bench at the start suddenly became an advantage for the Pioneers.

A demanding schedule that called for the Pioneers to play six doubleheaders in seven days to close out the regular season had prompted Gust to rest Solem, one of the top players in the MCCC Northern Division, in Thursday's opener. But with the game on the line and facing the prospects of extra innings (obviously not what his team needed at this point), Gust utilized the sophomore from East Grand Forks as a two-out pinch-hitter.

The strategy worked. It wasn't a solid hit, but Solem's blooper fell between a back-peddling second baseman and a charging center fielder for a game-ending RBI single.

In the nightcap, Thief River Falls freshman Ross Helling threw a four-hit, 10-run rule five-inning shutout to lighten the Pioneers' work load even more.

The sweep put the Pioneers, who were coming off a pair of losses at Itasca Wednesday at 19-13 for the year. They are 9-3 in the Northern Division heading into 1 p.m. doubleheaders today (Saturday) and Sunday against Mesabi Range at the Northland diamond to close out the regular season.

Game 1

Thief River Falls wins 6-1 tennis match vs. Bemidji

Earlier this spring, the Thief River Falls boys high school tennis team beat a Pine City squad coached by Rick Engelstad 5-2. Thursday, the Prowlers defeated Bemidji, coached by Scott Engelstad, 6-1. Playing at No. 1 singles for the winners was Jacob Engelstad. Lincoln High School graduates Rick and Scott are brothers. Jacob is their nephew.

"I like playing Bemidji," said Thief River Falls coach Corey Thorson, who is also an LHS grad. "They always have a bunch of well-coached, hard-working kids."

Cody Bottem, Jordan Swanson and Chase Haviland were also winners in singles for the Prowlers, who improved their dual record to 7-1 in just their second home appearance of the 2007 season.

The Prowlers added doubles wins by Corey Honen-Brian Kays and Connor Hutton-Parker Nessen.

"Scott played a fine-up that matched out strength," noted Thorson. "He's got a nice young nucleus that will only get better."

Exhibition - Brenden Skime-Lucas Dillon (TRF) won 5-7, 6-2 (7-5)

Jacob Engelstad made the return on this shot as he played No. 1 singles for Thief River Falls in a Thursday boys high school tennis dual vs. Bemidji.

Central Lakes sweeps twinbill from Pioneers

Central Lakes improved its Northern Division-leading record to 9-1 Monday by sweeping Northland 17-0, 11-2 in a Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division softball doubleheader at Brainerd.

It was the first meeting of the year between the two teams, who have an April 30, rematch at the Multi-Events Center.

Kyle Klasen of MCC, Jeremy Sich of TRF to play at Northland

Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball coach Rick Nikunen announced this week that Kyle Klasen of Marshall County Central and Jeremy Sich of Thief River Falls have signed letters of intent to play for the Pioneers in 2007-08.

Klasen is a 6-1 guard who averaged 21.3 points, 6 rebounds and 4 assists per game for the Nordics as a senior. He finished his high school basketball career with 1,174 points and set a school record with 99 3-pointers.

Sich is a 5-7 guard who averaged 9 points, 2 rebound, 4 assists and 1.8 steals per game for the Prowlers in 2006-07.

The Pioneers were 29-5 this past winter when they won the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament, claimed the National Junior College Athletic Association Division III Region 13 title and finished second in the NJCAA Division III national tournament.

Trial in Indonesia

week. Ness' trial was held one day a week as it was held at the Governor's Office Complex, when the governor wasn't working. The trial was moved there for security reasons.

Ness and his family received a lot of support during the trial. "I was amazed by the outstanding support my family received from all over the world, from cards, letters, e-mails, phone calls, not only from friends and family but from people that I did not even know that were watching this case," wrote Ness. "I certainly can also say that our Minnesota senators and the State Department were very supportive."

He added, "Newmont was extremely supportive throughout the process, even the chairman, Wayne Murdey (as well as others), was in continual contact with both me and my wife, Nova, throughout the last 33 months, and they flew out two of my sons to be with me and my wife during the verdict."

Ness wasn't jailed in connection with the case. Five other NMR employees were jailed for more than a month in connection with the case. They were later released.

This isn't the end of charges against Newmont. A civil case was recently filed. "In short, the suit does not even pass a giggle test," wrote Ness, who noted that the verdict in the criminal case will probably impact the outcome of the civil case. The civil lawsuit was filed by an environmental group.

In 2006, a $133 million civil lawsuit against Newmont was settled for $30 million. The government had filed that lawsuit based on the same claims from the criminal trial.

Straw was used Tuesday night as an accelerant to burn down a house near the intersection of Fourth Street and Kinney Avenue in Thief River Falls. Firefighters burned down the house as part of a training exercise and to make way for a duplex at that location.

head and skin mounts and other things, but he really enjoys novelty art - like the white mice display he created.

Nygaard explained that one day he took two white mice and placed them at a miniature pool table, which was about six inches long. One mouse was posed so it looked like it was making a break shot, and the other, leaning on a pool cue.

He said he saw a similar type of art made by an artist in New York that displayed squirrels at a picnic. Nygaard said someday he'd like to take some small creatures and create a big band, but he hasn't gotten around to it, yet.

Much of Nygaard's work utilizes antlers and deer feet. He restores them, repairs them, performs color restoration, if necessary, and creates something new, like a hanging chandelier made of deer feet, a table lamp, or a moose antler with a photography of a moose inset in the palm.

He gets his material from a number of sources. He goes to a lot of flea markets, and garage sales. Of course, many area residents know he makes art from antlers and feet and there are times when he comes home to find a box or two of them on his front porch step.

He keeps his material in his basement or museum, as he calls it. He described the basement as being stacked to the ceiling with parts and pieces for projects and completed projects. One might wonder whether this creates some disharmony in the household. To that, Nygaard said, "My wife has the house, and I have the basement."

A lot of people, Nygaard said, think all you have to do is dry out the skin, but there's much more to it. Nygaard uses various processes and chemicals to protect the skins. As many discover, it also takes a great deal of skill.

He said the process can be messy and time consuming, but it's worth it because he really enjoys it when a project comes together.

Nygaard creates dozens of antler art projects every year. Over his career, he's probably created thousands, including fish, hides, heads, and even snakes.

One snake, an 18-foot python, will be on display at the Boy Scout Expo. There's a story behind the snake, said Nygaard. He explained that his aunt was a missionary in Africa. When she visited one particular village in Africa in the 20s or 30s, the witch doctor forbade residents from visiting with the missionaries. As the missionaries were preparing to leave, they heard a scream. Nygaard said a snake had come out of the bush and swallowed a small child. The missionaries ran to rescue the child, killing the snake. Normally, Nygaard said, such a snake kills its prey before swallowing, but this child was so small it swallowed it whole. Because it had swallowed the child, they were able to save the child and the people of the village ignored the witch doctor after that.

Nygaard also plans to display a couple of alligators, which he's sure to tell a story or two about. The public is invited to attend the Boy Scout Expo from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday

CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS
2006 DRINKING WATER REPORT

The City of Thief River Falls is issuing the results of monitoring done on its drinking water for the period from January 1 to December 31, 2006. The purpose of this report is to advance consumers' understanding of drinking water and heighten awareness of the need to protect precious water resources.

Source of Water

The City of Thief River Falls provides drinking water to its residents from a surface water source: surface water drawn from the Red Lake River.

The water provided to customers may meet drinking water standards but the Minnesota Department of Health has determined that one or more of the sources of water is susceptible to contamination. If you wish to obtain the entire source water assessment regarding your drinking water, please call 651-201-4700 or 1-800-818-9318 (and press 5) during normal business hours. Also, you can view it online at www.health.state.mn.us/divs/eh/water/swp/swa.

Call 681-3809 if you have questions about the City of Thief River Falls drinking water or would like information about opportunities for public participation in decisions that may affect the quality of the water.

Results of Monitoring

No contaminants were detected at levels that violated federal drinking water standards. However, some contaminants were detected in trace amounts that were below legal limits. The table that follows shows the contaminants that were detected in trace amounts last year. (Some contaminants are sampled less frequently than once a year; as a result, not all contaminants were sampled for in 2006. If any of these contaminants were detected the last time they were sampled for, they are included in the tables along with the date that the detection occurred.)

Key to abbreviations:
MCLG - Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MCL - Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
TT - Treatment Technique: A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.
NTU - Nephelometric Turbidity Unit, used to measure clarity in drinking water.
MRDL - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level
MRDLG - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal
AL - Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment, or other requirement, which a water system must follow.
90th Percentile Level: This is the value obtained after disregarding 10 percent of the samples taken that had the highest levels. (For example, in a situation in which 10 samples were taken, the 90th percentile level is determined by disregarding the highest result, which represents 10 percent of the samples.) Note: In situations in which only 5 samples are taken, the average of the two with the highest levels is taken to determine the 90th percentile level.
ppb - Parts per billion, which can also be expressed as micrograms per liter (ug/l).
ppm - Parts per million, which can also be expressed as milligrams per liter (mg/l).
N/A - Not Applicable (does not apply).

Contaminant (units)	MCGL	MCL	LEVEL FOUND Range (2006)	Average/Result*	Typical Source of Contaminant
Fluoride (ppm)	4.0	4.0	1.1-1.2	1.15	State of Minnesota requires all municipal water systems to add fluoride to drinking water to promote strong teeth; Erosion of natural deposits; Discharge from fertilizer and aluminum factories.
Haloacetic Acids (HAA5) (ppb)	0	60	6.8-25.7	17.68	By-product of drinking water disinfection
Nitrate (as Nitrogen) (ppm)	10	10	N/A	.54	Runoff from fertilizer use; Leaching from septic tanks, sewage; Erosion of natural deposits
TTHM (Total trihalomethanes) (ppb)	0	80.0	14.1-41.7	29.43	By-product of drinking water disinfection

* This is the value used to determine compliance with federal standards. It sometimes is the highest value detected and sometimes is an average of all detected values. If it is an average, it may contain sampling results from the previous years.

Contaminant (units)	MCLG	MCL			Typical Source of Contaminant
Turbidity (NTU)	N/A	TT	98%	0.37	Soil runoff.

 Lowest Monthly Percentage of Samples Meeting the Turbidity limits
 Highest Single Measurement
Turbidity is a measure of the clarity of the water. We monitor it because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of our filtration system. The percentage of Total Organic Carbon (TOC) removal was measured each month and the system met all TOC removal requirements set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

Contaminant (units)	MRDLG	MRDL	*		Typical Source of Contaminant
Chlorine (ppm)	4	4	1.9-2.2	2.11	Water additive used to control microbes

* Highest and Lowest Monthly Average
 Highest Quarterly Average

Contaminant (units)	MCLG	AL	90% Level	# sites over AL	Typical Source of Contaminant
Lead (ppb)	N/A	15	7.0	0 out of 20	Corrosion of household plumbing systems, erosion of natural deposits
Copper (ppm)	N/A	1.3	0.08	0 out of 20	Corrosion of household plumbing systems, erosion of natural deposits

Some contaminants do not have Maximum Contaminant Levels established for them. These "unregulated contaminants" are assessed using state standards known as health risk limits to determine if they pose a threat to human health. If unacceptable levels of an unregulated contaminant are found, the response is the same as if an MCL has been exceeded, the water system must inform its customers and take other corrective actions. In the table that follows are the unregulated contaminants that were detected.

Compliance with National Primary Drinking Water Regulations

Contaminants (units)	Level Found Range (2005)	Average/Result	Typical Source of Contaminant
Sodium (ppm) (03/24/2004)	N/A	4.1	Erosion of natural deposits
Sulfate (ppm) (03/24/2004)	N/A	96.0	Erosion of natural deposits

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metal, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources, such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.
Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.
Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) prescribes regulations, which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 800-426-4791.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 800-426-4791.

This report is not being mailed to individual customers. However, copies of the report are available by contacting the Thief River Falls Water Department at 681-3809.

Paddlers invited to join Red Lake River Rendezvous on May 28 - June 10

Tour the Red Lake River

Red Lake River Corridor Enhancement Joint Powers Board has announced the Red Lake River Rendezvous Tour 2007. The Rendezvous is a recreational trek down the entire length of the Red Lake River.

"This tour is being held to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Red Lake River designation as a canoe and small boat route. By highlighting the river resource, we hope to raise awareness about the opportunities for recreation and the need for more access and improvements to the access points along the route," said Gail Healy, chairman of the group.

Paddling enthusiasts are encouraged to join the tour for a few hours, a single day or even several days depending on individual experience and interest.

"We're hoping that people who are familiar with the river as well as those who are just discovering the gem will be able to participate for a day or two," says Wayne Goeken, who is coordinator for Riverwatch, a tour community partner. A small number of canoes will be available for those who would like to paddle along a portion of the route.

For more information and to sign up to join the tour, please contact Joe Courneya at the International Water Institute, 701-231-6184.

Additional celebration events will take place during the tour in communities found along the river. Activities are planned for June 1 in Thief River Falls; June 2 in St. Hilaire; June 3 in Red Lake Falls; June 4 in Huot Park; June 6 in Crookston, and June 8 in Fisher. For information on community events, or to see how you can help out, contact Shawnn Balstad at 218-253-2646.

Since 1967, many have traveled the 193-mile stretch that begins where the Red Lake River exits Lower Red Lake and winds its way to East Grand Forks where it joins the Red River of the North. Along this scenic river way, travelers pass through pine and spruce forests, then through deciduous forests on the beach ridges of glacial Lake Agassiz and finally meander across the flat lake plain of the Red River Valley.

The Red Lake River Corridor has a lot to offer anyone interested in recreation or a calm ride down a beautiful route. In the last couple years a lot of work has been done to improve the Corridor; and the University of Minnesota Northwest

Closing of Kennedy campus studied

Kennedy - Kittson Central School Board members compiled a list of community members to form a committee that would gather information related to the potential closing of the elementary school in Kennedy.

Architects are working on different scenarios for the school, not just closing the school. "Superintendent Bruce Jensen said he would then take the architects' information, add any additional district financial information and present it to the board before the committee convenes." - Kittson County Enterprise, May 2, 2007, by Louise Money

150-year-old water turbine unearthed

Red Lake Falls - "The Red Lake Falls Community Enhancement Club has embarked on a new mission to recover a historical object that has been out of public view for more than 90 years.

"What some may recall as an innocuous circular planter in the front yard of local icon Al Buse is actually the upper mounting ring of a cast iron hydroturbine that once powered the grinding stones in the Steinert flour mill and other milling entities across the state.

"Members of the Red Lake Falls CEC gathered April 23 in the Buse yard at the request of Buse, who would like to see something done with the object."

The CEC invited the Minnesota Historical Society to witness the excavation and offer its expertise for the wheel's preservation as well as to discuss options for displaying the relic.

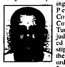
"Currently, the wheel remains in the opened pit with most of the tree removed from its hub. The CEC awaits the possible return of MHS members in coming weeks for another workday, which could result in the final lift of the wheel from its near-century-old resting place and movement into a shelter." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, May 2, 2007, by Don Johanneck

Co. Board handles road department purchases

Warren - "In a fairly brief meeting Tuesday, the Marshall County Board of Commissioners started the ball rolling for equipment purchases for the County Highway Department, worked on building maintenance and emergency management grant matters, and adopted a procedure for handling certain types of fund requests." - Warren Sheaf, May 2, 2007

Hunter Gust is a very special girl

Strathcona - "Every day, we hear about special people, most of them famous for one reason or another. They're athletes, politicians and actors, but none of them can hold a candle to Hunter Gust, 12, rural Strathcona, who is the all-time champ at just being herself.



"If there are bad days in her young life, she never complains. She came into this world with a defective heart, meaning she had the fight of her life just getting past the first month. At just 12 hours old, she had her first heart procedure. Then, at three weeks old, she had open heart surgery. Last weekend, just four days after she had undergone still another heart procedure, she was ready to go." - Roseau Times Region, April 28, 2007, by Jeff Olson

TRF man agrees to stipulation that he is sexually dangerous

by April Sehelnoha
Reporter

A Thief River Falls man signed a stipulation Tuesday that would require him to serve an initial commitment as a sexually dangerous person.

Nicholas Donald Aune, his attorney, and an assistant attorney general signed the stipulation after a hearing in Pennington County District Court on Tuesday. A judge is expected to review the stipulation and then sign the order within a few weeks, according to the Pennington County Court Administrator's Office.

Nicholas Aune

Aune, 30, is currently being held at the Minnesota Correctional Facility at Lino Lakes. Court documents indicate that Aune is serving a 23-month sentence for third degree criminal sexual conduct. Aune is serving that sentence after he violated the conditions of his release for that charge, which stemmed from the 2003 rape of his cousin on Aune's wedding night in Thief River Falls. Aune is serving the sentence concurrently with a 26-month prison sentence for harassment/stalking after he followed a female Pennington County Jail employee from an unidentified Thief River Falls bank to Hugo's in 2005. The Minnesota Department of Corrections Web site indicates that Aune was scheduled to be released in October.

In January, Pennington County Human Services Director Ken Yutrzenka filed a petition to civilly commit Aune as a sexually dangerous person and sexual psychopathic personality.

Yutrzenka's petition cites a number of incidents in which Aune followed females, exposed himself and/or made sexually-explicit comments to females. It includes 13 incidents for which Aune was charged. Those charges include criminal sexual conduct, harassment/stalking, harassment - phone calls, indecent exposure, disorderly conduct, interference with privacy and possession of stolen property. One of his possession of stolen property charges stemmed from the

A message of tragedy, forgiveness and peace ...

With a picture of casket bearers carrying her eldest sons' caskets sitting on an easel beside her, Connie Backstrom shared the story of the deaths of her sons, Matthew, Justin and Jacob. Connie and her husband, Nathan, spoke April 27 at Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Argyle. Earlier that day, they spoke to more than 150 students at Marshall County Central High School in Newfolden. The Marshall County Temperance Society hosted the presentations.

"I will never forget them, but I will see them again."
– Nathan Backstrom

Hampton couple tells about the deaths of their three sons in a car accident

by April Sehelnoha
Reporter

Like most brothers, they spent a lot of time together. They splashed and played together in a bathtub. They also carved pumpkins together at Halloween. They clowned around while gathering for the requisite Christmas video. Years later, they died together.

On April 27, Nathan and Connie Backstrom of Hampton told an audience about their eldest sons, Matthew, Jacob and Justin. As Nathan put it, their story is one of tragedy, forgiveness, incredible hope, and peace.

"There are three crosses one mile east of Farmington where our boys left this life and met our Lord and Savior," Nathan said to the audience of about 55 people at Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Argyle.

Connie remembers the last time she saw them alive. At 4:36 p.m. Oct. 10, 2004, they left home to drop off film at Wal-Mart. Connie hugged them goodbye.

A Wal-Mart surveillance tape shows the brothers walking in the store 30 minutes before they died. As the tape played during the presentation, Nathan said that it captured the brothers' personalities. Matthew, 20, was laid-back. Jacob, 17, was shuffling through the store. Justin, 16, was looking everywhere and probably talking a mile a minute, driving his brothers nuts.

A little while later, at 7:20 p.m., Jacob called his mom. He told her they were leaving the Wal-Mart parking lot. And like any teenage boy, he asked her what was for supper. It was the last time Connie would ever speak to him.

"I said, 'I love you, Jacob.' He said, 'I love you, too,'" Connie recalled.

Half an hour, 40 minutes, 60 minutes went by. Connie noted that Matthew, who was driving, wasn't one to be in a hurry. Yet, as time passed, Connie started worrying. She thought their car went into a ditch or they had car trouble. "The thought that they would run into someone who was drinking didn't enter my mind," Connie said.

Two hours after Jacob called, two sheriff's deputies arrived at the Backstrom home. They got out of their vehicles. They looked at each other and then back at Connie. "I knew someone was dead, but I couldn't imagine what I was about

TRF gets new activities director

by David Hill
Editor

Mike Biermaier, administrative assistant to the Activities Director in Crookston, has been offered the job of Activities Director in School District 564, Thief River Falls.

"We felt we had a strong pool of candidates," said Superintendent Irv Peterson who added that he thought Biermaier will bring a lot of experience and enthusiasm to the District.

Peterson said 25 or 26 individuals applied for the job, and seven were interviewed. Two separate committees, consisting of administrators, representatives of the Board of Education, coaches, Sports Boosters and various departments in the District, interviewed the candidates. Those two committees were directed to select two candidates. Interestingly, both committees came forward with the same two finalists. During a discussion between the committees, a consensus was reached and the job was offered to Biermaier.

Biermaier has accepted the offer and on May 1, signed a contract. Pending final approval by the Board of Education at its May 14 meeting, Biermaier will officially take over on July 1.

Biermaier said the process was thorough but he felt comfortable. He said he is very excited for the opportunity and feels fortunate to be working in Thief River Falls.

Peterson said Biermaier was a chiropractor who decided he wanted to work in education and changed his career path. Currently, he serves as the administrative assistant to the activities director in Crookston.

Among the candidates to apply for the position were three individuals who are employed by the District. Peterson said he visited with the local candidates after the decision and all said they were willing to work with the new activities director.

The candidates who applied for

Anytime Fitness ignites fitness center boom in TRF

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Thief River Falls is at the center of a fitness boom in northwest Minnesota. There are currently five businesses and at least eight venues in the city that are intended to promote physical fitness, including a new Anytime Fitness franchise located in the Greenwood Crossing building (the old Pamida building).

The Thief River Falls Anytime Fitness location opened its doors March 15. Owner Tom Falk said the club has been well received in Thief River Falls.

"The club has been very busy," Falk said. "We've had lots of interest and we're very happy with the way things are going so far."

The new Anytime Fitness is one more choice for area residents who are looking for a fitness center that meets their needs. It joins Marty's Gym, located in the basement of Budget Electronics; Life Fitness Center (also open 24 hours a day) located at Northwest Medical Center; the Thief River Falls Racquetball Club; and Curves for Women. Residents can also choose to purchase a ... through the Ralph Engelstad Arena, Lincoln High School or Northland Community and Technical College.

What separates Anytime Fitness from most fitness clubs is that it is available to customers 24 hours a day, including holidays. The club is staffed from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekends, but members can enter the club whenever they wish 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"We never ever close out any ... this is a 24 hour club," Falk explained. ... tanning beds, weight training

FMS Select Music Ensembles to perform concert

Franklin Middle School select music ensembles will present a concert on Monday, May 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the FMS Multi-Purpose Room. Featured groups will be the Morning Darkness Jazz Band, Sunrise Singers, and Starlight Strings. Students in these groups are selected by audition, and represent some of the finest music students at FMS.

All of the groups will be performing music from their upcoming performance tour. They will be travelling to the Twin Cities on May 10-12, and will be performing at several sites as they tour. Admission for the concert is $2 for adults and $1 for students K-8. Preschool and senior citizens are admitted free of charge. Proceeds from the concert help with transportation costs for the performance tour.

Goodridge High School concert set

Goodridge High School will present its end-of-the-year concert at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 10. The junior varsity band, varsity band, varsity choir, and Windfall will be performing.

This concert is dedicated to the senior class of Goodridge High School and their parents.

Some of the songs scheduled for this concert include: "Dreams," "Because You Loved Me," "Always Friends," "Joyful, Joyful" from "Sister Act 2: Back in the habit," and "May You Go Forth in Love."

Awards will also be presented at this concert.

Thank You...

I would like to thank everyone who came out to help me celebrate my 60th birthday.

Special thank you to Pastor Nancy and some of my family members for their "special music" and to my grandchildren for singing "Grandpa" to me. That was very special.

Thanks to the American Legion for the use of their facilities and to Steve Kriel with "Party Sensations" for the dance music.

Last but not least, thanks so much to my family and Kim's friend Nicole for all their work with the planning, decorating and the food.

It was a very memorable Birthday! Thanks again and God Bless you all.

Small Business Works for America

A tough shrub for four seasons.

Since Melvin Bergeson discovered the Bergeson Dogwood growing in a stand of native dogwood near Gary, MN, its popularity has skyrocketed.

Bergeson selected the Bergeson Dogwood for its deep-red winter branch color, its dense growth, its long blooming habit, and its fall color.

Changing from green to deep maroon and finally to a bright cherry red, the Bergeson Dogwood has consistently spectacular fall color.

More compact than other dogwoods, the Bergeson Dogwood forms a lush green shrub in the summer and brightens the winter landscape with glowing red branches. Its small white blossoms keep coming for most of the summer.

The Bergeson Dogwood makes a perfect choice for the corner of your house or for a larger hedge. It's easily trimmed, and if it ever gets too big cut it back to six inches and start fresh. The new growth will have even brighter winter color.

One of the fastest growing shrubs for the North, Bergeson Dogwood grows vigorously into a mature shrub. Because it is native, it is winter-hardy and free of disease.

With fall color, winter color, spring bloom and lush summer foliage the Bergeson Dogwood contributes to the landscape in all four seasons.

Bergeson Dogwood are available bare root in sizes ranging from $2.99 to $24.50. See them and any other varieties of trees and shrubs in the Bare Root Building at Bergeson Nursery. Now is the time to plant Bare Root!

Various lease agreements impact DCP participation

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds producers that flexible and combination leases or rental agreements may alter the agreement terms of FSA's Direct and Counter-cyclical Program (DCP). FSA regulations have been in effect for nearly 10 years but have attracted new interest due to the recent popularity of flexible or combination leases. These provisions have been in place to protect both landlords and tenants, as well as to insure compliance with payment limitation rules.

In the past, most farmers rented land for a certain cash rent and nothing else. Due to the recent spike in cash grain prices, some renters and landlords are becoming more creative in the way rent is figured. While this is certainly acceptable, renters and landlords must convey their rental terms to their local county office FSA staff so the landlord's share will be listed on the DCP contract.

FSA is not trying to prevent any landlords and renters from using these variable leases. It just wants to ensure that farmers are aware of the regulations now so they don't end up with problems next fall when FSA does compliance spot checks.

The key determinant in terms of how FSA looks at these leases is whether the landlord shares in the production risk of the crop. Leases, which are based in part or entirely on a share of the crop or proceeds are considered share leases and must be reflected as such by the producers when signing up for DCP payments. Under a share lease, the landlord must receive a share of the DCP payment in proportion to the percentage of share they receive per the terms of their rental agreement.

Another concern to the share-rent rule is when a bonus is paid to the landlord. If the bonus is not included in the lease and is voluntary, it is usually acceptable. If it is included in the lease, it is subject to the same rules as other cash leases.

Signup for the 2007 DCP is currently underway at county FSA office and continues through Aug. 3, 2007. Additional information on flexible and combination leases is available at county FSA offices.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today's recipes are from my McIntosh Cookbook of 2005, reprinted from the McIntosh Centennial in 1989. Lots of good recipes for your upcoming spring/summer events, like graduations, showers, luncheons and picnics.

Here's a perfectly pretty salad with a simple name, just right for that graduation lunch:

SALAD
Gena Krogstad

3/4 cup cooked rice
3/4 cup coarse ground cranberries (can be frozen)
1 cup crushed pineapple, partially drained
1/2 cup green grapes, cut up
1/2 cup dried apricots, ground coarsely and boiled
3 tablespoons sugar
Pinch of salt
1 cup small marshmallows
1 cup whipped topping

Cook apricots and rice. Grind cranberries and then apricots. Cut up grapes. Cool rice and apricots. Mix rice, cranberries, pineapple, grapes and apricots together and then, after cool, add remaining ingredients. Let stand a couple of hours before serving.

There are many variations of this sauerkraut salad in the cookbook, but I chose this one because it has caraway seed. Bet it's good. The other recipes included shredded carrot and pimento olives, if you want to add those too:

SAUERKRAUT SALAD
Tracy Aaklus
with similar recipes by: Nora Grimm, Mrs. Erling Olson, and Adella Thompson

1 can sauerkraut
3/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 small jar pimentos, chopped
2 small onion, chopped
1 cup celery, cut up
1 teaspoon caraway seed
Salt and pepper.

Do not drain sauerkraut. Mix all ingredients and let stand a few hours or overnight before serving.

Lots of these types of salad, but it is a great addition to any get-together:

LAYERED LETTUCE SALAD
Irene Sannes
with similar recipes by: Kay Enerson, Charlotte Hopke and Mrs. Albert Senn

1 head lettuce
1 cup celery, diced
4 eggs, hard cooked and sliced
1 package frozen peas, uncooked
1/2 cup green pepper, diced
1 medium sweet onion, diced
8 slices bacon, fried and diced
2 cups mayonnaise
2 tablespoons sugar
4 ounces grated Cheddar cheese

Tear lettuce into small pieces and place in 9x13 inch pan. Layer remaining vegetables, eggs and bacon in order given.

Add sugar to mayonnaise and spread over as if frosting, top with grated cheese. Cover and refrigerate 12 hours.

At serving time, garnish with additional bacon and parsley.

I'm partial to lime salad of any kind, so this one caught my eye:

LIME COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD
Marilyn Thompson

1 package lime gelatin
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup cream, whipped
1 container cottage cheese
1/3 cup walnuts, cut up
1 small can crushed pineapple, drained

Mix gelatin, boiling water and sugar and place in refrigerator to partially set.

Add remaining ingredients in order given and place in mold or bowl until firm.

We always had Glorified Rice at our family gatherings when I was a kid. I've since learned a little trick about making it that makes it even better. I cook the rice as directed on package and then add milk and cook a while longer, until very creamy, like rice pudding. Cool this before mixing with remaining ingredients (and you might be able to sneak a little dish of the "rice pudding" and top it with cinnamon/sugar for your own little treat:

GLORIFIED RICE
Mrs. Clifford Bartz

1 pint-sized can shredded (crushed) pineapple
1 cup pineapple juice
1 cup cream, whipped
2 cups cold cooked rice
1 package lemon gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
About 1 cup mini marshmallows (Mrs. Bartz' recipe says 10 marshmallows so that probably means the larger ones)

Drain pineapple and reserve 1 cup juice (add water if needed). Dissolve gelatin in boiling water and then add pineapple juice. Refrigerate to thicken.

Add pineapple to rice. Whip cream and add sugar. Mix together and then add to thickened gelatin mixture. Add marshmallows and refrigerate overnight.

With all the fresh fruits in the stores now, everyone will enjoy this summertime treat. Also, it has nutritional information for you who want it. This recipe is not from the McIntosh cookbook, but it's good anyway. You may want to make 3 or 4 times the recipe for a crowd or even try a watermelon, and you can add other fruits in season as you wish:

FRUIT-FILLED MELONS

2 large cantaloupes, halved and seeded
1 medium orange, peeled and sectioned
1 medium apple, cubed
1 medium peach, sliced
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 cup fresh blueberries
1/2 cup halved fresh strawberries
1 (6 ounce) carton nonfat pineapple, lemon or vanilla yogurt
2 tablespoons unsweetened applesauce
1 teaspoon honey
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
4 large lettuce leaves

Scoop out 2 cups of cantaloupe balls with melon baler. Set aside. Cut out and reserve remaining cantaloupe for another use, leaving 1/2 inch thick shells.

In large bowl, combine orange sections, apples and peach slices. Sprinkle with lemon juice and toss gently. Stir in cantaloupe balls, blueberries and strawberries.

In small bowl, combine yogurt, applesauce, honey and ginger. Line melon shells with lettuce and add fruit. Top with yogurt mixture. Recipe serves 4.

Nutritional Info (for original recipe that serves 4): One serving equals 216 calories, 57 mg sodium, 1 mg chol, 51 g carbs, 6 gm protein, 1 gm fat. Diabetic Exchange is 3 fruit and 1/2 skim milk.

Grace Chapel Quartet to perform at Erskine Church

The Grace Chapel Quartet of Bagley will perform a gospel concert at Rodnes Lutheran Church in rural Erskine on Sunday, May 6 at 7 p.m. The quartet consists of Doyle Fultz singing bass, Bob Cleveland singing baritone, Gary Fultz singing lead and Wayne Watkins singing tenor. Gary is also the keyboard specialist for the group.

The Grace Chapel Quartet has presented the Gospel in song at various venues from churches to area fairs. Their program will feature traditional quartet music, interspersed with solos, an occasional duet and even a flugelhorn solo.

There is no charge for the concert, but a freewill offering will be taken to aid the group in their ministry of music. Refreshments will follow the evening's concert.

Greenbush Friends of the Library plan spring banquet

The Greenbush Area Friends of the Library will hold its Fourth Annual Spring Banquet and Membership Drive on Wednesday, May 16 at the Greenbush Community Center. Social time and library tours begin at 6:30 p.m., with the dinner at 7 p.m., followed by a program. Tickets are $15 and $10 for life members. A limited number of tickets are being sold and are available at the Greenbush Public Library or you may purchase them from a FDL member.

Sheriff's deputies to start ticketing near the MEC

Pennington County sheriff's deputies will soon start issuing citations to drivers who park along State Aid 18 near the Multi-Events Center in Thief River Falls. Parking along that highway could cost motorists $120 in fees and fines.

"If people insist on parking there, we'll issue citations," said Sheriff Mike Hruby, who noted kids are running between parked cars and onto the highway. That, in turn, makes it harder for passing motorists to see the kids.

Last year, the sheriff's department sent letters to drivers who parked along the highway.

Drivers reminded to drive safely on gravel roads

With the ongoing construction on Highway 32 south of Thief River Falls, many drivers are traveling to and from work on gravel roads. Pennington County Sheriff Mike Hruby reminds drivers that the speed limit for gravel roads is 55 mph. At the same time, he cautions drivers that 55 mph is a fast speed when individuals are driving on gravel roads.

Grand Forks man injured after car hits deer

A Grand Forks, N.D., man was injured after his car struck a deer one mile east of Badger on Wednesday morning.

Terence R. DeMars, 54, was cut from flying glass in the accident, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report.

At the time of the accident, DeMars was driving a 2004 Chevy westbound on Highway 11. The deer struck the windshield and a driver's side window of the car. DeMars was wearing his seat belt. The car sustained severe damage.

The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 6:09 a.m. Wednesday. The Roseau County Sheriff's Department assisted.

Former Gospel Hour pianist to perform at Embassy Center

Ron Nelson, former pianist for the Lutheran Gospel Hour of Pasadena, Calif., will perform a 3 p.m. concert at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston on Sunday, May 13.

When Nelson was 5 years old, he discovered that he could play any song he could hum. He attended the Northwest Bible College in Minot, N.D., and the Lutheran Brethren Seminary in Fergus Falls.

In 1973, he began traveling as a vocal soloist and pianist for Rev. R.W. Norheim in evangelistic meetings across the United States, Canada and Norway. Since Norheim's retirement in 1993, Nelson has continued to proclaim the Gospel with music and spoken word in churches of various denominations.

Consequences of drinking and driving are real and tragic

The perils of drinking and driving are never more evident than when someone we know is killed or injured in a crash where alcohol was a factor.

Nathan and Connie Backstrom of Hampton described the impact the deaths of three of their sons had on their family during a meeting April 27 at Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Argyle. Connie remembers the last time she saw them alive. At 4:35 p.m. Oct. 10, 2004, they left home to drop off film at Wal-Mart. Connie hugged them goodbye.

Stories like these pull at the heartstrings. They also should serve as a warning and a call to act.

According to the Department of Public Safety, Office of Traffic Safety, 37,002 impaired driving incidents that occurred in Minnesota in 2005 and were entered onto people's driving records. That's an 8 percent increase from the prior year. Twenty-five of the incidents included a conviction for "criminal vehicular operation" resulting in a fatality, and 248 for injury.

We raise the subject of alcohol and impaired driving at this time because of the time of year. Spring has arrived and with it the kind of higher temperatures that seem to regulate our activities, too.

There is a high consistency year after year with respect to when drinking and driving occurs in terms of days of the week. Year 2005 was similar to past years: Mondays through Thursdays had comparatively few incidents. Fridays accounted for 17 percent, Sundays for 22 percent, and Saturdays for a full 27 percent of all incidents. The months of the year are similar to one another though July and August each had slightly more than average.

There's a strong relationship between age and impaired driving, and between gender and impaired driving. According to the Department of Public Safety, "Most succinctly put, the problem is concentrated in the young adult male population. In 2005, males committed 76 percent of the incidents. Twenty-to-thirty-nine year-olds accounted for 67 percent of incidents."

And although the seven-county metro area is growing in population relative to the non-metro area, an increasing proportion of incidents are occurring in the non-metro area.

Impaired driving is a problem in Minnesota, even in northern Minnesota.

Nathan and Connie Backstrom will never forget their children, who were killed by a man who was drunk and talking on his cell phone. The other driver, Boe Barlage still sits in prison. I doubt he'll ever forget that day, either.

The Backstroms realize that the choices other people make will have an impact on their lives and there is nothing they can do about it. But I believe, as I hope others do, that all of us can help influence the decision others make by reminding them of the consequences, making sure there is funding available for intensive high-visibility law enforcement, requiring the use of technologies that keep convicted drunk drivers who continue to use alcohol off the roads, and by continuing to support efforts to eliminate drunk driving.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

First Care Medical Services moves toward a tobacco-free campus

Plans forge ahead following First Care Medical Services' Board of Trustees unanimous vote to pass its smoke-free campus resolution in February. First Care Medical Services building interior has been smoke free for many years. The seriousness of the impact tobacco use has on the health of people, in light of the mission to improve the health of people, is making First Care Medical Services rethink its old smoke free building policy. Here is the impact as reported by experts.

Centers for Disease Control studies report that one (1) of every five (5) deaths is related to smoking. Tobacco use is the number one cause of preventable death, as well as preventable disease in the United States. According to the CDC, more than 440,000 people die prematurely each year from smoking related diseases. This is more than alcohol, cocaine, crack, heroin, homicide, suicide, car crashes, fires and AIDS combined!

Smoking is a factor in heart disease, cancer, stroke and lung disease. Patients who smoke have twice the risk of surgical wound infections than non-smokers. A smoker's broken bones take almost twice as long to heal as non-smokers' broken bones. Smoking costs the United States approximately $150 billion each year in health care and lost productivity.

First Care trustees believe they have, for far too long, paid more attention to less costly and less deadly habits and diseases than paid to tobacco use. Even now, it took a resolution of the Minnesota Hospital Association for smoke-free campuses, to jog their consciousness regarding the minimal stand they were taking regarding tobacco use by simply being a smoke-free building. With skyrocketing costs of health care, the trustees believe they were not dealing effectively with the number one cause of preventable death and disease. Clearly, this resolution strongly supports First Care's stated mission to provide and coordinate quality health services to improve the health of people in the communities it serves.

Therefore, First Care Medical Services has embarked on a journey to become a tobacco-free campus and expects to have all policies, procedures and programs for employees as well as for the public who wish to stop smoking or tobacco use in place by the end of June 2007. The tobacco-free policy will apply to all First Care owned property in the Fosston, Fertile, and Thief River Falls locations. This is the first public announcement, which will be followed by notices and program offerings in all local papers, at health fairs, on its Web site www.first-care.org and through other communication opportunities as the date approaches.

First Care asks for support with its tobacco-free initiative. They assert that the decision to go tobacco free is not an attempt to "force" anyone to quit smoking. Rather, the tobacco-free initiative is a concrete way First Care can demonstrate our ongoing commitment to healthy living. To that end, First Care Medical Services Board of Directors and leadership team are committed to providing assistance and support to anyone on staff or in the community who wishes to quit smoking.

Tobacco awareness activities are planned within First Care next week as part of National Healthcare Week.

By working together, First Care believes everyone can begin a major effort to decrease tobacco use related deaths. Working together can begin to lead to healthier and more active lives. By working together, families and friends can be supported in their effort to break the hold tobacco addiction has on their lives, because it is likely that they will be around for many more years because they licked the tobacco habit. First Care asks that everyone join them in their effort to become a tobacco-free campus. Make your home campus tobacco free.

First Care staff say they appreciate everyone's assistance and support as it heads toward June 30. For more information, please contact Patricia Wangler at (218) 435-1133.

Polaris Industries to hold commencement exercises

Polaris Industries, Minnesota-based manufacturer of snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) and Victory motorcycles, announces commencement exercises celebrating the company's first-ever graduates on Thursday, May 3, at 2 p.m. at Polaris Industries in Roseau – thanks to a unique educational partnership.

The commencement exercises are the result of a collaborative effort among the University of Minnesota, Crookston, Northland Community and Technical College, Thief River Falls, and Polaris that enables its employees to pursue an associate's or bachelor's degree onsite at its corporate headquarters in Roseau. Faculty members from both UMC and NCTC travel to Roseau one day a week to teach the lecture/lab courses.

UMC graduates receiving a bachelor's of manufacturing management include Gregory Anderson, Michael Bodell, Steven Pavek, Jeffrey Tureson, Bonnie Zimmerman, Marie Reid, Deborah Rinde, Penny Erickson, with a minor in Business Management, Maureen Langaas, Tammy Wahl, with a minor in Business Management, Wanda Osborne, and Jason Dobmeier.

NCTC students receiving certificates in lean manufacturing include Glen Buckla; Cindy Butler; Timothy Doneth, Paul Hlucny, Camille Hogenson; Nicole Rygh and Joseph Tesarek. Mary Jo Olson will also be receiving a certificate in Production and Inventory Management from NCTC.

This graduation ceremony brings together officials from the U of M and Minnesota State Colleges and Universities, including U of M Regent Clyde Allen, UMC's Chancellor Charles H. Casey and Vice Chancellor for Academic and Student Affairs Thomas Baldwin and UMC faculty. NCTC guests will include President Anne Temte and Director of Workforce Development Kirsten Melby, along with the instructors from the certificate programs.

Embassy to host country music jam

The Embassy Community Center in Fosston will host its monthly country music jam session on Sunday, May 6, beginning at 1 p.m. All country musicians are welcome to attend and present a sampling of their music. Music will continue throughout the afternoon and into the evening, following the potluck supper served at 5:30 p.m.

WIC clinics to be offered in May

The Women, Infants and Children's Supplemental Nutrition Education Program (WIC) is being held during the month of May.

Infants, children up to the age of 5, and women who are pregnant or breast-feeding may be eligible for the program. WIC Quin County is very interested in enrolling pregnant women in the program. It feels that prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is important to apply for WIC early during pregnancy. No proof of pregnancy is required.

All potential clients must write or call the WIC Program and complete an application. The following is the schedule of WIC Clinics for the month of May:

- Tuesday, May 8, at the Newfolden Community Center.
- Wednesday, May 9, at the Kittson County Courthouse in Hallock.
- Thursday, May 10, at the Red Lake Falls Community Center.
- Monday, May 14, through Thursday, May 17, at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.
- Monday, May 21, at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Warren.
- Tuesday, May 22, at the Karlstad Community Center.
- Wednesday, May 23 and Thursday, May 24, at the Roseau Area Hospital Basement Auxiliary Room.
- Thursday, May 24 at the Civic Building in Grygla.

North Valley Home Health will hold immunization clinics at the Newfolden and Warren clinics from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. An immunization record is needed before immunizations will be given. For more information contact North Valley Home Health at 218-745-5154.

For further information concerning the WIC program, call or write WIC Quin, PO Box 248, Newfolden, MN 56738, phone 874-7845 (Newfolden, Viking, Middle River, Holt or Thief River Falls residents) or 1-800-223-1591, or e-mail quinchs@wiktel.com.

Grygla-Gatzke blood drive set for May 10

On Thursday, May 10, citizens of the Grygla-Gatzke area will have an opportunity to make an important, personal contribution to the welfare of the community. That is the scheduled date of a mobile blood drive to be conducted at the community center from 7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Ralph Rundell, coordinator of the drive, would like every person to consider this drive to be an invitation for personal action - the simple, satisfying action of donating blood for a person in great need.

In this area, approximately 5,000 units of blood are needed each month to supply the needs of patients served by United Blood Services. This blood can only come from caring individuals - the human body is still the only source.

Make an appointment to donate blood by calling Donna Jelle at 294-6488, Ralph Rundell at 294-6177, or Sheldon Peterson at 294-6176.

Jobs, Inc. plans annual meeting

Thief River Falls Jobs Inc. will conduct its annual meeting at noon on Wednesday, May 9, at the Evergreen Eating Emporium. This year's presenter will be Delore Zimmerman, president and founder of Praxis Strategy Group, a Grand Forks, N.D., firm.

Praxis Strategy Group is a growth strategy company nationally recognized for working with entrepreneurs, economic development organizations and innovators in science and technology to create enterprise opportunities.

Zimmerman is also co-author of "Rebuilding America's Productive Economy - A Heartland Development Strategy."

Thief River Falls Jobs Inc. is the local economic development organization. The mission of Jobs Inc. is to create, retain and expand employment opportunities in Thief River Falls and Pennington County. Over the years that has come to participating in many projects, including working to fill the industrial park to working with property owners on storefronts in the downtown area.

Over the years, it has become clear that it can never be said that Thief River Falls is not productive. Folks are creative; they work hard, and are extremely productive. This event is a celebration of that fact. America's Heartland is enjoying a rebirth and Thief River Falls is a prime example and major part of that growth.

The public is invited to attend the luncheon and hear Delore Zimmerman's presentation. To reserve a place at the meeting, call 681-2500.

Steve Stone to speak at Kiwanis Club meeting

Pennington County Veterans Service Officer Steve Stone will be the guest speaker for the Tuesday, May 8 meeting of the Thief River Falls Kiwanis Club. The Kiwanis Club meets every Tuesday at 6:30 a.m. in Meeting Room "A" at the Best Western Inn (by the pool) in Thief River Falls.

TRF 16-5 baseball winner over Gators...

Prowlers generate an offense

Thief River Falls' offense returned Tuesday in a 16-5 high school baseball win over host Badger/Greenbush-Middle River.

The Prowlers, who had mustered just one run in their two previous starts – a 3-0 loss to Detroit Lakes and a 1-0 nine-inning victory over Warroad – pushed three runs across the plate in their first at-bat against the Gators and had a 9-0 cushion through 2 1/2 innings. A 10-5 difference ballooned to a double-figure game-ending spread when the winners put together a six-run sixth.

Spencer Johnson led an 18-hit Thief River Falls attack with a 4-for-4 day at the plate that included a double and two home runs. He drove in five runs and scored four times.

Other multiple-hit games were recorded by the Prowlers' Patrick Barry, Eric Blix, Jordan Espeseth, Michael Benedict and Michael Blix, along with the Gators' Dustin Lorenson and Tyler Aune.

The win put the Prowlers at 6-2 heading into a Thursday home game vs. Crookston. They will play at Roseau Monday, then return home for a May 10 game with Bemidji.

Strong start carries TRF past Spuds

■ Prowlers win 5-3 softball game

A four-run first inning carried Thief River Falls past Moorhead 5-3 Monday in Section 8AAA high school softball at the Multi-Events Center.

The Prowlers began their first at-bat with back-to-back bunt singles by Shawna Rogalla and Hailey Peterson. Amanda Lara walked to load the bases and all three scored when Brittni Johnson tripled off the outfield fence.

It was two-hit pitching performance for Johnson, who struck out eight and did not walk a batter.

The Spuds scored once in the first inning and picked up a pair of fourth inning runs. The Prowlers tacked on an insurance run in the bottom of the fourth.

It was the eighth win in nine starts for the Prowlers.

"Defensively we made some critical mistakes," said Thief River Falls coach Corey Poole. "We need to be more aggressive on the bases and in the field."

Northland softball at Itasca...

Pioneers gain split with a Game 2 win

Northland bounced back from an 11-0 Game 1 loss to beat Itasca 5-1 in the second half of a Tuesday Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader in Grand Rapids.

The victory snapped a seven-game losing streak for the 5-16 Pioneers.

"That's the best softball I've seen us play this year," said Northland coach Kathy Huschle. "It was very well-played, competitive softball."

Jackie Fossum was 3-for-4 at the plate and Mallory Anderson, coming off shoulder problems that have sidelined her for much of the year, threw seven innings of five-hit ball for the win.

"That was the kind of softball Northland is used to playing – before we started running into trouble this year," said Huschle.

Itasca swept the Pioneers 10-4, 15-4 earlier this season.

The Vikings' double-figure scoring in the opener came on just three hits.

Steve Keogh took home fourth place honors at the ASICS/USA Wrestling Folkstyle Nationals held March 30-April 1 in Cedar Falls, Iowa. Keogh reached the championship semifinals with wins over opponents from Wisconsin, Kansas and Indiana, including a win over a returning national champion. He fell to eventual champion Alex Bridgeford of Nebraska in the semifinal round, before rallying to reach the third place match against Greg Jackson of Illinois. Keogh and Jackson wrestled to a 0-0 regulation-match score. Jackson won the bout 2-0 in sudden victory.

Prowlers' golf scores high at Detroit Lakes

It was an eighth place finish in a 13-team field for Thief River Falls Tuesday at the Detroit Lakes Invitational boys high school golf tournament.

Moorhead won team honors with a 309, three shots ahead of second place Detroit Lakes Red. Thief River Falls turned in a 337.

Aaron Wheeler of the Spuds was meet medalist with a two-over-par 73 on the Detroit Lakes Country Club course.

Kent Peterson led the Prowlers with an 81. Kevin Lunke turned in an 82.

"Kent played a steady round," noted Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler. "An out-of-bounds on the eighth hole was Kevin's only bad hole. There were too many big numbers from the other golfers."

Detroit Lakes Invitational

■ Team totals - Moorhead 309, Detroit Lakes Red 312, West Fargo 324, Grand Rapids 330, Bemidji 332, Fargo Shanley 334, Crookston 335, Thief River Falls 337, Detroit Lakes White 340, Park Christian 340, Grand Forks Central 348, Detroit Lakes Black 355, Pequot Lakes 376.

Raiders complete season sweep against Northland

Brainerd or Thief River Falls. The site made no difference. Consecutive Monday doubleheaders produced back-to-back Central Lakes sweeps over Northland in Minnesota Community College Conference softball.

The Raiders won 17-0, 11-2 at home April 23. They repeated the feat with 13-4, 9-0 wins on the road April 30.

"Central Lakes is a very good-hitting team," said Northland coach Kathy Huschle. "They really hit the ball hard."

At the start of the final week of the regular season, Rainy River led the Northern Division standings with a 15-3 record, followed by Central Lakes at 14-4, Itasca 14-6, Mesabi Range 7-10, Hibbing 6-12, Northland 4-13 and Vermilion 3-15. Overall, Rainy River checked in at 15-5, Itasca 17-7, Central Lakes 17-9, Mesabi Range 7-10, Hibbing 6-12, Northland 4-13 and Vermilion 3-15.

The Pioneers are competing in the MCCC state tournament today (Saturday) and Sunday in Brainerd.

TRF girls play in pair of meets on Tuesday

It wasn't softball, but the Thief River Falls girls had a doubleheader Tuesday when the Prowlers golfed in back-to-back nine-hole meets at the Fertile Golf Course and the Fosston Golf Club.

The day started with an appearance at the Fertile-Beltrami portion of the Pine-to-Prairie Invitational, where the Prowlers finished third in a six-team field headed by Norman County.

Thief River Falls' Chelsea Daley was second in the medal race with a 47, three shots behind Natalie Marcussen of Norman County.

"Windy," reported Thief River Falls coach Gary Laidley. "Narrow fairways caused some problems for the girls."

Crookston joined the mix for the Fosston half of the twinbill, and went home with a team title. The Prowlers slipped to fifth place.

Shaylyn Fassimo of Norman County was medalist at Fosston with a 44. Corissa Kruse led the Prowlers with a 50.

The Prowlers will play back-to-back meets at the Thief River Golf Club Monday (quad) and Tuesday (invitational).

Spring cleaning is taking place today at area state parks

Volunteers throughout Minnesota were expected to be on hand today (Saturday) to help spruce up Minnesota state parks during the eighth annual "GreenTouch Day" sponsored by Minnesota's Touchstone Energy Cooperatives in cooperation with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

Supplied with rakes, clippers, trash bags and paint brushes, volunteers from electric cooperatives throughout Minnesota, along with park visitors and local residents, will pick up litter, brush trails, plant trees and prairies, and paint facilities in 16 state parks. The project is part of a long-term commitment Touchstone Energy Cooperatives have made to help the state park system.

"It will be a great day for families and friends to come out to a state park, do a little work outdoors, enjoy a free picnic lunch provided by the cooperatives, and feel good about their contribution to the environment," said Courtland Nelson, director, DNR Division of Parks and Recreation.

During the past seven years, Touchstone Energy has organized more than 3,700 volunteers who have donated 12,500 hours of their time to take care of resources and facilities in Minnesota state parks.

Northwestern Minnesota state parks where clean-up events are taking place include Buffalo River, Glyndon, (218) 498-2124; Hayes Lake, Roseau, (218) 425-7504; Itasca, Park Rapids, (218) 266-2100; Lake Bemidji, Bemidji, (218) 755-3843; Lake Bronson, Lake Bronson, (218) 754-2200; and Old Mill, Argyle, (218) 437-8174.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew... saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that got damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

ROSEAU AREA COMMUNITY FUND REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS
The Roseau Area Community Fund is calling for funding proposals for programs and services that benefit charitable, educational and public purpose activities, projects, or services. The desired outcome for these grants is to enhance or improve the quality of life enjoyed by people in the Roseau area.
This year the Roseau Area Community Fund has a pool of $1,800 available for grants to non profits or public entities within the Roseau School District area. The proposal must address one or more of these areas: Leisure and Recreation, Aesthetic Development, Arts, Culture and Education, Youth Activities and Senior Enrichment.
Selection criteria will focus on how the project meets the Roseau Area Community Fund mission, if it reaches beyond traditional opportunities, how inclusive it is to all types of diversity and the number of participants or number of organizations that are served.
The deadline for submission of proposals is May 22, 2007. The grants will be awarded by June 1st. Applications will be available at the Roseau Public Library and Lee's Store in Wannaska.
For questions about the application, call Mary Ross at 463-2676 or Phil Sallberg at 463-3090.
Applications can be mailed to: Roseau Area Community Fund; c/o Mary Ross, 200 4th Avenue Northeast; Roseau, MN 56751.

Beer Me

I like beer - it's a passion, an indulgence, and the empty bottles make a nice collection. Ben Franklin (for those of you with the appropriate grade-school education to know of Ben Franklin) is often quoted as saying that "beer is proof that God loves us." I realize that some people may be reading this at a time of day when breakfast or brunch may be a more appropriate conversation and to those I apologize. However, it must be five o'clock somewhere so let's talk about the Volkswagen of refreshments as I tell you about my love for beer.

My personal history with beer is as follows: I started off with Old Milwaukee, then progressed through increasingly cheap beer until I reached Milwaukee's Best somewhere in the late '80s. The best compromise between taste and cost was Miller Lite until I embraced Busch Light as I embraced my wife, Lisa, who was then a Busch Light drinker. Busch Light was perfect for me at the time, I was more interested in volume than taste and the can fit well in my hand. My first date with Lisa was spent on her mother's deck. Lisa's mother, Jeanette (you know her as Mother Walseth) asked me that first night if I'd like a can cozy to insulate the beer from my body heat and I told her I was offended that she thought a beer would go warm in my hand. Jeanette and I have been best friends since even though I've since graduated from volume to quality, which is where lays the heart of this story.

I always thought people who were particular about their beer were snobs. I would never become part of that finicky bunch swishing beer around and smelling it prior to the first swallow. Then I thought about it, most of the better beers were just made with better ingredients. It's like cookies or brownies. Aren't the homemade ones made with better ingredients better tasting? I then began my experience/experiment with better beer.

I'm a hometown boy and that extends to my home state. I decided this was a good starting point in my effort to school my beer palette and got lucky: Schell's Beer. Schell's is brewed in New Ulm, and I've yet to find a variety they bottle anywhere short of delicious. Some of the varieties are seasonal, but they're all made like you'd expect a Minnesotan to make them - labor intensive with particular attention paid to consistency. One of the guys I work with loves the Firebrick brew so much that one of his family members occasionally imports a few cases to northwest Minnesota for him. During the last shipment, Kyle granted me a six-pack, which should have been enjoyed one at a time but was greedily drank by myself in one sitting.

I've found the organic beers particularly good. I think many people see "organic" and they think of sandal-wearing hippies brewing beer constantly, yet showering rarely. Organic is simply a better product, raised without chemical that gains its flavor from a variety of natural influences such as the soil, natural fertilizer (you know, manure), better quality water, etc. One of my favorites is Samuel Smith, which is produced in the United Kingdom. It's expensive but some places sell single bottles so you can have a taste without breaking the bank, which plays into that whole "quality versus quantity" idea.

So many of the beers I like are Pilsners. I questioned this attraction until I found "Okocim" beer. I did a little research and found this brewery got its start in 1845; just three years after Pilsner was created in nearby Bohemia (present day Czech Republic). The roots of this beer answered many questions about my personal tastes, as I am half Bohemian. The beer is brewed in a section of Poland that saw little of World War II and so the original brewery still stands and brews on a regular basis.

You may notice the absence of my impressions on the taste of beer. I am not an expert I just know what I like. I don't eat a cracker between beers to cleanse my palette or any of that high-brow stuff. In the end, maybe it's not the beer as much as the environment in which it's consumed. I mean really, has any beer tasted better than a 12 pack of 3.2 from Carpenter's Corner on a hot afternoon?

and cardio equipment are available 24 hours a day, every day."

Anytime Fitness began franchising in 2002. According to a press release, more than 1,000 franchise locations exist today and projections are that more than 2,000 franchise locations will be operating internationally by the end of 2008 and 3,500 by the end of 2012.

So what makes Anytime Fitness so successful?

"People are so busy these days, with their kids and activities – what we really concentrate on is easy access within the community," Falk said.

Falk said the majority of members exercise in the evening, but the club has members exercising at all hours of the day. He added that Anytime Fitness offers state of the art security for members who choose to exercise after hours.

The club can only be accessed by members from 7 p.m. to 10 a.m. through an electronic key entrance. A tailgate alarm also guards against a non-member entering the club through the card-swipe of a member.

Falk added that the interior of the club is secured by a series of cameras that cover every square inch of the interior. Security cameras also survey the club's entrance and parking lot.

For safety and peace of mind, the club has a one-touch button that can contact emergency personnel. Members who have a history of medical problems or are just looking for peace of mind while working out alone, may also check out personal panic devices. Personal panic devices can contact emergency personnel at the touch of a button and can be taken home by members who would otherwise be walking alone to their vehicles.

Anytime Fitness offers PreCor cardiovascular equipment, Nautilus weight machines and free weights for a well-rounded workout. Personal training, private shower rooms and tanning beds are also available for members. Unlike larger clubs, Anytime Fitness does not offer any racquet ball or tennis courts.

"We don't have the courts or the saunas – we are a streamlined club," Falk said. "We can't be everything to everybody – what we concentrate on is strength training, cardio and 24-hour tanning, with easy access."

Every new member of Anytime Fitness must participate in an orientation prior to their first workout at the club. An added plus to membership is access to more than 1,000 Anytime Fitness locations throughout the United States, including more than 100 locations in Minnesota.

Falk said that rates vary depending on the membership package. Some of the package types are individual, senior, military, family and others. For more information on club rates, call Anytime Fitness at 681-1305.

the job came from a wide geographic area and presented a variety of experience, said Peterson. All of them were very strong candidates, he said.

Biermaier takes over from Jim Sims, who submitted his resignation in March. Sims has been activities director in the District for 12 years.

Peterson said Biermaier will inherit a well organized and great program thanks to Sims. "Jim has the office in great shape," said Peterson. He added that Biermaier also will be working with very dedicated coaches and staff.

But, Biermaier's list of "things to do" will be extensive. One will be to review the entire program, and another will be to look at whether to incorporate a soccer program into the District.

Peterson also said the job of activities director is one of the most important jobs in the district, and probably the most visible.

Biermaier and his wife Ronda have two children, Meleah, age 8, and Blake, age 4. Ronda is a graduate of Northland Technical College in Thief River Falls, and the University of Minnesota - Crookston. They plan to move to Thief River Falls, as soon as they sell their home in Crookston.

Sons of Norway Nordlys Lodge to meet May 12

Visitors are welcome to join the area Northern Lights (Nordlys) branch of Sons of Norway at North Star Apartments on South Main Avenue in Roseau at 6:30 on Saturday, May 12. Their celebration of Norwegian Independence – five days before Syttende Mai – will begin with a potluck smorgasbord supper, including a variety of Scandinavian foods.

Those who can not come in time for the meal may wish to come at 7 p.m. for the program. In the spirit of Viking explorers, the program will feature "Vietnam: Breathtaking Beauty and Humble People." The presentation is based on photographic highlights of the recent travels of Pete and Paulette Christianson and Paul Harms of Badger. They visited their son/grandson who lives in Vietnam.

Anyone interested in Scandinavian heritage is welcome at all meetings. Sons of Norway officers, Lou and Annette Hermansen, have arranged a display about Norwegian heritage in the exhibit corner at Four Seasons Senior Center. Their treasured family fancywork and photos, including many from the 100th anniversary of Syttende Mai (2005) celebration in Oslo, can be viewed during the month of May.

Members of SON enjoy nurturing and sharing their heritage at regular monthly meetings on second Saturdays September through May. They do not hold regular meetings during summer, but rather encourage participation in the Mid-summer Scandinavian Festival in June in Roseau and trips to Norse events in other communities.

Summer is also a good time for earning SON cultural heritage points, including sports/physical fitness, cooking/baking and Norse literature. Members may find out more about this program on the Internet, in the organization's magazine (The Viking) or by asking one of the local officers.

Several simple service projects are ongoing – saving of canceled postage stamps, used telephone cards and product labels. These should be saved year around and delivered to any SON meeting. The stamps are donated to a rehabilitation hospital in Norway. Used-up telephone cards are accepted also. Next fall all collected Campbell proofs of purchase and Box Tops for Education will be transferred to Roseau Elementary School to help purchase equipment for student use. Members who live in other school districts are encouraged to deliver labels and box tops to their own schools.

Nordlys Lodge of SON serves a large area - all of Roseau County and the surrounding area, including the border area of Manitoba. For information about member benefits, the Viking magazine and dues, contact Co-Chair Marion Solom or Leanne Johnson, Secretary Roxanne Lee or Treasurer Lou Hermansen.

Authorities search for missing Crookston man

Authorities are searching for a missing Crookston man whose vehicle was found Tuesday north of Stephen.

Joshua David Abel, 29, is described as a white male standing 5 feet 11 inches and weighing 250 pounds. He wears wire-rimmed glasses, and he has blue eyes. Abel has sandy-colored hair. He was last seen wearing a darkly colored t-shirt with knee-length shorts, according to the Crookston Police Department.

One of Abel's family members reported him missing at 8:48 p.m. Monday. He had been missing since the evening of April 27, when he told a family member that he was going for a ride.

Abel's 1987 Buick Century was found Tuesday at his old family farmstead north of Stephen, police indicated. His keys were still in the ignition. The vacant farmstead is located in Sinnott Township, said Marshall County Chief Deputy Randy Olson. The farmstead is about one mile from the Marshall - Kittson Countyline.

The Marshall County Sheriff's Department, Kittson County Sheriff's Department, Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension and U.S. Border Patrol are searching for Abel in the area where his car was found. The case remains under investigation.

Anyone with any knowledge or information about Abel should contact either the Crookston Police Dept. at (218) 281-3111 or the Marshall County Sheriff's Office at (218) 745-5411.

TRF man agrees to stipulation that he is sexually dangerous

theft of 204 pornographic movies. The petition also included several other incidents for which Aune hadn't been charged.

While in sex offender treatment, Aune admitted that he sexually abused seven minors. He said those offenses had never been disclosed and he had never been prosecuted for those offenses.

Aune also admitted that he made approximately 2,000 obscene telephone calls to females he knew, random people and businesses. He said he stole women's underwear approximately 300 times, and that he fondled or exposed himself 500 times. Aune also admitted that he looked into people's windows at night on approximately 150 occasions.

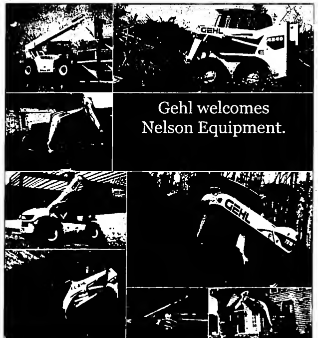
News Release

A biodegradable container made from straw and soy flour.

Your Hubbard Feeds Dealer now has a new type of container available for cattle producers from CRYSTALYX® Brand Supplements. The Container is made of ground straw and soy flour and is designed to biodegrade as cattle consume the CRYSTALYX® low moisture blocks.

The new use for straw and soy flour was developed and patented in a cooperative effort between a major agricultural University and Ridley Block Operations, the manufacturer of CRYSTALYX® Brand Supplements. The novel container, which is called the BioBarrel™, offers several advantages to producers:

1) There is no need to go back and pick up any empty containers.
2) There is not litter or waste like you often see with other nonreturnable or disposable containers,and
3) The containers are environmentally friendly with no chemicals or adhesives used in manufacturing the BioBarrel™.



As cattle consume the CRYSTALYX®, the sides are worn down or consumed. Once all the CRYSTALYX® is consumed, the bottom of the BinBarrel™ is all that is left and it will break down and degrade. "BioBarrel™ is thicker and stronger than cardboard or fiber containers and will maintain its integrity in prolonged storage." Dr. Dan Dhuyvetter, Research and Development Manager for Ridley Block Operations said. "The container will withstand normal precipitation, but is not designed for placement in standing water or excessively muddy conditions". Producers can now get all the benefits of CRYSTALYX® either in the traditional steel barrel or in the new BioBarrel™.

You can find out more about the BioBarrel™ and CRYSTALYX® by visiting your local Hubbard Feeds dealer:

Hampton couple tells about the deaths of their sons

to hear," she said.

They told her Matthew and Justin were killed in a two-vehicle accident. They asked who the third boy was. Connie told them he was her son Jacob. Jacob was in critical condition at Regents Hospital in St. Paul. "Have you ever felt like your world was crashing around you?" Connie said.

Nathan, a pilot for Northwest Airlines, was at work that night, preparing for his next flight. Connie called him, telling him to come home immediately. She didn't tell him what had happened. As Nathan drove home on the freeway, he called Connie back and learned about the accident. Nathan put the cell phone down and prayed. "Jesus, please help me."

Friends watched the couple's younger sons, Charles and Ryan, as the couple went to the hospital with a State Patrol lieutenant who knows the Backstrom family. Early the next morning, Jacob passed away.

"I will never forget them, but I will see them again," said Nathan, who noted closing the caskets was the hardest thing he has ever had to do.

Nathan and Connie learned the brothers' car had collided with another car driven by a man who was drunk and talking on his cell phone. The impact of the crash mangled the red 1995 Saturn that Matthew was driving. "Those pictures will be in my mind all my life," Nathan said.

The other driver, Boe Barlage, was thrown out of his 1995 Ford Taurus. He landed on the road. Barlage's tied shoe was still on the accelerator. Barlage is serving time at the St. Cloud prison until 2010. He will be on probation for about another eight years. Barlage is required to talk to youth six times a year about the accident. During the presentation, Nathan and Connie never referred to him by his name.

"Sometimes the choices of other people will impact our lives and there is nothing we can do," said Connie, who noted people aren't responsible for the choices others make. Rather, they're responsible for their responses to others' choices.

For Connie and her husband, their response hinged on their faith. Connie recalled clinging to the Lord in the days after the crash. She remembered praying, "Open the doors and I will go where you send me. I have no strength to do it myself."

As newspaper reporters gathered on the couple's front lawn after the crash, Nathan told them, "We've forgiven the man who took our sons."

For Connie, that hadn't yet crossed her mind. "I said, 'Oh Lord, don't let them ask me,'" she remembered. Instead, the reporters asked if she was angry. Connie replied that she wasn't.

A few days later, Connie and Nathan were on their way back home from the funeral home after taking Charles and Ryan to see their brothers for the first time after the accident. Nathan was supposed to attend a conference with about 40 youth the next day. He told them to go to the conference. On the ride home from the funeral home, the couple was asked to speak at the conference. They agreed. Since then, they've spoken to about 100 audiences, including the audience at the April 27 event sponsored by the Marshall County Temperance Society.

"God has us here for a reason," said Nathan. "Now, we tell the story he has given us."

Nathan Backstrom spoke about his three eldest sons, Matthew, Justin and Jacob, on April 27 at Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Argyle. The brothers passed away in October 2004. Their 1995 Saturn collided with a car driven by a drunk driver who was talking on a cell phone.

Jacob, Justin and Matthew Backstrom, respectively, were wearing these clothes when their 1995 Saturn collided with a car driven by a drunk driver who was talking on a cell phone. The brothers died. Their parents, Nathan and Connie Backstrom, spoke April 27 at Our Saviors Lutheran Church in Argyle. The Marshall County Temperance Society hosted the presentation.

Public hearing on Marshall County Feedlot Ordinance set for June 6

Newfolden - "An ordinance regulating livestock and poultry feedlots in Marshall County will have its final public hearing at 7 p.m. Wednesday, June 6 at the Community Center in Newfolden. As a result of a public hearing last November, the Marshall County Board of Commissioners decided to appoint a countywide feedlot committee to consider issues and develop a draft ordinance regulating feedlots within Marshall County.

"The committee has completed a draft ordinance which will require conditional use permits for feedlots over 500 animal units (1,000 pounds = one animal unit). The ordinance will also create setback distances from liquid manure systems to existing homes and public facilities with additional restrictions for those lots over 500 animal units. These setbacks will vary depending on the size of the feedlot and will include setbacks as well for solid manure systems for more than 1,000 animal units. The ordinance will also create setback distances for all feedlots to cities and public water supplies within the county." It will also regulate "a number of other issues dealing with feedlots. All currently operating feedlots in Marshall County are grandfathered in at their existing size and distance to other buildings." - The Grygla Eagle, May 10, 2007

Grygla Hertz closing its doors

Grygla - "Grygla Grocery, better known as the Grygla Hartz store, will close in the next few weeks. The business, owned by Greg and Lynette Jelle, is a Grygla landmark that's been in operation for decades.

"The Jelles purchased the business July 1, 1980, from Alfred and Sylvia Swenson, and have been operating it ever since that time. They built and moved the business into a new building in the fall of 1988, and put the business up for sale last year. Unfortunately, the state of Greg's health would not allow him to continue operating the business until it could be sold." - The Grygla Eagle, May 10, 2007

Mom to six, hero to all

Hallock - "She said she thought it was easier than parenting. Most moms would balk at that statement, especially since it was made by a local gal who spent 12 months serving in Afghanistan during Operation Enduring Freedom.

"Dawn Holm, Hallock, left Kittson County Dec. 5, 2005, with 150 soldiers of the 1-188th Air Defense Artillery Battalion on what she describes as 'the adventure she was looking for.' This self-proclaimed 'bored' housewife has served the last 18 years in the military, four in the Air Force and the last 12 in the Army National Guard."

"Normally, she serves with the Army National Guard's State Medical Detachment in Bismarck, N.D., one weekend a month and a couple of weeks in the summer.

"One of 40 volunteers to go with the troop, Holm said that her unit in Bismarck wouldn't have been deployed, but she wanted to lend a hand to the 1-118.

"Her easygoing personality makes it understandable that her husband and six children were supportive of her decision to help the Afghan people." - Kittson County Enterprise, May 9, 2007, by Laura Moore

A Portable Air Tanker Base, which is used to fight wildfires, has been moved to the Regional Airport in Thief River Falls. Operations began last week.

Portable air tanker base in TRF

Low humidity, high winds and high temperatures, make for ideal wildfire conditions. Conditions have been great for wildfires lately, and fire crews have been busy.

Last week, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources moved a portable air tanker base to the Regional Airport in Thief River Falls. The purpose of the portable air tanker base, is to put air tankers in closer proximity to where they are needed. On the first day of flying out of Thief River Falls, an air tanker made three pickups at the airport.

Joe Toivonen, DNR tanker base manager, is concerned that it looks like it's going to be a busy fire season.

The DNR issued warnings and updates on fires earlier this week. The Ham Lake fire is still a major concern. According to the DNR, less than a quarter on an inch of rain fell across most of northern Minnesota last weekend. No additional rain was expected this week until Thursday or Friday and then the chance of precipitation was only 20 to 30 percent.

The Arrowhead received no rainfall last weekend and Lake, Cook and St. Louis County north of County Road 16 remain under fire restrictions that do not allow campfires or charcoal grills. Only gas or propane and gas fired grills or stoves are allowed.

Tuesday, the DNR increased its preparedness level to 4, that is the highest fire preparedness level that exists. Additional personnel, engines and resources will be put on alert immediately. Fire resources are already stretched thin and many resources are coming from out of Minnesota to work on the Ham Lake Fire.

This week, the plane flying out of Thief River Falls, an 800-gallon, single prop that carries more than its own weight, has been making drops near Bagley and south of the Red Lake Reservation.

City discusses summertime hours

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Summer may lead to summer hours for city of Thief River Falls employees. At their Committee of the Whole meeting Tuesday, Thief River Falls City Council members discussed whether city departments should operate under summer hours.

Council members also learned about a grievance regarding paid breaks. The city was notified by the Law Enforcement Labor Services bargaining unit that the city needed to select an arbitrator. Currently, law enforcement employees have paid breaks since, according to Police Chief Kim Murphy, their breaks are interruptible. It is anticipated that the council may address that issue at its next council meeting on Tuesday, May 15.

Summer hours

Under the current proposal for summer hours, various city employees would be able to work from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. Fridays. In the past, several city departments have operated under those summer hours. Yet, at least one council member questioned whether those departments should continue to do so.

"Closing our operations at 11 a.m. on Friday doesn't make sense to me," said Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen, who noted city employees serve city residents.

Several city employees mentioned reasons why their departments should operate under summer hours. Electric Superintendent Dale Narlock said contractors call the Electric Department at 7 a.m. during the summer to ensure that utility lines have been located and marked. Narlock also noted that many contractors shut down their operations at 11 a.m. or 12 p.m. on Fridays.

Public Works Director Ron Lindberg also noted that contractors' schedules seem to work well with summer hours.

As for his department, Narlock said the Electric Department does a lot of maintenance on Fridays. Vehicle inspections are completed on Fridays, and construction sites are reviewed on Fridays. Safety meetings are also held on Fridays.

"We seem to accomplish a lot

Not crying wolf

The strange story of a wolf in Thief River Falls

by David Hill
Editor

Local residents who discovered a wolf under their deck on Monday weren't just crying wolf. It was a wolf.

On Wednesday, May 9, Doug Franke, Thief River Falls Area Wildlife Manager for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, confirmed that the animal killed in Thief River Falls on Monday was a wolf. But, it still doesn't answer why a wolf was in the middle of a residential area.

Until Wednesday morning, Franke had not had an opportunity to examine the animal law enforcement officials described as a wolf. Wednesday, Franke said that it was a wolf or at least a hybrid of some kind. In examining the animal, Franke said he looked at such things as its size, arrangement of pads, length of legs and size of the head in comparison to the rest of the body. At this point, he's not sure whether it is a hybrid of some kind. He's reluctant to describe it as a full blood wolf because it is an extremely rare event. In fact, Franke is unaware of there ever being a situation in which a wolf was killed within a residential area of a community.

The wolf was killed Monday evening after law enforcement officials received a report of a wolf under the deck of a residence at 340 Crocker Ave. N. in Thief River Falls. Mike Olson was hammering on part of the deck when he looked back and saw the animal about five or six feet away staring at him. Olson said he got out of there as fast as he could. He said he thought the animal was sick because it didn't move when he was down there. Initially, officers attempted to put a noose around the animal and drag it out, but were unsuccessful and the animal began to become hostile. The city does not own a tranquilizer gun

Local teacher given Wal-Mart Award

Julia Kragness, Challenger first grade teacher and literacy coach, holds up an educational grant check for $1,000 that she received from Wal-Mart representatives Monday. Kragness was chosen as the Thief River Falls area Teacher of the Year.

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Julie Kragness didn't know what to expect when Challenger Elementary Principal Patrick Marolt told her that she needed to make sure that she was in the building May 7. The first grade teacher and literacy coach admittedly doesn't like surprises and says that she has resorted to opening and rewrapping gifts in the past, just to ease the tension of waiting to open them later.

"I was just a little worried," Kragness said. "I thought maybe someone was going to visit our classroom and I really needed to do some spring cleaning."

Kragness was right about the visitors, as representatives from the Thief River Falls Wal-Mart store came to her classroom a few minutes before 10 a.m. Monday. That's when Kragness was told that she had been chosen as the Thief River Falls area Teacher of the Year in the Wal-Mart and Sam's Club National Teacher of the Year program.

Brian Pile, manager of the Thief River Falls Wal-Mart store and Ashlyn Stine, customer service representative, presented Kragness with an honorary Teacher of the Year polo shirt, a $1,000 educational grant check to be used by the school, and a $100 gift card to be used by Kragness to purchase school supplies.

"I think this award is a reflection of the high quality of education our district has for students and staff," Kragness said. "When you walk the halls, you see signs that say 'Helping Everyone Learn and Succeed.' That is what we are about."

Kragness has taught at Challenger for the past six [illegible] She has also taught at [illegible] Minnesota schools in [illegible]

CELEBRATE TAX FREEDOM DAY.

Did you know that prior to April 30, 2007, most Americans were actually working for Uncle Sam? It's true. On average, it took almost four months to earn enough to pay your 2007 income taxes.

If you'd like to pay yourself more and Uncle Sam less, consider:

- Federal income tax-free municipal bonds[1]
- Tax-deferred traditional IRA contributions
- Investments that pay qualified dividends (now taxed at a maximum of only 15%)[2]

[1] May be subject to state, local and/or alternative minimum taxes.
[2] Dividends can be increased, decreased or totally eliminated at any point, with or without notice. An equity investment will fluctuate in price. When sold, you may receive more or less than your original investment amount. The tax advantages of dividends are set to expire on Dec. 31, 2010 unless extended by Congress.

To help make Tax Freedom Day come earlier for you, call your local Edward Jones financial advisor today.

Thank You...

Thank you to everyone for the cards, gifts and words of wisdom that I received for my 50th birthday. Thank you to Party Revolution for the music, Don Osse for the entertainment and to all who came to celebrate at my party. You made turning 50 not as bad as I thought.

George Rybakowski

Thank You...

We would like to thank friends, neighbors, relatives, family and everyone for support and caring prior to and at the benefit. These unbelievable expressions of encouragement, caring, donations of time and money, prayers and much, much more has truly uplifted us during this trying time. An extra special Thank You to the St. Hilaire Community Club, the St. Hilaire Lions Club, businesses and individuals for the benefit and raffle. We are grateful for your generosity and thoughtfulness, it will never be forgotten.

Recipes for this week are all about rhubarb. Can you hardly wait for something made with the tangy stuff? The recipes are from the good cooks who contributed to the Evangelical Covenant Church cookbook from 2006.

When you can't wait any longer for something rhubarb, make this delicious coffee cake with the very first few stalks:

RHUBARB CAKE
Myrtle Sackett

1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 butter, softened
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup buttermilk
1 1/2 cups chopped rhubarb
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Chopped nuts

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees.

In large bowl, cream brown sugar, butter, egg and vanilla. Sift flour and soda and gradually add to creamed mixture alternately with buttermilk.

Fold in rhubarb and pour into 9x13 inch cake pan (greased and floured). In small bowl, mix sugar, cinnamon and nuts and sprinkle over cake batter. Bake 45-50 minutes until tests done.

You can make this recipe for eating any time - It's a wonderful taste of spring:

RHUBARB DREAM DESSERT
Eleanor Wellen

1 cup sifted flour
5 tablespoons powdered sugar
1/2 cup margarine (or butter)
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups rhubarb

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

In medium bowl, blend flour, powdered sugar and margarine (or butter) to form a dough. Pat into 7x11 inch pan and bake 15 minutes. Cool slightly.

In large bowl, mix eggs, sugar, flour and salt until well combined. Fold in rhubarb and pour mixture onto baked crust. Bake 35 minutes more.

The family will love this tasty jam on toast or P&B sandwiches. You can make this one when you start to get so much rhubarb you don't know what to do with it:

~RHUBARB JAM
In Memory of Florence Drotts

5 cups rhubarb, chopped
3 cups sugar
1 package Strawberry gelatin

In large bowl, combine rhubarb and sugar. Let mixture stand several hours.

Place mixture in large kettle and cook over medium heat for 15 minutes. Stir in gelatin until it dissolves. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

You'll need a few more stalks of rhubarb for this cake, but it sounds so good - make half a recipe for the family dessert:

RHUBARB CUSTARD CAKE
Ruth Goodrich

1 yellow cake mix
4-5 cups chopped rhubarb
1 cup white sugar
1 pint whipping cream

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

In large bowl, prepare cake mix as directed on package. Pour batter into 9x13 inch cake pan. Mix rhubarb and sugar and sprinkle over top of cake batter. Pour whipping cream over top and bake 50-60 minutes.

The cream and rhubarb will sink to the bottom of the pan and form a layer of custard. Serve cake warm. Refrigerate leftovers.

One more tasty treat made with rhubarb, great for any breakfast or a special treat for the kids (and you):

RHUBARB MUFFINS
Marion Stark

1 1/4 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup oil
1 egg
2 tablespoons vanilla
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup nuts
1 1/2 cups chopped rhubarb
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

In large bowl, beat brown sugar, oil, egg, vanilla, buttermilk and nuts. Add rhubarb, flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Mix lightly until combined.

Pour batter into greased or paper-lined muffin tins, filling each cup 3/4 full. Bake 20-25 minutes. Makes 24 muffins.

Thank You...

We would like to thank all of our dear friends and relatives for their kindness, generosity, thoughts and prayers during this most difficult time.

We offer a special thank you to Monsignor Tlan, Dr. Possal, Dr. Sanjay Patel, Northwest Medical Center, TR Care Center and all the nurses and staff for the wonderful care L.L. received. We are very fortunate to have these professionals in our community. Thank you also to Johnson Funeral Service for making this process go as smoothly as possible. We would also like to thank the American Legion, the VFW, and Elks Lodge. Having the color guard at any funeral is impressive.

The benefits hosted by the Sons of the American Legion and the Elks Lodge gave us such a vast number of people to thank - the people who worked to make them happen and the hundreds of people who made them both unforgettable. We will never be able to tell you how much each and every bit of compassion meant to all of us.

Again, thank you. There are far too many people to thank. Please know that we cannot mention everyone by name for fear of missing someone. God bless each and every one of you.

The L.L. Jones Family

community college students in Minnesota, based on his scholarly performance in the last academic year. Not only did Brandon accomplish great things in the classroom, he also had many achievements on the basketball court. Brandon was the captain and lone sophomore on NCTC's basketball team that finished second in the nation. Brandon was named to the MCCC All North-Division team, and the MCCC All Conference team. He was also selected to play in the NJCAA Coaches'Association All-Star Game. Brandon is a graduate of Grand Forks Central High School and is the son of Mathias (Mat) and Mary Fontes.

Jonathan Kays

Jonathan Kays is graduating with both an associate of arts degree and a diploma in welding process technology. He plans to transfer to the University of Wisconsin-Madison to pursue a degree in materials engineering. An active member of campus activities, Jonathan is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and has participated in the Northland College Jazz Band, Community Band, Pep Band and was the drummer for the pit orchestra for the theater production of "Little Shop of Horrors." Jonathan has participated twice in the annual "Biker Bob" bike ride that covers a route between both campuses and raises money for part-time student scholarships. He remains active in the community as he is currently an assistant high school tennis coach at Lincoln High School and has coached club swimming in the past. Jonathan's passion is competitive cycling; he has competed in numerous competitions statewide in the past year. He plans to compete in over a dozen races this summer and in collegiate club cycling in the coming year. Jonathan is a 2005 graduate of Lincoln High School. He is the son of Thomas and Dianne Kays of Thief River Falls.

Rep. Dave Olin addresses the House ragarding disaster relief for Browns Valley, Rogers end Warroad. Aid for the city of Warroad will be directed to repair damages incurred during an August twister in 2006.

Roseau Area Community Fund welcomes new member

At its April monthly meeting, the Advisory Committee of the Roseau Area Community Fund (RACF) welcomed new member Don Miller. RACF is a component fund of Northwest Minnesota Foundation.

The most important RACF objective is to continue to enjoy the good quality of place residents have in the Roseau area, to maintain Roseau as a healthy, viable community that strives to make improvements, adding to the quality of life of all city and rural residents. RACF is able to help through donors' gifts to the endowment fund. Past grant recipients are the Roseau Area Historical Society, Fireplace Fund at Roseau Public Library and Citizens Pocket Park/Roseau Beautification. The fund is guided by an advisory committee of local people, who are aware of the local needs.

Disaster Relief on the Way for Warroad and a River Diversion Project for Roseau

On a 120-8 vote, the Minnesota House approved disaster relief for Browns Valley, Rogers and Warroad. Aid for the city of Warroad will be directed to repair damages incurred during an August twister in 2006. The superintendent of utilities provided documentation on damages not covered by insurance or other means – totaling $74,000 – the exact amount requested and granted in this bill. The remaining Flood Mitigation Funds (up to $2 million) were also made available for the Roseau River Diversion Project. If all goes well, this bill will soon await gubernatorial action.

Rep. Dave Olin can be contacted at (651) 296-9635, by mail at 593 State Office Building, 100 Martin Luther King Blvd., St. Paul, MN 55155 or via e-mail at rep.dave.olin@house.mn.

Lucky Me

Here's a poor question disguised as a conversation starter that is used often by those who wish to pass time without accomplishing much, "How would you spend your last day on Earth?" I have never answered this question, as it's a waste of energy creating an answer regarding an event of which I will receive no prior notification. I do however regard the knowledge of my own eventual (i.e. hopefully distant, beyond the horizon of my own imagination) death as a sharp jab to do as much with my life as soon as possible, as in today.

There are certain jobs that I really struggle to perform. I, much like General George Patton, like to take ground but have little interest in holding that ground. When I was younger, jobs like cleaning the yard, staining the deck, or anything even close to maintenance seemed trivial and required extreme self discipline to complete. I've changed over time; all those jobs of maintaining the ground I've gained now seem like taking care of an old friend. Maybe it's just the time of year, but I like to change oil and get the deck ready for summer and even occasionally mow the grass. I guess it reminds me that one day I will require frequent maintenance, so I want to give as good as I may one day get. I once felt that I needed to do big things with my life, but the truth is that all of these little things done regularly gain size over time. It takes patience to make great strides with your life because it's done in tiny steps on a daily basis. The tasks that once seemed like a waste of time are now time well spent and a worthwhile use of my life.

Facing death and spending the time prior to this event has recently taken on greater importance for me. There is the existential term, "we are all dying," but for our dog, Muffin, that term has a more concrete meaning. Muffin has always needed pills for her thyroid gland but has basically enjoyed good health. Muffin is old now (very old for a large breed) and is really showing it. I loaded her in the pickup for a trip to the veterinarian this week as she has recently gotten a little bloated. Her thyroid was fine, but there's not much the vet can do to reverse time. The trip to Red Lake Falls was probably the best therapy, bright and sunny, lots of farmers planting and my old buddy snuggled close enough that it was almost hard to breath. Muffin doesn't like the heat, so I kept the air conditioner on high to the point that the cold made my hands hurt. I was worried that Muffin may need to be put down, so I wanted to make this a good last day for her. As it turned out, she and I made the trip back home, where she seems comfortable and happy. We had a good day, made even better by the fact it wasn't our last.

OK, so I've made an argument for the following statements; appreciate the small things in life as they are what life consists of and live life with the urgency that every day is your last for it may well be dependent upon which way the bell is tolling that day. I've also managed to dodge a question, "What would you do if it was your last day on earth?" First off, it would have to be a day I didn't go to work - death at work would prove to me that God has a very ironic sense of humor. I would spend my last day on projects at our home and our farm; I would drink black coffee in the morning and at three in the afternoon; I would start a new project after lunch and finish an old project after coffee, after five, I'd sit on the deck and pet our animals until Lisa got home at which point I'd make supper and have a few drinks while I listened to a pretty gal tell me about her day, and after supper, I'd sleep so hard that I'd awake with my ears ringing, which is exactly how I lived today. Lucky me.

Engelstad family makes significant donation to UND

The man who believed "the harder you work, the luckier you get," is giving students attending the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, N.D., an opportunity to learn the same lessons he learned. We believe it will have a significant, positive impact on students and the entire region.

Prior to his death in 2002, Ralph Engelstad provided funding for the construction of the "Big Ralph" in Grand Forks, and the "Little Ralph" in Thief River Falls. These are just a couple of examples of the generosity of the Engelstad family. News this past week announced that the Engelstad Family Foundation has donated $20 million for academic programs at UND. It's the second-largest academic gift in the history of the school. It will be distributed to UND in 10 annual installments of $2 million each. When the final installment is received in 2017, the gift will generate an estimated $800,000 a year, enough to fund 112 scholarships and two endowed professorships.

The donation is worthy of praise. As the Fargo Forum pointed out in its editorial on the subject, May 10, 2007, "It means more qualified students can attend college. It means top-notch faculty will be attracted to the Grand Forks campus."

Tour of Red Lake River may be very educational

This past week, officials announced an organized canoe and kayak trip down the Red Lake River. As the event brochure points out, numerous historical points of interest are located along the 193-mile paddling route, including trading posts, oxcart trails, treaty signing locations and steamboat landings. The event is sponsored by the Red Lake River Corridor Joint Powers Board, which has as its mission, "To protect and restore the Red Lake River's natural corridor and enhance water quality and fish and wildlife habitat that will provide for educational, recreational, and economic opportunity."

To that end, we believe the many people who will participate in this event, will enjoy celebrating the historical, economic and cultural contribution this important natural resource has made to this region. It truly is the lifeblood of this region.

The trip also highlights the river's value as an natural resource, and casts a spotlight on the need to protect it, while making it more accessible. Obviously, protecting this natural resource while enhancing access will prove to be a difficult balancing act, but it is a worthwhile goal, and one worth learning more about. We encourage citizens along the Red Lake River corridor to join in this activity.

Mn/DOT plans Aviation Career Night May 17

In an attempt to dispel the myth that there is a lack of jobs in the aviation industry, the Aviation Education Section of Mn/DDT Aeronautics is holding a Career Night for potential aviation high school students and their parents from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, May 17, at the Hilton Minneapolis/St. Paul Airport in Bloomington.

The Career Fair will serve to educate the public about the tremendous opportunities for employment that exist in aviation, the high quality and affordability of the Minnesota State Colleges and Universities aviation programs, and how to apply to those programs. Industry employers and alumni from Minnesota aviation programs who are currently employed in the industry will be the featured speakers. Representatives from Minnesota aviation college and university programs will be onsite to answer questions. For more information call the Aviation Education Department of MnDDT Aeronautics at 651-297-7652.

The aviation maintenance technology program at Northland Community and Technical College - Thief River Falls campus offers several options for students. One option is the diploma program. The student completing this option is qualified to obtain the Federal Aviation Administration Airframe and Powerplant Mechanic License. A second option is to complete the requirements for the diploma program and also complete 18 credits of general education credits at NCTC. A student who completes this is eligible to receive an AAS degree and be qualified for junior status at the University of North Dakota Center for Aerospace Sciences where they can earn a bachelor of science degree in aviation maintenance management. NCTC currently has transfer agreements with a number of area institutions, including St. Cloud State University, Metropolitan State University, Minnesota State University-Mankato, and Winona State University.

NCTC has a placement department that actively contacts prospective employers and coordinates interviews for its students. Continental Airlines, Columbia Helicopters, Mesaba, Cessna and several other companies come to the school to interview and hire many of the students. The placement office also assists students in developing their resume packet.

NCTC offers a full financial aid package and is V.A. approved. For more information or to arrange to tour the facility contact Lynn McGlynn at the Aviation Department at 218-681-0829 or toll-free 1-800-959-6282.

Community invited to celebrate Homes for the Aging Week

The entire community is invited to join the residents, volunteers and staff at the Greenbush Community Nursing Home in Greenbush, to celebrate "Homes for the Aging Week," May 13-19.

A number of activities have been planned including a "Carnival Day," Wednesday, May 16 from 3 to 7 p.m., which will be held indoors at the nursing home. Tickets are four for $1. The carnival will include games/bingo/prizes, fresh lefse, bake sale, donuts, cotton candy, snow cones, nachos and cheese, apples and caramel, hot dogs, taco in a bag, popcorn, beverages, face painting, balloon creations, bike drawings, petting zoo, free blood pressure checks.

Other events the Greenbush Community Nursing Home has planned for residents, families and the public include Sunday, May 13, "Mother's Day," 9 a.m. special music, 2:30 p.m. worship and ice cream social. Monday, May 14, "Tea Party," 1:30 p.m., "Golden Girls Hat and Tea Party," ladies tea and fashion show at Bethel Lutheran, 6:30 p.m., singalong. Tuesday, May 15, "Denim Day with Local Links," 9:30 a.m., Mattracks, 1:30 p.m., Central Boiler, 7 p.m., HeeHaw Berro family. Thursday, May 17, "Law and Order Day," 8:30 a.m., DNR presentation, 1:30 p.m., Roseau County Sheriff, 7 p.m., Hodne and friends. Friday, May 18, "Back to the '50s," 1 p.m. dance at Smith's Pavilion, 7 p.m., Roseau County Sheriff's Mounted Posse.

Council to discuss development issue

At its next meeting Tuesday, May 15, the Thief River Falls City Council will discuss a land development issue. Council members will discuss the practice of having developers set aside park land or provide the city with money for park land. This discussion will take place despite, at a parks tour Thursday night, Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen questioning the need for a public discussion on the matter. The council meeting is scheduled at 5 p.m. at City Hall.

Search continues for missing Crookston man

Searches continued this week in Marshall County for a Crookston man missing since April 27. His vehicle was found May 1 north of Stephen.

Joshua David Abel, 29, was reported missing at 8:48 p.m. April 30. He had last been seen the evening of April 27, when he told a family member that he was going for a ride.

Abel is described as a white male standing 5 feet 11 inches and weighing 250 pounds. He wears wire-rimmed glasses, and he has blue eyes. Abel has sandy-colored hair. He was last seen wearing a darkly colored t-shirt with knee-length shorts, according to the Crookston Police Department.

The Marshall County Sheriff's Department has conducted searches in the area where Abel's 1987 Buick Century was found. The car was found May 1 at his old family farmstead in Sinnott Township in Marshall County. His keys were still in the ignition. "There was a pretty confident sighting of him in the Donaldson area north of the farmstead," said Marshall County Sheriff John Novacek, who noted that sighting occurred April 30.

Yet, Abel still hasn't been found. "We don't know if he climbed in with somebody and left the area, or if he's just hiding somewhere and doesn't want to be found," Novacek said.

Novacek expects that the search effort will wind down as he feels authorities have covered all the areas they could. On Wednesday, an Air National Guard helicopter from Fargo, N.D., searched the area and found nothing. On Thursday, searchers were expected to do a limited search of abandoned farmsites near the vacant farmstead where Abel's car was found.

Anyone with any knowledge or information about Abel should contact either the Crookston Police Dept. at (218) 281-3111 or the Marshall County Sheriff's Office at (218) 745-5411.

TRF: Not crying wolf

and because of concerns over the safety of the officers and nearby public, decided to kill the animal.

Franke has been with crews working on prescribed burns and wasn't able to view the animal until Wednesday morning. By then, Franke said the news about the wolf had spread and was even being discussed at a meeting in Wisconsin. Wolves typically shun human interaction and there are no reports of similar events taking place. It has happened with coyotes, but not wolves.

This wolf, an adult male, weighing 104 pounds, was suffering from a severe case of mange. It was suffering from such a severe case of mange that, Franke thought that even if they had been able to remove the wolf from under the deck, that it probably would have been euthanized. Franke speculated that since wolves will tend to isolate themselves or be isolated from a pack when ill, that that is what happened with this wolf. There have even been documented situations in which the pack killed a sick member of the pack. The carcass, he said, will be sent to the DNR's wildlife research facility in Grand Rapids where staff may conduct a necropsy, which may provide them with more information.

Franke said they also will be looking at license holders of wolf hybrids to determine whether it was one of their animals.

It is illegal to own a wolf, and owners of animals that are part wolf must be licensed and the animals registered.

But, Franke said he had no idea where the wolf could have come from. There are wolf packs at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, a pack near Viking and a pack in Southeast Pennington County, but Thief River Falls has not been considered within the typical habitat range of wolves. Franke added however, that those lines are redrawn all the time.

From his experience, Franke said wolves will generally stay within an area of a township or two, but that depends upon the availability of food and density of wolves. There isn't a high density of wolves in this area, but there is a lot of human interaction, which has had an impact on the number of wolves in the region.

Franke said he does not believe the public has anything to worry about. The odds of there being more wolves within the community are relatively nil. Additionally, there are no records of wolves attacking humans in North America.

City discusses summer hours

more in the course of a day," Narlock said in reference to the amount of work completed when summer hours are used.

Parks and Recreation Director Madelyn Vigen said fewer people participated in park programs when they were held later on Fridays. As a result, her department now holds activities earlier in the week. That, in turn, means some parks employees are required to start work earlier Mondays through Thursdays. Others are required to work later those weekdays.

Murphy indicated his department is unable to operate under summer hours. However, he said it has been easy for the police department to access other city workers 24 hours a day, seven days a week even though their departments may have different hours in the summer.

Other cities have different hours during the summer compared to other times of the year. "There are some cities that do it," said City Administrator Jodie Torkelson.

"That's fine what other cities do," replied Nordhagen. "... I just want to make sure the needs of the public are being met satisfactorily, more than satisfactorily."

Two council members seemed to suggest that city departments should have summer hours.

"I think it's worked to this point," said council member Elvera Cullen. Until the council receives "serious complaints," Cullen said, it would be difficult to begin operating under regular business hours this summer.

Nordhagen replied that he didn't think it would be difficult to change the city's practice from summer hours to regular business hours right now.

"As far as I'm concerned, I haven't gotten any complaints on it," said council member Floyd Erickson, who noted the Thief River Falls School District operates under summer hours. He indicated there is always someone at the various school buildings during normal business hours in the summer. (The same seems to hold true for city departments.)

Nordhagen indicated he received a couple of complaints regarding summer hours. He referred to bathrooms that apparently hadn't been cleaned either before or during a softball event on Sunday.

Vigen responded that her department discussed the matter Tuesday morning and; that prior to shortly before that time, she hadn't known about that bathroom issue.

Summer hours are again expected to be on the council's agenda for its meeting Tuesday, May 15 at 5 p.m. at City Hall and/or its next Committee of the Whole meeting on May 22 at 4:30 p.m. at City Hall.

Local teacher given Wal-Mart Award

Newfolden, Oslo, Alvarado and Climax. She has taught Early Childhood Family Education, Learning Readiness Preschool, Reading Recovery, Extended Day Kindergarten, kindergarten, first grade and second grade.

For Kragness, the award will only help with what she believes to be Challenger Elementary's main goal.

"We are life long learners and this district supports that belief," Kragness said. "This honor is really for all of the teachers and their efforts to find the best way to teach so that each child can be successful."

This is the 12th year of the Wal-Mart and Sam's Club National Teacher of the Year program. Each Wal-Mart and Sam's Club location across the United States will choose a local teacher of the year. Each of those teachers will be eligible for the National Teacher of the Year award.

Stine said that teachers were nominated for the award through a ballot box. Nominations were accepted for a three-week period and were then counted by a 10-person committee. Nominations were not limited to Thief River Falls, as teachers throughout the region were nominated.

Each nomination was to include specific reasons why the teacher should be teacher of the year. Nominations that only listed "great teacher" were disregarded.

The 10-person committee narrowed the list of teacher of the year candidates to two, following a series of discussions. A vote was then taken and Kragness was chosen as the area Teacher of the Year.

"What really stood out about Mrs. Kragness, is her dedication to literacy and her determination to help kids read," Stine said.

Local Teacher of the Year winners are eligible to apply for the State Teacher of the Year award. State winners will receive a one-year membership to Phi Delta Kappa, an international honor society for educators, and an additional $10,000 educational grant for their schools. State winners are automatically entered in the national competition.

The National Teacher of the Year will be selected from the state winners. The award-winning teacher will receive an additional $25,000 educational grant for a total of $36,000 to his or her school.

Through this year's program, more than 4,000 teachers will be recognized nationwide, with more than $5 million donated to local schools.

Toivonen manages with the assistance of Greg Blade, an employee with the private contractor providing the plane. Blade is the mix master, making sure the liquid concentration of a phosphate-based retardant is mixed with the proper amount of water and loaded onto the plane. Toivonen said it takes the plane about one minute to taxi to the site, and three minutes to load. The temporary and transportable base includes a camper trailer, a tanker for the phosphate, a trailer with mixing equipment and tanks, and a large inflatable pool that is filled with water.

Toivonen is able to stay on top of this fast-paced activity by communicating with the pilot and other staff from his communications room inside the trailer.

Last week, the fire suppression supervisor for the DNR, Ron Stoffel, thanked the many non-forestry DNR employees and others they rely during these periods of high preparedness. Toivonen added his thanks, stating that the staff at the airport and firefighters with the Thief River Falls Fire Department have been very helpful. In fact, on Wednesday the fire department came out to the airport on short notice and provided 4,000 gallons of water.

Toivonen doesn't know how long he's going to be in Thief River Falls. Toivonen and Blade both live in Grand Rapids, but depending on the weather conditions, and fire threat, they may be just about anywhere this time of year. Because fire can cause such devastation, Toivonen is hoping for rain and that he doesn't have to stay very long in Thief River Falls. A look to the sky tells another story. Typically, it rains on the weekend of the fishing opener, but it looks like it's going to be a bright, warm and sunny opener. The chance of rain is ... slight.

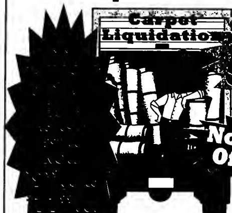
principal at Franklin in 1998 and principal in 2000. He is a member of the MASSP, serving on the state staff development committee for principals. He was named Principal of the Year by the Northern Division of MASSP in 2002, and again in 2004.



"I am very fortunate to be able to come back to Thief River Falls and work in this fine community," said Wayne. "We have a fantastic staff at Franklin Middle School and great students who are eager to learn. I want to thank NCTC and its staff for giving me the opportunity as an older than average student to gain a fine education and for providing the background to be successful at a four-year university."

Bob's wife Lynell works in the Learning Center at NCTC. They have two children, Erica, a junior at Lincoln High School, and Erin, a fifth grader at Challenger Elementary.

MCCC state baseball tournament...

Pioneers lose one-run games

Northland's 2007 baseball season ended with a pair of 4-3 losses during the May 4-5 Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament in St. Cloud.

The Pioneers dropped an eight-inning quarterfinal match-up to eventual champion Itasca and fell to host St. Cloud Tech in the consolation semifinals.

Tied at 3-3 in the top of the eighth, Itasca loaded the bases with one out, Northland tried to turn an inning-ending double play, but the runner beat the relay on a close play at first as the go-ahead run crossed the plate.

The Pioneers came back to put runners at first and second with nobody out in the bottom of the eighth, but they failed on a bunt attempt, and the next two batters took called third strikes to end the game.

"That was the toughest loss we've had in my three years at Northland," said head coach Steve Gust. "It was heartbreaking. We just didn't get the job done in clutch situations."

With a regional berth still on the line, there was incentive to do well in the loser's bracket. Thanks to three walks, Northland started the game with three first inning runs, only to see St. Cloud Tech answer with a three-run third.

"We just didn't swing the bat very well," acknowledged Gust. "Offensively, we just weren't very good in either game."

Northland finished the year 20-18. It was the third straight 20-win season for the Pioneers under Gust. The only other 20-victory season for the program was a 21-11 finish in 1994 under Terry Wiseth, currently a member of the Pioneers' coaching staff.

Top five state tournament finishers earned spots in the six-team, double-elimination National Junior College Athletic Association Division III Region 13 playoffs May 11-13 at Willmar, where the Minnesota delegation – Itasca, Ridgewater, Mesabi Range, MSCTC-Fergus Falls and St. Cloud Tech will be joined by Western Wisconsin Tech.

NCTC softball team 0-2 at state tourney

It was a two-and-out appearance for Northland at the 2007 Minnesota Community College Conference state softball tournament May 5-6 in Brainerd.

The Kathy Huschle-coached Pioneers lost to St. Cloud Tech 13-7 in the first round of the 11-team, double-elimination event and were ousted by Minnesota West 14-1 in the loser-out bracket.

"All season long, we were out-hitting people – until the state tournament," said Huschle. "Our offense finally cracked. We didn't play badly. We just didn't hit the ball very well."

Rainy River beat Central Lakes in an all-Northern Division final.

Northland had finished the regular season with a Thursday (May 3) trip to Hibbing, where the Pioneers lost to the Cardinals 16-15 in eight innings and 9-5. A make-up game against Mesabi Range later that same day wound up as a forfeit win for the Pioneers when the Norse failed to field a complete team.

The Pioneers finished 6-20.

Rogalla, Prowlers beat Mustangs in softball match-up

Winning pitcher Shawna Rogalla homered Monday as Thief River Falls beat visiting Red Lake County Central 6-2 in high school softball.

Rogalla threw 4 1/3 innings of no-hit ball, but she did walk seven. Kelly Hanson pitched the final 2 2/3 innings, giving up one hit. Together, the two Thief River Falls pitchers struck out 10 batters.

The Prowlers picked up one run in the second inning and made it 3-0 in the third. Red Lake County Central chopped the difference to 3-2 in the top of the fifth, but the Prowlers countered with three runs in the bottom of the inning.

Walrath earns honors at Detroit Lakes meet

■ Top Female Athlete Award

Kathryn Walrath of Thief River Falls and Drew Daggett of Frazee were named top female and male athlete at the Craig Fredrickson Eagles Invitational high school track meet May 3 in Detroit Lakes.

Walrath won the girls discus and both dash titles - the 100 and 200 meters. Daggett took the boys high jump, 110 high hurdles and 300 intermediate hurdles.

Bemidji boys and Detroit Lakes girls won team titles. Thief River Falls girls ran fourth and the Thief River Falls boys were fifth in a six-team field.

The meet was named in memory of Craig Fredrickson, a 1996 Detroit Lakes graduate and standout multi-sport athlete who died unexpectedly from a cardiac arrest at the age of 29.

Thief River Falls also got first place performances from Andrew BlackLance in the boys shot put and Mark Campbell in the boys 400.

Bemidji earns 11-inning win over Prowlers

First four Bemidji batters in the bottom of the 11th inning reached base and produced the tie-breaking run as the Lumberjacks edged visiting Thief River Falls 4-3 in Tuesday high school softball action.

The final frame started with a single over second by Amber Crunden. A ground ball and high throw trying to get the lead runner at second – the Prowlers' only error of the game – put Brittany Black at first. A bunt single by Meg Claypool loaded the bases. Alice Storey then hit a high chopper to short, with Crunden easily beating the throw to the plate for the win.

It was a pitching duel between Elissa Port of Bemidji and Brittni Johnson of Thief River Falls. Port gave up just four hits, struck out 18 and walked three. Johnson scattered eight hits, struck out 10 and walked one.

"Both pitchers controlled the afternoon and kept both teams on their heels," said Thief River Falls coach Corey Poole. "Johnson had her strongest performance of the season. If we could have eliminated some mental mistakes, I feel we could have won this one."

It was just the second loss in 14 starts for the Prowlers. The Lumberjacks improved to 10-2.

"This was the best team we have seen this season," noted Poole. "You hate to lose a game like this, but we were able to see some things we need to work on."

Prowlers are Quad champions at EGF

It was a title-winning effort for the Thief River Falls boys high school tennis team at the 2007 Northwest Quad played May 3 in East Grand Forks.

The Prowlers finished the day with 18 of a possible 21 points, followed by Crookston with 10, Bemidji 8 and East Grand Forks 6.

Putting together 3-0 individual championship performances for the Prowlers were Jacob Engelstad, No. 1 singles; Cody Bottem, No. 2 singles; Brandon Skime, No. 4 singles; Jordan Swanson-Chase Haviland, No. 1 double; and Brian Kays-Corey Horlen, No. 2 doubles.

"We played much better in the wind today than we did in Moorhead a couple weeks ago," reported Thief River Falls coach Corey Thorson. "Our singles were patient and our doubles were opportunistic. We stress getting the early lead/break in our matches, and for the most part we did. That all translated into 'W's today.

Detroit Lakes boys claim Bemidji Invitational titles

Detroit Lakes won team and individual titles at Monday's Bemidji Invitational boys high school golf tournament.

Josh Herzog of the Lakers was medalist with a one-over par 73 as Detroit Lakes finished with a 315-318 edge over both Grand Rapids and Moorhead.

Thief River Falls was ninth in the 20-team field at 338. Lee Peterson led the Prowlers with an 80.

"Lee was disappointed with shooting another 80," said Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler. "In all of his meets, he has had the same score. We need him to show his leadership and break into the 70s. Zach Pederson's 85, Seth Torstveit's 86 and Wes Pederson's 87 were okay, but we need them to drop their scores a few strokes."

Bemidji Invitational

■ Team totals - Detroit Lakes 315, Grand Rapids 316, Moorhead 318, Bemidji 321, Crookston 323, Roseau 325, Staples-Motley 328, East Grand Forks 331, Thief River Falls 338, Pequot Lakes 346, Lake of the Woods 347, Bemidji Blue 348, International Falls 355, Walker-Hackensack-Akeley 357, Warroad 357, Wadena-Deer Creek 361, Fosston 368, Blackduck 377, Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 389, Park Rapids Area 399.

■ Medalist - Josh Herzog, Detroit Lakes, 73; 2. Zach Kappes, Moorhead, 74; 3. Scott Mathews, Grand Rapids, 75

Prowlers, Rams split twinbill

Despite collecting just three hits on the day, Thief River Falls managed to come up with a doubleheader split Monday in a high school baseball match-up at Roseau.

Two Roseau pitchers combined on a one-hit shutout as the Rams won the opener 3-0.

The Prowlers mustered just two hits in the nightcap – both by Sean Sorteberg. One of them was a two-run first inning home run that led to a 4-2 Thief River Falls victory.

"We struggled again offensively in both games," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Shane Zutz. "Game 1, we were not ready to play. I am the coach, so I will have to take the blame for that. We didn't communicate on defense, which led to some breakdowns and put too many guys on base."

Roseau didn't exactly light it up on offense, either. The Rams mustered only four hits themselves. They had three of them in Game 1 when a pair of singles, two walks and two errors produced the game's only runs.

Thief River Falls pitcher Spencer Johnson gave up just one hit in the nightcap, shutting out the Rams until the sixth inning when a two-out walk was followed by a Joe Benke home run that chopped the Prowlers 4-0 lead in half.

Johnson, however, regrouped and struck out the final four batters he faced.

Joining Sorteberg in the RBI department for the Prowlers in Game 2 were Sam Mattison with a second inning sacrifice bunt and Nick Gagner with a fourth inning sacrifice fly.

"Sean's home run got us going early," pointed out Zutz. "Our defense was much better, and Spencer worked quickly and threw strikes."

Northern Freeze falls to Wave, handles Falcons

Northern Freeze rebounded from a 6-2 Tuesday (May 1) loss at the hands of East Grand Forks with a 26-2 Thursday (May 3) win over Fertile-Beltrami in high school softball. Both games were played in Newfolden.

The Green Wave shattered a 2-2 tie with a four-run sixth inning.

"Too many errors, too many swings at high pitches and too many things not done right today," reported Northern Freeze coach Jake Foslien. "East Grand Forks is a solid ball club and you can't give good teams extra opportunities. Hopefully we can use this game to work on things we need to work on (myself included) and use it as a step forward instead of a step backwards."

Northern Freeze benefitted from a bundle of walks issued by three Fertile-Beltrami pitchers for the win two days later.

"Their pitchers really struggled throwing strikes," noted Foslien, "and we took advantage of that."

International Migratory Bird Day Is May 12

The second Saturday of May is recognized as International Migratory Bird Day. This year it occurs on Saturday, May 12, 2007.

International Migratory Bird Day (IMBD) is an annual celebration of one of the most important and spectacular events in the life of a migratory bird – its journey between summer and winter homes. IMBD was established to focus public attention on the need for action to conserve birds and their habitats. This year's theme is "Birds in a Changing Climate." This year's poster was drawn by female artist Louise Zemaitis. There are 13 Program Sponsors and five Title Sponsors for this year's IMBD, which includes wildlife organizations, private companies and government agencies.

Earth is naturally surrounded by carbon dioxide, methane, and nitrous oxide, all "greenhouse" gases that trap the sun's heat, warming the planet and making life possible. We need these gases to survive, but as their concentrations increase in the atmosphere, more heat is trapped, and Earth's temperature rises.

Human use of coal, oil, and gas, and other activities such as the burning and cutting of forests, release carbon dioxide and other gases into the atmosphere. The more gases that are released the more heat that is trapped. In the last 50 years, the earth's temperature has risen an estimated 1-degree Fahrenheit (0.6-degrees Celsius). While this rise may seem insignificant, even small changes are enough to cause sea levels to rise, storms to become more intense, glaciers to retreat, and drought and fire to become more common. If you watch birds, you may also notice changes in the birds in your community and even backyard.

Around the globe, birds are responding to climate change in many ways. Some are adjusting the timing of their migration and breeding dates, while others are expanding their ranges. Most worrisome are the species that are failing to reproduce, unable to find sufficient food, and/or disappearing from breeding sites and migration routes.

What can you do for a changing climate? Switch from standard light bulbs to compact fluorescent bulbs, which last 10 times longer and use much less energy. Unplug all appliances when not in use. Equipment, such as televisions and stereos, still draw power when they are plugged in. Every mile you drive produces about one pound of carbon. Drive less, take the bus, carpool, walk, or ride your bike. To learn more about climate change, several Internet Web sites to look at include: www.abcbirds.org, www.ecokids.ca, http://epa.gov/climatechange, and www.pewclimate.org.

Most bird species are migratory rather than residential (stay at one place for the entire year). Migration of birds has been going on for hundreds of years. They migrate to areas that have an abundance of food and provide all of the other necessary habitat requirements to stay alive. If the habitat that is needed by these birds disappears, the birds will also disappear. For most people, birds are important to them. So let's do what we can to have them around for years to come not only for our generation but for generations to come.

Despite all of this, there have been 294 species of birds that have been observed on Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge over the years. To enjoy these wonderful birds, drive 12 miles north on Minnesota Highway 32 then 11 miles east on Marshall County Road 7 (22996 290th St. N.E.) from Thief River Falls. For further information please call (218) 449-4115, extension 203, 294, 202, 205 or 211.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is the principal federal agency responsible for conserving, protecting and enhancing fish, wildlife and plants and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. The Service manages the 95-million-acre National Wildlife Refuge System, which encompasses 545 national wildlife refuges, 3,000 small wetlands and other special management areas. It also operates 69 national fish hatcheries, 64 Fish and Wildlife Management offices and 81 ecological services field stations. The agency enforces federal wildlife laws, administers the Endangered Species Act, manages migratory bird populations, restores nationally significant fisheries, conserves and restores wildlife habitat such as wetlands, and helps foreign governments with their conservation efforts. It also oversees the Federal Assistance program that distributes hundreds of millions of dollars in excise taxes on fishing and hunting equipment to state fish and wildlife agencies.

"Let's Entertain" program offered by TRF Christian Women's Clubs

Area ladies are invited to enjoy fellowship and a meal on Tuesday, May 15 as the Thief River Falls Christian Women's Club's host "Let's Entertain." The program will be presented twice, first during a noon luncheon at the Best Western Inn in Thief River Falls and again during the After 5 Dinner at the Heritage Center, beginning at 6 p.m.

The program includes segments on: party foods by Karen Lincoln, local caterer; a musical treat by Lisa Schultz, who will perform a flute solo; and a presentation titled "A Sanctuary in Suffering," by Schultz, a Fergus Falls area resort owner.

Call Lee at 681-7417 or Armilla at 681-0463 for complimentary nursery reservations or cancellations for the noon luncheon. For "After 5 Dinner" reservations or cancellations, call Linda at 681-4469. Reservations can be made through Monday.

CJ Ramstad killed in accident May 6

CJ Ramstad, a well-known photographer and reporter who covered snowmobile and off-road vehicle news, was killed along with his 17-year-old son in an accident on May 6.

According to Carver County Sheriff's office, John Jacob Ramstad, 17, Deephaven, was driving a 1999 Volkswagon south on Carver County Road 53 on Sunday, May 6, when it collided with a 2004 Dodge pickup driven by Erik Jon Kern, 30, Buffalo. The Sheriff's Department received a report of the accident at 4:38 p.m.

The Carver County Sheriff's Department reported that witness information indicates that the Ramstad vehicle may have drifted onto the right shoulder of the road, overcorrected and swerved across the southbound lane and into the northbound lane, where it struck the pickup driven by Kern.

John Ramstad, and his father, Clifford John Ramstad, 61, also of Deephaven, died at the scene. Kern was transported from the scene by ambulance. Kern's two children, ages 6 and 3, were initially thought to be uninjured. Later, the 6-year-old girl exhibited signs of an internal injury and was also admitted to the hospital.

According to a resume posted on Snopod.com, CJ Ramstad began his career in the sport of snowmobile photojournalism in 1969 when he began writing advertising for snowmobiles at an ad agency in Minneapolis. He quickly moved to the magazine side of the business, first taking pictures and writing articles for Snowmobile Times, Snowmobile News and SNOW GOER, before founding his first magazine - SNOW WEEK - in 1973.

He wrote his first book, "The Collected Works of Pappy," in 1979 before being named editor of Snowmobile Magazine in 1980.

CJ edited SNOWMOBILE and, again briefly in the mid 1980s, SNOW WEEK, before leaving the magazines to write "Legend, The History of Arctic Cat," and "Of Ice and Engines, the History of the Eagle River Derby," both in 1987.

In 1988, CJ became the editor and publisher of MINNESOTA SNOWMOBILING and took on the task of coordinating the legendary Jeep 500 cross-country snowmobile race. In 1991, he became co-publisher of what has become the world's largest snowmobile magazine - SUPERTRAX - and in 1999, he wrote a second edition of "Legend" to reflect the Arctic Cat brand's first four decades. He was in the process of writing a fifth book, the story of Ralph Plaisted's successful journey over the icecap with a snowmobile to the North Pole.

J.J. Ramstad attended Mainstreet School in Hopkins. He was a versatile musician. He was described in a KARE 11 News story, as "a free spirit who, like his father, lived life by his own rules."

The Ramstads are survived by wife and mother Karla, and daughter and sister Marly.

Services are scheduled for 11 a.m. Monday, May 14, at Westwood Community Church in Excelsior.

LIQUOR STORE LEASE/PURCHASE OFFERED ON BIDS

The council of the City of Lancaster will receive bids by mail at P.O. Box 97, Lancaster, MN 56735 until June 11, 2007, for rental of its 1755 square feet liquor store facility located at 122 Central Ave. N., Lancaster, MN, and purchase of inventory held for retail sale therein.

The Lancaster Municipal Liquor Store is an ongoing business and bidders will be required to submit bids on both rent of the store premises and purchase of existing inventory. A successful bidder will be granted an option to purchase the building containing the liquor store facility.

Bid forms including minimum bid requirements, specifications for the leased property, current inventory, and legal description for the optioned property and particulars regarding the agreement to be entered into may be obtained from the City Clerk at (218) 762-5885 or (218) 762-4014 or P.O. Box 97, Lancaster, MN 56735.

Bids must be directed to the City Clerk at P.O. Box 97, Lancaster, MN 56735 and must be securely sealed with the bid envelope marked "Liquor Store Bids."

Bids will be opened and considered by the City Council at 122 Central Ave., City Hall, Lancaster, MN, in the council chambers on June 11, 2007 at 8:00 p.m. The City Council reserves the right to reject all bids and to clarify terms and conditions by negotiated agreement with a successful bidder.

LITTLE BROTHER/LITTLE SISTER PROGRAM

Twelve elementary and middle school students from Pennington county are waiting for a big brother or big sister. Each child comes from a single parent, low-income home or a home with other issues. They all need time and attention from an adult mentor to show them how special and unique they are.

If you are between 18-88 years of age, enjoy being with kids, can handle children well, and are willing to spend two hours a week with a child, we need you! Planned activities give you a chance to meet others in the program.

Call Sue Dupree at 681-8711, ext. 241 or e-mail sdupree@trf.k12.mn.us

Helping youth in our community today will make our community stronger tomorrow!

RENTALS

The Franklin Pool may be rented by the public for any type of occasion such as family get-togethers, birthday parties, organizations, get together with friends, etc. Two lifeguards are provided during rentals.

Rentals may be scheduled by calling 681-8065 (pool) and leave a message:
Days: Saturdays and Sundays
Times: 12:00 noon - 1:00 p.m. or 4:00 - 6:00 p.m. (or during the week when not in use)
Cost: $40 per hour

Remember . . . We are proud of our ongoing effort to provide a clean and safe environment at the Franklin Pool. The following policy will be implemented as needed. In the event of a visible discharge of a body waste the pool must be closed for super chlorination. This closing is done for the safety of our patrons and to comply with Minnesota state codes. The superchlorination (sanitizing) procedure effectively eliminates any bacteria present. The pool is closed for 12 hours after super chlorination to allow the pool water to reach a safe chemical level for public use.

AEROSPACE SUMMER CAMP

The Aerospace Summer Camp offers students, who will be entering 7th, 8th and 9th grade in Fall 2007, a way to increase their knowledge and application of skills in science, mathematics, and technology through the use of aerospace subjects. This camp offers a hands-on approach of exploration, experimentation, and discovery, combined with "real-world" applications in aerospace. It inspires students to learn through unique and authentic experiences not typically found in schools or other programs, and helps students develop a broader view of themselves and what careers are possible for their future.

Dates: Monday through Friday, July 16-20
Time: 8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Cost: $100
Location: NCTC Airport Campus
Instructor: Larry Langevin
Note: Participants should bring a bag lunch.

EARLY CHILDHOOD FAMILY EDUCATION

Early Childhood Family Education is a program of interesting learning experiences for parents and their children, birth up to kindergarten age. ECFE recognizes that families provide children with their first and most important learning environments and parents are children's first and most significant teachers.

Our goal is to make your job as stimulating and rewarding as possible. We do this by offering a wide variety of activities. Our summer program varies from the rest of the year as we change our format and attempt to take advantage of various community locations. Try ECFE - we think you will like it!

SUMMER FUN

Join us for three weeks of summer fun and activities as we use our senses to discover and learn about the world around us. All classes are intended to take advantage of the summer outdoor fresh air and sunshine. We will enhance our discovery with bubbles, balloons, sand, water, paints, and more. The first class meets at Challenger Preschool. Weather permitting the other classes will be outdoors and at other locations such as the beach or park. You will receive a schedule the first day of class. On days when the weather does not cooperate the class will meet at Challenger. A parent or responsible person must attend with all children.

Ages: Birth up to kindergarten and their parents
Dates: Tuesdays - June 5, 12, 19
Times: 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. or 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.
Cost: A sliding fee scale of $6.00 to $10.00 per family (You decide the amount that is appropriate for your family)
Location: Challenger Preschool (unless otherwise noted)

Preregister on or before June 1 by calling 681-8670 or mailing in the registration form. Minimum enrollment is required for each class.

EARLY CHILDHOOD SCREENING

REQUIRED BY MINNESOTA STATE LAW PRIOR TO KINDERGARTEN ENROLLMENT IN A PUBLIC SCHOOL

You may be wondering, "What is Early Childhood Screening?" It's a careful, simple check of your child's growth . . . physical, developmental and emotional. Early Childhood Screening helps school districts in identifying health and learning problems early, and preventing them from becoming more serious. However, it is not intended as a substitute for health care from your family physician or other providers.

The ideal age for screening is when your child is three years five months to three years eleven months old. Waiting until the year before school entry provides no advantage to your child.

Screenings are done by appointment only and will be offered in August and throughout the school year at Challenger Preschool. There is no fee charged for this screening.

If you have a four-year-old child who has not been screened, please contact Lisa Simenson at 681-8670 to schedule an appointment.

Mayorship remains undecided

Red Lake Falls - At the Red Lake Falls City Council meeting on May 14, "the council tabled its decision to appoint a mayor and did not comment as to its reason why." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, May 16, 2007, by Destiny Harmoning

Brooks City Council accepts Mercil resignation

Brooks - "A letter of resignation was sent to the Brooks City Council from Leroy Mercil. There was no reason given for his resignation, but the council accepted his letter of resignation with regrets. Council members also wished to express their thanks for his service to the community for the past 15 years." - The Oklee Herald, May 17, 2007, by Barb Novak

School Board OKs smaller cuts in special needs areas

Warren - "Smaller than initially recommended cost reductions in the areas of speech therapy and occupational therapy were approved by the Warren/Alvarado/Oslo School Board at its meeting Tuesday. The board also raised lunch prices a nickel across the board." - Warren Sheaf, May 16, 2007

Assisted living facility under construction

Hallock - "Groundbreaking has begun, on the east side of Kittson Memorial Healthcare Center, on the lower level of the nursing home.

"An eight-unit assisted living facility will be added onto KMH as a connecting link. The single story, wood framed building will be approximately 6,800 square feet with a concrete foundation, a crawlspace, concrete pavement and sidewalks." - Kittson County Enterprise, May 16, 2007

Roseau hosts 4th Annual Walk/Run for Diabetes

Roseau - "Last Saturday, more than 150 dedicated walkers and runners rushed past the starting gate at Roseau Area Hospital & Homes' 4th Annual Walk/Run for Diabetes.

"The chilly, overcast morning didn't stop these enthusiastic community members who donated their time and more than $4,500 to bring more awareness to the fight against diabetes." - Roseau Times-Region, May 12, 2007, by Deb Haugen

Walking among heroes

Warroad - "When you hear 'Warroad American Legion,' what do you think of? Many people think of the building on Lake Street that houses the restaurant and bar. They are correct. But even more important are the 160 veterans who form A.O. Mattson Post 25, our local chapter of the nationwide organization that IS the American Legion.

"Requirements to be a Legionnaire are simple but not easy. To be a member of this service-based organization, one must have served at least one day of active duty in the Armed Forces of the U.S. during a time of war. This group is composed solely of patriots who have made the commitment to defend our country or die trying." - Warroad Pioneer, May 16, 2007, by Nancy Heppner

Flood Control Project
$25 million for Roseau

Sen. Norm Coleman was successful in including authorization for federal funding to construct and upgrade aging and inadequate wastewater treatment and flood control projects in Minnesota as part of the Water Resources Development Act (WRDA). WRDA authorizes a number of Army Corps of Engineers flood control projects, as well as navigational improvements and ecosystem restoration of the Upper Mississippi River. The measure passed by a vote of 91 to 4. Included in that bill was $25,100,000 for the City of Roseau's flood control project.

In three weeks, the community of Roseau will note the passing of the five year anniversary of the 2002 flood that devastated the city.

Jeff Pelowski, mayor of Roseau, noted that it is encouraging that the project has been included in both the Senate and House bill. The next step is for the bill to go to conference committee. He said it was their hope to get this bill approved this year to keep the project on schedule.

The $25 million is the total estimated project cost. Pelowski said the federal share will be approximately $13 million and the state and local share will be approximately $11 million.

The timeline called for securing of funding so that construction on two bridges could begin next year. If all goes as planned, the four-and-one-half mile, 150-wide (at the bottom) channel that will take the community out of the 100-year flood plain, will be functional by 2009. Currently, three-quarters of the city is in the flood plain.

WRDA

"Our nation's waterways are critical to our national commerce and transportation systems, and it is imperative that we provide the tools needed to keep these national resources easily navigable and environmentally sound," said Coleman. "Across Minnesota, many rural communities are unable to shoulder the financial burden of upgrading or reconstructing key community infrastructure. This legislation is not only essential to ensure the economic vitality of rural communities, but it is also necessary for maintaining the health of our lakes and rivers."

"I was pleased to work closely with Norm on these projects important to Minnesota in the WRDA bill that came out of my committee," said Sen. Jim Inhofe, ranking member of the Environment and Public Works Committee. "It is clear that Norm is passionate about improving Minnesota's water resources infrastructure. He went the extra mile to secure this critical funding authorization by demonstrating to the Committee how important these projects are to meeting Minnesota's economic, water, and environmental needs."

Sen. Coleman was successful in securing funding for the following Minnesota projects in WRDA:

- $25,100,000 for the City of Roseau's flood control project. The Roseau project will include a 150-foot wide diversion channel that will divert floodwaters around

Farm income declined last year

In 2006, net farm income was down significantly according to the North Central and Northwestern Minnesota Farm Business Management Report, which was recently released.

This marks the fourth year of an expanded partnership between Central Lakes Community and Technical College and Northland Community and Technical College. Staff of the colleges stated recently that they believe that merging of these regions has added value to the comparison data found in this report. This report highlights many different aspects of farming in the region. It includes information from 462 farmers enrolled in the Farm Business Management program. One of the findings of this year's report is that net farm income was down.

According to the report, net farm income was down as a result of numerous production and cost factors. Farmers felt the impact of higher energy costs, as increases made their way into many expense categories. Expected increases occurred with fuel and oil, along with fertilizer; but other noted increases took place in repairs, supplies and custom hire.

The report further states, that crop production varied greatly in 2006, with many areas of northern Minnesota being impacted dramatically by the drought conditions experienced in June and July. In certain areas of the region, however, timely rains arrived and experienced excellent crops. In the same county, there were farms that had some of the best yields ever, while only a few miles away farmers reported very low or no yield at all. Significant increases in crop commodity prices did help offset further economic losses for farms that did have production.

Average dollars spent

Farmers make a significant contribution to the economy. The report states that the average farmer or farm spent $387,912 in the service community. Feeder livestock and custom work accounted for 5 percent; feed bought accounted for 11 percent; crop and livestock expenses accounted for 13 percent; fuel and repairs for 10 percent; hired labor for 5 percent; seed, fertilizer and chemicals for 12 percent; interest and leases for 12 percent; taxes and utilities for 2 percent; capital purchases for 19 percent; and family living for 11 percent.

Livestock

On the livestock side - dairy and beef cow-calf - both experienced substantial economic setbacks from what they experienced in the two years prior to 2006.

Dairy farmers experienced a decrease in

Art Project
RLCC Plummer students "book it"

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Red Lake County Central Elementary School (Plummer School) students took a break from the typical drawing and painting that highlights the end of the year art classes this week (May 14-18) to try their hand at book art, a relatively unknown art medium taught by visiting artist Mary Jo Pauly.

This was Pauly's second visit to the Red Lake County Central school district this year. From April 30 - May 4, she worked with RLCC advanced art students at the Oklee site. Those students were introduced to the art of Coptic binding - a non-adhesive hand-stitched book binding method that was introduced during the fourth century in Egypt by the Copts and followers of the Christian Coptic church.

That same week, RLCC junior high students were introduced to different types of book art like three dimensional tunnel books that have portions of each page cut out and carousel books that open to be a complete circle.

Art Teacher Vickie Kolden organized both visits. She said Pauly's visit was made possible in part by a grant provided by the Northwest Regional Development Commission, through funding from the Minnesota State Arts Board and the Minnesota State Legislature.

Kolden originally planned to apply for one grant that would bring Pauly to the district for just one week, but when she presented her request to pursue the matching grant, RLCC Superintendent Jim Guetter suggested that the district apply for two separate grants, so that Pauly would have one week with each school. Kolden says the extra time in each building has been beneficial.

"I think it broadens their artistic horizons - and they get to see somebody besides me," Kolden said. "I think it's important for them to see other artists do other things."

Pauly, a resident of Jordan, Minn., and adjunct art teacher for the University of Minnesota, said

Arctic Cat relocates top office positions

Arctic Cat is reorganizing into separate business units. Related to this reorganization, its chairman and chief executive officer, as well as other positions, will move to the Minneapolis area.

"The operations here, which are the biggest part of our total operations, will always be here," said Chris Twomey, chairman and CEO of Arctic Cat.

Arctic Cat officials expect that less than 15 positions in Thief River Falls will be affected by the move. Those positions include certain corporate executives, including Twomey and chief financial officer Tim Delmore; general managers, and sales and marketing personnel. As a result, the company's headquarters will be located in the Minneapolis area. Twomey noted the move will enable those employees to be closer to the company's vendor partners. Twomey expected that the relocation will occur in the next three to six months. The company hasn't yet chosen a site for its Minneapolis area office.

> The operations here, which are the biggest part of our total operations, will always be here.
> - Chris Twomey, CEO

Along with the relocation, the organizational structure of Arctic Cat will change. Each of the company's units, which include all-terrain vehicle; snowmobile; and parts, garments and accessories, will be led by a general manager. This person will be responsible for profits and losses, marketing, product development and engineering for his or her particular unit. Twomey expected the hiring process for those positions to take about three months. These changes are expected to enable each unit to grow and generate more profit.

Arctic Cat employees were notified of the changes Tuesday during a meeting at Ralph Engelstad Arena in Thief River Falls. The Thief River Falls City Council and the Pennington County Board were notified in a separate meeting later that day.

Summer hour controversy stirs up TRF departments

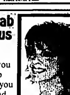
All departments will remain open during core work hours of 8 to 5

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

The Thief River Falls City Council has adopted a resolution regarding work schedules for city employees. By a vote of 5 to 2, the council adopted the resolution that states, "... all departments will remain open during core work hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. ... and that the City Council authorizes division directors to set work schedules" within several parameters.

Council members Elvera Cullen and Floyd Erickson voted against the resolution. Council member Glen Kajewski was absent for that portion of the meeting.

The resolution resulted from a discussion that began earlier this month. Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen raised concerns about allowing city employees to work summer hours. He indicated he received several complaints regarding summer hours. The summer hours would have been 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays, and 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. Fridays.



Council member Emery Lee introduced the resolution, stating that he took the resolution from employees' contracts. He didn't indicate from which contract he used. (The city has contracts with several employee bargaining units.)

In part, the resolution states, "Whereas, the city's division directors have assured the City Council that all departments will remain open during core work hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., that there will be no effect on services to the public, and that productivity will remain high, and whereas, the city shall not incur call back, standby or other premium pay due to adjusted work schedules. Therefore be it resolved that the City Council authorizes division directors to set work schedules within these parameters and that these schedules may be reassessed at any time."

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacourss@mncable.net

Recipes today are from my most used cookbook. It is from the Strathcona Grace Evangelical Church Ladies' Aid cookbook from 1969.

Cut these into oblong bars for a fancy treat and watch them disappear:

ALMOND ROCA COOKY BARS
Mrs. Dale Bentow

1/4 cup butter
2 cups quick oats
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup brown sugar
1 package chocolate chips
Nuts

Melt butter. Add oats, soda and brown sugar. Stir all together and press in bottom of pan. Bake 15 minutes at 350 degrees.
Remove from oven and sprinkle with (recipe says 8 ounce package) chocolate chips. Let stand until chips melt. Spread evenly over top and then sprinkle with nuts. Refrigerate until firm and then cut into pieces.

These are some of the best bars I know. If you are afraid of salmonella, use egg beaters. The measurements are somewhat haphazard, but they'll work out fine:

GRAHAM CRACKER BARS
Mrs. Roy Bentow
Mrs. Harvey Hanson

1/2 to 3/4 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
30 square graham crackers, crushed
2-1/2 cups miniature marshmallows
1/2 to 1 cup coconut
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Heat butter, sugar, beaten eggs and vanilla over low heat, stirring. Watch that mixture doesn't harden and cook the eggs. Bring to nearly boiling.
Crush graham crackers and mix with coconut, nuts and marshmallows in bowl. Pour egg mixture over, mix well and press in 9x9 greased pan (recipe says 9x9 - I've used 7x11 and even made thinner bars in a 9x12 - SL). Cool overnight and then cut.

If you like bananas, you'll love these - they're a quick and healthy treat:

BANANA BARS
Mrs. Roy Gjorik

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup mashed bananas
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Mix butter and sugar. Add eggs, vanilla and bananas and mix. Combine flour, baking powder and salt and add to banana mixture. Add chopped nuts and place in greased 9x13 inch pan. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.
Banana Bar Frosting:
3/4 cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons peanut butter
2 tablespoons milk
Mix together and frost cooled bars.

These bars will be a hit with everybody:

RHUBARB FILLED BARS
Mrs. Lennie Beito

Crust
2/3 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2-1/2 cups flour
1-1/2 cups quick oats
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda

Filling
3 cups cut up rhubarb
1 cup sugar
1-1/4 cups chopped orange slice candy

Mix crust ingredients together as for pie crust. Put 2/3 of the crust mixture in greased 9x13 inch pan and pat down.
To make filling, mix rhubarb, sugar and candy pieces in saucepan and simmer until thickened. Pour filling over crust. Top with remaining 1/3 of the crust mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Make these bars for a special and easy sweet treat:

DATE CREAM BARS
Mrs. Edwin Stromlund

1/2 cup butter
1 cup graham crackers
1 cup flake coconut
1 cup dates, chopped
1 cup nuts, chopped
1 can sweetened condensed milk

Melt butter in 9x9 inch baking pan. Layer graham crackers, coconut, dates and nuts over top and then pour the can of condensed milk over all. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

And we certainly need at least one brownie recipe from this special cookbook - this one uses chocolate syrup:

BROWNIES
Mrs. Alfred Melius

1 (16 ounce) can chocolate syrup
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 cup flour plus 2 tablespoonfuls
4 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Nuts

Mix ingredients in order given. Pour into greased jelly roll pan and bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or less. Don't overbake - just bake until bars pull away from sides of pan, even if they seem a little soft in the center.

Rodness Lutheran Church to host Memorial Day dinner

Senator Klobuchar Supports Passage of Water Resources Development Act

Sen. Amy Klobuchar announced that Minnesota could receive nearly $70 million in vital water infrastructure projects as part of the Water Resources and Development Act (WRDA), which passed the Senate today by a vote of 91-4. The bill authorizes funding for critical projects that help protect communities from flooding, enhances navigation along rivers, keeps water quality safe, and manages the states' water resources.

"It's our responsibility to provide communities with clean drinking water and to protect our homes and businesses from flooding," said Klobuchar. "Today we took a significant step in making sure that we invest in infrastructure to keep communities strong and help them continue to grow."

Minnesota labor market nets 500 jobs in April

Minnesota's labor market added 500 jobs for the month of April, according to figures released by the Minnesota Department of Employment and Economic Development (DEED). The state has gained 36,711 jobs from April 2006 to April 2007, a 1.34 percent increase that nearly matches the national rate of 1.37 percent.

"Minnesota has healthy over-the-year job gains and our private sector job growth is outpacing the national average," said DEED Commissioner Dan McElroy. "Private sector over-the-year jobs grew at 1.6 percent, two-tenths ahead of the U.S. private sector rate of 1.4 percent."

Education and health services led the service sector gains, adding 3,600 jobs, the largest one-month gain in nearly two years. In its second consecutive strong month, the trade, transportation and utilities sector added 1,700 jobs, government added 1,600, and professional and business services added 1,000. The construction sector lost 2,500 jobs, leisure and hospitality lost 2,100, and manufacturing declined by 2,000.

Minnesota's unemployment rate rose to 4.5 percent last month, up three-tenths of a point from March and equal to the national unemployment rate.

Minnesota has now posted job gains in 19 of the last 24 months.

Certain firewood now restricted in TRF Tourist Park

Campers at the Thief River Falls Tourist Park will now have to buy firewood at the campground. That restriction was put into place Tuesday to prevent emerald ash borer in the city.

"We're trying to protect our urban forest," said City Forester Myles Olson to the Thief River Falls City Council on Tuesday night.

Emerald ash borer is a beetle whose larvae eat the inner bark of ash trees. As a result, the tree is no longer able to transport water and nutrients. The emerald ash borer has killed more than 20 million trees in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. Quarantines have been put into place in several states to prevent or minimize the threat of emerald ash borer.

Peat and Repeat.
That's the key to growing flowers in the heavy alkaline soils of the Red River Valley and surrounding region.
BERGESON PEAT is mined from a local bog. It is dark and finely ground-not bready and dry like the stuff you find at discount chains.
Peat lightens up heavy soils and helps sandy soils hold more moisture. At Bergeson Gardens, we put peat on top of our flower beds each year, mix in some 10-10-10 fertilizer, and watch the flowers grow like crazy.
By adding peat to your flower or vegetable garden, you will increase drainage. By mixing a little peat in the bottom of the hole when you plant a shrub or a tree, you will give the roots an early boost.
USE LOCAL PEAT. We have millions of acres of good peat in Minnesota. Don't buy the dry, chunky stuff from somewhere else.
FERTILIZE FLOWER BEDS WITH MILD HORTICULTURAL FERTILIZER. Farm fertilizer is too hot for flowers. Till in a balanced fertilizer such as a 10-10-10 before planting.
USE PEAT IN YOUR FLOWER POTS. Plain dirt is terribly heavy and gets rock hard, while commercial potting mixes can be too light and of iffy quality. Pure peat gives a good mix of water retention and drainage. Use a water-soluable fertilizer mixed according to directions to provide nutrients for your potted flowers.
PROPER WATERING PRACTICES are another secret to gorgeous flower beds. It doesn't help to stand out there with a spray-end hose every day. If you do it the lazy way, letting a soaker hose or a sprinkler run all night, you usually won't have to water more than once a week. Plus, your plants will develop deeper, healthier roots.

Rural Reflections

Grant Nelson

The comments published in this column are intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. They are written by independent columnists and do not represent the opinion of the staff or management of The Times/Northern Watch

I love the nightlife

I think most people like the light of day; but while the sun makes things a bit clearer, you don't always see everything. Darkness may cover some of what there is to see; however, what exists at night may explain what exists during the day. There exists a separate world of people and things that occupy the time after dusk and prior to morning coffee who you usually never see. I am one of those day-sleeping, unseen entities, waiting for dusk to move on so I can come out to love the nightlife.

First off, my choices are my own; however, my lifestyle is not always of my own choice. I spend half the year working at night, so the fact I'm partially nocturnal is not hard-wired by nature but rather enforced by the environment of making a paycheck. Staying awake at work can sometimes lead to staying awake at home even when I'm on "days off." I see the benefits of working by day and sleeping by night; evenings spent at home with the wife and cats. There are times when I must stay awake so I might as well find the good in sleep deprivation, and in this case, write about it.

There is a peace in coming to work at night. The world is tired from a days' work so it slows down; there is less traffic, less hustle and fewer phone calls. Cool summer nights follow the heat of the day and I will trade the waves of heat rising from the asphalt for the glow of streetlights anytime. Even winter is more pleasant at night without the stress of people trying to get to work. Nighttime is when I get to see the effort people make so that the day looks nice for those just waking up. Car parts, newspapers and milk arrive while busy crews plow the snow courtesy of caffeine, alarm clocks and the efforts they inspire. It isn't supernatural that a bakery smells so good in the morning, it's hard work from someone who got up at midnight to make it so.

Nighttime is a good time to find out what your home has been doing while you're asleep. You see the little animal that makes the tracks you see by day; you see who ate all of that cat food last night and maybe understand why the dish smells like skunk. I like to work during the night, as it's easier to focus when everyone is asleep in bed. I rarely end the night without a tour around the farm. During the summer, that means checking the cattle while my winter night patrol usually ends in the shop with my old snowmobiles. This used to be a solitary task, but I've gained help over time. My path is usually shadowed by three cats and one old dog, who faithfully follow my lead single file in this pre-sleep parade. My focus at night has also been used to write my column over the years, including this one.

The night is well suited for work and play but maybe even better when used for sleep. I love my nightlife, but if I had the choice I would probably be one of the people who inhale the fresh bakery items, wait in traffic at eight o'clock in the morning and wonder indignantly why the snow wasn't removed from their neighborhood by the time the newspaper arrived.

Feelin' Fit contest planned in several area communities

To combat the growing obesity epidemic among children, the public health departments in Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties, along with Quin Community Health Services in Newfolden, are implementing a fun contest this summer for kids age 3-12, that promotes childhood healthy eating, physical activity and other healthy behaviors, while awarding prizes. The contest will take place this summer over eight weeks, from June 6 to July 27.

The contest goes like this: each participating child will receive a scorecard with 24 squares on it. Each time they complete a qualifying activity, parents or personnel at scorecard sites can initial a square and specify the activity. Scorecard sites include summer recreation programs, pools, childcare centers, camps or schools. Once all the squares are filled, participants can bring their scorecard into one of the prize pick up locations and pick out a prize. Participants are encouraged to complete as many scorecards as they like during the eight-week program. Additional scorecards can be picked up at prize pick-up locations. At the end of the eight weeks, participants from each of the five counties with the most completed scorecards will receive a grand prize.

Activities include sports, bike riding, skateboarding, dancing, attending summer camps or school, watching no television in a day, wearing a bike helmet, wearing a seatbelt, cutting out consumption of pop, gardening, eating five to nine servings of fruits and vegetables a day, active games and mowing the lawn, to name a few.

The prize pickup locations are:

- Stephen/Argyle Central - Stephen School office hours, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday; Argyle School office hours, 8:30 a.m. to noon, Monday through Friday.
- Grygla School office hours, 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday.
- Greenbush/Middle River Schools - Middle River School office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Thursday.
- Warren/Alvarado/Oslo Schools - North Valley Public Health (Warren), 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.
- MCC - Quin CHS (Newfolden) 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Chief judge and asst. judge elected

The judges of the Ninth Judicial District have elected Judge Jon A. Maturi of Grand Rapids as chief judge, and Judge Kurt J. Marben of Thief River Falls as assistant chief judge for two-year terms, beginning July 1.

Maturi, currently the district's assistant chief judge, will replace Judge John P. Smith of Walker who is completing his second two-year term as Chief Judge. The Ninth Judicial District, with 22 judges, includes the counties of Aitkin, Beltrami, Cass, Clearwater, Crow Wing, Hubbard, Itasca, Kittson, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau.

Girl Scouts – Pine to Prairie Council celebrates Girl, Volunteer Award recipients

Girl Scouts – Pine to Prairie Council is proud to recognize dozens of Girl Award winners as well as hundreds more adult volunteers for their hard work in helping girls grow strong.

The Girl Scout Gold Award, the highest achievement a Girl Scout can earn, is the culmination of a 65-hour service project that benefits the Girl Scout's community. The council awarded 17 Girl Scouts the Gold Award this year at the Annual Girl Award Ceremony held in Fargo, N.D., on April 15. Among the recipients was Michelle Jensen of Stephen.

The council honored adult volunteers at the Annual Awards Banquet in Grand Forks, N.D., on Friday, April 27. Grand Forks Mayor Michael Brown was on hand as the council presented award recipients with Years of Service pins, Outstanding Volunteer Awards, the Pine to Prairie Pin, the President's Circle Pin, and more.

Nordhagen said that the city would have standard hours for residents to call and talk to a human being.

Having someone answer the phone doesn't mean that person will be able to help the caller, Rude said. He noted his division receives calls regarding utilities service to buildings. Rude has to be the person to answer some of those questions. He added that since 1989, no one has ever asked why there was no one in his department at 4:45 p.m. (On Thursday, Rude said he was looking at changing his division's hours to 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.)

Parks and Recreation Director Madelyn Vigen echoed Rude's comments. She indicated that her department is open from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. with some employees working shifts anytime between 7 a.m until 11 p.m. due to the arenas' schedules. After 4 p.m., she said, the phone rarely rings at the Parks and Recreation Department.

Nordhagen replied that he couldn't understand why it would be difficult to have someone in city offices from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. He said, "That seems to be such a minor thing for me."

Law enforcement mobilizes for "Click It or Ticket"

The Beltrami County Sheriff's Office, Bemidji Police and Blackduck Police officers will conduct added patrols May 21-June 3 during a statewide Safe & Sober "Click It or Ticket" seat belt enforcement sweep. About 400 agencies statewide will participate in the nationwide campaign that leads into the summer driving season, the deadliest time on the roads. A seat belt citation is $25 but can cost as much as $115 with court and administrative fees.

"Step one to preventing injury or death in a traffic crash is to buckle up, every seat, every ride," said Sheriff Phil Hodapp. "Unbelted motorists put their life and the lives of their passengers on a collision course with tragedy."

A majority of Minnesotans buckle up – around 83 percent. Still, of the 2,429 vehicle occupants killed in crashes in 2001-05, about 60 percent (1,259) were not wearing seat belts. The Minnesota Department of Public Safety estimates around half of those killed would have survived if they were buckled up. In the last five years in Beltrami County, 23 died and 10 were unbelted. The estimated economic impact of 10 unbelted deaths in Beltrami County in 2001-05 is $10,880,000.

Young adults most often neglect to buckle up. A 2006 DPS observational survey indicated belt use among 16- to 29-year-olds decreased significantly from 79 to 74 percent. Teen drivers specifically are over-represented in traffic crashes and deaths - and the lack of belt use is a major factor.

"When teens are riding together, someone needs to speak up to tell their friends to belt up," said Bemidji Police Chief Gerald Johnson. "That simple command is all it takes to potentially save someone's life."

Medical costs for unbelted crash victims are typically double those of belted crash victims. Nationally, every household pays $200 annually for costs related to traffic crashes.

The state and national seat belt enforcement effort is supported by an advertising campaign including TV, radio and indoor/outdoor messages.

The Safe & Sober effort is coordinated by the Department of Public Safety Office of Traffic Safety as a component of the state's Toward Zero Death initiative. TZD is a multi-agency approach to address traffic issues regionally through enforcement, education, engineering and emergency trauma care and response.

House of Representatives approves Agriculture Disaster Bill

Recently, the United States House of Representatives overwhelming approved H.R. 2207 on a bipartisan vote of 302-101. This legislation provides for $3.5 billion in agricultural disaster assistance for producers impacted by devastating weather conditions.

The Bush administration declared these areas a disaster, and now he is threatening to veto legislation that would assist these disasters in recovery, calling the funding, "unjustified and not appropriate."

"Farmers have suffered crop loss because of disasters, and the fact that the President has a callous disregard for the need of rural America is disappointing," said Doug Peterson, president of Minnesota Farmers Union.

The disaster funding assists producers who suffered crop and livestock losses from weather-related disasters during either 2005, 2006 or 2007. Eligibility is based on whether producers carried crop insurance during the selected year. The package provides assistance for farmers who lost 35 percent or more of their crop in one of the covered years and for livestock producers in counties that received a disaster designation during the covered time. The legislation also includes a one month extension of the Milk Income Loss Contract (MILC) program. MILC is a vital tool to assist dairy producers when prices are low.

"I want to thank the members of our delegation that voted in support of this vital bill. These are not subsidies to farmers," Peterson said. "Farmers cannot control what Mother Nature deals them. This is just a way for the government to show its support for rural America when those that provide the food for our table are impacted by weather conditions out of their control."

Representatives Oberstar, Peterson, McCollum, Ellison, and Walz voted in favor of the bill. Representatives Ramstad, Kline and Bachmann voted against the legislation.

Minnesota Farmers Union (MFU) is a nonprofit membership-based organization that works to protect and enhance the economic interests and quality of life of family farmers, ranchers and rural communities. Membership is open to farmers and non-farmers.

Public land dedication topic at Planning Commission meeting

The Thief River Falls City Council has referred a public land dedication issue to the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission will meet Monday at 5 p.m. at City Hall.

The issue pertains to an ordinance requiring developers of new subdivisions to allocate at least five percent of the gross area of their land to public use as playgrounds. If this is not possible, the council requires the developer to make a cash payment for these purposes.

The issue was brought to the council Tuesday after Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen raised some concerns about the ordinance during a parks tour last week.

Road construction season tests our patience and skills

It's a busy time of year. There are graduations, concerts, and athletic events, and sometimes they all seem to be headed toward a collision with road construction.

Spring and summer always bring road construction. A project started a couple of weeks ago on Highway 32, just south of Thief River Falls. As the weeks and days pass, several other projects will begin.

Because there is a relatively small window of opportunity for construction crews, a lot of activity takes place during a small period of time. During this time, patience and care are required.

In a news release from the Minnesota Department of Transportation, Lt. Gov./Commissioner Carol Molnau, reminds motorists that "working safely is an integral part of our business, and we strongly encourage motorists to adopt that mindset when they drive, especially in highway work zones.

"There will be hundreds of construction and maintenance operations on state highways and countless others on tribal, county, city and township roads," she said. "This intense level of activity requires that we all drive mindfully with extra care for our own safety and that of thousands of highway workers."

Spring and summer also calls for extra caution because of increased pedestrian traffic. Motorists haven't seen bike riders and children playing on residential roads all winter. School will be ending soon, and warmer weather has brought people and children outside. They will be running and playing in neighborhoods, heading to the tennis courts, ball fields, and the swimming pool. With all this excitement, they may not be as careful as they should.

With all that's taking place this time of year, it's still up to motorists to exercise extra caution.

How did we ever manage without the Internet

Proof that the Internet has become a vital and necessary part of our daily life occurred to us as we sat in our offices Wednesday evening waiting for it to come back online. Our workday had almost come to a complete stop.

Twenty-two years ago, the offices of The Thief River Falls Times were equipped with electric typewriters and a limited supply of whiteout. It was noisy with the uneven clack of typewriters and ringing telephones, and people trying to talk over the noise. Today, the electric hum of computers and fluorescent lights is punctuated with more ringing telephones because we've added more lines.

In the past, we relied on the morning mail, tips from readers, stories from regular contributors, like coaches, meetings and enterprise - skills reporters honed by listening and observing what was taking place around them.

Today, we rely on those same sources, but to a large extent, much of our mail and communication is done via the e-mail. If an advertiser wants an advertisement in the weekend edition of the Northern Watch, we usually receive confirmation orders and sometimes the advertisements from business owners by e-mail. Reporters receive a great deal of their news by e-mail, too. They also rely on the Internet to research stories, collect facts and figures, draw comparisons or look up additional information.

Twenty-two years ago, I had no idea that e-mail and the Internet would change so much. When our Internet service was down Wednesday afternoon, it left me wondering, "How did we ever manage?"

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Transition at NW MeritCare Clinic proceeds

Earlier this month, some changes took place at the clinic on 120 LaBree Ave. S., Thief River Falls - there's a new logo and a new name, but the same staff and providers.

On May 1, Altru Northwest Clinic became a MeritCare clinic. The clinic's new name is Northwest MeritCare Clinic. It's owned by Northwest Medical Center, which is a 25-bed critical access hospital that includes an inpatient and outpatient mental health unit, a free-standing 15-bed group home for mentally ill and a free-standing 10-bed treatment center for emotionally disturbed children.

A couple of weeks into the transition, Jan Anderson, clinic coordinator for Northwest MeritCare Clinic said, "Things are going smoothly. Our patients were very happy to hear that the same providers would be here, at the same location, providing them with the same great care."

In addition to Anderson, those working at the clinic are Paula Anderson, LPN, Vickie Graves, NP, Janet Hoffard, patient financial services office specialist, Paul Klein, NP, Alyssa Monnville, registration service assistant, Allison Neuschwander, medical assistant, Cindy Odberg, registration service assistant, Scott Petrescue, MD, family medicine, Sandra Rohlf, LPN, Marie Roper, DO, family medicine, Samantha Sovde, service area assistant, and Sheila Wiskow, LPN.

Digi-Key Corporation announces sales internship program

Digi-Key Corporation is pleased to announce the addition of a new sales internship program. The program will provide students at Northland Community and Technical College with part-time employment with the possibility of education cost reimbursement and full-time employment at Digi-Key following the completion of their degrees at NCTC.

Eligible for the program are incoming NCTC students for the fall of 2007, who are 18 years of age or older and meet the requirements of Digi-Key's internship application and interview process. Applicants must also plan to pursue or continue a two-year business or liberal arts AAS degree at NCTC.

While enrolled in the program, students must commit to working part-time at Digi-Key, maintaining satisfactory work performance and following all pertinent company policies. To qualify for eventual tuition reimbursement, a student must also maintain an overall grade point average of 2.5.

Following the successful completion of the intern's AAS degree, the student must be employed full-time at Digi-Key for one year to be reimbursed for 50 percent of his or her tuition costs and two years for 100 percent tuition reimbursement.

Students accepted into the program will have eight weeks of paid inbound sales training during the months of June through August and then work part-time in the inbound sales department at Digi-Key throughout the school year. Typically, students will work no more than 20 hours a week, generally between the hours of 4 and 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. Individual schedules will be worked out with supervisors to accommodate the students' class schedules. During the summer months between the interns' first and second academic years at NCTC, they will work full-time at Digi-Key and return to a part-time work schedule during the second academic year.

Interns will be classified as temporary employees with pay at the rate of $10.75 per hour. Benefits during the internship period will include 80 hours of unpaid personal/medical time per year.

"NCTC students are a valuable community resource, and this exciting program will create a win-win situation for students and Digi-Key," said Rick Trontvet, Digi-Key vice president of human resources. "Digi-Key will benefit from the additions to its workforce while providing valuable work experience in a professional atmosphere along with the opportunity for education assistance for students enrolled in business and liberal arts programs."

Application deadline is Friday, May 25, 2007. For more information about the internship program or to receive an application packet, contact Amber Berg in Digi-Key's Human Resources Department at 681-6674, ext 1883.

$25 million for Roseau

the city to the east, providing reliable permanent flood protection to a majority of the city. In addition to flood damage reduction, the plan includes recreational features such as multipurpose trails, motorized trails, and a trailhead.

Other items included in the bill were:

- $3 million for the City of Goodview's radium filtration plant.
- $15 million to construct a new wastewater treatment facility in the city of Willmar.
- $5 million to reconstruct and upgrade the existing wastewater treatment facility in the city of Grand Rapids.
- $2 million to upgrade wastewater infrastructure in the Douglas County Lakes Area to maintain the pristine quality of Douglas County's lakes.
- $9 million for the Duluth Harbor navigation project.
- Authorizes funding for the Borup flood damage reduction project in the South Branch of the Wild Rice River.
- Authorizes funding for the Crow River project in Rockford for flood damage reduction.
- Authorizes funding for the Tower navigation project.
- The Wild Rice River flood protection project.
- Asian Carp dispersal barrier.

The legislation also includes upgrades for the Upper Mississippi River and Illinois Waterway Restoration (UMR-IWW), including for critical navigation improvements along the waterway along and $1.5 billion in ecosystem restoration. The UMR-IWW makes commercial navigation possible between Minneapolis and St. Louis on the Mississippi River, and along the Illinois Waterway from Chicago to the Mississippi River. Five of the nation's top agricultural production states; Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, and Wisconsin; have relied on the UMR-IWW system as a principal conduit for export-bound agricultural products, mostly bulk corn and soybeans.

"If we do not invest in our infrastructure, we run the risk of falling behind the world market," said Coleman. "I have said many times that we must take the lead on issues critical to global competitiveness and the investments provided in WRDA are a key part of that strategy."

price in excess of $2 per hundredweight from 2005. Feed costs and other input costs also increased. Beef cow-calf operations experienced some production issues due to the drought conditions in northern Minnesota in June and July. Many beef producers had problems with stock ponds and pastures drying up. Many farmers needed to supplement their pastures with hay and other forages starting in July. Price declines for feeder calves last fall, tied to the increase in corn price, also took away from profit on the beef herds.

The financial picture of the "average producer" shows increased volume from the business, with returns that are down slightly from 2005. Cash operation income decreased while cash operating expense increased from 2005 to 2006. Operating income decreased from $322,930 in 2005, to a level of $317, 821 in 2006. Cash operating expense increased from $263,786 in 2005 to $274,250 in 2006.

Net cash income is the difference between operating income and operating expense. 2005 resulted in the second consecutive year of decrease in net cash income. Net cash income was $59,144 in 2005, whereas the 2006 figure was $43,571.

Profitability indicators showed significant downward movement in 2006, more than experienced in 2005. Net farm income is the residual after adjusting net cash income for inventory change, depreciation, and capital adjustments. The net farm income (profit) decreased from $50,828 in 2005, to $39,556 in 2006.

Copies of the report that goes into much greater detail, are available from Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls, or Central Lakes College in Staples. Information can also be accessed at the state web site at www.mgt.org.

she was always interested in books as a child, when she would write stories and illustrate her own artwork.

Her undergraduate and graduate work is in the field of graphic design. Art, and specifically book art, remained a passion of hers throughout school.

Pauly holds a MFA degree from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and she is the artistic director of Minnesota Center for Book Arts. She also works as a freelance writer, designer, illustrator and book artist and she has led many school residencies and children's workshops throughout the state.

Pauly returned to RLCC this week, to work with the district's youngest students, who learned various aspects of book art like how to make their own paper, several methods of book binding, and how to make various art books such as flag books and accordion books.

Pauly said she doesn't really know how many different types of book art she taught Plummer School students. "I like to change the content depending on the class," she said.

Her ability to change the content for her audience, has led Pauly to lead artist in residency workshops for children and adults alike.

"The degree of enthusiasm you find with kids and the metaphors they use are amazing," Pauly said. She added that adults are more concerned with the craftsmanship of a project. "Kids will mush together all the details – they're more concerned with the final product."

Kolden said first and second grade students were chosen for the core group that met with Pauly each day, throughout the week. Other students in kindergarten and third through sixth grade also spent part of their regular art periods meeting with Pauly.

Kolden said that she is planning on applying for a grant for the elementary students again next year. She is considering the medium of clay and the core group would be next year's fourth and fifth grade students.

Road construction season tests our patience and skills

It's a busy time of year. There are graduations, concerts, and athletic events, and sometimes they all seem to be headed toward a collision with road construction.

Spring and summer always bring road construction. A project started a couple of weeks ago on Highway 32, just south of Thief River Falls. As the weeks and days pass, several other projects will begin.

Because there is a relatively small window of opportunity for construction crews, a lot of activity takes place during a small period of time. During this time, patience and care are required.

In a news release from the Minnesota Department of Transportation, Lt. Gov./Commissioner Carol Molnau, reminds motorists that "working safely is an integral part of our business, and we strongly encourage motorists to adopt that mindset when they drive, especially in highway work zones.

"There will be hundreds of construction and maintenance operations on state highways and countless others on tribal, county, city and township roads," she said. "This intense level of activity requires that we all drive mindfully with extra care for our own safety and that of thousands of highway workers."

Spring and summer also calls for extra caution because of increased pedestrian traffic. Motorists haven't seen bike riders and children playing on residential roads all winter. School will be ending soon, and warmer weather has brought people and children outside. They will be running and playing in neighborhoods, heading to the tennis courts, ball fields, and the swimming pool. With all this excitement, they may not be as careful as they should.

With all that's taking place this time of year, it's still up to motorists to exercise extra caution.

How did we ever manage without the Internet

Proof that the Internet has become a vital and necessary part of our daily life occurred to us as we sat in our offices Wednesday evening waiting for it to come back online. Our workday had almost come to a complete stop.

Twenty-two years ago, the offices of The Thief River Falls Times were equipped with electric typewriters and a limited supply of whiteout. It was noisy with the uneven clack of typewriters and ringing telephones, and people trying to talk over the noise. Today, the electric hum of computers and fluorescent lights is punctuated with more ringing telephones because we've added more lines.

In the past, we relied on the morning mail, tips from readers, stories from regular contributors, like coaches, meetings and enterprise - skills reporters honed by listening and observing what was taking place around them.

Today, we rely on those same sources, but to a large extent, much of our mail and communication is done via the e-mail. If an advertiser wants an advertisement in the weekend edition of the Northern Watch, we usually receive confirmation orders and sometimes the advertisements from business owners by e-mail. Reporters receive a great deal of their news by e-mail, too. They also rely on the Internet to research stories, collect facts and figures, draw comparisons or look up additional information.

Twenty-two years ago, I had no idea that e-mail and the Internet would change so much. When our Internet service was down Wednesday afternoon, it left me wondering, "How did we ever manage?"

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Scandinavian Festival kicks off June 8

The 5th Annual Scandinavian Festival kicks off Friday, June 8 in Roseau with an evening variety program featuring local musicians. The show starts at 7 p.m. at the Roseau Community School theater. A freewill offering will be accepted. Coffee and Scandinavian treats will be served after the performances. An old time dance will be held at the Four Seasons Center following the variety program.

On Saturday, June 9, the Roseau Lions Club will serve a pancake breakfast with lingonberries from 7 to 10 a.m. Artists, vendors, crafters and a flea market will be downtown all day. Kids' games, face painting and balloon twisting will also be available. A music tent will be set up by the Roseau River, and performances by Hodne and Friends will be at 10 a.m., Ramblin' Fever at noon and the North Country Old Time Band at 2 p.m. Fresh lefse will be served all day at the Four Seasons Center. The Cruise In Car Show will be held at the Pioneer Farm west of Roseau from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. A parade of cars on Main Street will take place at 3:30 p.m. At 4:30 p.m., a Scandinavian smorgasbord will be served near the Roseau City Center. At 7 p.m., a show featuring the Dixie Cups, who hail from North Dakota and perform a variety of music intermingled with some humor, and Ozzie and Friends, who perform Scandinavian music, will get your toes tapping. Admission is by button or $7.

A pancake breakfast will be served from 7 to 10 a.m. on Sunday, June 10 at the Pioneer Farm.

For hotel information, call the AmericInn at (218) 463-1045, North Country Inn at (218) 463-9444 or the Roseau Motel at (218) 463-2196. For festival information or to request a booth, call (218) 463-3979 or log onto http://city.roseau.mn.us.

New car series introduced for car club enthusiasts

Area car club enthusiasts have announced a new car event series for special interest vehicles including, but not limited to, antique, custom, collector, convertible, classic, muscle car and street rods, etc. The event series is titled "Hot Summer Saturday Nite Cruise-Ins."

The series will feature six Saturday night events in six different regional cities. All events will have the same time schedule with a 5 to 6:30 p.m. cruise-in and eat time, followed by a car display from 6:30 to 9 p.m. These events are designed to encourage fun, food and friends with cars and feature no fees, no voting, and no awards. The summer Saturday schedule is:

- June 2 - Thief River Falls at Floyd B. Olson Park
- June 16 - Crookston at Northland Lodge
- June 30 - Ada at a location yet to be announced
- July 28 - Warren, in conjunction with the Marshall County Fair
- August 11 - Roseau, in the Ace Hardware Parking Lot
- August 25 - Grand Forks, N.D. at the Culvers Parking Lot

Schedules with more summer details and contact information will be distributed at many car related events scheduled throughout the area this summer. For more information, e-mail rgadams@wiktel.com or call 1-218-681-7073 evenings.

Transition at NW MeritCare Clinic proceeds

Earlier this month, some changes took place at the clinic on 120 LaBree Ave. S., Thief River Falls - there's a new logo and a new name, but the same staff and providers.

On May 1, Altru Northwest Clinic became a MeritCare clinic. The clinic's new name is Northwest MeritCare Clinic. It's owned by Northwest Medical Center, which is a 25-bed critical access hospital that includes an inpatient and outpatient mental health unit, a free-standing 15-bed group home for mentally ill and a free-standing 10-bed treatment center for emotionally disturbed children.

A couple of weeks into the transition, Jan Anderson, clinic coordinator for Northwest MeritCare Clinic said, "Things are going smoothly. Our patients were very happy to hear that the same providers would be here, at the same location, providing them with the same great care."

In addition to Anderson, those working at the clinic are: Paula Anderson, LPN; Vickie Graves, NP; Janet Hotland, patient financial services office specialist; Paul Klein, NP; Alysia Morinville, registration service assistant; Allison Neuschwander, medical assistant; Cindy Odberg, registration service assistant; Scott Petrescue, MD, family medicine; Sandra Rohlf, LPN; Marie Roper, DO, family medicine; Samantha Sosok, service area assistant; and Sheila Wickow, LPN.

Public invited to community forums on Altru's Hospice in Warren

Altru Home Services invites the public to its community forums on Altru's Hospice in Warren.

The forums will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 23 at the Middle River Community Center, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 30 at the Stephen Community Center and at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 13 at the Warren Community Center. The same information will be shared at each of the forums. Learn more about hospice, what this program brings to Warren, and the volunteer opportunities that exist. These forums are free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

For more information, call Nicole Nelson, RN, hospice site manager, at (218) 745-5154 or 1-800-450-6956.

Digi-Key Corporation announces sales internship program

Digi-Key Corporation is pleased to announce the addition of a new sales internship program. The program will provide students at Northland Community and Technical College with part-time employment with the possibility of education cost reimbursement and full-time employment at Digi-Key following the completion of their degrees at NCTC.

Eligible for the program are incoming NCTC students for the fall of 2007, who are 18 years of age or older and meet the requirements of Digi-Key's internship application and interview process. Applicants must also plan to pursue or continue a two-year business or liberal arts AAS degree at NCTC.

While enrolled in the program, students must commit to working part-time at Digi-Key, maintaining satisfactory work performance and following all pertinent company policies. To qualify for eventual tuition reimbursement, a student must also maintain an overall grade point average of 2.5.

Following the successful completion of the intern's AAS degree, the student must be employed full-time at Digi-Key for one year to be reimbursed for 50 percent of his or her tuition costs and two years for 100 percent tuition reimbursement.

Students accepted into the program will have eight weeks of paid inbound sales training during the months of June through August and then work part-time in the inbound sales department at Digi-Key throughout the school year. Typically, students will work no more than 20 hours a week, generally between the hours of 4 and 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. Individual schedules will be worked out with supervisors to accommodate the students' class schedules. During the summer months between the interns' first and second academic years at NCTC, they will work full-time at Digi-Key and return to a part-time work schedule during the second academic year.

Interns will be classified as temporary employees with pay at the rate of $10.75 per hour. Benefits during the internship period will include 80 hours of unpaid personal/medical time per year.

"NCTC students are a valuable community resource, and this exciting program will create a win-win situation for students and Digi-Key," said Rick Trontvet, Digi-Key vice president of human resources. "Digi-Key will benefit from the additions to its workforce while providing valuable work experience in a professional atmosphere along with the opportunity for education assistance for students enrolled in business and liberal arts programs."

Application deadline is Friday, May 25, 2007. For more information about the internship program or to receive an application packet, contact Amber Berg in Digi-Key's Human Resources Department at 681-6674, ext 1883.

$25 million for Roseau

the city to the east, providing reliable permanent flood protection to a majority of the city. In addition to flood damage reduction, the plan includes recreational features such as multipurpose trails, motorized trails, and a trailhead.

Other items included in the bill were:

- $3 million for the City of Goodview's radium filtration plant.
- $15 million to construct a new wastewater treatment facility in the city of Willmar.
- $5 million to reconstruct and upgrade the existing wastewater treatment facility in the city of Grand Rapids.
- $2 million to upgrade wastewater infrastructure in the Douglas County Lakes Area to maintain the pristine quality of Douglas County's lakes.
- $9 million for the Duluth Harbor navigation project.
- Authorizes funding for the Borup flood damage reduction project in the South Branch of the Wild Rice River.
- Authorizes funding for the Crow River project in Rockford for flood damage reduction.
- Authorizes funding for the Tower navigation project.
- The Wild Rice River flood protection project.
- Asian Carp dispersal barrier.

The legislation also includes upgrades for the Upper Mississippi River and Illinois Waterway Restoration (UMR-IWW), including for critical navigation improvements along the waterway along and $1.5 billion in ecosystem restoration. The UMR-IWW makes commercial navigation possible between Minneapolis and St. Louis on the Mississippi River, and along the Illinois Waterway from Chicago to the Mississippi River. Five of the nation's top agricultural production states: Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, and Wisconsin; have relied on the UMR-IWW system as a principal conduit for export-bound agricultural products, mostly bulk corn and soybeans.

"If we do not invest in our infrastructure, we run the risk of falling behind the world market," said Coleman. "I have said many times that we must take the lead on issues critical to global competitiveness and the investments provided in WRDA are a key part of that strategy."

price in excess of $2 per hundredweight from 2005. Feed costs and other input costs also increased. Beef cow-calf operations experienced some production issues due to the drought conditions in northern Minnesota in June and July. Many beef producers had problems with stock ponds and pastures drying up. Many farmers needed to supplement their pastures with hay and other forages starting in July. Price declines for feeder calves last fall, tied to the increase in corn price, also took away from profit on the beef herds.

The financial picture of the "average producer" shows increased volume from the business, with returns that are down slightly from 2005. Cash operation income decreased while cash operating expense increased from 2005 to 2006. Operating income decreased from $322,930 in 2005, to a level of $317, 821 in 2006. Cash operating expense increased from $263,786 in 2005 to $274,250 in 2006.

Net cash income is the difference between operating income and operating expense. 2005 resulted in the second consecutive year of decrease in net cash income. Net cash income was $59,144 in 2005, whereas the 2006 figure was $43,571.

Profitability indicators showed significant downward movement in 2006, more than experienced in 2005. Net farm income is the residual after adjusting net cash income for inventory change, depreciation, and capital adjustments. The net farm income (profit) decreased from $50,828 in 2005 to $39,556 in 2006.

Copies of the report that goes into much greater detail, are available from Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls, or Central Lakes College in Staples. Information can also be accessed at the state web site at www.mgt.org.

Third baseman Sean Sorteberg (22) and pitcher Spencer Johnson were also around the ball on the play. Thief River Falls came from behind to win 4-3.

TRF rally beats Spuds 4-3

Sean Sorteberg's two-out double down the left field line highlighted a three-run Thief River Falls sixth inning that produced a come-from-behind 4-3 Section 8AAA high school baseball win over Moorhead Tuesday at the Multi-Events Center.

With the victory, the Prowlers made it back-to-back sweeps in the regular season home-and-home series and beat the Spuds for the fifth straight time.

Thief River Falls gutted this one out. The Prowlers never got the ball out of the infield through the first four innings; they committed three errors; had two runners picked off base; and pitching ace Spencer Johnson gave up six hits and five walks – high numbers for the junior left-hander, who found himself trailing 3-1.

On top of that, the Prowlers were coming off losses to Detroit Lakes and Red Lake County that suddenly started to test the confidence of a team that was a promising 9-3 a week earlier.

"We had to find a way to win," said Thief River Falls coach Shane Zutz. "We had some self-doubts. Things just weren't going our way. We fell behind, but we battled, and we won."

The Prowlers' recent struggles appeared to pop up again in the fourth inning when an infield single – the first hit of the game – and a sacrifice bunt preceded a double-error on a pick-off attempt at second that scored a run. A walk, stolen bases and two wild pitches plated a second Moorhead run.

Thief River Falls scored in similar fashion to cut the difference to 2-1 in the bottom of the inning when Michael Benedict beat out an infield single, stole second and scored when the Spuds committed two errors on a ball hit past third and into left field by Johnson.

Three consecutive two-out hits rebuilt a two-run Moorhead run in the fifth. A Kyle VanDyke double to left started it. Singles by Matt Penner and Tyler Schlotfeldt made it 3-1.

The Prowlers responded, however, in their next at-bat as Benedict led off with a single to right, Patrick Barry reached base on a one-out error and Sorteberg drove the ball past third to score both runners for a tie. With two out, No. 8 hitter Cody Conners bounced a single into right field for the game-winning run.

Thief River Falls improved to 10-5 while Moorhead fell to 4-10.

Name Nikunen, Handley as athletic coordinators

Dennis Bendickson, Vice President of Student Services, has announced that Rick Nikunen will take the position of athletic coordinator and Lisa Handley will become associate athletic coordinator at Northland Community and Technical College, effective August 1, 2007. The change is taking place due to the retirement of Athletics Director Deb Jacobson, after 33 years.

Rick Nikunen Lisa Handley

Nikunen, a [illegible] native, received his bachelor of science degree from Mayville (N.D.) State University, and his master's degree from North Dakota State University. He taught and coached for 12 years in various capacities before joining the faculty at Northland in 1992.

Nikunen came to Northland as head women's basketball coach and head softball coach, directing the softball team to a Minnesota Community College Conference state championship in 1998.

From 1996-2001, Nikunen was also the head coach for the men's and women's golf program before accepting the position as head coach of the men's basketball team in 1998. Nikunen coached the 2006-07 Pioneers to a 27-4 season, winning the MCCC state tournament, National Junior College Athletic Association Division III Region 13 title and taking second place in the NJCAA Division III national tournament.

In addition to being athletic coordinator, Nikunen will continue as head men's basketball coach and teach psychology.

A McIntosh native, Handley received her bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Montana State University, where she graduated with Cum Laude honors. In addition, she received the Dr. Alterowitz Academic Excellence Award for 1999 graduates. She received her master's degree in education learning development, with an emphasis in group and family counseling from Montana State University-Northern.

Handley spent two seasons as assistant volleyball coach at Rocky Mountain College and seven years as head volleyball coach at Montana State University-Northern before

Prowlers' offense lights it up in win over Bagley, 17-0

■ TRF out-hits Flyers 20-2 in match-up of softball teams with 14 wins each

Bagley and Thief River Falls both had 14 wins to their credit heading into Tuesday's high school softball match-up. But the showdown turned out to be a lopsided affair as the Class AAA Prowlers handled the Class AA Flyers 17-0.

Thief River Falls out-hit Bagley 20-2. Britni Johnson had four of those hits, including two home runs – the first one to start the game. Shawna Rogalla, JoAnn Bloom and Kelly Hanson all had three-hit games and Jenna Hoglo belted a grand-slam home run.

Johnson also dominated the Bagley hitters by striking out 12 and walking just two.

"We hit as well as we have hit all year," said Thief River Falls coach Corey Poole after the road win pushed the Prowlers' record to 15-2. The Flyers fell to 14-4. "We were concerned with Bagley, but Johnson took control with the bat and took care of the Bagley hitters."

The Prowlers had a 3-0 edge after three innings and led 8-0 before coming up with nine sixth inning runs to end the game early.

It was the most runs and most hits the Prowlers have accumulated this spring. "It was nice to see us make such good contact on the ball," said Poole, who is hoping his team will elevate its game for the upcoming Section 8AAA tournament. "Inconsistency is something we need to overcome. Hopefully this week will put us on track."

Spuds' golf squad takes team, medal titles on home turf

Moorhead teammates Aaron Wheeler and Pat Deitz finished 1-2 in the medal standings to lead the host Spuds past a dozen other entries in Tuesday's Moorhead Invitational boys high school golf tournament.

Wheeler shot a 3-under par 69 and Deitz was one stoke back at The Meadows, where the Spuds' 283 team score was 22 shots better than runner-up Bemidji.

Thief River Falls trailed the field with a 357.

"We had an average day, but with third type of competition, that was not good enough," reported Thief River Falls coach Dick Tyler.

Zane Gothberg led Thief River Falls with an 86. Two Prowlers – Cambell Thompson and Troy Wiskow – played in their first varsity meet.

Lakers, Eagles hand Prowlers two losses

Detroit Lakes and Red Lake County tagged Thief River Falls with its first back-to-back losses of the 2007 high school baseball season when the Prowlers were shut out by the host Lakers 6-0 Friday (May 11) and were beaten by the Eagles 9-3 in Red Lake Falls Monday.

Detroit Lakes pitcher Alex Provo carried a no-hitter into the seventh inning. He walked Jordan Espeseth to lead off the final frame, got a fly-out, then gave up a double to Sean Sorteberg before retiring the next two batters.

The Prowlers' problems on offense were matched by a defense that was charged with six errors.

Thief River Falls spotted Red Lake County a 2-0 first inning lead and never caught up. The Red Lake Falls/Red Lake County Central cooperative led 7-2 through four innings and tacked on a pair of runs in the sixth to win going-away.

Commencement exercises held for UMC, NCTC and Polaris team effort

Commencement exercises took place at Polaris Industries, Inc. in Roseau on Thursday, May 3, as the result of a unique educational partnership. Through a collaborative effort among the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC), Northland Community and Technical College (NCTC), Thief River Falls and Polaris, its employees are able to pursue an associate or bachelor's degree on site.

"Polaris Industries, Inc., and UMC are committed to enhancing the learning opportunities for the employees of Polaris through a customized offering of the bachelor of manufacturing management degree which will result in demonstrated, increased knowledge and workforce advancement for Polaris employees," said Jennifer Severinson, who works closely with the program through the Center for Adult Learning at UMC. "Working together provides a real benefit for Polaris employees by giving them the opportunity to advance their knowledge and earn a degree from the University of Minnesota."

UMC graduates receiving a bachelor's of manufacturing management include: Gregory Anderson; Michael Bodell; Steven Pavek; Jeffrey Tureson; Bonnie Zimmerman; Marie Reid; Deborah Rinde; Penny Erickson, with a minor in business management; Maureen Langaas; Tommy Wahl, with a minor in business management; Wonda Osborne; and Jason Dobmeier.

NCTC students receiving certificates in Lean Manufacturing include Glen Buckta; Cindy Butler; Timothy Doneth; Paul Hlucny; Camille Hogenson; Nicole Rygh and Joseph Tesarek. Mary Jo Olson will also be receiving a certificate in Production and Inventory Management from NCTC. Faculty members traveled to Roseau each week to teach the lecture/lab courses.

Speaking on behalf of the graduating class was Marie Reid, a material planner/scheduler at the Polaris Injection Molding Facility in Roseau. She has worked at Polaris since 1996 and worked at the Injection Molding Plant since 2003.

"For me, graduating was such a bittersweet moment," Reid said. "There was so much joy at reaching the end of our journey and receiving the degree but also sadness that I would no longer have the honor of being taught by the amazing professors at UMC, and I will truly miss all of them."

Pennington SWCD updates water plan

Pennington County is in the process of updating its fourth generation of its Comprehensive Local Water Plan (CLWP). The purpose of the plan is to identify, prioritize and address local water issues of both ground and surface water resources. The new five-year comprehensive plan is expected to be completed early 2008. Part of that process involves a survey of residents to obtain their input.

The survey asks three questions:

1. Which watershed is your home/land located in? Red Lake, Thief River, Clearwater, Middle/Snake, Not sure.

2. What are the top four problems in Pennington County? (Check four) The options are: Failing septic systems; Contaminated runoff; Stormwater/drainage management; Over application of fertilizers; Erosion; Declining water clarity; Groundwater contamination; Lack of regulations; Natural habitat destruction; Lack of environmental education; Development pressure/impacts; Feedlots; other.

3. Rank in order of importance the following resource issues: Source water protection; Stormwater; Flooding; TMDLs (total maximum daily loads); Wetlands; Wellhead protection; Feedlots; Non-point source pollution; Sedimentation from wind erosion; Sedimentation from water erosion; and other.

The survey also asks for additional comments and suggestions.

The survey is available at the Pennington SWCD at 201 Sherwood Ave. S., Thief River Falls. In order to acquire better public input for the CLWP, the deadline for completing and returning the survey is June 1.

For more information about the CLWP or the survey, contact Rachelle Winter, Pennington Soil, Water and Conservation District, 201 Sherwood Ave. S., Thief River Falls, MN 56701; or call 218-683-7075; or e-mail rachelle.winter@mn.nacdnet.net.

No injuries reported after trailer unhooks from pickup truck

No injuries were reported Wednesday afternoon after a trailer became unhooked from a pickup truck and then rolled. A tractor, which had been on the trailer, also rolled over. The accident occurred along Highway 59 south of the city of Thief River Falls.

At the time of the accident, Terrance E. Timm, 55, Thief River Falls, was driving a 1997 Ford pickup truck that was hauling a flatbed trailer. He was driving southbound in the vicinity of the 15000 block of Hwy. 59, when the trailer became unhooked from the pickup truck. The trailer then went into the west ditch and rolled over, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. The tractor, which had been on the trailer, then rolled over off of the trailer. The pickup truck remained upright on the highway.

Both Timm and his passenger, Keith W. Solberg, 30, Plummer, were wearing their seat belts. The pickup truck sustained severe damage. The report doesn't indicate the extent of the damage to the trailer or the tractor. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 2:37 p.m. Wednesday.

Missions service scheduled at Roseau Community Church

A special missions service is scheduled at the Roseau Community Church Wednesday, May 23, beginning at 8 p.m. Guest speakers will be Kathy Johnson and Renee McGuire. Kathy and Renee recently spent a week down in Phoenix, La., helping the victims of the Katrina disaster. They will be sharing their experience. Lunch will be served following the service. Everyone is invited to attend. For more information, call 218-424-7647.

Pay equity and all day kindergarten studied

Fosston – The Fosston School Board met May 17. Pay equity and all day, everyday kindergarten were among the matters discussed by the board.

Making the move to all day, everyday kindergarten has been the topic of discussion for the last few months. It has become an issue due to class size, fitting and concerns about how to provide a higher quality of education.

Magelssen Elementary School Principal Greg Bruce recommended that the Fosston School District should wait and implement such a program in the 2008-09 school year. That is when funding will be available from the state to pay for 86 percent of all day, everyday kindergarten." – The 13 Towns of Fosston, May 22, 2007, by Don Kindall

City of Karlstad wants a cop

Karlstad – "It's been 28 years since Karlstad Police Officer Wayne Knutson retired. Other than six months of that time, the city has been without a permanent cop."

"The Kittson County Sheriff's Office does have deputies on duty who can be available to the town, but Karlstad Mayor Nick Antolak said it isn't the same as having someone stationed in Karlstad.

"At the Kittson County commissioners' May 15 meeting, discussion was heard from Antolak, Police Chief Dave Rude and City Council member George Hultgren. Most of that discussion centered around asking for the board's consideration of hiring another full-time deputy and Karlstad paying half of the salary. They would like half of the patrol, too."

"The board requested that Sheriff Kenny Hultgren put together more numbers, check with area law enforcement agencies to see if they would be interested in the idea, check and then present it to the Personnel Committee." – Kittson County Enterprise, May 23, 2007, by Louise Money

Rainbow Park undergoes reconstruction

Warroad – "With the help of city workers, Game Time and volunteers, the Warroad Women of Today led a successful mission to rebuild Rainbow Park after the destruction wrought by the tornado in 2006.

"Game Time brought in the new equipment and led capable hands in restoring the Rapids gym to a state even better than its original splendor." – Warroad Pioneer, May 23, 2007, by Holly Hartung

Dr. Jain is the newest MD in the family

Roseau – "Leza Jain, Roseau High School Class of 1991, is not young to have watched Dr. Nitin Jain, Roseau, at work. Not only has she tended to his patients. There is, of course, the family tree.

"Leza is the eighth Jain to become a medical doctor. Four of her cousins are doctors, her dad and his twin brother, Manuel, are doctors, and she and her elder brother, Lenoe, are doctors.

"Then consider that her mother, Neeta is an operating room nurse at the hospital. Yes, Leza would begin RN training at Lake Superior State this summer.

"It's quite a family tradition." – Roseau Times-Region, May 16, 2007, by Jeff Olson

Monday, May 28, 2007 is the 139th Memorial Day holiday. Memorial Day events from here planned in several northwest Minnesota cities throughout the weekend.

Parkland dedication ordinance remains on books

by April Schelnaha
Reporter

The Thief River Falls Planning Commission voted unanimously Monday to continue requiring subdivision developers to dedicate 5 percent of their land as play grounds or parks. If they don't wish to dedicate the land, they can pay cash in lieu of the land. It now goes to the Thief River Falls City Council will follow the Planning Commission's decision.

The matter was brought up for discussion after Mayor Brad "Beaver" Nordhagen raised concerns about the ordinance. Nordhagen attended the commission meeting to state his opinion, "I think it's wrong," said Nordhagen. "I don't like the practice."

Nordhagen indicated developer Dave Ellsworth left him about the ordinance about three years ago when he and Nordhagen were looking at the Northland Village Mall in the City Annex. Paul Hile, who owned land by the railroad tracks.

"I thought that was the oddest thing I had heard," said Nordhagen, who added that the city was receiving kickbacks from developers who were given the privileges of developing properties.

Within the past month, another developer contacted Nordhagen about the requirement. Nordhagen said the developer simply wanted the process developed, but with the ordinance in place, he has no choice but to pursue the matter.

Nordhagen asked for the commission's meeting. Community Development Director Mike Moen contacted four communities. Bemidji, Crookston, Detroit Lakes and East Grand Forks. Only Moen also had parkland practices similar to those of Thief River Falls.

Planning Commissioner Jim Bjerke, who is also employed at the Thief River Falls Area Chamber of Commerce, said he was against the ordinance.

"I would be against anyone who is not considered me to a surgeon for further check up."

When asked how people on the playground 50 percent is not good enough, she answered kidding. That's manageable and not with a surgeon. She mentioned Deborah Sampson Park, which is a large park that is not developed. She recommended, was that I have whatever I want to do as far as your brother with the exact process and development as I felt comfortable with because as far as the city council and the city, we're open to ideas and we're open to suggestions.

Why can't the city use the 5 percent rule, that is one MN.

Grygla resident David Sparby, 16, used this bike as part of his physical therapy. Sparby wears stimulation pads while pedaling this bike. The stimulation pads contract Sparby's muscles. Sparby suffered a spinal cord injury and became a quadriplegic as a result of a farm accident in January 2006. (Submitted photo)

Grygla family collects cans to help their son with physical therapy costs

by April Schelnaha
Reporter

David Sparby believes he will walk again, and everything he does is with that goal in mind.

David and his family are collecting aluminum cans this summer to help pay for his physical therapy. This fall, he and his family hope to return to Baltimore, where David will undergo more physical therapy. Their Ford Taurus will be helpful for it," David, 16, said.

Kenneth's Auto Parts placed a Happy and Superbee Towels in Thief River Falls, and at Hallock Co-op. Local residents can drop their cans into the kiosks.

David became a quadriplegic on January 6, 2006. Prior to January 6, 2006, David, who was then 15, was helping his dad, Jon, with his bales. Almost 10,000 cans on the Sparby farm in Grygla. An 800 pound bale fell on him, and another big bale fell on David's canon hold. Todd wasn't injured, but a pin David was undergoing surgery at Altru Hospital in Grand Forks, N.D. Since January 2006, he has undergone physical therapy in Denver and Thief River Falls. After recently, David and his family traveled to Kennedy Krieger Institute in Baltimore. KKI has a spinal cord unit that provides outpatient and inpatient physical and occupational therapy.

David found the physical therapy program at KKI to be beneficial. "It was very intense, and I think it was helpful for me," he said.

"He showed a lot of improvement," his mom, Tanya, said.

"I got a lot stronger in my trunk and in my arms, and I was able to sit up straighter," David said.

"They have a very good program at KKI," Tanya said.

As part of his physical therapy, David rides the bike he is pictured above a hobby, working his arms and legs. Sparby recently added pedals to the bike, which David said helps him strength. "I had the most pain in my legs as well," he said.

David said he can't really sense emotion. "I had the most pain in my legs as well," he said.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere – email: lacours@mncable.net

Warm weather calls for tasty summer treats.

Have a different barbecue this weekend. Try chicken wings too:

BARBECUE TURKEY WINGS
3 pounds turkey wings
1 1/4 cups barbecue sauce
2 green onions, sliced
1 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon soy sauce

Cut turkey wings into sections. Discard wing tips. In large resealable bag, combine remaining ingredients. Add wing sections, seal bag and turn to coat. Refrigerate overnight.

Drain and discard marinade. Place wings in greased 10x15 inch baking pan. Bake, uncovered, at 350 degrees for 50-60 minutes or until a meat thermometer reads 180 degrees and turkey is tender. Serves 6-8 people.

You can watch your diet and have your potato salad too, with this tasty recipe:

LOW FAT POTATO SALAD
2 pounds red potatoes, cubed
1/2 cup Italian salad dressing
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped red onion
1/2 cup thinly sliced radishes
1/4 cup minced fresh parsley
1 teaspoon salt, optional
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1-1/2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
1/4 teaspoon sugar

Cook potatoes in boiling water until just tender, 15-20 minutes. Drain thoroughly. Place in bowl and cool slightly. Pour salad dressing over warm potatoes and toss to coat.

Add celery, green pepper, onion, radishes, parsley, salt and pepper. Mix well.

Combine mayonnaise, mustard and sugar. Pour over potato mixture and toss. Cover and refrigerate for at least 2 hours. Makes 14 servings.

Nutritional Info: Each 1/2 cup serving, prepared with fat-free salad dressing and mayonnaise and without salt, equals 55 calories, 147 mg sodium, 0 chol, 11 gm carb, 2 gm protein, trace fat. Diabetic Exchange is 1 vegetables, 1/2 starch.

Here's one more summer salad that's been around for years - and it's so crunchy and light. There's nutritional info too:

CRUNCHY PEA SALAD
1 (10 ounce) package frozen peas, thawed
1 (8 ounce) can sliced water chestnuts, drained
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1/2 cup sliced green onions
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon seasoned salt, optional

In bowl, combine peas, water chestnuts, celery and green onions. In small bowl, combine mayonnaise, sour cream and season salt. Mix well. Add to pea mixture and toss to coat. Chill. Recipe serves 8.

Nutritional Info: One half cup serving (with fat-free mayonnaise, nonfat sour cream and no seasoned salt) equals 60 calories, 116 mg sodium, 1 mg chol, 12 gm carb, 3 gm protein, trace of fat. Diabetic Exchange is 1 starch.

Bake two round loaves of this delicious bread using your bread machine to make it easy:

ITALIAN BREAD
1 cup warm milk (70-80 degrees)
1 egg, lightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter, softened
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons active dry yeast
Egg Wash:
1 egg
1 tablespoon water
Italian seasoning

Place milk, egg, butter, sugar, salt, flour and yeast in bread machine, following manufacturer's directions. Select dough setting and begin cycle, checking after 5 minutes to see if 1 or 2 tablespoons of water is needed to make tender dough.

When cycle is complete, turn dough onto floured surface and divide in half. Shape each half into a ball and flatten slightly. Place in greased 9 inch round baking pans. Cover and let rise until doubled, about 45 minutes.

Beat egg and water and brush over breads. Sprinkle with Italian seasoning, if desired. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes or until golden. Cool on racks. Do not use time-delay cycle of bread machine for this recipe.

MARBLE CHIFFON CAKE
1/3 cup cocoa
1/4 cup boiling water
1-1/2 cups plus 3 T sugar, divided
1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons vegetable oil, divided
2-1/4 cups flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
7 eggs, separated
3/4 cup water
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
Orange Glaze:
2 cups confectioner's sugar
1/3 cup butter, melted
3-4 tablespoons orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel

Combine cocoa, boiling water, 3 tablespoons sugar and 2 tablespoons oil. Whisk smooth. Cool.

In another bowl, combine flour, baking powder, salt and remaining sugar. Whisk egg yolks, water and remaining oil. Add to dry ingredients. Beat until well blended.

Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until soft peaks form. Fold into above batter. Remove 2 cups of batter and stir into cocoa mixture. To remaining batter, add orange peel.

• Alternately spoon batters into an ungreased 10 inch tube pan. Swirl with a knife. Bake at 325 degrees for 70-75 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Invert cake pan on rack and cool.

For glaze, combine sugar, butter and enough orange juice to reach desired consistency. Add orange peel. Spoon over cake. Serves 12-14.

YOU CAN'T CONTROL THE WORLD,
BUT YOU CAN CONTROL YOUR DECISIONS.
Sometimes the market reacts poorly to world events, but just because the market reacts doesn't mean you should. Still, if current events are making you feel uncertain about your finances, you should schedule a complimentary portfolio review. That way, you can make sure you're in control of where you want to go and how you get there.

NOTICE
The Marshall County Highway Department is accepting requests for spreading calcium chloride for dust control in front of residences that lie along County or Township gravel roads within the boundary of Marshall County. The cost for a 20-foot wide by 300-foot long strip will be approximately $200. The homeowner will pay this cost after the work is completed. The cost will be adjusted according to the size and rate of application. The application site must be flagged from start to finish by residents.
Interested parties should contact the Marshall County Highway Department at 218-745-4381. The County will send out an application upon request to be completed and returned by the homeowner. The County must receive the completed application before the service is performed. NO requests will be accepted AFTER June 1, 2007.
